INTERESTING ITEMS BOILED DOWN FOR BUSY READERS

A. Eger and family have closed their outing at Atlantic City. Mr. Eger is back at work in his place of business on Main street.

Miss Louise Burr Douthwaite and Miss Helen Lane of Hartford visited with Charles Steuberg and family of Eldridge street yesterday.

Walton C. Neilson and family of Cooper street and Miss Esther Anderson of Cooper street will leave tomorrow for Myrtle Beach for a stay of two weeks. They will be joined by Mrs. Mrs. Anderson and her son, Alfred, next week.

Mrs. Margaret O'Brien of Cooper street has returned from Sound View. She spent two weeks down by the seashore. The weather throughout her stay was wet, cloudy, and generally uncomfortable and rainy.

William Robinson returned from an outing along the Maine coast. He is delighted with his trip. The long and lovely beach at Old Orchard was his admiration to a degree.

Twenty-nine of the men detailed on paper Saturday asking for a temper cent, increase in wages and a reduction of the working hours from fifty five to fifty hours per week. The petition was handed to Mr. Richards Saturday night about nine o'clock. Monday morning, Mr. Richards went to the lumber yards and had a conference with the men.

William Belknap of Spruce street has entered the employ of Cheney Brothers as a teamster. He filled a similar position with them a number of years ago. He also drove teams for P. A. Reese. Taken all in all, Mr. Belknap is well schooled in handling horses and has made good at that calling heretofore. He can do so now.

Sergeant Leo Sullivan, a native of South Manchester has returned from overseas where he spent one year with the 76th Division. He has received his honorable discharge and is now ready to reenter civilian life.

Mr. Richards says the only answer made was "they are getting it in other places." The men decided to have their demands met at once or they would quit. Mr. Richards talked individually with a few of the men and some of the teamsters and drivers were willing to remain at work, the others were discharged.

Mr. Richards claims the company has more business at the present time than it has had in many months, due to the orders for tobacco sheds and that this demand will keep up for six weeks at least. In order to keep abreast with the company work at the office, the company were seriously considering asking the men to work sixty hours a week for the next few weeks in order to get the lumber delivered.

The company pays a wage of 32 cents per hour to its employees. Work at the yard is going on much the same as usual. Mr. Richards said that he would not object to a ten per cent increase in wages, but he did not like the attitude of the men in demanding shorter hours under the present conditions and in threatening to quit work if their demands were not met at once. Mr. Richards reports that there are now no vacancies in his working force.

Mrs. David Mason of New Haven is the guest of her parents, John and Mrs. Mitchell of Hackensack street. She is accompanied by her twin sister, a boy and a girl seven months old. Her fifteen year old daughter, Miss Ora, is also with her. Her husband is employed by John Porter of Hartford, the Capitol Lunch King. Mr. Mason is in charge of one of Mr. Porter's Capitol Lunch houses in New Haven. The location is on Meadow street near the depot.

Miss Huldah Anderson has written her parents, Charles and Mrs. Anderson of South Main street that she arrived safely at her destination. White Water, Wisconsin, last week. The net is now returning to Hartford and she will be home in Chicago. This woman chaperoned Miss Anderson to the "Windy City". There she met an old friend, Fred, who was returning to her home in White Water. That woman accompanied Miss Anderson to her destination. These fortunate circumstances made the trip rather pleasant for Miss Anderson and her parents.

Mrs. Norman Saveno, before marriage Miss Helen Anderson, trained nurse of South Manchester.

Can You Do It? This sentence, President Eliot of Harvard university is said to have given to Doctor Lowell, his successor in the chair of Divinity. The words that he spoke were: "It is agreeable to view the unparalleled embarrassment of a hard-headed sitting on the ground, a society well, among the assembly of a steadily seated potato."

PEREMPTORY DEMAND FOR SHORTER HOURS STERNLY REFUSED

MANCHESTER LUMBER CO. DISCHARGES SIXTEEN MEN. WILL NOT REINSTATE THEM

Wanted Fifty-Hour Week Instead of Fifty Five. Also Asked Ten-Per-Cent. Pay Increase. Company Can't Object To Latter

Sixteen men who were employed by the Manchester Lumber Company made a demand for shorter working hours and more pay. N. B. Richards, the secretary and general manager of the company, states that the men were discharged Monday afternoon and will not again have their names entered on the company payroll.

SWISS CLERGYMAN PRAISES WILSON AND LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Pastor Keller of Zurich Bares Greetings of Swiss Churches to America.

The most recent of the several European delegates received this year by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, is Rev. Adolf Keller, minister of St. Peter's Reformed Church in Zurich, Switzerland, who came bearing fraternal greetings from the Swiss Federation of Protestant Churches to the corresponding body in the United States. Pastor Keller is a well known and experienced pastor, his latest published work being a treatise in advocacy of the League of Nations. He has just returned to Europe after spending several weeks in conference with American church leaders and attending several of the larger denominational assemblies.

Speaking of the relations between Switzerland and America, of the League of Nations and of the effect of the war on the religious life of Europe, Dr. Keller said:

"In spite of the distance between us, I feel that our religious and religious communications have been largely undeveloped, there is no doubt that a few of our churches respect and care will see the ideas and life forces which had their origin in Zurich and Geneva. Thus many of the American churches are engaged in the same special heritages which was left us by the Swiss Reformation.

Ties Strengthened by the War. "The war and the situation which it has created, have brought these ties into prominence and have given us a new consciousness of the great religious family which we belong in a special fellowship and of which the American churches form an important part. This meant a real respect and care will see the ideas and life forces which had their origin in Zurich and Geneva. Thus many of the American churches are engaged in the same special heritages which was left us by the Swiss Reformation.

AUTO BUMPS BIKE BOY RIDER HURT

An automobile driven by John Townsend and a bicycle ridden by Walter Smith, the 14-year-old son of Willis and Mrs. Smith of Clinton street, were in collision on Forest street Monday evening.

The auto and bicycle were traveling in the same direction, and as it was shortly after the employees of the silk mills were returning from work the street was crowded. The bicycle was broken and the rider came out of the crash with a sprained ankle and some bruises. He narrowly escaped serious injury.

WASTING HUCKLEBERRIES NOT ENOUGH PICKERS

Reports from the Bolton hills are to the effect that the huckleberry crop this year is the largest in several years, but that the berries are being allowed to rot on the vines because there are not enough berry pickers.

A few years ago it was customary to form huckleberry parties, but that custom has died out. With berries selling at 35 cents per basket some of the local youngsters have decided that it is profitable work to pick huckleberries and are going to the country each day for this purpose.

However, the berries are so plentiful there will be hundreds of baskets of them allowed to decay on the vines.

Voters Overturn Advice of Town Fathers and Attorneys--Personal Remarks Enliven Lengthy Meeting

SELECTMEN MUST COME WITH ACTION OF MEETING TO BRING ABOUT CHANGE

Main Street Frontages Carried West--Will Selectman A. Johnson Bring Suit For Damages Against Town?

The Brainard estate the property at the northwest intersection of Main street and Brainard place. He wanted to erect a building there and with his engineer, Henry Olmstead of East Hartford, sought to have the Main street line defined. W. Leroy Ulrich was the town engineer at the time and he gave Mr. Holl the street line and also made a map of Mr. Holl's land showing just where the street line came. Mr. Holl contracted a building according to the line given by Mr. Ulrich.

Later John F. Sheridan bought some of the land from Mr. Holl to north and applied for the street which was also given by Town engineer Ulrich, the evening line which had been given Mr. Holl being followed.

After the Holl and Sheridan buildings had been erected some property owners on Main street appealed from the decision of the board of selectmen regarding the Main street line and the matter was taken to the superior court. After hearing the evidence Judge Williams of the superior court said the dotings of the selectmen regarding that portion of Main street between Woodbridge street and Middle turnpike and ordered other lines followed. The rest of the Main street lines were left unchanged.

Aron Johnson then built south of Brainard place, getting his street line from the town engineer, the line followed the engineer's description of the street lines. The Holl and Sheridan lines were taken from the map as shown on the map on file. A controversy then arose some people claiming the engineer's description of the street lines as the true lines. No action being made by the map lines in all these years.

According to the notes of Engineer Johnson the Holl and Sheridan properties are on the street line. According to a note of the selectmen on October 2, 1909, the lines as presented on a map drawn by W. Leroy Ulrich were the true lines and the map was signed by Selectmen John H. Williams, Arthur E. Keane, Harold E. Cheney and W. E. Alvord.

If a mistake had been made in defining the street line on the Holl and Sheridan properties who made it? Certainly not the selectmen. This was the opinion of the town engineer. The mistake was made by the town engineer. The mistake was made by the town engineer.

REGISTER TODAY YOUR LAST CHANCE BEFORE CAUCUSES

The registrars of voters will be in session today until 9 p. m., for the purpose of registering voters for the caucuses. This will be the last opportunity of the season to register. Persons not being registered by the coming caucuses of the Republican and Democratic parties will be registered. Failing in this they cannot have voice or vote in nominating the district officers.

As things stand at the present time the district officers will be elected on election day and the result of the election will be determined. This town is intensely republican. Attempts to defeat business of the Republicans cannot be failed at the coming caucuses. It is generally deemed to defeat. Think this over.

CHARLES B. SLOAN AT HOSPITAL

Charles E. Sloan of Main street is at the St. Francis Hospital where he underwent an operation for removal of tonsils. He had been suffering for a number of years with enlarged tonsils. Following Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Mr. Sloan underwent an operation and kept deferring the day of reckoning. It came to pass however that this could no longer be delayed. He passed safely through the ordeal but is still very weak. He hopes to be soon more fit for business than ever. He is one of our well known and prosperous young real estate brokers.

CIGARETTE STRIKE CLOSSES FACTORY

In conjunction with the AT&S & Navy Club at Forest and Main streets a maintenance service is maintained where cigarettes, cigars and some of the other necessities of life are sold to the members. At a meeting of the board of directors this week it was reported that certain kinds of cigarettes could not be secured owing to strikes in the cigarette factories. It was stated that one manufacturer of well known cigarettes had closed his factory entirely and would go out of the cigarette business, thus leaving some of the smoke fans without their favorite brand. Instead of getting the much wanted brands of smokes the board of governors had to fall back on some of the cheaper brands for the time being.

MARCH IN FORD'S VIEWS

BISHOP WILLIAMS TESTIFIES IN THE $100,000 LIBEL CASE AGAINST TRIBUNE.

WONT TELL "HALF-TRUTHS"

Noted Divine Says if Manufacturers of Motor Cars are Anarchistic Then He is in Danger of Becoming Anarchist Himself.

Mr. Clemens, Mich.—The Chicago Tribune... Bishop Williams testified in the $100,000 libel suit which Henry Ford has brought against it after spending seven weeks and two years in attempting to prove that it was justified in calling the manufacturer an "anarchist."

The first witness for Mr. Ford was the Rt. Rev. Charles D. Williams, D. D., Episcopal bishop of Michigan, who appeared on the stand in rebuttal of the testimony of Fred J. S. Reeson, professor of political science at the University of Michigan who had previously testified that Henry Ford's views were distinctly anarchistic.

Bishop Williams said that Mr. Ford's views were not from being an anarchist and were, in fact, Christian, common and often commonplace. The bishop refused to be led by Tribune counsel in his answers and insisted on telling "the whole truth."

"I could quote a half-dozen passages from Scripture that express almost that idea. I should say that the main theme of these statements by Henry Ford are distinctly Christian, commonly preached in Christian pulpits and that if they were lined up in this world be a pretty good Christian world."

"Bishop," asked Tribune counsel, "do you believe that Mr. Ford has quoted 'patriotism is the last resort of a scoundrel'?"

"I have often said so," responded the witness. "I have often seen it so." Concerning the doctrine of non-resistance Bishop Williams declared he did not believe in such a theory but that many Christians did.

"It is the belief of anarchists," said Tribune counsel.

"Yes and the belief of Christians." "Will you be good enough to answer the question," retorted counsel.

"Anarchists say that and Christians say that. I am afraid I am going to tell the whole truth."

"Now Bishop—" "I am going to tell the whole truth."

"You are telling something I have not asked you to tell."

"You have not asked me for the whole truth. I have to follow my conscience. I am a simple man."

"I am afraid," continued the Bishop, "that if this is anarchy I agree with it most."

For counsel then called William A. Dunning, professor of history and political philosophy in Columbia University, to testify concerning Mr. Ford's theories and opinions.

"When Henry Ford," said counsel, "said that we should stop talking about one factory, one state and one country and begin to talk about the world, was he preaching the doctrine of anarchy?"

"No that is the general thought of cosmopolitanism—human industry, it has permeated all speculation in political philosophy ever since there was such a philosophy."

"Is there anything peculiarly anarchistic about it?" "No."

"Is it in any way essential to anarchy?" "Mr. Ford also said that he believed humanity could make mistakes but could do nothing worse; he said he believed everything he needed to know the good, and that even the terrible war would result in blessing to the world. Is there anything anarchistic about those ideas?"

MOTORMAN KILLED IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

NEAR WOODLAND PAPER MILL LAST SATURDAY MORNING ON TROLLEY EXPRESS

Encountered Carload of Working People Going to Tobacco Farm. They Were Warned of Impending Danger and Deserted Car Unhurt

Both cars were running on signal, according to Superintendent Harry A. Nettleton at the local office. He said an investigation is being made as to the cause of the accident.

It is stated that both cars were traveling with no red light signal against them and trolley men at Woodland said shortly after the accident that this could be possible. The motorman of one of the cars reported the accident to the local office stating that when he entered the Laurel Park switch there was a clear track ahead. The motorman on the special trolley car also reports that when he entered the Woodland cut there was a clear track ahead.

Arthur Wilson of Starkweather street, a motorman employed by the Connecticut Company on its local lines was killed in a head on collision between two trolley cars at Woodland Saturday morning.

The trolley leaving Hartford was loaded with men, women, boys and girls bound for the tobacco plantation at Buckland. This car was proceeding past the Woodland mills to Wickham hill, when the express car, bound west came down the hill.

Wilson was one of the oldest employees in point of service on the local lines. For several years past he has been running the express car and was regarded at the local office as a careful motorman.

Hollan Brothers, who took the body to Hartford, telephoned local friends about Wilson's death and the news was broken to his wife, who was severely shocked and required the attention of a doctor. Besides a widow he is survived by two sons.

A special car was sent from the local barns following the accident and the tobacco employees were transferred around the wreck and taken to their work in Buckland.

Samuel Trotter, a messenger, who was acting as conductor of the car was injured, but his condition is not serious.

On the 15th of April, 1916, the United States senate and the house of representatives... The bill was passed by the United States senate and the house of representatives.

"Stack Litters!" The War's Over, But Drilling Goes On

His Fault. Mrs. Penham—We became engaged under the mistletoe. Benjamin—I know it, but I'm not blaming the blamed pair, it didn't grow over my head, and I got under it, knowing all its deadly properties.

Discipline and drill are two important things in the lives of Red Cross motor corps girls. They must march and handle their litters with the same swiftness and precision as the soldiers passing in review, and they must manoeuvre with the adroitness of cavalrymen in squadron evolutions.

Pie Making—A Lost Art—Revived by Red Cross

The American Red Cross has started a country-wide movement to enlist the interest of women in better cooking, and many of its chapters have established classes of instruction. Reports from conducting a school of home dietetics, the Red Cross of New York has shown that in the districts where the people are for the most part poor, the women are the best cooks in the house, young and old.

A certain Kansas City physician will never know just how near death he was the other day when, after a thorough examination of probably the brightest, sweetest and slicest of the nine-month-old baby in the world, the mother asked: "Well, what do you think about my baby?" and he said: "Oh, it's a normal baby." When Actresses Were Unknown. In ancient times actresses were unknown. The people of Elizabethan times were perfectly content to stand for a young male Juliet. Around about 1600, though, Charles II of England began encouraging women to appear on the English stage, and since then actresses have been appearing all over the world with varying degrees of success.
