Goldenrod Maligned. A protest has recently been raised against the time-honored project of adopting the goldenrod as the national flower of the United States, on the ground that this plant is a cause of hay fever and being nothing out of the ordinary to someone who has the disease. A statement now has been issued by Dr. W. Scheppergell, on behalf of the American Hay-Fever Prevention association, in defense of the goldenrod. It is asserted that while the pollen of the goldenrod may cause trouble when applied directly to the nostrils or used in large quantities for room decoration as a cause of hay fever out of doors it is absolutely negligible. "It is one of our most beautiful flowers," says Doctor Scheppergell, "and merits its selection as the national flower of the United States."—Scientific American.

On Leaden Wings. Here's another one at the expense of the colored boys who caught in France. Seenas a detachment walked square into the center of a German ambulance of machine guns, which without warning broke loose at the expense of several thousand shots a minute. Simultaneously two colored infantrymen from Dixie started for the machine gun line. After an hour's hard running one of them looked back. "Hey dar, nigger," he shouted to his comrade, "look at all them flies a-follering you!"

"Get out on mah way, you!" yelled the other. "Dem ain't flies; dem's bullets!"—Exchange.

Revealing. According to returned doughboy officers, Paris fashions are getting more bold and exciting every day.

"While I was at Monte Carlo," remarked one, "I saw a lovely girl standing by a friend of mine. She had just joined him and was obviously proud of her costume."

"How does my new gown show up?" she queried.

"To the knees," he answered promptly, and rubbed it in by adding, "and what stunning buckles you have on your garters!"

Highbrow Cat Causes Trouble. Somewhere in Tacoma a highbrow Angora cat may be associated in dark, insidious alleys with low-down gutter-bred felines. Even now its beautiful fur has been soiled and torn by some low-brower alley cat. The owner believed a neighbor had the cat and inserted an ad in a daily newspaper, in which he named the neighbor and asked if he would return the cat so questions would be asked. The neighbor says he never knew there was such a cat, and encountering his brother, who explained the highbrow cat still is missing.

JOHN H. DARLING HAS NARROW ESCAPE

John H. Darling of Eldridge street had a narrow escape from death Monday when a pair of horses attached to a mowing machine ran away and he got mowed up among the knives of the machine.

When he started to return the horses became frightened and ran. Darling caught up with them and grabbed one by the bit. As he did this the horse reared in the air and Darling was thrown to the ground. He was caught between the cutting parts of the machine and dragged some fifty feet.

The horse that French women are wearing carries out some phase of this hat, over which Paris has gone quite mad.

Paris milliners are sending us midsummer hats that are in delightful contrast to the ordinary ones.

Some of the residents of Keene street seeing the accident thought that Darling had been killed, as they figured he would be chopped to pieces by the cutting knives of the machine.

However, there were not in gear, and as the machine was drawn along the knives were not working. This perhaps saved Darling from being badly mutilated and perhaps from being out to pieces. His right foot was caught between the knives, and he was sharp pointed, the side of his shoe cutting his foot and severing a small artery which bled for several hours after the accident.

Darling was brought to his home on Eldridge street and Dr. E. H. Weldon was called. His wounds were not so bad as they appeared. He had bruises on his chest and head. He is suffering much pain from his wounds. He will be confined to his bed for several days.

When he returned from France where he served on the hospital unit of the 96th Division.

COMING CHANGE OF POLICE COMMISSIONER CHAIRMAN MUST GO

With the success of the "Big Four" candidates for selection as Tuesday's primaries the politicians of that faction are looking about for a distribution of some of the spoils of office which they feel assured will be theirs following the town election next month.

As a Republican nomination is generally conceded to be equivalent to an election here there appears to be but little uncertainty as to the success of the "Big Four" at the polls next month.

One of the appointive places to be filled by the new board of selection will be that of a police commissioner for three years. The term of Gilbert E. Willis, the present chairman of the police commission will expire next month. There are already rumors to the effect that he will not be reappointed because of his antagonism to the "Big Four".

Last year when the "Big Four" assumed control of town affairs they succeeded in removing George E. Keith a police commissioner at that time and elevating E. J. Holl to the position. It is said that the same fate awaits Commissioner Willis. Who the new appointee will be has not been disclosed. Doubtless it will be some friend of the "Big Four".

Turbans Are Worn in Evening. An everlasting source of inspiration for our hats is the Hindu turban, and now it has found its way into hats of the day.

Turban hats are in the vogue. They are not a variation of the oriental dard, but the real thing, being formed of a braided band of gold tulle, topped by tulle and shower wreaths of silvernet. A very smart effect is produced by placing black aigrettes on brown turbans.

Levies, the man milliner of Paris, has had phenomenal success with transparent hats. His favorite model is in shape very much on the order of the head covering worn by the beauties of the court of Louis XVI.

The brim of this crownless hat consists of frills of brown silk net, held in at the back by a band of the same material. Any woman with chestnut hair who tucks her well-coiled locks with a hat such as that will be sure of looking particularly lovely.

Metal Brocade in French Parasols. When we saw metal brocade in our summer evening gowns and hats we thought the craze for this material had reached its climax, but that it had not is now indicated in the newest French fashions.

Those of black tulle are finished with deep bands of metal brocade ribbons. Black tulle parasols have bands of embroidery done in silver and gold threads.

URGE SENATE TO HASTEN PEACE

Leaders in Forty States, Regarding Party, Sign Ringing Appeal.

TREATY WITHOUT AMENDMENT

Say Every Day of Delay Puts World in Imminent Peril of New War—Point to National Unrest.

New York.—(Special).—Two hundred and fifty leading Americans, Republicans and Democrats representing forty different states and every prominent activity have joined in a non-partisan effort to bring about the ratification of the Peace Treaty without amendment and without delay.

Even the amendment for which most can be said, the provision in regard to Article 10, which would give the United States the power of veto in the League of Nations, cannot be gained if China backed by the powerful aid of the United States, addresses itself to the machinery for fighting international wrongs and meeting just claims created by the league between nations.

The peace of the present and the righteousness of the future can be best secured by the ratification of the covenant without amendment.

Let the senate take no action that will give any party to the treaty, and especially Germany, ground for maintaining its position in the League of Nations.

The signers declare that every day of delay in ratifying the treaty puts the world in "imminent peril of new war."

Their statement follows: In the senate at Washington, now that the committee on foreign relations has reported the treaty, the lines are sharply drawn between the immediate ratification of the treaty of peace with Germany, and its amendment with a reservation.

Standing at a distance from the conflict in the senate chamber, we plead for immediate ratification without delay. Our land requires it. A state of nervous strain, and a feeling of uneasiness manifesting itself in disturbances, in some cases have no self-evident connection with the war, but which are, in fact, the result of the world put in imminent peril of new wars by the lapse of each day.

Disensions between us and our former allies are being woven. We firmly believe and solemnly declare that the states and cities in which we dwell desire immediate peace.

The waiving of war staided and united the American people. Peace will bring prosperity and prosperity will bring peace. Delay in the ratification of this covenant period of neither peace nor war has resulted in indecision and doubt, and has weakened and quickened the capidity of those who sell the daily necessities of life and the fears of those whose daily wages no longer fill the daily market basket.

We beseech the senate to give the land peace and certainty by a ratification which will not keep us longer in the shadows of possible wars, but give the whole world the light of peace. Reservations in the nature of clarifications in the meaning of the treaty, not inconsistent with its terms, will not require the reopening of the negotiations with Germany and with our associates in the war, which we all and each united to win.

But there is no possibility of doubt that amendment to the treaty, now proposed by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, would require negotiation and a reopening of all the questions which have been the subject of the treaty.

Months of delay would follow. The perils of the present would become the deadly dangers of a new future. All the doubt engendered would aid the plots for violent revolution in this and other lands. The issues here and elsewhere between Germany and labor, the conspiracy of speculator and profiteer, would all grow and become more perilous.

This cannot be. The American people cannot, after a victorious war, permit its government to petition Germany, which has accepted the treaty, for its consent to changes in the treaty. Yet if the United States should amend the treaty for its own purpose and policy, Germany would have full right to ask for concessions. Germany has agreed to make no claim in regard to enemy property seized in this country to date, and has offered to pay for a reopening of this issue and of the Lusitania claims. It would raise every question open to us as to our rights to our own property and to our own territories to regard to submarine warfare and the treatment of its nationals in this country.

COAST TO COAST U. S. FOR LEAGUE

MILLIONS ACCLAIM WILSON AS HE SPEECHES ACROSS THE LAND.

FEW ASK FOR CHANGES

Majority Feel That President's Guidance Should Be Held—He Regrets Pact As Sure to Come Soon.

(By Mr. Citizens News Bureau) Aboard President Wilson's Special Train—From the Capital at Washington to the far Pacific coast the President of the United States has journeyed on the most unusual expedition ever undertaken by a chief executive of the nation.

To discuss national questions, many presidents have toured the land; but Mr. Wilson is laying before America a question which affects the whole world—the question of whether or not we are to join in the League of Nations, whether we are to forget our former isolation and share with the other peoples of the earth the responsibilities of maintaining civilization and preventing, as he says we can do, future wars.

Between the capital and the coast the president made fifteen speeches and a dozen brief talks. All told 100,000 fellow citizens listened to him. Several millions had the chance to see him, and apparently everyone wanted to see him.

What do they all tell him? Usually they say they want peace definitely settled, they want no more wars, they want the League of Nations, and most of the American people, it may be fairly said, tell the president they want the League just as it is, without the reservations or amendments which certain senators have insisted upon.

Mr. Wilson's arguments for the league, briefly summarized, are these: There can be no peace, either now or in the future, without it. There can only be a reviving of nations and a new "Balance of Power," which is certain to lead to war. There can be no war in the future, with the league in existence, because no single nation would defy the united rest of mankind, and if it did, it could be brought to terms by an economic boycott, and without the use of arms.

There can be no reduction in the cost of living until the league is established, for nations will not go ahead with peace time production until they know that peace is definitely assured and that production of war material is no longer necessary.

There can be wonderful prosperity with the league in existence, for relations of labor and capital all over the world will be made closer and more friendly, and the worker will receive a fairer share of what he produces.

These declarations of the president, made in the most dignified and confident manner, seem to have just what the president wants, which is America for leadership.

Quite as unusual as the purpose of the country tour is the manner in which it is being carried out and the completeness of the arrangements on the nine car train which is bearing the party.

At the rear is the private car Mayflower, occupied by the President and Mrs. Wilson. Next is a compartment car for the secretary, Tammey, Admiral Grayson, Mr. Wilson's physician, four stenographers, the chief executive clerk and seven secret service men, and three correspondents.

There are a dining car, a baggage car, one of them converted into a business office. The train was exactly on time at every station, and the Washington and the coast.

United States Tires are Good Tires

There are hundreds of books, each one of which, if read, really as established by the person to whom it happens to appeal, will enable that person quite unconsciously to furnish himself with ammunition which he will find of use in the battle of life—Roosevelt.

"What right has this man to upset my home and induce my wife into a public life, when her duty is with her husband and baby?" thundered Mr. Merrill as he threw his paper aside and jumped up from the Morris chair.

"But, Alice," his wife pleaded, "I'm just tired of this dingy little place, and baby is whining all the time. Mr. Merrill has made arrangements for my first appearance on next Tuesday evening. Mother is coming over in the morning to take baby, and I shall manage to get into the city before she and rebarber with Mr. Merrill in the afternoon."

"My dear girl, you are making a blind mistake in heeding this man's advice. You will be so—"

"It is useless," interrupted Marie, "for you to try to alter my plans, for my mind is set. I mean to carry it out."

Across the room and stood in front of the French window. The moon lit up the scene as he glanced over his acres of golden wheat and corn.

"So Mr. Merrill has succeeded at last," he was thinking. "Yes, his own little girl, whether we are to forget our former isolation and share with the other peoples of the earth the responsibilities of maintaining civilization and preventing, as he says we can do, future wars."

Between the capital and the coast the president made fifteen speeches and a dozen brief talks. All told 100,000 fellow citizens listened to him.

What do they all tell him? Usually they say they want peace definitely settled, they want no more wars, they want the League of Nations, and most of the American people, it may be fairly said, tell the president they want the League just as it is.

There can be no peace, either now or in the future, without it. There can only be a reviving of nations and a new "Balance of Power," which is certain to lead to war.

There can be no war in the future, with the league in existence, because no single nation would defy the united rest of mankind, and if it did, it could be brought to terms by an economic boycott, and without the use of arms.

There can be wonderful prosperity with the league in existence, for relations of labor and capital all over the world will be made closer and more friendly, and the worker will receive a fairer share of what he produces.

These declarations of the president, made in the most dignified and confident manner, seem to have just what the president wants, which is America for leadership.

Quite as unusual as the purpose of the country tour is the manner in which it is being carried out and the completeness of the arrangements on the nine car train which is bearing the party.

Philadelphia Measure.

When old Philadelphia was laid out a de-curve chain was used in the survey. This chain made each hundred feet three inches longer than it should have been.

Long Sentence.

"Les Miserables" Victor Hugo has one sentence of a hundred lines and earlier in the book. In one of the chapters descriptive of Waterloo, there are over 50 lines without a full stop.

How to Wash Colored Embroidery. The best way to bleach white goods having colored embroidery (such as collars and other articles which cannot be boiled for fear the color will fade) is to wash them in a solution of soda ash in the shade.

Big Demand for Skirts. The great retail demand for summer skirts has cleaned out retail stocks and showered the manufacturers with dispatch orders. Flannels and gabardines are among the leaders, although linens and crepes are getting their usual heavy demand.

How to Press Black Lace. Turn an old pan or kettle over iron with the steam rising, and lay the lace flat on the right side until quite wet. Lay right side down on a black pad, cover with a black cloth and press with a hot iron.

If a Rug Curts. Rugs that curl on edge or wrinkle in middle have their "wrings" placed the rug face down on the floor.

New Scheme for Ironing Ribbon. Place the rug face down on the floor. Make very thin cooked starch and add a small quantity of powdered gum arabic dissolved in a little water.

Rubberized Silks in Bathing Suits. Looking over the newest things in bathing suits one might easily conclude that the fairer object of getting wet and only go into the water to get cool, or to be "in the swim" with the stiffer fathers.

These Old Crochet Edges. You'll never think of using again the crocheted edges already used. And you can, by the very simple expedient of cutting the edge away.

Pile Fabric Popular. The prophecy that, when the price of a pile fabric clothes with that of a fair quality fur, the latter is preferred, does not seem to be borne out in the operations of the cloak manufacturers.

Among Novelty Patterns. Bouquet designs of simple field flowers in their natural colors, daisies, poppies and cornflowers, are the most popular.

EXAMINATIONS FOR U. S. NAVAL ACADEMY

Congressman Augustine Longeman in keeping with the custom he adopted when he first went to Congress, has requested the United States Civil Service Commission, to hold at the postoffice building at Hartford on Saturday morning, October 19, at nine o'clock, a preliminary competitive examination, the winner of which will be designated by him to take the entrance examination to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Candidates must be bona fide residents of Hartford County, which comprises the first congressional district, they must be not less than sixteen and not more than twenty years of age on April 1 of the calendar year in which they would enter, in this case 1920. Also they must successfully pass physical examination. Those desiring to take the preliminary examination should write Mr. Longeman at Washington before October first.

SALOONS WONT OPEN

Question Settled by Attorney General Healy

With the ruling of Frank E. Healy the attorney general that the war time prohibition act was effective from July 23, local saloon men who had hoped that the ban might be lifted so they could realize some of their surplus stock now see this prohibition vanished. It was taken for granted among saloon men this morning that the ban will not be lifted in time to allow for the sale of any liquor here before the license expires on November 1st. There is a feeling here that the saloon business is gone in so far as the war time prohibition measure affects it, and that the ban will be continued until the constitutional amendment comes into effect, January 16, 1920. Many of the local saloon keepers report they have thousands of dollars worth of liquor in stock, which they had hoped to be allowed to place on shelves. However this stock will probably be exported and the saloon men are looking for a high price for same as long as the government issues an edict that the liquor may be sent out of this country.

ATHLETICS EASY WINNERS VANQUISHED LOCOS AT NEBO SUNDAY

The Locomotive team of Bridgeport was no match for the Athletics in the game at Mt. Nebo Sunday afternoon, the victors going down to defeat by a score of 10 to 1 in a hotly contested game. "Chief" Meyers formerly of the New York Giants and for the present season manager of the New Haven team of the Eastern League appeared in the local lineup and caught the first six innings of the game. He caught a scientific home and also clouted out two hits. His throwing to the bases was greatly admired. He threw right every time. There is only one right way to throw to bases, it's with learning. Our boys need much studying of that particular feat. While here Meyers was the guest of Robert Voth of Cheshire. Chief Meyers proved to be a strong attraction. The small boys followed him about the field before the game started and admired his work. He was their one big hero. A large contingent of enthusiastic base ball followers were on the grounds also. Most of those present had never seen Chief Meyers before. As a matter of fact the great majority had never before seen a National League player in action. For two years Chief Meyers led the National League at the bat. He was Christy Mathewson's catcher on the New York Giants. He has not forgotten his catching although he is no longer on the National League. He is a baseball player still of much merit. In three times at bat he made two hits and one long fly which later was caught in left field. The last half of the seventh inning he was the first man up and made a hit, reaching first safely. He then asked to be released, as he had to meet a train on his return trip to New Haven. Crockett was put in his place. On leaving the big he told the Athletics to be sure and bring in the key which he had started. This key had also another one later. Chief Meyers is a full blooded Sioux Indian. Lamprecht made a long drive to left field which was perfectly safe as a three-bagger. The coach as he sat on the bench for the home run. Sad to relate "Lampie" was thrown out at the plate. It was the longest catch of the game.

SATURDAY'S BABY SHOW WAS FINE SUCCESS

Center Park thronged with babies, their parents and decorated carriages. The baby parade and baby show staged at the Center Park last Saturday afternoon by the Child Welfare Committee was a pronounced success in every particular. The day was clear, the temperature was mild, the streets were green and clean and every prospect pleased. It was the first event of the kind in this community. It may be made an annual feature. The children and their proud and happy parents were having a fine time. There were 70 children in the line of march. It was a spectacle long to be pleasantly remembered.

DEMAND END OF SEX INEQUALITY

Women in Industry Determined to Have Equal Pay for Equal Work.

OLD ARGUMENT A FALLACY

Idea That Men Should Have Higher Wages Because They Have Dependents is Explored—Investigation of Conditions Going On.

Standards for the employment of women in industry, as formulated by the women in industry service of the United States department of labor, eliminate all discrimination on account of sex.

Secretary of labor during the war caused women to be paid higher wages than they ever received before," Miss Anderson commented.

One of the arguments advanced for paying men more than women, Miss Anderson said, is the familiar one that men have dependents to support.

Wherever the system of collective bargaining is adopted in industry the service maintains that women should have representation in the industrial boards or councils in proportion to their numbers.

Other standards recommended for women are the eight-hour day with Saturday half holiday, one day of rest in seven, no night work between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m., provisions for rest periods and sufficient time for cutting meals, no work to be done in rooms for living, supervision so far as practicable by woman executives, and approved safety and sanitary arrangements.

Investigation of the wages and working conditions of women in the traction industry is now being made in New York city and later on will be made in Boston, Mass., and Chicago, Ill., and other cities.

State Sets Minimum Wage Rate.

A minimum wage rate of 22 cents an hour for all female or experienced minor employees over 17 years old in the state has been ordered by the industrial commission of Wisconsin.

The commission also divides female and minor employees into district wage-earning classes whose minimum wage is as follows:

Minor employees under 15 years of age, 15 cents an hour; between 15 and 17 years, 20 cents an hour; beginners, first three months, 18 cents an hour; second three months, 20 cents an hour.

Children working under permit are to have a minimum wage scale of not less than 15 cents an hour, and if with more than three months' experience, the commission finds that the scale of wages shall be at the rate of 20 cents an hour.

Children producing the same output as more experienced employees are to be paid at the minimum rate of the experienced class.

Railroads Releasing Women. Steady reduction in the number of women employed by railroads is taking place as the result of demobilization and the return of men to their old jobs.

The number had decreased 14.8 per cent by April 1, when $2,208 were on the payroll. The drop was greatest in the East, 17.7 per cent of the women employed there being released, as compared with 14.5 per cent in the South and 11.4 in the West.

The first women to be let go were those engaged in heavy work in roundhouses and shops. In the clerical occupations, such as ticket selling, where 72 per cent of the women were used, small reduction has taken place, 65, 120 still being employed, many of whom likely will remain with the railroads permanently.

British Government Condemned. The British government is called upon to make a definite pledge to reduce the cost of living or to resign, in a resolution passed by the national executive committee of the Labor party.

MILL EMPLOYEES HAVE VOICE IN MANAGEMENT

Through a "house of representatives" and a "senate," the 5,000 employees of the Riverside and Dan River cotton mills, at Danville, Va., will be given a voice in the conduct of the plant.

The "house" and "senate" will be supplemented by a cabinet, composed of executive officers of the mill with voting power.

It was announced that on economy, effected under the new system, a dividend would be distributed every 30 days, with employees and stockholders sharing.

The Riverside and Dan River cotton mills is a $15,000,000 corporation, and operates one of the largest cotton mills in the South.

TRAINING HAS PROVED VALUE

Many Firms Make Arrangements to Teach Workers How to Do Things Properly.

The marked growth of the industrial training idea in manufacturing plants is indicated by the report recently issued by the United States department of labor showing that today 850 concerns maintain training departments, as against approximately 200 last November.

Industrial training such as these factories are installing received its first impetus during the war, and now manufacturers are pointing to it as one of the chief economic lessons taught by the great conflict.

Wherever the system of collective bargaining is adopted in industry the service maintains that women should have representation in the industrial boards or councils in proportion to their numbers.

Other standards recommended for women are the eight-hour day with Saturday half holiday, one day of rest in seven, no night work between 10 p. m. and 6 a. m., provisions for rest periods and sufficient time for cutting meals, no work to be done in rooms for living, supervision so far as practicable by woman executives, and approved safety and sanitary arrangements.

Grandmothers Vindicated. Our grandmothers used to hang a red flannel petticoat over the window of a sick patient's room, asserting that it hastened the cure, and also prevented "biting." Scientists have now discovered that the red rays do actually exert a had effect on the bacteria of the disease, and a correspondingly good effect on the patient.

No Sound From Griffs. It is said by animal trainers that the griffin has never been known to emit a sound of any kind. No matter what the animal may suffer when ill or injured, he remains silent. And scientists have advanced the theory that, because of the extreme length of the neck, sound is difficult or impossible for the griffin.

The Violin Bow. The shape of the present bow dates from the end of the eighteenth century when F. Tourte changed it from the low shape as its name indicates. It should be from 27 to 30 inches long and contain from 130 to 150 hairs which are drawn tight by the nut. The stick is generally of snakewood, or lancewood.

How Character is Revealed. The little things that we do without thinking are the things that tell what we really are. We may desire to possess a character that we have not yet attained, or we may pose for the kind of person we are not, but our unguarded movements betray us. What we are speaks more loudly than what we say.

Crawford Ranges

Make Poor Coal Do Good Work. The coal may be poor—hard, dirty, half slate—but a Crawford Range will give you the benefit of all the heat your fuel can produce.

Crawford Ranges are built with large Fire Boxes, wide Heat Flues, and Cup Joints to conserve and use all the heat. In these days of inferior fuel a Crawford in the kitchen means satisfaction.

The model illustrated—the Home Royal—has the Crawford Single Damper, making it possible to regulate the oven temperature by placing an always-cool Knob at "Bake," "Check," or "Kindle," and a Dock-Ash Grate which makes it easy to keep the fire free from clinkers.

Crawford Ranges are made in many styles—each built to give a lifetime of service, and possessing more features than all other makes combined. Ask us to explain the advantages of the various styles.

The Home Crawford Range is equipped with high or low ash pit or hot chimney, and with wash-out pipe and vent. Empire Royal, Crown Royal, Village Royal and Fairy Cinderella are different sizes of the same style.

EASY TO DRAIN FLOWER BOX Simple Arrangement Which Will Prevent Damage to Plant Which Receipts Is Set.

The home mechanic is often called upon to build flower boxes to place on new porches, and other porch columns. To prevent rot and to maintain a good appearance, it is best to drain the flower box, as shown in the picture. The box is lined for a part of its depth with tin or zinc, and drained through a one-inch tube to the downspout, or over the edge of the porch. A triangular piece of window glass placed over the drain opening will prevent clogging of the pipe—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

BEAUTIFYING THAT BARE SPOT

Ferns Particularly Adapted for Growth in Garden Spots That Seem So Uninviting.

There is perhaps no plant grown which appeals to the refined taste of the gardener and lover of plant life as the fern—with its wonderful grace of form and variety of color shading. Few people realize what charming effects can be obtained at a very small cost with the aid of our native wood ferns. We admire them when they are seen in their native cool and shaded haunts, but we do not realize they can be easily transplanted and will quickly contribute to the beauty of our lawns and gardens.

Ferns may be found in the woods of almost every state in the Union. Around every house, whether in city or village, there are shady spots where grass and flowers will not grow. We look at these bare and uninviting places and wish something could be done to make them attractive. Take a day off, go to the woods, and with a trowel dig up some ferns secure as many varieties as possible, plant them in the prepared bed, the larger varieties at the back, the more delicate in front.

It does not require so many for a start, as they multiply rapidly. Keep them moist until thoroughly established. Late in the fall cover with leaves. In the spring do not remove these leaves from the bed, as they help to hold the moisture. Start the soil and give the ferns more of their native conditions. Thus the former unsightly spots will have become places of joy and beauty.—Thrill Magazine.

An Evil and Its Cure.

Interest in Kansas City's efforts to rid itself of the billboard nuisance will be keen in every city in the country where the citizens are awake to the importance of maintaining urban and suburban districts in condition of tidiness and beauty. The absurdity of spending great sums of money for good highways and other public improvements, and then allowing them to be heavily discounted by the presence of glaring and unsightly signs and pictures, is too well understood and too obvious to call for detailed argument. It appears that what is chiefly needed in order to gain relief from the aggressive billboard, in any city in the United States, is definite and rigorous local action. St. Louis has met with success in this direction, now Kansas City is following in its footsteps, and many other centers might wisely fall into line.—Christian Science Monitor.

Plants Trees Along Roads.

Dr. J. B. Westlake, of Vienna, Ill., has started a campaign in behalf of fruit tree planting along the public highways. He favors the planting of a fruit tree on every mile of the country roads and suggests that the Boy Scout organizations serve as guardians of the trees after they are planted. He estimates the cost for the county would be about $12,000. He has launched a similar campaign in other counties of the state.—Chicago Journal.

All Wins.

Henry Waterson, the famous ex-editor, was talking about politicians. "Take the wind, the puff, out of a politician," he said, "and what remains?" "A noted politician's wife was listening to her husband on the telephone. Five, ten, fifteen minutes she listened patiently. Then she said: "Excuse me, Charles. Just a moment. I want to change the receiver to the other ear. This one's so tired."

PLANT RIGHT KIND OF TREES

Expert on Subject Offers Advice to Outdoor Art Committees of Town Booster Clubs.

Booster clubs for town planning and civic improvements are the natural outgrowth of our war-time defense and patriotic leagues. Our suburban towns should not overlook this opportunity to utilize these war-time organizations in furthering the welfare of their communities. Many interesting activities can be carried on for the improvement and beautification of your town and community. I would suggest the following as being important, interesting and profitable:

Have your booster club appoint an outdoor art committee. The members of this committee should be citizens who can give considerable time, are public spirited, self-sacrificing and appreciate what town improvements mean. This committee should recommend the adoption of an ordinance for the protection and regulation of tree planting on all the public streets.

It should condemn the planting of soft wood short-lived varieties of trees like the willow, boxelder, cottonwood, poplar and soft maples. All of these are a nuisance and in many cases destructive. The roots of the willows, poplars and cottonwoods fill the sewers and injure pavements, while the sap of soft maples are always seriously affected by insect and fungus diseases.

Only the hardwood long-lived varieties should be recommended by this committee, such trees as the American elm, red and pin oaks, sycamore, Norway maples, lindens, gladi, ironwood, locusts, etc. These trees will grow to be several hundred years old, are not seriously affected by insect and fungus diseases and seldom look shabby or unsightly.—J. H. Frost in Chicago Daily News.

Service! Certain-teed means service in the broadest sense. Here is a roofing that is ideally adaptable to every type of building in the city, town and country. Here is a roofing that gives not only the most complete weather protection year after year, but that is a protection against sparks and embers. Here is a roofing that costs less to buy, to lay and to maintain than any other type of roof. Here is a roofing that can be quickly laid by anyone who will follow the simple directions that come with the roll. Here is a roofing that is absolutely guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years. Certain-teed is made in rolls, both smooth and rough surfaced (red or green)—also in handsome red or green asphalt shingles for residences. Certain-teed is extra quality—the name means certainty of quality and it is a guarantee that we give you to get Certain-teed—most dealers sell it, but only Certain-teed is made and sure to get it. Certain-teed Paints and Finishes are the highest quality. They will give the best paint satisfaction. Certain-teed Products Corporation Offices and Warehouses in Principal Cities
