Besides Mr. Rousseau and Mr. Berge there is the drummer who is a real live wire. He plays the drums, traps and accessories and puts a lot of "pop" into his work. He likewise plays the cornet, which from being a distinct novelty never employed in an orchestra before, the player according to Mr. Berg, makes an addition to the value of several men as it is a complete band in itself.

Mr. Holl is having the stairways arranged now for the additional three story story added this year, but is going forward with as much of the work as is practical at this time. The street entrances will remain as at present and the added stairways will be a continuation of those that are there now.

Do Authors Enjoy Writing?
In an editorial on the financial rewards of the late Amelia E. Barr the New York World sets forth the love of writing always produces the best results. "We object," says the editor, "to the canvass of writers who show that nine-tenths of them do not love to write. There is a good deal of bluff about it, and it is in fact, to get honest answers many writers are afraid to say they don't enjoy the writing job."

Novely Musicians With Rousseau's Musical Entertainers at the Moose Concert and Dance at Cheney Hall Next Thursday Evening

GREAT JOY EVENT AT CHENEY HALL NEXT THURSDAY BY LOCAL MOOSE
Without attempting to detract anything from the merit of any dance given here this season or any other attraction which may be presented later, the fact that the South End Lodge of Moose have engaged the Rousseau Musical Entertainers to furnish music for their concert and dance at Cheney Hall next Thursday evening stands out as the leading social event of the season.

The supper was prepared by the committee from the evening hall under the leadership of John H. Russell. Colonel C. G. Burlingame gave a short talk telling of some of his experiences on the battlefields of France and in the hospital work. There were vocal and musical selections and a moving picture show.

LARGE TAXPAYERS IN FIRE DISTRICT

The two and one-half mill tax levied by the voters of the South Manchester Fire District at the annual meeting in August, 1919, will be due November first, 1919. William Taylor will make the collection.

Robert E. Carney is compiling the rate book. Owing to the large number of realty transfers made during the year the work of compiling the rate book required a great deal more assistance of records than formerly. The tax is due on the grand list last completed, which was last year. During the interval several hundred pieces of property have been transferred, making it necessary to search the land records to ascertain who are the owners of the properties at the present time.

Mr. Carney will not finish this work until next week. It was far enough advanced this morning, however, to enable The News to secure a list of those property owners in the fire district who will be required to pay taxes on properties valued at $100 or over.

Mr. Carney has not finished the totals yet but estimates that the grand list of the fire district this year will reach nineteen million dollars. A two and one-half mill tax on that amount will raise $46,000. Following is a list of taxpayers now owning property valued at $100 or over in the South Manchester Fire District:

THIRD RED CROSS ROLL CALL

RUBINOW SELLS SHOP TO S. L. BARRABEE

William Rubinow has disposed of his business to Samuel L. Barrabee of Hartford. The new proprietor has now in charge. Mr. Rubinow retains a financial interest and will continue to be actively engaged at the store as usual.

Mr. Rubinow founded the Rubinow Specialty Shop more than twelve years ago. Starting in a small way and from a modest beginning he pushed ahead until today the store is one of the leaders in South Manchester. He applied himself faithfully, diligently and persistently to the task before him. He always found much pleasure in his work and entered into the tasks before him with enthusiasm and fire of vigorous young manhood. His efforts have been abundantly rewarded. He has the pleasure of looking back today over the trail which he blazed here and noting the success which has attended his efforts. He was a pioneer in making a specialty of selling women's and children's wearing apparel in South Manchester. He had the vision to see that a shop such as he had in mind would fill a real need in the life of this community. He had an ideal and he struggled industriously for its achievement. He is a young man now in the early thirties.

By his business sense he has secured the attention and interest of valuable real estate in South Manchester. He has been working for William Rubinow since he was fourteen years old. He is entitled to much credit for very early success made the talents of the Master gave him. He did not bury them in the earth. He applied them in such a manner that they brought forth an hundred fold.

The new proprietor of Rubinow's Specialty Shop is no stranger in South Manchester. He has been doing a commission business in women's and children's wearing apparel for the past twenty years. He has given up the commission business and will devote his entire time and energies to the duties devolving upon him in his new undertaking.

Successful Dance
The Moose dance at Cheney Hall last evening was one of the big success of the season and a large dancing party was present to enjoy the fun. The music as provided by the Rousseau Musical Entertainers of Worcester, Mass., was heard over heart in South Manchester. The orchestra is composed of all star musicians who are capable of playing several instruments and the variety of the music played was greatly enjoyed. The piano section played of Al Berg drew forth hearty applause here. The orchestra distinguished by a number of novelties in their playing which added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. The endorsement committee of the South End Lodge of Moose were asked by many last evening to book the orchestra for a return engagement and it is possible that a date will be arranged in the near future.

Miss Lona Markham of Hartford visited with friends in South Manchester last Sunday.

NINTH SCHOOL DISTRICT MEETING NEXT WEEK

The call for a special meeting of the Ninth School district has been issued, the meeting to take place at the assembly hall next Thursday evening. The official notice appears in the advertising columns of The News today. There are three important sections in the call for the meeting. These involve the purchase of additional land, the issuing of bonds, and the erection of a recreation hall on the west side of the district.

At the annual meeting in July an appropriation of $100,000 was made for the erection of a new school building on Spruce street. Since that time it has been found that this figure is inadequate and a larger sum will be necessary. The committee also has seen fit to recommend a change in the original plans, which also call for more money in order to carry through these changes additional land will be necessary.

The committee has received an option on the Salvator Army barracks on Spruce street next north of land the district bought in July. This property belongs to the McRoberts estate and it has been offered to the district for $200,000. The district officials will recommend the purchase of the land and building at this figure. The meeting will also be called upon to take action on the issuing of bonds, the amount, kind, interest rate, maturity date and method of paying same to be decided at the meeting.

COMMUTERS CONFER WITH PRES. L. C. STORRS
The conference between the local trolley commuters committee and President L. C. Storrs of the Connecticut Company which took place in Hartford Wednesday will result in action favorable to the commuters in the opinion of Harry M. Burke chairman of the committee.

The trolley commuters committee which is presented to President Storrs showing why trolley commuters should be entitled to a reduction in fares over the occasional traveler. After much discussion and interchange of views and ideas President Storrs admitted the general principle that the commuters are entitled to a reduction in fares. He indicated that the two-thirds reduction on the new zone rates might be applied to the commuters, but made no direct promises to this effect. It was inferred from his final remarks, however that he intended to hold the present rate of two-thirds feature on the new zone system would be equitable for the commuters and for the Connecticut Company alike.

The trolley commuters will meet again at the town hall here this evening at eight o'clock and the committee will present the entire report. It is expected that some favorable news for the commuters will then be given out and that much encouragement for those who are endeavoring to secure lower and more fair rates for the commuters will be forthcoming.

The comparative difference between the charges now being made to steam road commuters as against trolley commuters is shown that a thirteen-weeks commutation ticket between Manchester station and Hartford on the steam road now sells for $14.45. The trolley commuter will pay the same time for thirteen weeks travel between Manchester and Hartford $12.72. This is an advance for trolley commuters over the steam road commuters of $1.73 for the thirteen weeks travel. The occasional traveler is not so much favored by the steam road as it is by the trolley. Mr. Burke presented 13 points to President Storrs relating the trolley commuters contention for a reduction in fares. These points will be read at the meeting this evening.

HIGHWAY COMMITTEE WILL BUY TRUCK
The highway committee of the Board of Selectmen expect some time Monday in witnessing demonstrations of automobile trucks and in listening to arguments advanced by salesmen, who were present to sell the four-wheel truck. The annual town meeting made an appropriation of $5,000 for this purpose. Before placing an order the highway committee will make further investigations. They will ultimately buy an automobile truck.

Remember School Tax
It will be well for taxpayers in the Ninth School District to bear in mind the fact that a tax of two mills on the dollar is now due and collectible. It must be paid on or before November first in order to avoid being penalized for neglect of this important public duty. George Davidson is the tax collector. He can be found today and tomorrow, and on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday at the store of G. E. House & Son, 110 North Main street. He will have you in mind to sell the four-wheel truck. The annual town meeting made an appropriation of $5,000 for this purpose. Before placing an order the highway committee will make further investigations. Connecticut's participation in the nationwide observance of Roosevelt's birthday, Monday, October 27, is to be as universal and noteworthy as the Connecticut Committee, Roosevelt Memorial Association can make it.

The Roosevelt Memorial Association believes that Americans desire to see two forms of memorials to their dead leader. The first of these forms is one that shall be immediate and that shall enable all Americans to "subscribe to and uphold the Roosevelt. The concrete expression of this memorial will be a series of meetings held in every city and town on Roosevelt's birthday, October 27th.

A special letter from chairman Taft has been sent to every church, man and every school teacher in the state, in which ex-president Taft says, in part: "Shortly after the death of Theodore Roosevelt a body of citizens from all parts of the country met and founded the Roosevelt Memorial Association, Monday, October 27th, in Roosevelt's birthday, in these unsettled times when his wise advice and counsel of Americanism would be of so much value, it would seem most fitting to hold commemorative exercises on that day in every community of our country."

"It is hoped that all our clergy and school teachers will feel inclined to devote some part of the time of the service in their churches and schools on October 26 and October 27, to some form of memorial in Roosevelt's honor, calling to the minds of their congregations the great facts of his noble life."

Announcing to the Public a Readjustment of Trolley Fares

Beginning November 2nd a readjusted schedule of fares will be effective on the lines of The Connecticut Company, by which passengers will pay according to the distance they ride.

The present 6-cent fare will be retained, and will pay for transportation in any two zones.

For rides beyond the central area a charge of two cents per zone will be made, and each zone will be approximately four-fifths of a mile in the sparsely settled districts.

This system has been decided on because it seems to be the most equitable arrangement that can be made, and because there have been public requests for it.

The Connecticut Company has three alternatives: (1) A high flat fare of not less than eight and probably ten cents in the present area without changing the fare limits; (2) The division of the system into a greater number of six-cent zones, or (3) The distance system with the six-cent minimum fare and small increments.

Further details of the readjustment will be published later. The Connecticut Company.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. Repatriating Prisoners.

When hostilities ceased there were in the hands of their Teuton captors millions of prisoners of war of all Allied countries, the terrible plight of whom is well known to all the world. Red Cross workers, carrying relief supplies of clothing, medicines and supplementary foodstuffs, penetrated the Central Powers as soon after the armistice as the military authorities would permit, and the work of getting the prisoners started back to their own countries was soon begun. In this photograph a group of these men are seen packed up and restored to something like normal health, awaiting the train that will carry them out of bondage.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. Home Service.

One of the finest constructive activities of the American Red Cross in the war was Home Service in the United States, the friendly connecting link between the soldier far from home and his loved ones. This branch of the work which under the peace program of the Red Cross will be expanded to benefit all who need the assistance it can provide, is directed by scientifically trained social workers. Since instituted Home Service has assisted 80,000 soldiers' and sailors' families. This photograph shows one of the innumerable Home Service information bureaus where service men and their families could bring their problems for solution.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. Public Health Nursing.

In the midst of his multifarious war duties the American Red Cross did not neglect its obligations to the civilian population at home. Throughout the conflict it maintained its Bureau of Public Health Nursing, instruction in first aid, home nursing and sanitation, and disaster relief. Particularly in their work for the babies was effort by public health nurses important. The accompanying photograph shows a Red Cross public health nurse instructing a mother in the proper preparation of a baby's diet.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. In the Arctic Circle.

Wherever American soldiers went during the war and after, there also went the American Red Cross. This policy carried Red Cross workers far corners of the globe and here they are seen near the rim of overwintering ice and snow in North Russia. Automobiles were used whenever possible but on many journeys the roadster pictured here proved most effective.

HOW MEMBERS OF FISHING COLONY PAID RENTAL TO LAND OWNER.

Perhaps one of the most curious rentals to be found anywhere in the world is that by which the members of the famous Schuylkill Fishing Company pay the rent of their "colony" in the form of three sun perch delivered on a pewter platter. This ancient organization, which is said to be the oldest of its kind in Delaware, has its home on the Delaware river, near Cornwall station, on the New York division of the Pennsylvania railroad. William Warner, because of his gift of the use of the club's land at a nominal rental and free from any taxes, which fact has, of late, built upon it, was dubbed by his fellow-members of the colony "Baron" Warner, which it must be admitted was a high-sounding title for a modest Quaker. Those who were privileged to witness the ceremony of paying the rental on May 1 never forgot the picturesque sight. Wearing broad-brimmed hats with white braids, headed by the members of the fishing colony, the members of the colony marched to the "baronial" mansion and there formally delivered the rent—three sun perch laid on a pewter platter. Now, however, the citizens of Pennsylvania, in Schuylkill, own their own lands, which fact has, of course, done away with the ceremony of the sun perch. Not the least interesting feature of the sun paying was that the men who carried the plebeian sun fish were usually millionaires.

ON THRESHOLD OF NEW ERA. Use of Concrete May Make Changes of Importance in the World.

There have been the stone age, the wooden age, the steel age, and now we are on the threshold of the concrete age. The wooden walls in which men sought are mere cockshells when compared with the titan steel men of war that beat the enemy at Jutland, and it is quite safe to predict that those in their turn will be immeasurably surpassed by the future super-structure, constructed of reinforced concrete. One great advantage of this new material is the ease with which it can be handled. A suitable pattern has only to be made and any number of like ships can be turned out by simply running the concrete into the same mold. The material is equally suitable for the construction of houses, and again the rapidly with which they can be constructed is amazing, and if properly applied would do much to solve the present housing shortage. The writer recently saw some ordinary household furniture—chairs, tables and cupboards—made of concrete, and they were wonderfully artistic and fragile in appearance, but quite serviceable—Lillian Dink.

Why Look Well at Breakfast. To appear at the breakfast frolics of the morning as well as for ourselves as it is disastrous to the persons who may have to be confronted by a far from lovable apparition.

This sort of behavior shows a lack of appreciation of ourselves and can hardly command the respect which we should demand as much by our looks as by our works. It takes only a little while longer to bathe and brush the hair up in a beaming manner than it does to hurriedly throw on a bathrobe and stroll into the breakfast room in a listless, don't care attitude of mind and body. After such a poor start even the breakfast is apt to lack appealing qualities to one who is at best half awake. The extra time consumed in the exercise of bathing and dressing is just the needed interim in which the average person is able to get up a little enthusiasm for the happenings of the day and an appetite for the first meal of the day.

Why Frosted Bulbs Are Best. Army examinations have revealed the fact that the most important general that it may be considered a national affliction. It is significant that impairment of vision has come with more brilliant illustrations. Proper precautions in the home may largely contribute toward the alleviation of this condition. In using incandescent electric lights of the recent types—the tungsten and the gas-filled—the lower portion of the globe should be frosted to prevent the filament from being directly visible, and a reflector used to illuminate the sides of the room use a rather flat reflector, one shaped like an inverted dinner plate, which brightly illuminates a small region below the lamp use a deep, hollow reflector. S. S. Post, University Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colo.

Why She Wanted Gold. The story of recovery will appear early this week. A few weeks ago a lady entered a suburban laundry of five and asked very earnestly for the return of the cord with which her last consignment of washing had been secured. The amazed office girl's conciliatory remark that the request was rather irresponsible revealed the lady's indignation. "But I must have it," she insisted. "I use it to tie my curtains back with."

HOME RUN KING BECOMES PARTNER OF UNCLE SAM. Popular Red Sox Star Presented With Six $100 Treasury Savings Certificates.

BABE RUTH, "THE HOME RUN KING," IS PRESENTED WITH SIX HUNDRED DOLLAR TREASURY SAVINGS CERTIFICATES—THE WOMAN IS RUTH'S WIFE—YES, HE TURNED THEM OVER TO HER.

Babe Ruth, the home run king, and the hardest hitting baseball player in the game today, became a stock holder in the United States Government recently, when, in the presence of thousands of admiring fans he was presented with six $100 United States Treasury Savings Certificates. Babe Picks Winners. The presentation was made the last game of the season in Boston between the Chicago White Sox and the Boston Red Sox. A special "Babe Ruth Day" was held at Fenway Park and the certificates were presented between the games of a double header. They were the gift of the Pere Marquette Coach, Knights of Columbus, South Boston. In becoming a stock holder in the United States Government, Babe Ruth became a brother stock holder with Jack Dempsey, the pugilistic champion who recently invested $1000 in these securities. The cash value of the six Treasury Savings Certificates when presented to Babe Ruth was $604. In 1924 at maturity they will be worth $606. Babe Ruth is a strong believer in investing his money in safe securities such as Treasury Savings Certificates and War Savings Stamps. He has no leanings toward the "get-rich-quick" schemes, and saves only the pennies of securities of doubtful value.

Little Miss Ping Wong of Columbus, Ohio, does not wear the trousers of the native Chinese girl's costume; but none of her trousseau school book competitors in the sale of War Savings Stamps was able to surpass her in business acumen and perseverance. Miss Ping, who is 13 years old and daughter of a wealthy Chinese merchant has been awarded a "General Pershing" medal for having sold more than $25,000 in War Savings Stamps this year. Miss Ping explained that she had sold War Savings Stamps because her father had told her she must do her very best for America because this country had given him a home, comfort and prosperity.

Views of Famous Men. Some of our greatest industrial organizations have learned their A-B-C's in waste elimination and have found themselves well repaid. The time is coming when every man who says claim to business ability will keep the question of waste before him constantly. "Waste is worse than loss. The time is coming when every person who lays claim to ability will keep the question of waste before him constantly. The scope of Thrift is limitless."—Thomas A. Edison.

BEE WISE. Drift.

Life is gay and blithe and sunny since the peace dove hit the breeze; everyone is burning money just as though it grew on trees. I insist on thrift and savings, but there's none to heed my words; Johnnies say that I am raving, and throw money to the birds. Men are drawing princely wages and their breasts are filled with mirth, and the merry foreboding tomorrow's sun will rise; things will be going poorly with the giddy spending guys. Things won't boom along forever as they're booming now, my friends; and the man who's been too clever saves as ably as he spends. It is patent to the knowing in expensive times like these, that the koepke won't be growing always on the alabaster trees. There will come a day of trouble, when this boom is left behind, and the koepke and the rouble will be mighty hard to find; happy then the lads whose wages have been rather than in their hands, who should have saved when the living graft was fine. And how get will be the mortals who like spendthrifts now behave, who reply with jeers and chorches when we call on them to save.

POULTRY. TO RAISE HEALTHY CHICKENS. Lack of Vigor in Newly Hatched Chicks is Often Traceable to Weakness of Parents.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) To be successful in raising chickens it is necessary to have healthy and vigorous breeding stock, for the lack of vigor in the newly hatched chicks is often traceable to weak parents. Only the most vigorous and the best grown birds should be put in the breeding yards. Each bird should be full of life and energy and free from any serious deformity. Yearling hens are usually better than pullets for breeders, for the reason that the hens are more mature and do not lay so many eggs during the early winter, and consequently do not reduce their vitality so much before the breeding season. Vigorous hens 2 to 4 years old can often be advantageously retained in the breeding yard. The male bird chosen should be young and active. An early hatched, well-developed cockerel is usually satisfactory, or a good vigorous yearling or 2-year-old cock may be chosen. The hens used for breeding purposes should be given the best care possible; they should be provided with fresh water and should not be forced for heavy egg production during the early winter.

Healthy and Vigorous Farm Flock. DIPPING CHICKENS FOR LICE. Likely to Become More General Than Dipping Cattle Because Pest is More Numerous.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) "Dip the chicks." It isn't done just for the sake of making a rhyme for "dip that tick," either. Dipping chickens is likely to become more general than dipping cattle, because the chicken louse is a more widely distributed insect than the cattle tick. The "dip" consists of 1 ounce of sodium fluoride to the gallon of water, which should be at a temperature of 70 to 85 degrees. The dipping should be done on a clean, warm day—never on a cold day. The old way of getting rid of chicken lice was by dusting with dry sodium fluoride. It was effective, but in the case of large flocks it was slow and wasteful, a great deal of the dusting material being inevitably lost. Recent dipping experiments proved successful, and the results promise a simple and speedy means of getting rid of one of the worst pests of poultry.

THRIFT AND SUCCESS. UP-TO-DATE SUMMER HOUSES. Colony Plan of Housing Poultry May Be Adopted to Advantage on a Great Number of Farms.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) The curtain-front or partial open-front house is conceded to be the best type for most sections. The colony plan of housing poultry may be adopted to advantage on many farms. This system does away with the danger of tainted soil. The roosts should be built on the same level, 3 feet from the floor, with a dropping board about 6 inches below them. Good roosts may be made of 2 by 2 inch material with the upper edges rounded. The nests may be placed on the side walls or under the dropping boards. It is best to have them darkened, as the hens prefer a secluded place in which to lay.

DOULTRY NOTES. Lay the hens help themselves to a dry mash. Market white-shelled and brown-shelled eggs in separate packages. Ship or deliver eggs at least twice or three times weekly. Call the flock so as to eliminate the early nesters and other unproductive producers. Inferior eggs will withstand marketing conditions much better than fertile eggs. Market hens which you do not wish to carry longer as soon as they stop laying and begin to molt in the late summer or fall.

Early Sewing Machine. Thomas Saint, an Englishman, obtained a patent for the first sewing machine in 1790 in London. The mechanism of the machine was made of wood.

The Sleep Walker. John Wesley experimented in sleep walking as a cure for insomnia. Finding he woke every night about twelve and lay sleepless for some hours, he decided to go to bed later and rise earlier. The first day he rose at seven instead of eight, the next at six, the next at five, the next at four. By rising at that hour he found he slept without waking throughout his "tration," and thereafter rose at four for good.

Merely Nominal Right. The freedom of the city of London carries with it, nominally, at any rate, the right to keep pigs in the parish of St. James, Piccadilly. But even were any one disposed to avail himself of this liberty, and if the sanitary authorities failed to object, and in that part of London is somewhat too costly for profitable pig farming.
