FIKE PUMP ORDERED
LAFRANCE TYPE IS FAVORITE

The commissioners of the South Manchester Fire Department have voted to order another LaFrance type of fire fighting apparatus, making the third ordered here and fourth from that company. Oliver P. Toop, secretary of the fire commissioners left for Boston Tuesday morning with a contract for a new LaFrance fire pump, which will be used by Center Hose Company No. 2. The apparatus will be a combination hose, chemical and pump. It will have a pumping capacity of 350 gallons per minute, the same as that of Hose Company No. 2. It cost $8500 which is $500 more than was appropriated at the annual meeting in August. However, the commissioners have sold the Hoop-LaFrance combination hose and chemical which was used by Company No. 2 the LaFrance pump, which will bring the new machine within the appropriation.

LAMSON HUBBARD
HATS AND CAPS

Ernest Turkington of Center street spent the week-end with friends in Portland.
George F. Douthwaite and Mrs. Harry Douthwaite and George S. and Mrs. Douthwaite and daughter, Miss Louise Douthwaite of Hartford were the guests of relatives in South Manchester last Sunday.

NOT BOARING.
"I never heard of you as having the slightest chance for a presidential boom."
"No," replied Senator Borah. "I know my limitations, and I am not discontented. Most anybody can get bent for a nomination to high office, but it takes a pretty good line of ability and luck to hold on to moderate distinction term after term."
Sentiment.
The Mistress—Mary, what is that old paint-pot doing on the corner shelf?
The Cook—It belongs to the man who worked here last spring.
The Mistress—You may throw it away.
The Cook—I'll do nothing of the sort, mum. It's all I have to remember him by—Fueck.

Its Result.
"How do you like the play?"
"Not at all. It sets me to thinking."
"Why, there isn't a serious thought in it. It was written to keep people from thinking."
"I know. But just the same it sets me to thinking how poor it is!"
Lost Friendship.
"I thought they were the best of friends."
"They used to be."
"What happened?"
"The two families tried the experiment of sharing the same summer cottage for a month and now they're deadly enemies."

IN LEGISLATIVE HALLS.
Did you see the lady senator?
I did.
And what was she doing when you saw her?
She was powdering her nose.

Safety First.
Pull many a grave in filled today
By men who had
The right of way.

Sign of Wealth.
"They must be very wealthy."
"What makes you think so?"
"They own a phonograph."
"Shucks. Lots of people own phonographs."
"I know, but they keep their records with the very latest records."

A Personage at Last.
"You ought to see the efforts some very distinguished people now make to get our old friend Bink to notice them."
"Has he become a society leader?"
"No. Walter is a restaurant."

Out Witted.
Higgins—You shouldn't allow that donkey to do just as he pleases. Where is your will-power?
Miggins—My will-power is fairly strong but not so strong as this donkey's won't-power.

Taking a Suggestion.
"Our cook says she is afraid of ghosts."
"Thanks!" exclaimed Mr. Crosslot, "there isn't a thing anything human being can say or do. I'll tip my wife off to try ghosts."

Good Walter.
Maid: "I am sorry to disturb your sleep, ma'am but here is your breakfast."
Debutante: "You don't disturb me. I have been lying here waiting for it for three hours."

Prompt Work.
"Tom is certainly a man of action."
"What has he done?"
"Why, the very day after his job acceptance he gave up his job at the bank and joined the Don't Worry club."

Uncomplimentary.
Bell—Your hair is always so beautifully dressed, you must devote a great deal of attention to it.
Nell—Yes, I must confess my head is my chief weakness.

THE LAST WORD.
A woman always has the last word.
Not always.
And if she has the last word, she is a condemned to let a man write it as the signature to the signature to a check.

Great Luck.
He chuckles and he smiles in hand.
With joy he'd like to hold;
And if he's lucky to be much of a and when he does.

Self-Evident.
"My girl's a dream. She's pretty, good cook and is very quiet."
"Then you needn't tell me she's a dream if she's all that."

Crude Surmise.
"Why, Ben, that string tied around his finger."
"From all I hear, I guess it is his wife's apron string."
No Great Discovery.
"The trouble with Jones is that he hasn't found himself yet."
And it isn't long to be much of a and when he does.

RAISE IN SALARIES
OF LOCAL POLICE
MADE BY NEW BOARD
POLICE COMMISSIONERS

The new board of police commissioners met for organization at the Hall of Records Monday evening and besides organizing gave the policemen all a boost in salary. Patrick H. McNeary, who was elected to succeed G. E. Willis, was chosen as chairman of the board, Henry A. Kettleton, who succeeds John F. Sheridan, was appointed to serve the board as secretary. The other member of the commission is ex-spectman James H. Johnston who succeeds Edward J. Koll.
Chief of Police Samuel G. Gordon was invited to be present at the meeting and a discussion regarding the workings of the department took place. The chief was asked many questions regarding the department, and the new commissioners showed they were in close touch with police matters. When the question of increased salaries came up the commissioners had a long discussion of how other police departments in the state are paying their men and there was a feeling that the local police were not receiving as much money as they should under the present conditions. A comparison with other towns and cities in the state showed that Manchester police are receiving less than is paid in other places. The following increases were voted:
Chief Gordon, present salary, $1,700, advanced to $2,000.
Captain Campbell, present salary $1,500, increased to $1,700.
Patrolman Clemen, (oldest member on the force in point of service) present salary $1,400, advanced to $1,600.
All other patrolmen who have been receiving $1,400, advanced to $1,575.

ASSESSORS WILL
NAKE INCREASES
The board of assessors have announced that there will be an increased valuation of 10 per cent. placed upon all buildings in town by the board when they make their valuations on the taxable property this year.
This increase according to the assessors is a fair raise in the valuations, as building materials and labor have greatly increased in price and the replacement charges on any building in town would be greatly in excess of this amount. In making this increase the board of assessors have in mind the fact that a revaluation of all taxable property in town will under the law have to be made next year and it is probable that the increase will be placed on land values rather than on buildings.
This assessors have been given by a number of people to make an increase in the valuations of buildings this year. One of the reasons advanced is that where property has been sold lately the price paid have been very high, which would show the selling value of the property rather than its assessed valuation, which was in all cases very much lower. Town officials and other who have given the matter by consideration feel that a ten per cent. addition in the valuations is justified at this time. Were it not for the fact that the state law calls for a revaluation next year, the raise this year would perhaps be greater and the land values would also be boosted.

Manchester has a grand list of $2,000,000 and with a ten per cent. raise the grand list will be boosted a quarter of a million dollars. It is expected that there will be an increase of a half million dollars in the grand list this year, which should tend to keep the tax rate at about ten or eleven mills.
The taxpayers have about made up their minds that a ten or eleven mill rate is enough to run the town's business and will not vote for a greater tax rate. Although the selectmen feel that fourteen mills will be necessary to tide the town over for the coming year, there is a feeling that such a rate will not be voted. The raise in valuations by the assessors will help out, so as it will give the town the equivalent of another mill in taxes.
The assessors have a great many tax lists to make out yet, as the property owners have not been responding in large numbers. The assessors will be in session until November 15th, which is the final day on which tax lists can be sworn to before the assessors. After that valuations will be placed upon all property which has not been cared for by the property owners and returned to the assessors. The law requires assessors to place valuations on properties every five years in Connecticut.
The Royal Neighbors of America will hold a Halloween social at Tinker Hall Monday evening, October 27th.

MAKE APPLICATION FOR LIQUOR LICENSES

Ten of the saloon proprietors in Manchester have applied to the county commissioners for liquor licenses for the year starting Monday, November 3rd. The applications were made to the county commissioners last week and the saloon men have been on the anxious seat ever since as to what action if any the commissioners would take. The commissioners would give out no advance information or advice regarding the applications for liquor licenses. They received the applications in the usual manner but would not tell the applicants whether hearings would be assigned and the applications advertised or not. Part of the mystery was cleared up Wednesday when it became known that the commissioners had sent copies of the applications to the newspapers for publication. The county commissioners will assign dates for hearings on the applications later. Some spirited remonstrances are expected to be brought out at the hearings and a legal battle will doubtless ensue as to whether or not the commissioners have a right to issue liquor licenses under the present war time prohibition ban and the forthcoming "dry" spell which starts January 16.

The following have applied for a renewal of their liquor licenses in this place: William Walsh, Orford hotel; William P. Uncles, Maple street; Oak Cafe, Oak street; Alfred Johnson, Oak street; George L. Betts, Spruce street; Francis Deane, Bissell street; Sanlorazo & Jucipiero, Bissell street; James Tammany Corporation, Cowles hotel; Miss O'Connell, North Main street; Patrick O'Connor, North Main street. There will be no license asked for the saloon on Charter Oak street which the late Peter N. Larson conducted for several years. Following the death of the proprietor that saloon was closed and shortly after was dismantled. There will be no saloon in that building in the future.

The legal status of the license question is one over which there is much speculation. Eminent authorities see the situation from opposing standpoints. Average saloon keepers are in a much doubt about the outcome of other citizens.
James and Mrs. Goldman of Park street left South Manchester Sunday on a motor trip through Massachusetts and New Hampshire.
Ralph A. and Mrs. Pinney of Glastonbury were the guests of friends in town last Sunday.

SPICY MEETING OF COMMUTERS

Organization Committee. Adopts Name. No Thanks for Use of Town Hall. Is Property of Citizens. Trustees Salary Discussed

At a largely attended meeting of trolley commuters in the town hall Wednesday evening the report of the special committee was received and the commuters voted to form an organization to be known as the Manchester Commuters Association. No definite steps were taken at the meeting towards blocking the proposed raise in trolley fares because of the opinion given by the commuters that the fact that the Public Utilities Commission could take no action until after the new rates became an established fact. The meeting demonstrated that the commuters are determined in their effort to gain a reduction from the regular schedule of fares and are willing to spend money to wage a struggle to accomplish that end.
A committee with several assistants has been named for each of the seven sections. Following these groups there will be dancing in the gymnasium and other entertainments will be interspersed. Following are the various committees:
Feature No. 1—Miss Lena Parkin, chairman; Miss Maudson, Earl Trotter, Fred Walters, Miss Mildred Burbank, Miss Hulda Butler, Robert T. Craig.
Feature No. 2—Miss Alice Linn, chairman; Miss Adams, Clifford D. Cheney, Miss Lucy Platt, John Linn, Harry Benson.
Feature No. 3—Miss Elizabeth Clark, chairman; Miss Adelaide Pischke, Mrs. Walter Olson, Mrs. Henry Miller, Hubert Cadie.
Feature No. 4—Miss Essie Hatch, chairman; Miss McCarthy, Miss Gertrude Kane, Mrs. Hazel Cudde, Mrs. J. H. Johnston, Philip Larson.
Feature No. 5—Miss D. M. Crane, chairman; Miss Regina Hagen.
Feature No. 6—Thomas Clark, chairman.
Feature No. 7—Miss Marion Washburn, chairman; Henry Miller, Miss Agnes Finnegan, Max Benge, Refreshment committee—Miss Ella Washburn, chairman; Miss Mary Cheney, Miss Ruth Wadwell, Mrs. N. B. Richards, Frank Johnston, John Hyde, N. B. Richards, Sherwood Wigwagner.

CHAIRMAN BURE REPORTS
Harry M. Burke, chairman of the commuters committee made a report of the progress the committee had made since last Friday night's meeting. Mr. Burke recalled that it was planned to take some definite steps to block the installation of the new fares at Wednesday night's meeting, but in view of the opinion of the attorney general relating to the powers of the utilities commission the committee deemed it best to not pursue this line of action. The only thing left for the commuters to await the inauguration of the new zone system and after that some definite action could be taken. Mr. Burke said that the committee believed they had ample material to swear out an injunction against the starting of the proposed schedule, but in view of the opinion of the attorney general which rendered the utilities commission to hear such an injunction and that the committee must follow the law in this regard. For that reason definite steps would have to be delayed until the Monday evening when another meeting is to be held.

WILL SIGN PETITION
Mr. Burke said the committee has decided to have the commuters sign a petition remonstrating against the proposed fares which will be effective next Sunday. This petition will be signed at Monday night's meeting, after the new rates become an established fact. Mr. Burke said he had been paid a reply from President L. C. Storrs and also from the trustees of the Connecticut Company regarding a resolution in favor of commuters, but the replies had not been received. He noted the fact that the company had extended their zone in Hartford to include one fare for all shop workers from the center of the city. He said he still had hopes of favorable action from the company. He was in favor of settling the matter with the parties at interest before going to the courts, but "We are going to the courts if it's necessary," said Mr. Burke.

Carefully Mapped Out Plan of Campaign for Membership on Third Roll Call. Ten Thousand Persons Expected to Enroll Under New Banner

Judging by the enthusiasm with which the members of the Army and Navy Club are taking hold of the Red Cross roll call drive which starts next Sunday, the local end of the affair is going to be a big success. The fact that the executive men know personally that the big benefits of the Red Cross have been tended to fill them with enthusiasm for their work to make the drive a success. The work has been carefully mapped out and the plan of campaign being followed is copied from the way the army officials mapped out their work. The different heads of committees will have absolute charge and be held responsible for the results assigned them. A good working organization has been formed and the work is well under way for the opening of the drive. Dr. G. C. Hartington is general chairman; Philip Cheney is assistant chairman; George C. Butler heads the publicity committee and John A. Benson is his assistant. Clarence E. Bissett and William Thornton will have charge of the financial and cashier work respectively. Under Assistant Philip Cheney come nine departments with the following in charge: Supplies, John Hyde, speakers, Warren Keith, churches, Albert T. Dewey, fraternal, James R. Vetch, business men, R. G. Rich, industrial, Edward Ballester, districts, Edgar Morgan, Miss Adams, Miss Maudson, Miss Lucy Platt, John Linn, and Harry Benson. The girl solicitors are under the direction of the Child Welfare Committee. The Boy Scouts will act as messengers. All publicity houses for advertising on the screens, direction of George C. Butler, Fred H. Wall will assist him with the advertising and John F. Sullivan has offered the use of his new movie houses for advertising on the screens. Russell Hathaway is supervising the placing of posters and placards which is being done by the Boy Scouts. Mr. Butler will also have the following organizing men for his assistants: Robert E. Carney, Willard R. Rogers, Harold R. Germaine, Paul G. Lambert and Joseph W. Flood. The first five days of the drive will be devoted to renewing memberships and the last five days will be devoted to getting new members.
The men who are to captain the teams on the Red Cross Roll Call campaign will be: Charles H. Hartington, Ronald Ferguson, James F. Touhey, David Fuller, Walter Hall, Arthur Starkweather, Eric Curtis, Harry Straw, Walter Sheridan, Robert W. Wainwright, Ernest Kjellson, Fred Woodhouse, Leslie H. Hood, Vernon S. Anderson, Max Benge, Edward Quish, Harold Walsh, Clifford D. Cheney, Robert Hamilton, William McCourt, Fred Hughes, Arthur Attkin, James H. Dowd, Lt. James W. Farr, David H. McCollum, Rollie Ford, John H. Hayden, Henry E. McCann, Chesterfield Pitts, William Downing, James H. Thornton, Raymond Bidwell, C. O. Anderson, John E. Barrabee, Sherwood Martin.

CHENEY BROTHERS OFFER
Frank Cheney, Jr., said that Cheney Brothers had considered some sort of recreation building for the West Side. He declared that if the taxpayers saw fit to erect a combined recreation and school building, Cheney Brothers would pay for one-quarter of the cost of same and also that they would donate necessary land to the south of the Washington school for that purpose. The men immediately voted the $80,000 appropriation for the West Side building as asked for by Howell Cheney.
ADDITIONAL LAND PURCHASED
On motion of Howell Cheney an appropriation of $7,000 was made for the purchase of the Gospel Hall property located on Spruce street north of land already owned by the district. Mr. Cheney said the land was not needed at the present time, but as the district owned land to the south and west of this property it was obvious that the district should also acquire the Gospel Hall property. The appropriation for the purchase of the property was made without a dissenting vote.

HOUSE—ENGLISH
Clifford House, son of Loren A. and Mrs. House of South Main street, and Miss Anna English of Barnstable were married at the South Methodist parsonage last evening by Rev. G. G. Scrivenor. They were attended by Harold and Mrs. House, brother and sister-in-law respectively, of the bridegroom. Following the ceremony a reception was held and a wedding supper served at the home of the bride in Barnstable. The couple left during the evening for New York, where they are now enjoying their honeymoon. On their return they will live on West Center street. Mr. and Mrs. House have been employed in Cheney Brothers box shop as box makers and have a wide circle of friends in this place.

ROLL CALL WILL SUPPORT GREAT HOME PROGRAM

American Red Cross, Besides Serving in Disasters, Will Conduct National Movement for Health Betterment

The American Red Cross has announced for the week of November 2 to 11, a nation-wide campaign to be known as the Third Red Cross Roll Call.

Rapid-Fire Relief

As a comrade-in-arms to the American soldier, following him and often preceding him into the thick of battle, and on all occasions typifying the loving care and solicitude of the folks at home, the Red Cross won the gratitude of every fighting unit that went into action.

Major-General John F. O'Ryan, commander of the Twenty-Seventh Division, signified his gratitude for these services by volunteering to do all in his power to aid the Atlantic Division of the American Red Cross in the supporting campaign.

Why the Red Cross Must Go On. The war is over, but the work of the American Red Cross is far from ended. Its gigantic organization for relief and human betterment today faces tasks more momentous than those it faced and solved during the days of the war.

The Red Cross has other obligations in Europe which make it not only humane, but economically imperative, that its program be carried through to successful completion.

Supplies of the American Army should have been turned over to the Red Cross for administration and disposal.

The proper utilization of these supplies for humanitarian purposes makes it necessary that the Red Cross keep some of the forces in Europe for a long time to come.

Peace Program at Home. In addition to these European obligations, the Red Cross is laying the foundation for a great Peace Program at home.

Already the Red Cross has organized, in hundreds of rural districts and city slums, its classes in Public Health Nursing, where wives and mothers, school children and industrial workers are being taught the simple principles of health and sanitation.

ARCHANGEL... American aid has saved hundreds of monks of the famous Stovosky Monastery in Northern Russia from sad suffering, according to a letter received from the Prior by Major D. O. Lantry, Red Cross man of Manchester, who sent food to the monastery.

President Wilson Calls Nation To Join American Red Cross

"Our Patriotism Should Stand the Test of Peace as Well as the Test of War" He Says in Roll Call Proclamation

President Wilson has issued the following proclamation in the interest of the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11, Armistice Day:

As President of the United States and as President of the American Red Cross, I recommend and urge a generous response to the Third Red Cross Roll Call, which opens on November 2, with the observance of Red Cross Sunday and appropriately closes on November 11, the first anniversary of the signing of the Armistice.

Twenty million adults joined the Red Cross during the war, prompted by a patriotic desire to render service to their country, and to the cause for which the United States was engaged in war. Our patriotism should stand the test of peace as well as the test of war, and it is an intelligently patriotic program which the Red Cross proposes, a continuation of service to our soldiers and sailors who look to it for many things, and a transference to the problems of peace at home of the experience and methods which it acquired during the war.

It is our membership more than our contributions that the Red Cross needs in this present campaign. It is to the spirit of democracy that the people should undertake their own welfare activities, and the National Red Cross wisely looks to exert upon community action a stimulating and co-ordinating influence and to place the energies of the organization behind all sound public health and welfare agencies. The American Red Cross does not purpose indefinite prolongation of its relief work abroad, a policy which would lay an unjust burden upon our own people and tend to undermine the self-reliance of the peoples relieved, but there is a necessary work of completion to be performed before the American Red Cross can honorably withdraw from Europe. The Congress of the United States has authorized the Secretary of War to transfer to the American Red Cross such surplus army medical supplies and supplementary and dietary food stuffs now in Europe as shall not be required by the Army, to be used by the Red Cross to relieve the distress which continues in certain countries of Europe, as a result of the war.

To finance these operations, to conduct work which was begun during the war, and to carry out the program with the gifts, constructive plans for assisting peoples in Eastern Europe to develop their own welfare organizations, the American Red Cross requires, in addition to membership fees, a sum of money small in comparison with the gifts poured into its treasury by our heroes during the war.

Both the greater enduring domestic program and the lesser temporary foreign program of the Red Cross deserve enthusiastic support, and I venture to hope that its peace-time membership will exceed rather than fall below its war-time membership.

RED CROSS HELPS IN INSTANCES OF STRESS AND NEED

The Romance of Home Service Is Seen in the Desert of Damascus as Well as in America

The dependents of America's fighting men are being cared for wherever they may be and whatever may be the difficulties of reaching them. In this vast American Red Cross Home Service has been of far-flung usefulness, the record established by it proving so gratifying that Home Service has been confined to assistance of the families of soldiers and sailors, is now being expanded to be of general usefulness to all.

One of the purposes of the Third Red Cross Roll Call for members, November 2 to 11, is to enable the Red Cross to carry out an enlarged program of Home Service throughout the United States. The helping hand of Home Service is strikingly portrayed in a series of incidents reported to the Red Cross, continuing responsibility abroad by authorizing the Secretary of War to transfer to the American Red Cross such surplus army medical supplies and supplementary and dietary food stuffs now in Europe as shall not be required by the Army, to be used by the Red Cross to relieve the distress which continues in certain countries of Europe, as a result of the war.

To finance these operations, to conduct work which was begun during the war, and to carry out the program with the gifts, constructive plans for assisting peoples in Eastern Europe to develop their own welfare organizations, the American Red Cross requires, in addition to membership fees, a sum of money small in comparison with the gifts poured into its treasury by our heroes during the war.

Both the greater enduring domestic program and the lesser temporary foreign program of the Red Cross deserve enthusiastic support, and I venture to hope that its peace-time membership will exceed rather than fall below its war-time membership.

W. WOODROW WILSON.

THE RED CROSS IN THE SMALL TOWN The small town and the rural district in the future will be one great center of Red Cross activity. Two thousand nine hundred of the thirty-seven hundred Red Cross Home Service Sections are in places having a population of less than 5,000. The Bureau of Rural Organization has been created, headed by Prof. E. L. Morgan of Massachusetts College of Agriculture. Professor Morgan for several years has been engaged in organizing rural communities for improved economic conditions and the program in this work has given him a nationwide reputation.

Real problems are local, and must be solved locally. It is Professor Morgan's belief. In problems of education, health, roads, etc., the Red Cross cooperates with local organizations, always attempting to help the men and women of the district for real progress.

"It is the plan of our workers to develop rural organizations in the United States as rapidly as possible," said Professor Morgan, "that development of the rural community, the heart and soul of our country life, may be brought about."

The proper utilization of these supplies for humanitarian purposes makes it necessary that the Red Cross keep some of the forces in Europe for a long time to come. Another duty to be performed is the establishment of schools to train native workers in the war-stricken countries in American standards of sanitation and social work. Unless this vital measure is accomplished, the value of much that has been done for the relief of Europe will be lost.

Peace Program at Home. In addition to these European obligations, the Red Cross is laying the foundation for a great Peace Program at home. Already the Red Cross has organized, in hundreds of rural districts and city slums, its classes in Public Health Nursing, where wives and mothers, school children and industrial workers are being taught the simple principles of health and sanitation.

The Red Cross must go on. It cannot carry on in Europe until the situation of the American people are settled; it must carry on at home as an auxiliary to the Army and Navy of the United States, as the caretaker of our wounded and disabled soldiers, as a disaster relief organization to bring relief in fires, floods and epidemics, and as the one great unifying, cooperative agency in the field of public health.

DENTISTRY HAS NO TERRORS FOR NASSAU CHILDREN

Red Cross Juniors Provide Mobile Dental Equipment as Part of Health Program

Lack of even ordinary care of the teeth on the part of many school children in Nassau County, Long Island, was revealed by the medical report of the schools of the county for 1917 and 1918.

Many of the children never had any dental work, and many who were making regular visits to the dentist did so often to the detriment of their general health.

From now on the 25,000 school children of the county's schools in the county need not go to the dentist, however. The dental car of the Junior Red Cross of Nassau County will attend to that.

Dr. Vincent T. Mooney will operate for children, and all apparatus for dental work. This mobile dental car will make the rounds of all the schools. It will detect bad teeth and fill them, detect bad teeth and fill them, detect bad teeth and fill them.

The plan for the traveling dental shop was conceived and executed by Mrs. E. C. Brower of Roslyn, L. I., chairman of the Red Cross Committee on Schools of the County.

Proof of experiment. "Nassau County Chapter is very proud of its experiment," said Mrs. Brower. "Already the experiment has proved to be a great success. It fills a very definite need in our county. I am sure that in many communities there are many children who lack proper care of the teeth and should have the Junior Red Cross in any town where there is a school."

The nurse lists the things to be done to the children's teeth and submits an estimate of the cost to the parents. Prices are low, at most 25 cents to have one tooth filled, 35 cents for two, and 45 cents for three. Other work is charged for in proportion to the family cannot afford to pay the bill, the cost is charged up against the school, so that there can be no "hardship" stigma attached to the project.

"In addition to the Dental Car, the Junior Red Cross of Nassau County is to have a hospital all its own. The Nassau Hospital Association has given a building at Mineola which has been named the Nassau County Junior Red Cross Hospital. Children will be held there for the school children. On his rounds, Dr. Mooney will seek out the school children who need medical attention and refer them to the clinic. The Nassau County Red Cross Medical Service has offered to cooperate with the youngsters from the outlying districts to the hospital."

Serbia's Receive Clothing. PRIHSTINA, Serbia.—American shoeless undergarment has been the need of children in Serbia this summer. The Red Cross distributed several hundred suits of underwear in the past few days. They brought the garments much too fine for undergarments and sent their children to school dressed in underwear only.

Junior Red Cross Dental Car Spreads Doctrine of "Good Teeth"

Care of molars and incisors no longer an irksome task for children of Nassau county who are being taught how to look after their teeth. This is one of many health activities which the Red Cross is developing.

Managing Third Red Cross Roll Call in Three States

Major General John F. O'Ryan

MAJOR GENERAL JOHN F. O'RYAN. The commander of the old Twenty-seventh Division which was made up of National Guardsmen of New Jersey, is rallying thousands of returned fighting men around him in the determination to go "over the top" in the membership campaign, November 2 to 11, Armistice Day.

Boy Scouts will aid in Red Cross drive. Will Serve as Courier in Roll Call of Members November 2 to 11

Boy Scouts in the states of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut will participate in the Third Red Cross Roll Call, Major General John F. O'Ryan, leader of the Atlantic Division campaign, announced following the receipt of a letter from James E. West, chief scout executive, stating the scout organization would help in every way possible.

"I am also very happy to assure you that in line with our program of service the Boy Scouts of America in all communities throughout the country will be delighted to do everything consistent with our constitution and by-laws to make the Roll Call Campaign completely successful. The wonderful program of the American Red Cross for affording organized relief in a practical and substantial way merits the enthusiastic and loyal support of every citizen of our country."

"I am confident that every Boy Scout Leader and Scout who is given the opportunity will gladly do his utmost toward this same end."

Belgrade—Working in the American Red Cross sewing rooms during the past three months, 125 young Serbian girls have turned out 10,761 garments, using 14,970 yards of cloth. Most of them have been taught the craft. In the same school a group of boys made 60 pairs of shoes for war orphans.

Other Army Officers Appointed. The Red Cross chapters in the five boroughs of Greater New York joined in the selection of Brigadier General George R. Dyer, commander of the First Brigade of the New York National Guard, as chairman for their united campaign. Scores of chapters in the Atlantic Division have followed the example of the division headquarters and the Greater New York chapters by appointing army officers to take charge of their campaigns.

The enthusiasm and efficiency with which General O'Ryan is recruiting volunteers and developing his organization for the Roll Call is reflected also in the work of the army men who are now serving with him as chapter campaign managers.

GENERAL O'RYAN HEADS CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS TO DIRECT THIRD RED CROSS ROLL CALL IN THREE STATES—ARMY MEN OFFER HELP.

Major General John F. O'Ryan, commander of the famous Twenty-seventh Division, whose brilliant fighting qualities helped smash the "Hindenburg line," will direct the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11, in the states of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. The Roll Call is for the purpose of enrolling 5,000,000 members in the territory of the Atlantic Division and a minimum of 200,000 for the country.
