If the company did not have with additions made since the present appraisal would bring the value it would not be in debt today, as ent appraisal would bring the value of the road up to fifty-even millions of dollars, which was very close to the company's book valuation. This he thought would dispel any content independent of the trolley patrons now have their exact fares ready and reports from New Haven yesterday were to the effect that the system was working better than had been dreamed of in such a short space of time.

The PUBLIC INTEREST

To shoulder this paving proposition it would not be in debt today, as that amount just about equals its present indebtedness. The company and the trolley patrons now have their exact fares ready and reports from New Haven yesterday were to the effect that the system was working better than had been dreamed of in such a short space of time.
