Wesleyan University Faces Crisis Unless Large Endowment Is Raised.

HOLCOMB FAVORS CAMPAIGN.

Writes Letter to President Shanks Commending Work of the University—Urges Support From People of Connecticut.

Wesleyan University, which for nearly a century has been intimately identified with Connecticut, is launching a $3,000,000 movement for expansion. In common with many of the endowed colleges in the East, Wesleyan is today facing a financial crisis. For several years the University has operated with out a financial deficit, while many colleges have been steadily running be hind. This year marks the beginning of a deficit, for which financial provisions must be made. It is to the people of Connecticut that the college looks for assistance.

As a means of letting Connecticut people know what Wesleyan is doing and what it needs in the furtherance of its work in educational fields a book, "Connecticut and Wesleyan," has been prepared for distribution through out the state. This book contains a

Why He Believes in Spirits.

The president of Temple University, Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell, of Philadelphia believes we "are upon the borderland of great discoveries." Dr. Conwell has caused controversy among the students of his university by his statement that he has held verbal communication with the spirit of his wife. Dr. Conwell believes that we are surrounded by an invisible world of spirits which are cognizant of our actions and thoughts and can under certain conditions communicate with us.

He withheld his disclosure for years because the whole question had been so belittled and surrounded with fraud and deception. He says that spiritualism, so called, has been made the tool of conscientious mediums, fakirs and charlatans who have ex ploited themselves to such an extent that it has discouraged serious sci entific investigation and called into question the most convincing testi mony.

He finds references to the Bible which seem to bear out his belief in spiritual car and help from those who have died.

GOVERNOR MARCUS H. HOLCOMB.

comprehensive and detailed explanation of the crisis which the University must face during 1930.

High tribute to the attainments of Wesleyan in the educational field is contained in the following significant letter sent by Governor Marcus H. Holcomb to President William Arnold Shanks of the University of April, 1929.

My Dear President Shanks:

I wish to acknowledge receipt of a copy of "Connecticut and Wesleyan," and to express my appreciation for the college through you. It is characteristic of Wesleyan.

All who are interested in the well-being of Connecticut and the nation realize that they must support to the utmost the schools and colleges, which are the backbone of the State. Wesleyan is one of the colleges in our land the record of Wesleyan University is recognized as being second to none in its class.

It has been one of the most suc cessful of our independent colleges and merits the support it now asks.

Father has got for himself the dose of iron, quinine and strychnine. He had poured it into half a glass of water and had gone after something to take the taste out of his mouth when he swallowed the medicine. While he was gone little seven-year-old June came into the kitchen after a drink of water. Of course she saw father's glass of medicine and thinking it was water took a good swallow.

Father came back into the room just as she was spitting and trying to get that bitter taste away. "Was that water?" she asked him.

He nodded his head and then es sayed a joke. "But you're welcome," he said.

"No, I am not," she retorted. "I couldn't be, 'cause I'm not even thank ful."

How Danzig is Protected.

Along the Vistula side of the city of Danzig are large fortifications, stretch ing almost to Neufahrwasser. The three land sides of the city can be in undated by the opening of great water gates, built in the middle ages, and modernized before the great war. This inauation can be controlled by the military engineers, and at its greatest extent would make of Danzig a fort on a distant island, requiring an attack by a naval force. And the inundation would be of fresh water, not the salt water that the Belgians allow to get poor over their land in the hectic days of 1914, a voluntary sacrifice of the agricultural value of the soil for the sake of humanity.

HOW LIGHT IS CUT OFF IN CITY'S STREETS BY TOWERING SKYSCRAPER.

P. W. Fitzpatrick, the architect, who has been called the "father of skyscrapers," gives in the Popular Science Monthly some statistics as to the shadow cast by very high buildings.

"The Adams Express building, New York, which is 424 feet high, casts a shadow 375 feet in length; the Equitable building, which is 487 feet high, one 1,019 feet in length; the Singer tower, which is 540 feet high, one 1,127 feet in length, and the Wool worth tower, which is 731 feet high, one 1,535 feet in length.

"Some skyscrapers cast shadows from a sixth to a third of their height on surrounding property. Thus the Equitable building's shadow at noon on December 21 is about one-fifth of its height; it completely envelops an area of 7.50 acres. Yet the ground area of the Equitable building is only 1.14 acres.

"The shadow cast of all sun shine from the Broadway facade of the United States Realty building, which is 27 stories high. The New York Title and Mortgage Company building, 14 stories high, and the Washington Telephone building, 20 stories high, are both completely shaded. The south side of the Singer tower is shaded to a height of 27 stories. The west part of the City Investing building, 400 feet away, is in shadow for 24 of its 26 stories.

"The shadow cast of the Telephone building north of Cortlandt street is shadowed by the Equitable building.

Chinese Students Flock to French Universities

Chinese students of both sexes are expected to go to France at the rate of 5,000 to 6,000 a year during the next two years. This influx is ascribed to the fact that the Chinese are being attracted by German universities in the East, owing to the Chinese feeling over the Sino-French affair. Another reason for their choice of France is that the United States imposes restrictions upon Chinese immigrants.

This affords France an unique opportunity to shape the careers of those destined to be the nucleus of industrial and intellectual China of tomorrow.

French transportation companies are offering the Chinese special rates of transportation to bring them to France.

About 1,000 young Chinese are already in France studying the modern scientific methods of industry, finance, commerce and agriculture.

American specialists, including Mme. Hughes Le Roux, Mrs. Herman Duryea and Mrs. William Arthur Chanler, have provided a tent as an organization center for the new arrivals.

These Chinese have vowed to live cleanly and frugally and to abstain from gambling and opium smoking.

Two eighteen-year-old girls are pioneers of their sex among the students. They arrived clad in tailor-made gowns. Scores more of Chinese girls are expected to follow.

How Expression Originated.

There have been many explanations as to the origin of the expression "To Show Me." One of the earliest was made by a Kansas City man, which according to the Kansas City Star, was as follows:

The marriage laws in Missouri in the early days were so loose that any one could get married without answering many questions. In 1831 a law was passed making it a misdemeanor for a minister or a justice to marry persons not having a state license. It also set the age of marriageable women at eighteen years. If the applicant for a license did not know the age of the bride-elect he had to produce her to the license clerk and let him judge her size. When the applicant refused to show me, have you. This occurred many times during the first year or so of the law's enforcement.

This Missouri became known as the "show me" state.

Real Economy, and Adds Enormously to Appearance and Length of Service.

Painting adds greatly both to the appearance and service of all buildings and appliances. One may buy ready mixed paints, or may purchase paint pigments and oil and mix them. All surfaces should be clean and dry before they are painted. Use a primer coat made of equal parts of paint and linseed oil and cover with one or more coats of paint, which should be thoroughly brushed into the surface.

White wash is the cheapest of all paints and may be used either for exterior or interior surfaces. It can be made by slaking about ten pounds of quicklime in a pail with two gallons of water, covering the pail with cloth or burlap, and letting it stand for one hour. Water is then added to bring the whitewash to a consistency which may be applied readily. A waterproofing material for exterior surfaces may be made as follows: (1) Slake one bushel of quicklime in 12 gallons of hot water; (2) dissolve 2 pounds of saltpeter in 10 gallons of water; pour (2) into (1), then add 2 gallons of slim milk and mix thoroughly. This mixture will dry to a good soil. They do not require much attention beyond pruning and spraying. In France fruit trees have been held up to admiration for their fruitfulness. They serve the double purpose of shade and profit. Charles Lathrop Tuck, president of the American Fruit Growers' Association, says that if city dwellers were to give as much attention to the planting of fruit trees as some of them have given to back-yard vegetable gardens they would soon be producing a large amount of fruit "o. h. the kitchen."

Beauty the Home.

There are so many native shrubs, vines and flowers to be planted about the farm homes that their absence is a lamentable fact. In a recent drive of a thousand miles we saw only four farm homes where attention had been paid to beauty them. Naturally, they were noticed. Don't let the laws with fantastic flower beds of annual flowers. Put hardy shrubs around the foundations, the taller growing ones behind. Then in front of these plant the perennial flowers such as iris, crocus, narcissus, peony, sweet William, phlox, etc. Keep the lawn open. A few ivy or wild grape vines make a handsome outdoor less noticeable. Shrubs can be transplanted in winter. Get as much soil with them as possible, and keep the roots firmly in place.

General Interest in City Building.

It is interesting to note that in the past year the public more than ever before, has participated in the financing of the city's improvement work. According to a thorough realization of the fact that the general investing public should be given an opportunity to share in the operation of the city, the city council has taken care of all labor, material and equipment available.

In a recent speech on the industrial outlook, the Honorable Charles D. Miller, of the board of trade, declared that the country's production would be increased, not only for the sake of export markets, but to show

Room Not Necessary for Playing Game Should Be Devoted to Flowers and Trees.

M. F. Ahearn, professor of Landscape Gardening at the Kansas State Agricultural college, tells some interesting points to be kept in mind in planning the country school yard.

"There should be sufficient room for a baseball diamond, a basketball court, a volleyball court and a tennis court," Professor Ahearn says. "In all instances the playground apparatus should be provided first. In many rural districts there will necessarily be only a few pupils and there will not be a call for so large a playground area as where the enrollment is large. Perhaps the basketball court and the baseball diamond will be sufficient for the needs of the ordinary country school.

"Evergreens are best for windbreaks. Elm and hackberry are best for shade. When the grounds are large enough, a small grove of trees will be a great asset to the utility and beauty of the school.

"In all instances only hardy trees and shrubs should be planted, because they have to stand the attacks of summer boys and the trying conditions of winter when they are usually neglected. A country school without trees and shrubbery is like a picture without a frame."

PREACHER DOUBTS DIVINITY OF CHRIST

Layman Scores Him in Verse and Upholds Scriptures

"From all things, hold fast that which is good." 1st Thess. 5:21.

Lina expressed by the assurance of present day preachers, who deny the author of the Scriptures.

"I have observed with attentive view."

"Survey the Town from Clifford to Fishbush."

"Mark well the civil and religious."

This moves the surface of our common life.

Men seek for happiness, but can't obtain.

Where pain, and death, and disappointment reign.

Is faith connected with the world to come.

Or with the sphere we call our earthly home?

Is that world real, or is this the real?

Kept Ignominious in Memory.
On the 5th of November, in 1931, Christopher Columbus, in spite of the incredible services he had rendered to Spain, was taken into Cadiz in fetters. King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella were moved at his sight and commanded that he be released. Columbus, however, was unable to forgive the insult, and used the time of his death the ignominious fetters were hung in full sight on his walls as a reminder of the ingratitude of his sovereigns.

Scored a Success.
My four-year-old nephew was perfectly delighted with his grandpa's car and always cranked all his toys, and even himself, when sent on errands. He is particularly interested in anything mechanical and never misses any such conversation. One day he cranked the car's tail, and was delighted when it turned and sped at him, for, he said "There, I got an explosion that too."—Chicago American.

Plans to Small Fruit.
In gardens where the available land is limited in extent, currants and gooseberries may well be planted among the tree fruits and left there permanently. The shade of the trees protect the little trees from wind, and the foliage usually healthier in such locations than when grown where it is freely exposed to the sun.—Agricultural Department.

Deputy Sheriff John F. Sheridan served writs in three different suits Saturday one being returnable before the March term of the superior court and two returnable before local justice court. The first writ served was on Frank Miner of Highland Park, damages of $6,000 being claimed as a result of the death of Heston Weir by an automobile owned and driven by Mr. Miner on the morning of January 26th. The writ, which was drawn by Judge William S. Hyde, sets forth that Mrs. Albert Boehler, daughter of the late Mr. Weir, has been appointed to represent the estate and will prosecute the suit.

Sheriff Sheridan placed an attachment on an automobile owned by Burton Slater and stored in Fitzgerald Brothers garage. The attachment is for $400 and is brought to recover on a note given by Mr. Slater to the late James P. Tobin, of East Hartford who died recently of an automobile accident. The writ is returnable before Justice of the Peace William Carroll, in East Hartford, and was issued by Judge Richard O'Donnell, acting for the East Hartford Trust Company, administrator of the estate of Mr. Tobin.

The third writ, which is returnable before Justice of the Peace Robert E. Carney, was issued by Judge William S. Hyde, acting for Barbara Pageal, who claims damages of $600 said to be due for acting as agent in a real estate transaction when property on Oak street owned by Constance Urbanetti was sold. Mr. Pageal claims the property was sold through his efforts and he wants his "commission" of $60.
