erane and American Legion, Recognition of the seniority of the frand Army of the Republic among ex-service organizations and praise of its principles are embodied in a recent message from representatives of the United Spanish War Veterans and The American Legion.

The statement, which is signed by Thomas J. Cunningham of the United Spanish War Veterans, and Dr. T. Victor Keene of The American Legion, is as follows:

"The representatives of the United Spanish War Veterans and The merican Legion, appointed by their respective national commanders, ex-tend to you hearty greetings. At a oint meeting called by your past comander-in-chief, Col. C. N. Adams, a declaration of principles was unanimously adopted. It was agreed that one of our nation's most valuable institutions for the teaching of patriotsm has been the Grand Army ceremonies in many localities, and it was believed that a wider recognition by all of the national veteran groups in a formal manner of the opportunity o afforded would result in mutual good and profit,

"The younger veteran groups de-aire the Grand Army to clearly and Wheeldon, Harry Chemidiva, definitely understand that we recognize their seniority, and hold the the city. Toques Arrive. -Rich yellow tones, running through the range of gold and pumpkin to rust shades, are occupying the center of the millinery stage just now. Just how long the style will hold-how many yellow hats there will be on the heads of womankind as well as in the shop windows awaits to be seen. As yet yellow is seen principally in millinery shops and in shop windows. It is striking, and when becoming should be very smart indeed. A vivid colored hat topping a dark street suit or frock is unquestionably chic.

It is interesting to observe that the all-feather toques that have been worn for several seasons are with us again, unchanged as far as shape and general appearance is concerned. As always they are finding purchasers.

Hand painting on veivet is a very smart trimming touch employed this season. The design may be as color ful and unusual as fancy dictates. THE ROMANCE OF WORDS "CIGAR."

A etymologists, among them Littre, have endeavored to prove the word "cigar" is derived from the Spanish cigarra, meaning grasshopper, and that it was applied to the rolled leaves of tobacco by reason of their similarity in shape to the body of this insect. This explanation, while ingenious, hardly fits the facts in the case, for when tobacco was first introduced into Spain from Cuba, it was grown in gardens or cigarrales, as the Spanish call them. The wealthier Spaniards had a fad of raising tobacco in their cigarrales and making their own cigars, which they would proffer with the explanation "Es de mi cigarral" ("It is from my garden" as proof that the tobacco

POTATOES

Just a word to the man who is to plant Potatoes next year. We urge everybody to place their orders for seed potatoes with us at once, to enable us to govern our purchases accordingly.

There are just two things to be considered-If potatoes are cheap fewer are plantedthe other that the Maine seed growers are finding that their stock is rotting and will not keep and are disposing of it as fast as possible in New England as eating stock at the present time. Consequently, why are we not right in the belief that Potatoes are bound to sell for more in the Spring of 1921? Years of experience has proven to our old customers that they have always made money by ordering their seed in the fall.

We have already purchased 60% of our requirements and are taking orders for spring delivery. If our experience in the seed business is of any value to our customers we hope they will take it for what it is worth, but we know that additional purchases will cost us more.

Mail or 'phone us your order at once.
