Local Lodge of Moose In Gala Gathering at Tinker Hall

Local membership during the past twelve months, and the lodge treasury has increased $1,000 over one year ago.

A class of first candidates was initiated Monday night. Past Dictator Frank A. Montie and staff put on the initiation work.

Despite unfavorable weather conditions, the big dance of the Moose club at last Monday evening at Tinker hall was put through and the hall was crowded with local and visiting friends.

It was particularly interesting to local members was the annual report submitted by Dictator David J. Dickson which showed the progress the lodge has made during the past year.

Dictator Dickson also outlined some of the accomplishments of the lodge during the year, including the opening of sidewalks and curbing to be done during the current year.

Public Forum. In the excellent article by Mr. Charles Cheney delivered before the Get-Together Club, and printed in the Manchester Herald, March 17th, the entire conditions of labor and living were reviewed in their various phases. It was done in a masterful manner that was at once enlightening and transpiring.

Gov. Lake Issues Fast Day Proclamation. Friday, April 4, is designated as a day of fasting and prayer for Connecticut in a proclamation issued by Governor Lake as follows:

"Our Fathers, the founders and builders of this commonwealth, have taught by their example to seek the guidance of Divine wisdom for the duties and responsibilities of citizenship and statesmanship."

"The aim of every man should be the highest possible for the worker. No false movements. In my first manual occupation as a boy there was no such thing as a slow pace. You did not see him working, yet he was the largest producer amongst us. Every movement counted. Since I reached my state to gather the wool, you did not see him working, yet he was the largest producer amongst us."

"I tried that," I questioned. "I tried that," he answered calmly. "I don't satisfy, I met Boba two weeks ago. She's a woman and she loved me. We were engaged. She's gone back now to the old country to try to find a better picture. He smiled mockingly. "Then she will come back to marry me."

"The second point Mr. Cheney made was that the cost of living was reduced because of the increased earning power of the dollar or lower cost of living. The dollar is worth more than it was a few years ago. This state of affairs discloses the source of present industrial conditions which were not a million years ago. Yet there is no necessity for unemployment as millions of horses are needed to be built, but the artisans in the building trades are in a predicament because of the last week's wage reduction. This is to you Mr. Wolter."

NUMBER OF EMPLOYEES. The growth in number of employees reached its maximum of 4,300 in the last quarter of 1916 but early in 1917 the effects of the war commenced to be felt and was reflected by a constantly diminishing number of employees until the low point of 3,900 was reached in November 1918 at the close of the armistice. From that time until February 1920, the number of employees increased to 4,300 owing to good business conditions and the commencement to gradually recede on account of the depression in business until an average of 4,300 employees was reached in February 1922.

COST OF LIVING. The cost of living as contained in the National Industrial Conference Board, Changes in the cost of most of the items entering into the family budget under the heading of clothing, shelter, fuel, light and sundries were included, together with the changes in the total cost of living from 1914 to January 1922. While the cost of living in this country as a whole, special studies in a number of localities have shown an extreme variation in cost of living of only 1-2 per cent, so that it seemed reasonable to accept the figures as applying to Manchester.

BAW SILK MARKET. A general rise in the raw silk market which increased the price of raw silk to over $18 per pound in the fall of 1919, followed by a great decline in the price of raw silk in Japan, resulting in a price of raw silk below $9 a pound in July 1920. The decline in raw silk together with the general decline in business, caused a sharp drop in the price of raw silk to under $10 per pound in April 1920.

FINISHED GOODS. The last two charts exhibited were furnished by the accounting department and showed the increases in the inventory of finished goods. Mr. Cheney predicted when the inventory commenced to creep upward. For more than a year their large stock of finished goods has been maintained at a level which is well above the normal level.

WORTH OF A DOLLAR. In December 1921 it was worth 61 cents and later reports show that in February 1922 it was worth 63 cents. In July 1920 the company's dollar earnings in wages would only pay 48 cents worth of labor and was therefore actually worth only 34 cents. In December 1921 it was worth 63 cents and later reports show that in February 1922 it was worth 63 cents.

THE UNCERTAIN RACE. "When I go to the races I get the lady I'm with to play the horse. I'm in it, even that system isn't infallible."

THE HIGH COST OF HONOR. Nobility orders and badge of honor in Germany hitherto, upon the death of the owner, have been left as souvenirs to his heirs, though only upon payment to the state of their full value. Now the prime minister proposes that because of the increased value of gold he is compelled, in the interest of the state, to increase by 50 per cent the price of all such orders.
