LOCAL HAPPENINGS

MRS. CLARA PETERSON
Mrs. Clara Peterson died at her home on Mt. Vernon avenue Wednesday night following a lingering illness. The funeral will take place at her late home Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. J. P. O'Connell will officiate. Interment will be at the East cemetery.

Mrs. Peterson was a native of Sweden and 86 years old. She was married to Mr. Peterson when a girl and passed most of her life here. She was the widow of William Peterson who died 21 years ago. She is survived by three daughters, Hill-dor and Tuckie, who live at home, Mrs. Harry Anderson of East Hampton, and by one son, Clarence, who lives at home, by a sister, Mrs. Emma Hallgren of Middlefield, and by a brother, John Nyman of Haddam Neck.

THOMAS J. WARNOCK
Thomas J. Warnock died at the Hartford Hospital last Wednesday. The funeral is taking place this afternoon from the home of his brother, David Warnock of 559 Main street. Rev. E. C. Austin of the Protestant church is officiating. Burial is to be at the East cemetery. Mr. Warnock was a native of Ireland, was 58 years old. He resided in South Manchester for the past 25 years. He was employed as a mason's tender. Later he had been working with a Hartford firm of roofers. He suffered with cancer, and was operated upon at the Hartford hospital some four weeks ago. He never recovered from the effects of same. His mother still lives and is 84 years old. Mr. Warnock was married to Mrs. M. E. Warnock, who is now living with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Black of 41 Hamlin street, who is now very ill. Mr. Warnock is 71 years old. There is also a sister, Mrs. Eliza Warnock, who lives with Mrs. Amelia Washburn of Cedar street.

MRS. WARREN TAYLOR
Mrs. Mary Warren Taylor, widow of the late Warren Taylor and a resident of South Manchester for over sixty years died last Friday at her home on South Main street. The funeral took place Monday afternoon services being held at the Taylor home by Rev. G. G. Scrivenor, pastor of the South Methodist church. Burial was at the East cemetery.

Mrs. Taylor was seventy-nine years of age. She enjoyed a very long acquaintance among the older people of the town and was known to the most kindly of women, devout Christian, a loving mother and a sympathetic friend.

Since the death of her husband ten years ago Mrs. Taylor had been failing gradually, and for the past month had been confined to her bed. Her days were passed comfortably, however, each one merely finding her weaker, until she was peacefully taken away. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. George E. Keith; two sons, Howard I. Taylor and Fred E. Taylor, all of South Manchester; six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

JOSEPH MALKIN
Joseph Malkin, formerly a resident of South Manchester, died in Hartford last Sunday following a long illness. He was 71 years old and was a member of the First Baptist church of South Manchester. The funeral took place from his late home, 63 Greenfield street, Hartford, Wednesday afternoon. A delegation from Manchester, Rev. Lodge of Masons attended. Also relatives and friends from South Manchester. Beside a widow, he leaves one daughter, Mrs. James Joyce of Baltimore, Md., and one son, Richard of Chippewa Falls, Wis.

Mr. Malkin was a native of England and was in his 71 year. He spent most of his life in this country and for thirty-three years was a resident of South Manchester, being employed for many years by Cheney Brothers. He left town nine years ago and since that time has made his home in Hartford.

MISS SARAH AGNES ANDERSON
Miss Sarah Agnes Anderson died at the home of her grandparents, Hamilton and Mrs. Metcalf of Brain-tree, Conn., on Wednesday afternoon. She was 87 years old. Her funeral will take place from her late home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. J. P. O'Connell will officiate. Interment will be at the East cemetery.

WIFE, SMITH & CO. BUY MORE PROPERTY
Isidore Wise, president of Wise Smith & Co., Inc. has purchased the property Nos. 74, 75, 78 and 80 Pratt street from Dr. Charles and Dr. Henry McManis. How Firestone Has Reduced the Cost of Tire Service

Size	Jan. 1921 Prices	Jan. 1922 Prices	Reduction
30 x 3 Fabric	$18.75	$ 9.85	47%
30 x 3 1/2	22.50	11.65	48%
30 x 3 3/4 Cord	35.75	17.50	51%
32 x 4	56.55	32.40	43%
33 x 4 1/2	67.00	42.85	36%
33 x 5	81.50	52.15	36%

HOW the cost of building quality tires has been brought down to the lowest point in history was explained by H. S. Firestone, President of the Company, to the stockholders at the annual meeting on December 15, 1921.

- All inventories and commitments at or below the market.
- Increased manufacturing efficiency and volume production reduced factory overhead 58%.
- Selling costs reduced 38%.

Mr. Firestone stated, "This reduction in prices is made possible by our unusually advantageous buying facilities, and the enthusiasm, loyalty and determination of our 100% stockholding organization."

"Due credit must be given to Firestone dealers who are selling Firestone tires on a smaller margin of profit. This brings every Firestone saving direct to the car-owner."

The saving through first cost plus the saving through high mileage doubles Firestone economy and is daily adding new fame to the Firestone principle of service—

VOL. XXX NO. 6 ESTABLISHED 1893 SOUTH MANCHESTER CONN., FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1922 $1.50 YEAR THREE CENTS COPY

Selectmen to Act On Tax Rate Tomorrow

A special meeting of the board of selectmen will be held Saturday afternoon. The chief business will be to take action on the mandamus proceedings which will come before the court in the afternoon. The board will also consider the question of the 11 mill tax and the three had voted against it, or in favor of a 14 mill rate. The fact that Selectman A. S. Bowers was out of town has held up final action until this time. Mr. Bowers arrived home today.

Should four members of the board of selectmen now in control vote for the 11 mill tax it would not settle the question. It is understood that a number of property owners are to pay their taxes at the 14 mill rate tomorrow.

This would result in a suit if an additional 3 mills were laid. If the 11 mill tax is not voted the court will decide the question of law involved. It is the first case of the kind to be heard in the superior court of this state.

HOOSIER MAYOR SENDS FLORAL GREETINGS TO NUTMEG SELECTMAN
Flowers for the sick, or the best gift, are not unusual, but when one city sends flowers to another it is a little out of the ordinary. The Fifth National Flower Show, opened at the Indianapolis, Indiana last Saturday and the day before Mayor Samuel L. Shank of this city telegraphed to John Peatland of the Park Hill Flower Shop here to deliver floral greetings to the mayor of your city market of blooming flowers, your own selection, with your reading "On the opening of the Fifth National Flower Show, March 28, it gives me pleasure to send you message of flowers by wire."

Centering Tracks on Main Street
In addition to action on the tax question the board of selectmen at their special meeting tomorrow will take up the matter of centering the tracks on Main street from the Center south to the terminus. If this is to be done assistance will be given by the state in building a concrete road. It is estimated that the town's share would be $100,000. Under a special act of the last Legislature power was granted to this town to issue bonds to pay for such work.

Poultry Club Meeting
There will be a meeting of the Manchester Poultry Club at the Town Hall next Monday evening beginning at eight o'clock. Officers for the ensuing year are to be elected. Judge Mark will deliver a lecture having for his topic "A Night with the Judge." It is the desire of the officers that each member bring a neighbor with him who is interested in poultry raising. The secretary requests that each member bring a bird and have the judge show its fine points to all assembled. W. H. Murphy, the secretary, are doing all they can to make the meetings interesting to members and also profitable in the way of informing lectures and animated discussions.

Big Bazaar Coming Directly After Easter

Herculean Efforts Being Made To Gather Funds For Parochial School and Convent

At a meeting held in the chapel of St. James church last Sunday evening preliminary steps were taken for the staging of a bazaar in St. James Parish Hall on Park street, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 18, 19 and 20 respectively. They occur in the week following Easter, when the general opening of activities following the Lenten season will be let loose, and when the hearts of young men and women in the springtime lightly and naturally turn to thoughts of diversion.

A special committee was chosen to direct the festivities, of which James D. Burke is chairman and John P. Tynan secretary. Both committees were also named, and chairman of each appointed, as follows: Organizers, Robert E. Ormeroy, entertainer, Thomas J. Quinn; door, Stephen Horan; soliciting, Edward J. Foley; refreshments, P. J. O'Leary. Each of these chairman will select such assistants as the case may require.

With such a corps of experienced and energetic leaders the bazaar arrangements will be pressed with all necessary dispatch. Every effort will be employed to enlist the interest of the people of the parish in particular and of the general public as well.

Work is going forward now on the construction of the proposed convent on Park street. Mechanics are also engaged in placing the interior finish in the parochial school on Park street. It is the purpose of the management to have the school and convent ready for use at the opening of the regular school term next September.

Pure Milk Question Closely Watched

When the town enacted its by-law giving to the board of health the power to test and examine the source of supply of milk that was being sold in this town there was a considerable amount of opposition. A special objection raised by the little fellow who owned one cow and sold milk to his neighbors. The fact that the test turned in showed that most dirt was in milk taken from one of the health inspectors rather than frowned the interest of the selectmen. One of the members of the board was purchasing milk from the dealer who had the lowest rating in the official report. It was then decided that the light of publicity was the best thing that could happen.

The board therefore ordered that the reports turned in from tests taken from time to time be published. There was promise of suits from different milk producers and from those selling milk but such did not materialize.

Just at present those who are selling milk are making it known by signs on their teams, and by signs placed around the town. The report is that the dealer who had the lowest rating in the official report is that of John Jones from tuberculin tested cows, or that the milk is pasteurized, free from germs and is being produced by the best quality of cows. No longer any objection to the milk tests, nor is objection being made to inspection of the farms from which the milk is secured.

Main St. Property Changes Hands

Frank Parr of Middletown has bought the house at 236 Main street, which was owned by the late Mrs. J. P. O'Leary. The house is a two-story brick building, containing two stores on the ground floor and a tenement upstairs. Also a wooden building on the rear, suitable for use as a garage or stockroom. The lot has a frontage of 36 feet on Main street and extends to the east for a distance of 130 feet. Mr. Parr is a brother of Parr and Bacon Park street and lives in South Manchester. Fruit dealers.

Cong. Fenn Replies to Letter of Protest Regarding Contest for Postmastership

Thomas R. Hayes, the well known real estate man, has returned to the "Land of Steady Habits," after spending the past three months in "The Land of Flowers." He was stationed most of that time in St. Petersburg, Florida. He was accompanied by his adopted son, Joseph Hackett. He entertained himself by fishing and sports. That fish are abundant there. He also declares that they have not such a fine flavor as those caught in the waters of Connecticut. Everette Florida trout are not to be compared with those found in the clear streams of this little state.

Mr. Hayes complains of the fact that white snail, table land and few other things are not so abundant as they used to be. He also complains of the fact that white snail, table land and few other things are not so abundant as they used to be. He also complains of the fact that white snail, table land and few other things are not so abundant as they used to be.

Light and Power Suddenly Cease

The trouble with the electric power Tuesday morning about 8 o'clock affected the whole of this town and just about the breaking down of the huge generator in the new power house of the Hartford Light Co. at South Meadows, on the river and just west of the town. Power was restored in about one-half hour.

The generator is one of the biggest in use, having a capacity of 20,000 kilowatts. The generator had been taken of the Dutch Plant when the trouble occurred. At South Meadows and the fire at Dutch Pond were formed and the service switched over to that station. Both plants are now running until the big generator is once more put in running condition.

At Cheney Brothers plant where a "crab feast" of power is used, a turbine generator in the main power plant was started and as much of the plant as possible was kept in operation. This also took a great deal of the load of the main service lines so that the rest of the town was not inconvenienced after the first interruption.

Improved Sidewalks Urgently Required

The selectmen will go as far as asking for bids on sidewalks and curbs in this town this spring, even if there is not a tax sufficient to pay for the work. The bids will be opened on April 10, which will call for work of about $100,000. Of this amount the town of Manchester will pay $10,000 and the abutting property owners will have to pay the rest.

It is expected more walks will be laid this year under the same expediting than have been laid in any of the past years. The work will be done before the first of May. The plan of the work was to be carried out by the town of Manchester. The work will be done before the first of May. The plan of the work was to be carried out by the town of Manchester.

Willing to Pay Two-Thirds of Cost if Town Will Pay One-Third

Cards were received here this week Wednesday announcing the fact that Miss Wynne and Miss Pauline Montgomery Wynn were married in Jacksonville, Florida last Sunday. The happy bride and groom are expected to arrive here on Sunday or Monday. For the rest of the town will make their home with Mr. Ballieper's parents, Edward and Mrs. Ballieper of 68 Prospect street. Until such time as they can find a suitable home.

Mr. Ballieper enlisted in the United States Navy during the first World War and was a member of the crew of the battleship USS Oregon. He was stationed at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. and later at the Naval Station at Norfolk, Va. He was discharged from the service in 1919 and is now residing in South Manchester. He is a graduate of the South Manchester High School and has lived here practically all his life. He is employed in the cloth and accounting department of Cheney Brothers velvet mills. He is well and popularly known in his community and will receive the hearty congratulations of his many friends.

Letter Received This Morning Tells Story As To Civil Service Examinations

Congressman H. Hart Fenn sent a letter to the secretary of the Army and Navy Club, Navy Club and Y. D. Club in reply to the telegram of protest. The letter was delivered this morning at the Army and Navy Club and so time was lost in awaiting its contents. After reading the letter there was a general feeling of dissatisfaction among the service men regarding Congressman Fenn's reply. The letter, however, has little if any comfort to those who wanted to see an ex-serviceman recognized in the appointment to the postmastership.

Fenn said in his letter that Congressman Fenn is a graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point and was a member of the United States Army and Navy Club and Y. D. Club in reply to the telegram of protest. The letter was delivered this morning at the Army and Navy Club and so time was lost in awaiting its contents. Indiscreet Action Placing Collectors At Entrance To Cheney Bros. Main Office

South Manchester is invaded by collectors from Rhode Island and New Hampshire where textile workers have been on strike for the past eight weeks. The purpose of the visit is to get funds with which to sustain the strike. One of the workers with a large band planned across her breast, was stationed at the entrance to the Cheney Theater and two others at the Park Theater entrance.

Their explanation of the situation is that the strike was called when the owners wanted to reestablish the 10-hour week with a twenty-per cent cut in wages. The choice of one or the other would not have produced the rupture but both were too much.

Newmarket has a population of four thousand. The mill's manufacturer, silk, employs 400 hands and is the only industry in the place. It requires about $600 a week to conduct the strike and this is one of the reasons that the collectors came to South Manchester.

Strikers from Pawtucket, R. I., and five from Newark, N. H., went to the Mills Monday afternoon. The Rhode Island contingent included a flying visit and then New Britain in the afternoon where they are conducting a campaign for funds. The New Hampshire party will stay in South Manchester until Saturday night. They are conducting a campaign for funds. The New Hampshire party will stay in South Manchester until Saturday night. Out-of-Town Strikers Soliciting Funds Here

Hamphire. It was stated by the girl at the Circle Theater that South Manchester is better off than any other town they visited. William J. New Britain and other places where textile industries are located will be visited before the collectors return home.

National collectors at Cheney Brothers main office and at the entrances to the silk mills generally is very indiscreet on the part of the managers of the strike who are seeking financial aid here. Employees of the silk mills are not apt to be seen publicly contributing to the cause, especially within the very shadow of the mills where they themselves are employed and from whence they secure their own sustenance in the form of wages. With the silk mills being operated on only four days a week at present and no guarantee that there may not be further time reductions operative are not apt to tempt the fate by inviting disaster with their employers. The day for conduct of that sort has vanished, especially among prudent and thoughtful workers. Positions are not so abundant at the present time to warrant any one in throwing their away.

Wet Umbrellas.
Always stand wet umbrellas on their handles to dry. This allows the water to run out of them instead of into the part where the silk and the most, thus causing the metal to rust and the silk to rot.

To this matter I have given a great deal of consideration and I have carefully weighed the qualifications of each of the three men found eligible for appointment by the Civil Service Commission.

Mr. Harold Agard, of whom you speak, was not found to be eligible by the Civil Service Commission; consequently his name was not presented to me.

Of the three eligibles Mr. Toop had a very high mark and was placed first on the list. Mr. Quish was second, and Mr. Bissell, notwithstanding he received an added percentage of five per cent. for military service, was placed third.

While I appreciate highly Major Bissell's service in the World War, it seemed to me, talking into consideration Mr. Toop's high standing in the Civil Service examination, to recommend him for appointment.

Congressman E. Hart Fern recommended Oliver F. Toop for appointment as postmaster at South Manchester. Mr. Fern sent a telegram to the New Wednesday forenoon making the fact of his recommendation known.

The recommendation is referred to the United States Senate, and if it meets with the sanction of that body the appointment is made and forwarded to the President of the United States for his signature.

Until these details are carried out the appointment is not official. A protest has been officially made by the service men here and forwarded to Congressman E. Hart Fern and also to Senator George P. Mahan at Washington, D. C.

Not long after it was completed, a terrible thunder storm swept the hills. The great tree just across the road from the new house was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

The house was vacant for a long time. When we visited it a family had just moved in, but it still wore a deserted appearance and an air of mystery.—Kansas City Star.

Blackbird Fed Injured Thrush. A lover of birds who keeps food and water out for them at all times, living a few miles from Wynona, Neb., reports for some time he had been noticing the peculiar actions of a blackbird and a thrush which had been feeding together.

After investigation, he says that the blackbird fed the thrush, always up his food and putting them into the mouth of the other. He was very active as a robin putting food into the mouths of her young. Closer investigation showed that the bill of the thrush has been broken off close to its head. It was unable to feed itself, and the blackbird had befriended it.

All Wiling. Alfred Knopf, the New York publisher and Russian expert, said in a discussion of Bolshevism, "So Lenin is discouraged; so he wants to retire to Capt. So he admits he was mistaken in his high opinion of the poor and leviety, well! Mr. Knopf smiled in a grim way.

Teaspoons in the Stomach. Three teaspoons in her stomach caused the death of a woman three years suffering. The woman admitted to the Alton hospital to be treated for severe pain. An X-ray examination revealed the foreign substance and the chief surgeon removed three teaspoons by an operation. The woman died as a result of the operation before 25 persons at the hospital laboratory. The woman does not remember having swallowed them.

Get Three With One Shot. While out shooting a man in Massachusetts got a rabbit, a fox and a rabbit on the one shot. He only saw the rabbit and the partridge when he fired, but the fox was driving behind a small willow bush under which the rabbit sat.

No Use. "Why don't you get your father to help you with your lesson, Willie?" I did, but he told me once and he doesn't know any more about it than I do.

Simple Precaution That Enabled Shrewd Individual to Emerge Victor in "Pea Race"

It was gladiatorial at Worcester, and among the many events was a "pea race." Each competitor had to produce two dozen peas and place them in his boots before a committee of umpires.

At the appointed time the race began, and away went the peas, and the victor emerged. The Hall of Record is full of the telephone exchange.

THE DIFFERENCE SOME SMILES

BY MILDRED WHITE.

When Carlton met Izie, she was working in a city law office, the very office in which he, himself, found employment.

It had been Carlton's boyish ambition to become the respected judge in his own home town when old Judge Lambert should give up practice.

In Hillcrest Lawyer Lambert was a great personage; Carlton, the youth, great personage; Carlton, the youth, great personage; Carlton, the youth, great personage.

"I never had a garden," laughed Izie, "never wanted one. The little high balcony is good enough for me and my mother and me. How could you endure living in the country? Seems as if I'd live there."

"I wish," said Carlton earnestly, "that we could be together just you and I, Izie, forever. I wish you would marry me."

"All right," cheerfully responded the young person as she gave him arm a hug. "I will."

But even as Carlton sat blissfully holding her hand in the darkness of the night, disappointment came to him. He had been picturing, half unconsciously, his Isabel moving about the old loved home in Hillcrest while he, his brother, looked up to, depended upon by his own people—the kindly people of Hillcrest—the people of the town.

"I never had a garden," laughed Izie, "never wanted one. The little high balcony is good enough for me and my mother and me. How could you endure living in the country? Seems as if I'd live there."

"I wish," said Carlton earnestly, "that we could be together just you and I, Izie, forever. I wish you would marry me."

WILSON HOUSE OF PLEASING LINES Has All Qualities That Go to Make Cozy Home.

MANY BUILT-IN CONVENIENCES Dwelling of This Type Will Satisfy Requirements and Hopes of Many Families—Has Large Sun Parlor and Seven Rooms.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD Question and answer advice FREE OF CHARGE on all subjects pertaining to the building of homes, for the readers of the NEWS. On account of his wide experience as a builder, Mr. Radford is the highest authority on all these subjects. Address: William A. Radford, No. 110 Prairie Street, Chicago, Ill., and only three-cent stamps for reply.

The old saying tells us that "you can drive a horse to water, but you cannot make him drink." There is nothing in the case of the prospective home-owner who now occupies the unenviable position of renter to his landlord, the landlord who is interested in building a home of his own. The problem is to get them over the final barrier—definite decision. If either side will not budge before the war, many of these people would never think about owning a home, and so many of them are not. They do not care to assume the responsibility. But now they think differently and one of the most convincing arguments to get them over this final decision is to show them how they can realize their dream. That is what we are trying to do in showing the charming home pictured meals. There is also a small pantry in connection with the hall opening out on the rear porch is an extra lavatory. On the second floor, the main sleeping rooms are located, three in all. Each of these rooms is exceptionally well lighted by triple and double windows and the front and rear bedrooms have bay windows. Sufficient closet space has been provided without undue waste of room. The master bedroom has a supplementary dressing room. The house is 28 feet wide and 37 feet

Don't Keep a Rooster—Hens Lay Better Without the Presence of a Male Bird. It is not good practice for poultrymen to feed these things when they are attracted to the rooster. It is done to stimulate the egg organs.

TURKEYS LAY EARLY IN DAY Broodiness Can Be Discouraged by Confining Hens in Coop With Slit Bottom. Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture. Turkey hens can easily be kept at all seasons of the year by confining them to a coop with a slit bottom. They will mate soon after being let out of the coop and begin laying in about a week. The first two or three days of the laying period should be spent in a brood house, usually laid at the rate of one hen per square foot. After this time they should be kept in a large open house, usually laid at the rate of one hen per square foot.

GOOD SPORT IN FAR NORTH Eskimos Find Excitement and Food in Chasing and Harpooning Polar Bears in Alaskan Coast. Possibly no other sport gives as much excitement and interest as the chasing and harpooning of polar bears in the Alaskan coast. The Eskimos find this sport very exciting and it is also a good source of food. The bears are broken up into strips and the polar bear cannot get about in his accustomed manner. Being a good swimmer, however, he takes to the water in order to satisfy the wanderlust in his system. When floating he is at a disadvantage, for it is while he is afloat that he is most vulnerable. The Eskimos proceed to hunt him in any kind of craft they can procure. They could shoot him if they chose. But if they did he would sink. So instead of using a firearm they spear him with the harpoon. The harpoon is attached. This rope prevents the bear from sinking below the surface of the water. The Eskimos pull up a fierce fight.

Thought Coupons Were Cash. For each paper money differs materially from United States bills, which are printed on flannel stock and lacking the "feel" of banknote paper. Some money and banknote dealers have believed that coupons were money when they first arrived in Washington. It was not until they tried to spend them that they discovered their error. Buying cigars and cigarettes, several dealers paid for them in large bills. Change they received in the amount of the purchase. They picked it all up together and crumpled it in their pockets. A little while later, they found a bottle of apple juice, they professed a "green certificate" belief. "There's no use having an million coupons to get a million cash, we want the 'real' money," said one of the dealers. "It's the 'real' money that we want," said another. "It's the 'real' money that we want," said a third.

WATCH FOR INFERTILE EGGS In Hatching Poultrymen Has No Set Rule to Follow in Operating His Incubator. Poultrymen should test their eggs before putting them under a hen or in an incubator and produce good chicks. It is not infrequently found that infertile eggs may be selected out of the incubator. There is no known method except by the test of a microscope, which is not practical for the average poultryman. Spade up the yard frequently. Build a cheap house or shelter. Grow some green crop in the yard. Neglected colds are the forerunners of roup.

LITTER FOR POULTRY HOUSE Chaff and Refuse From Haystack Preferred as Bed for Hens. The best litter for the floor of poultry houses is chaff and refuse from the haystack. This is because it is soft and absorbent. It is also cheap and easy to come by. It is important to keep the litter clean and dry. This is done by turning it over frequently. There is this to say for the incubator. It is the best for the incubator. It is the best for the incubator. It is the best for the incubator.

FARM POULTRY CREOSOL GOOD DISINFECTANT Added to Water It Makes Excellent Solution for Spraying Houses or Premises. Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture. The creosol emulsion which is frequently used to destroy insects, may readily be converted into a disinfectant, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. A non-toxic disinfectant is made by showing half pound hard laundry soap into one-half gallon soft water. Dip the mixture until well mixed and then, after stirring, add one quart of creosol.

STIMULANT AIDS SOME HENS When Fowls Are Off Their Feed and Act Dull, a Little Pepper Will Bring Them Up. Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture. A flock of laying hens in good health has no need for condiments, says poultrymen of the United States Department of Agriculture. A non-toxic stimulant is made by showing half pound hard laundry soap into one-half gallon soft water. Dip the mixture until well mixed and then, after stirring, add one quart of creosol.

POULTRY HOUSE THAT CAN EASILY BE DISINFECTED Removing it to a safe distance from the first effort to use it. It is a good idea to use a disinfectant in a poultry house. This is because it helps to keep the house clean and free of disease. A good disinfectant is one that is easy to use and does not harm the birds. Creosol is a good disinfectant for poultry houses. It is easy to use and does not harm the birds.

ESSENTIALS OF INCUBATORS Chief Point, Whether Small or Large Machine is Used, is to Have Air Fresh. Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture. Incubators are operated successfully in a great variety of places. Small machines generally are set in the room or cellar of the house. A special room or incubator house should be provided where the incubator machines are used. The chief points to be observed in the operation of an incubator are: 1. The air should be fresh. 2. The temperature should be kept constant. 3. The humidity should be kept constant. 4. The food should be fresh.

GOOSINGS READY TO MARKET Advisable to Avoid Use of Young Stock in Raising Fowls—Old Birds Are Preferred. These are birds of long life, sometimes living fifteen to twenty years, and are good for raising young. They are usually bred in pairs. A good pair will produce a large number of young. They are easy to raise and do not require much care. They are a good source of food and are also a good source of income.

BIG IMPORTANCE OF ROOSTER Impossible to Get Best Results Without Use of Good Male—Half the Flock. The male is half the flock. Without a good male it is impossible to get good results. It is more dangerous, however, to use a poor male than it is to use a good one. A good male will produce a large number of young. He will also protect the flock from predators. He is a good source of food and is also a good source of income.

EXPERIENCE MOST ESSENTIAL No Great Difficulties Offered in Operation of Modern, Improved Incubators. Modern, improved incubators offer no great difficulties in operation. They are easy to use and do not require much care. They are a good source of food and are also a good source of income. They are a good source of food and are also a good source of income.

MALES FOR BREEDING STOCK Not Advisable to Wait Until Last Minute to Select Fowls to Head Poultry Flock. The male is half the flock. Without a good male it is impossible to get good results. It is more dangerous, however, to use a poor male than it is to use a good one. A good male will produce a large number of young. He will also protect the flock from predators. He is a good source of food and is also a good source of income.

LEGS ARE QUITE IMPORTANT Not Only Necessary as Means of Locomotion, but They Help Appearance of Fowls. The legs are quite important. They are not only necessary as means of locomotion, but they also help the appearance of the fowls. They are a good source of food and are also a good source of income. Partnership Dissolved

F. J. Hutchinson has bought out the interest of Charles J. Strickland in the firm of Strickland & Hutchinson, doing a clothing business in the Tinker block on Main street near Birch. They have been selling men's clothing, shoes, hats and furnishings. Mr. Hutchinson will continue along the same lines. The firm was organized ten years ago. They have been doing a successful business all down the years. Mr. Hutchinson hopes to do likewise. He is well known and deservedly popular and his prospects for conducting a successful clothing business appear to be quite promising.

Mr. Hutchinson had considerable experience in the clothing business in Hartford before locating in South Manchester. This experience stood him well in hand. It enabled him to take advantage of all the selling points and turn them to the firm's account. He is greatly cheered and encouraged by the many promises of continued patronage and by the words of good cheer of his many friends.

TAXPAYERS DECLARE PAY ONLY 14 MILL TAX

Tax collector George H. How expects to be busy tomorrow when he appears in his office to receive the 14 mill tax. It is said a large number of local property owners are to pay this tax, get their receipt and then let the town take the next step which is to attempt to collect an additional tax.

Selectmen Aaron Johnson and Dr. Thomas H. Weldon, two of the town's large individual taxpayers, have already arranged to pay their tax tomorrow. They both believe that the 14 mill rate will be substantiated by the courts, particularly if the available strong defense is presented. Should there be an adverse decision they want an opportunity to have their day in court. They believe this will come if the town attempts to collect an additional tax.

"I have no doubt that the board will vote to sustain the 14 mill rate, or in other words will not alter the action because of the alternative writ of mandamus," said Selectman Johnson, "and I am equally satisfied that Arthur E. Bowers will vote for his brother to defend the board of selectmen. Personally I am very sorry the majority of the board cannot see its way clear to ask Judge Bowers to withdraw from this case and engage a man who has not committed himself in favor of mandamus proceedings. That big town meeting is certainly entitled to decide by impartial counsel."

Rev. G. G. Serivener does not expect to return to the pastorate of the South Methodist church. He is presently attending the annual conference of the South Methodist church at Pawtucket, R. I. The appointment of pastors is made at the conference. It is expected that announcements of pastors will be made next Monday. It will then be definitely known just who is to be the successor of Rev. Mr. Serivener as pastor of the South Methodist church.

Should Be Protection For Bona Fide

It is to be hoped that, with all the modern improvements, a mode will be discovered of getting rid of bores, for it is too bad that a poor wretch can be punished for stealing your pocket handkerchief or gloves and that no punishment can be inflicted on those who steal your time and with it your temper and patience, as well as the bright thoughts that maybe have entered your mind but were frightened away by the bore—like the Irishman who lost his fortune before he got it.

Billions of Fish.

North Sea fishermen netted 10,000,000,000 fishes of all sorts and sizes, from the plant ray to the tiny whiting, every year. The twin ports of Yarmouth and Lowestoft have alone received 900,000,000 herrings in one season.

England obtained the banjo from America. It was brought to this country by the negro slaves. The idea originated in India.

Scotchman has succeeded in crossing his herring with white fish. The result is a fish as well flavored as the herring, but with fewer bones.

HOUSE CLEANING MADE EASIER BY ASSEMBLING TOOLS IN ONE PLACE

A Homemade Closet is Inexpensive and Convenient.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

For generations housekeepers have taken pride in their orderly linen closets, well-stocked preserve and jelly closets, and their neat kitchen cupboards. While not so attractive to look at, the cleaning closet is just as important. By grouping together brooms, brushes, dusters, mops and all the many things needed in cleaning, and keeping the closet in order, the housekeeper need not waste time or take extra steps in collecting these things when she wants to use them. It is a more sanitary and tidy practice to store cleaning tools in a place by themselves than to leave them in a corner of the kitchen or pantry, as is often done, the United States Department of Agriculture points out.

The cleaning closet should be convenient in the whole house. Some times, especially in large houses, a good arrangement is to have a cleaning closet on each floor with a supply of the things most frequently used. If a built-in closet is not available, an old wardrobe may be fitted up. Sometimes the cleaning closet opens off the back hall or the combination laundry and washroom, which is found an almost indispensable room in many farmhouses. This, also, is a good place for it.

The cleaning closet should be ventilated by cutting holes in the door or by means of a transom. Shelves should be arranged for the cans and bottles of cleaning materials and other small articles, and there should be plenty of hooks at proper heights for brushes, brooms and mops. These should be hung so that the weight does not rest on the straw, bristles, or strings. The carpet sweeper, also, should be set or hung so that the weight does not come on the brushes.

Well-made, durable tools are generally most economical in the end, though they may cost more at the out. It is well, of course, to have a complete set of tools and materials for cleaning the many kinds of materials in the house, but this does not mean that a large collection should be bought haphazard. Some cleaning de-

WASH FRUITS FOR CHILDREN OYSTER DRESSING MIXTURE

All Market Produce Should Be Cleaned to Remove Dirt, Bacteria and Residue.

Children should have fruits, also celery, tomatoes, and salads not only to give variety in their school lunches, but especially to supply the vitamins and other food elements necessary for healthy growth, agree nutrition specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. When they eat any of these uncooked foods at home it is probable that the mother has washed the fruit or vegetable properly before serving it. All market produce needs washing to remove dirt and dust, bacteria, and sometimes particles of spray residue. The best fruits and usually the best-looking fruits are those from trees which have been properly sprayed while the fruit was in its early stages and sometimes the spray may not have weathered off the fruit before harvest. Children should not be given money to buy their own fruit from backstays or unless there are facilities at school for washing it. They should be drilled in the practice of washing what they eat of these uncooked products, as a matter of ordinary cleanliness.

- Almost decorative are tiny enamel kitchen scales.
- Paint can be removed from window panes with hot vinegar.
- Keep a pencil and pad by the telephone to take down numbers.
- Fine blankets and shawls are best dried on curtain stretchers.
- A hammer and nails should be a part of every kitchen equipment.
- Chicken fat is excellent for cake baking and shortening generally.
- Cucumbers are nice served in a little vinegar and cream mixed together.
- Charcoal powder will clean teeth better than tooth powder.
- Vegetables should be cooked just long enough to make them tender, and no longer.
- Do not keep a party called garments in an unlined space. They are likely to become discolored.
