TOWN ENGINEER'S PLAN TO IMPROVE EAST CENTER ST.

Thumb Nail History

DO YOU KNOW
That in the flood in 1899 all the bridges in Manchester were washed away? The Cheney Brothers' "Old Mill" was flooded and closed for several days? That it cost the town to repair the same and build new bridges $175,000? That this amount was ten times as much as was spent the following year?

WALK AND CURB WORK STARTS ON COTTAGE ST.

The town engineering department started on the sidewalk and curbing work to be done here this year, by putting the stakes for the building on both sides of Cottage street. This street has been in need of walks and curbing for several years, but because of it being a 30 foot highway the work has been held up. There was an effort to start to widen the street to the standard 40-foot, but the selectmen have decided that this extra width is not necessary at this time. There is a building line restriction on Cottage street, which will permit the widening of the street at some future time should this be deemed necessary. There is a building on the east side of the street which would have to be cut off about two feet of the walking building moved back that distance should the selectmen decide on enforcing the 40-foot width now. Not only will the sidewalk and curbing be placed at this time, but later the street will be macadamized and brought up to date. Property owners on Cottage street have long complained of the poor drainage conditions of the street, but now they are all to be overcome.

MANCHESTER BIDS FAREWELL TO DEPARTING REBEKAHS

Manchester yesterday bid farewell to the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Rebekahs, which was held at the Hotel New Yorker in New York City on Wednesday morning. The Rebekahs, representing fifty-nine of the sixty-two lodges in the Connecticut jurisdiction, were entertained by the local Sunset Rebekah Lodge. The departing Rebekahs were profuse in their praise of local hospitality and unanimity and hearty was the vote of praise at the close of the convention. "One of the most pleasing and successful conventions I have ever attended," was the comment of a departing high state official. "The Sunsets Rebekahs affinely covered themselves with glory."

"NO ALTERNATE BUT TO OBEY" SAYS SELECTMEN, LETTING TAX; COMPLETE TEXT OF THE RULING

Study of Judge Maltbie's Opinion Indicates That The Selectmen Had No Control Over Situation But Were Forced to Boost Tax Rate in Compliance With Order Of The Court.

Who's Who

JOHN M. SHEWRY.
John M. Shewry was assistant prosecuting attorney of the town of Manchester the first ten years after the institution of the court. He was born in the town of Glastonbury, just over the town line, on June 6, 1865. His education was received in the public schools of Glastonbury and of Bolton. He acquired education in law under circumstances at which most men would balk. For two years he studied with Charles H. Owen of Buckland and then took a two-year correspondence course with the Detroit School of Law at Detroit, Mich. He followed this with a four-year course with a Chicago college, from which he received a diploma. He was married in 1892 to Miss Elizabeth Cleveland Shewry. Mr. Shewry was for many years active in Republican politics. He has served the town of Manchester as registrar of voters member of the board of relief and justice of the peace. At the present time he is leading trial justice in this town.

JUDGE MALTBIE'S RULING UPHELD

with him that the decision of Judge Maltbie leaves a big opening, or an avenue through which those objecting to a seven-cent tax might escape. "While we have no desire to continue litigation," said Mr. Rogers, "we certainly feel that the levying of an additional tax would be unjust and it would be an imposition on the taxpayers of the town. Should your board feel that it might comply with the order of Judge Maltbie, the taxpayers I represent will resist payment of the tax. We feel that Judge Maltbie has not properly differentiated permanent and current expenses."

It is interesting to note that he is following in the footsteps of Glenn Warner, former coach of football at Catholic, who recently accepted the position of advisory coach at the California University. Denny turned out some wonderful material while at Catholic, and among the famous gridiron stars turned out in his time were Jim Thorpe and Mount Pleasant.

Obituary
HATTIE E. WILSON
 Hattie E. Wilson died at her home, 325 Main street, late Monday afternoon after a long illness. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home, Rev. E. A. Blake, of the North Methodist Church officiating. The bearers were Albert E. Wilson, George Wilson, Fred Wilson and Leon Bushnell, all nephews of the deceased. Independent was at the Buckland Cemetery. Hattie E. Wilson was born in Manchester May 11, 1864, the daughter of the late Edwin and Amanda Wilson. She was a life-long member of the Second Congregational Church and sang in the choir for over thirty years. Previous to her fatal illness she was employed as a bookkeeper for Cheney Brothers in the warehouse department. She is survived by two sisters, Mary R. Wilson and Evaline Wilson.

HERE IS THE POINT!
 Paint cost depends not upon what you pay per gallon for the paint, but upon how much service you get out of every gallon of paint you buy.
 BECAUSE there is quality in B. P. S. paint it gives service and satisfaction. B. P. S. covers from 350 to 400 square feet, two coats; a cheap paint will cover not to exceed 250 square feet.
 B. P. S. wears for years and leaves a surface fit to repaint, and the colors are permanent as it is possible to make them. Think it over seriously; figure out the cost per year and cost per gal. B. P. S. will be the best investment.

Queen Quality
What Do You Know of the Inside of a Shoe?
 There's no sure way to judge the INSIDE by the OUTSIDE—look for the Queen Quality Trade Mark on the sole. That name tells a story of shoe science that could hardly be retold on an entire newspaper page. But even if it could be retold, would you take the time to read it? Yet the real value of a shoe is where you don't usually see it. It is in the molding and fitting, that set Queen Quality apart from the rest; in the leathers, that must be good to be truly good looking; in the style, that is metropolitan without being freakish; in the way they hold their shape month after month; and the long wear you get from each pair.
 Be guided by the name "Queen Quality," and you will get an installment of the story of shoe science and satisfaction day by day.

SLINGS OF SPEED

How Molybdenum Meets the Need For Strengthening Parts as Pace Increases

Molybdenum has been getting its name as the "slings of speed" in the automobile industry. It is the element that has been added to the steel of the pistons, valves, and other parts of the engine, to make them stronger and more durable. The use of molybdenum has been increasing rapidly in the automobile industry, and it is expected to continue to do so for many years to come. The reason for this is that molybdenum has a number of properties that make it an ideal material for use in the automobile industry. It is strong, tough, and resistant to wear and tear. It is also resistant to corrosion, and it has a high melting point. These properties make molybdenum an ideal material for use in the pistons, valves, and other parts of the engine, which are subjected to high temperatures and pressures. The use of molybdenum in the automobile industry has also led to the development of new and improved designs for these parts, which are now able to withstand even higher temperatures and pressures than ever before. This has resulted in a significant increase in the performance and reliability of automobiles, and it is expected that this trend will continue for many years to come.

Molybdenum trucks best withstand shocks of hard usage. One of the most striking examples of the way molybdenum has been used in the automobile industry is in the pistons, valves, and other parts of the engine. These parts are subjected to high temperatures and pressures, and they must be able to withstand the shocks of hard usage. Molybdenum has been added to the steel of these parts to make them stronger and more durable. The use of molybdenum has also led to the development of new and improved designs for these parts, which are now able to withstand even higher temperatures and pressures than ever before. This has resulted in a significant increase in the performance and reliability of automobiles, and it is expected that this trend will continue for many years to come.

Another opportunity for proving its mettle came to the automobile in 1918. A 24-horsepower car was built in that year, and it was found that the car was able to withstand the shocks of hard usage. This was due to the use of molybdenum in the pistons, valves, and other parts of the engine. The use of molybdenum has also led to the development of new and improved designs for these parts, which are now able to withstand even higher temperatures and pressures than ever before. This has resulted in a significant increase in the performance and reliability of automobiles, and it is expected that this trend will continue for many years to come.

The World War broke down the old barriers of nationalities and created a new world of international cooperation. This has led to the development of new and improved designs for automobiles, which are now able to withstand the shocks of hard usage. The use of molybdenum in the automobile industry has also led to the development of new and improved designs for these parts, which are now able to withstand even higher temperatures and pressures than ever before. This has resulted in a significant increase in the performance and reliability of automobiles, and it is expected that this trend will continue for many years to come.

PARK
 "The Child That Gave Me," the John M. Stahl-First National attraction, which has been entertaining capacity crowds at the Park Theater since its opening, is now being presented at the Grand Opera House. The play is a story of a young boy who is adopted by a family and grows up to become a successful man. The play is a masterpiece of drama, and it is expected to continue to entertain capacity crowds for many years to come.

CIRCLE

"The Shick's Wife," one of the biggest French motion picture productions ever made, will be shown at the Gay Circle Theatre on Monday and Tuesday. The scenes were actually filmed in Arabia. "The Shick's Wife" is regarded as the very crown of the foreign film creations now available for American marketing. "The Shick's Wife," by its very nature, would have been next to impossible to film in the best of circumstances in this country. A troop of players and technical men made the voyage from Marseilles to Arabia, and then made the journey to the desert of the interior by caravan. There a countless number of distinctively beautiful and really unique "shots" were made. The lighting and backgrounds, the bare, treeless mountains in the hazy distance and the palm-studded oases make fitting backgrounds for this great story of love and lovers.

"The Shick's Wife" rings true down to the smallest detail. All of the extra and a few of the best of the best were played by the stars whose reputations to face the curious eye of the moving picture camera faded at the sight of the scene. Some of these "players," by the way, are real and almost priceless Arabian steeds. This correctness in the detail of Eastern life and customs will be a welcome change to an American public not used to it.

The French company has a distinct advantage over an American one in this instance. One cannot view "The Shick's Wife" with its unquestionable accuracy of local color, and its beautiful and valuable changes to an American public not used to it.

Manchester Motor Vehicle Drivers Are Increasing

Announcement by Superintendent Robert T. Harley of the state police to the effect that 11,000 applicants for drivers' licenses have been examined by his department in the past six months indicates that the number of automobile drivers in Connecticut is increasing at the rate of about 15,000 a year. Since there were 156,467 operators registered last year, it is, therefore, likely that the number of Connecticut drivers will exceed 170,000 this year. At the new rate of $3 for each licensed operator, this will mean an income of over half a million dollars from the state.

This is the first nine months that the examination of applicants for drivers' licenses has been entirely in the hands of the state police department. Prior to the reorganization of the motor vehicle department, the work of the 1921 act, however, the inspection division was merged with the old state police force, thus forming the nucleus of the present state police department.

Superintendent Harley said yesterday that present plans for the motor vehicle season contemplated the assignment of fifty state police officers to highway patrol, including examination work along their respective "beats" on scheduled days. During the height of the motor season, more than 2,000 miles of Connecticut highways will be regularly patrolled by the state police.

It was emphasized by Superintendent Harley that, although officers are authorized to accept the fee of $2 for giving examinations to applicants, this money is turned into the state treasury for transfer to the highway department for road repair work. These fees have increased from $1.75 in 1920 to $2.00 this year. Superintendent Harley pointed out that the state police are, as salary and regular compensation from the Legislature, all this year. Mrs. Emma Quigg, secretary of the state police, reported that the total membership in the state of 12,670, a net gain of 889 during the past year, has increased from $37,139.77 to $37,639.79. Clare B. Douglas, of Forestville, treasurer, showed that the primary fund had received contributions during the year to the amount of $300,779. Mrs. Emma Quigg, secretary of the state police, reported that the total amount of $4,240 had been invested for the Assembly.

 Mrs. Nellie B. Lull made the address of welcome in the place of Miss High Porter, who was unable to be present. Mrs. Lull stated that she was very pleased and proud to have the opportunity of welcoming the delegates to this place, more so because of the fact that the supreme president, Mrs. Hutchison, was a charter member of Sunset Lodge No. 35, and formerly a resident of this place. Upon taking charge of the meeting Mrs. Hutchison declared that she also was very much pleased to receive the welcome from her former co-workers in this place because there was a soft spot in her heart for the lodge where she received her initiatory degree, and more especially because she was a charter member of Sunset Lodge, No. 37, pianist, Mattie Lovell, No. 11; investigating committee, Lilla Whittey, No. 35; Jennie Wilson, No. 18; distribution committee, Grace Cleveland, No. 25; Edith Pease, No. 4; Mabel Bailey, No. 11; Katherine Quirk, No. 22; letters committee, Catherine A. Baker, No. 61; Quie E. Curley, No. 47; Helen Williams, No. 31; Ethel M. Brainard, No. 39.

The roll call of delegates developed the fact that of the total present there were seventy, who were new members of the assembly. Those were welcomed initially in a body. In presenting her annual report the president called attention to the death of Emily J. Fairbanks, first president of the State Assembly. The report of the secretary, Mary E. Johnson, of Torrington, showed a total membership in the state of 12,670, a net gain of 889 during the past year. Lodge funds had increased from $37,139.77 to $37,639.79. Clare B. Douglas, of Forestville, treasurer, showed that the primary fund had received contributions during the year to the amount of $300,779. Mrs. Emma Quigg, secretary of the state police, reported that the total amount of $4,240 had been invested for the Assembly.

AUTO KILLS DOG.

An English sheep dog belonging to George L. Betts, of Spruce street, was run over by an automobile driven by Mrs. Ward Greene on Spruce street Wednesday afternoon. The dog died a few hours later. Both wheels passed over the dog and it is believed the neck was broken. Mr. Betts had owned the dog for 13 years and was very much attached to the animal. Mr. Betts' home is in New Haven and he reports having owned another dog which was killed when a trolley car passed over the animal a couple of weeks ago.

Get Ready for Summer

Summer-time is Bread time. It calls for more Bread on your table.

Instead of paying forty and fifty cents a pound for beefsteak, why not vary your summer meals by the addition of the hundred-and-one delicious dishes based on toasted bread.

More Bread means a stronger body, a clearer mind, a fuller purse.

Ask your grocer for Aunt Betsey's Bread.

More land cleared per dollar

FOR the cost of the dynamite which cleared an acre of your acre and a third, you can now buy enough to clear an acre.

Dumprite, the new Du Pont dynamite, makes this possible. Stick for stick, under ordinary conditions, Dumprite will do approximately the work of regular 40% dynamite. But you get over 3 1/2 more sticks of Dumprite for your dollar.

Dumprite is packed in boxes of 135 to 140 lbs. x 8 inches; 40% dynamite comes in boxes of 100 sticks of the same size. Box for box, Dumprite and 40% dynamite cost the same.

Dumprite is non-freezing even in below-zero weather; and you won't get a headache from using it.

Take advantage of this Du Pont achievement. Clear more land in 1922 at materially less expense per acre.

Stop in at our store and let us explain how we can reduce your blasting costs nearly one-third.

 Mrs. Nellie B. Lull made the address of welcome in the place of Miss High Porter, who was unable to be present. Mrs. Lull stated that she was very pleased and proud to have the opportunity of welcoming the delegates to this place, more so because of the fact that the supreme president, Mrs. Hutchison, was a charter member of Sunset Lodge No. 35, and formerly a resident of this place. Upon taking charge of the meeting Mrs. Hutchison declared that she also was very much pleased to receive the welcome from her former co-workers in this place because there was a soft spot in her heart for the lodge where she received her initiatory degree, and more especially because she was a charter member of Sunset Lodge, No. 37, pianist, Mattie Lovell, No. 11; investigating committee, Lilla Whittey, No. 35; Jennie Wilson, No. 18; distribution committee, Grace Cleveland, No. 25; Edith Pease, No. 4; Mabel Bailey, No. 11; Katherine Quirk, No. 22; letters committee, Catherine A. Baker, No. 61; Quie E. Curley, No. 47; Helen Williams, No. 31; Ethel M. Brainard, No. 39.

The roll call of delegates developed the fact that of the total present there were seventy, who were new members of the assembly. Those were welcomed initially in a body. In presenting her annual report the president called attention to the death of Emily J. Fairbanks, first president of the State Assembly. The report of the secretary, Mary E. Johnson, of Torrington, showed a total membership in the state of 12,670, a net gain of 889 during the past year. Lodge funds had increased from $37,139.77 to $37,639.79. Clare B. Douglas, of Forestville, treasurer, showed that the primary fund had received contributions during the year to the amount of $300,779. Mrs. Emma Quigg, secretary of the state police, reported that the total amount of $4,240 had been invested for the Assembly.
