WRIST INJURY NECESSITATES AN AMPUTATION

Albert Lindsay Employed at Rogers Paper Mill Receives Severe Injury
While Operating Paper Machine.

Albert Lindsay of 334 Center street, employed at the West mill of the Rogers Paper Mfg. Company, suffered a severe wrist injury while operating a paper machine at 10:15 and received treatment at the hospital which resulted in an amputation of the left wrist joint.

Lindsay was feeling paper into the machine at the time of the accident and other workmen rushed to aid and applied relief in the form of a tourniquet which reduced the flow of blood. The injured man was immediately rushed to the Memorial Hospital where, after a consultation by Dr. N. A. Barry, Dr. Harry Sharpe and Dr. LeVern Holmes, it was decided to amputate.

Mr. Lindsay came through the operation successfully and his early recovery is looked for. He is a married man and has two children.

Information at the Memorial Hospital today revealed the fact that Lindsay's general condition is very good and that he spent a fairly good night.

Westminster Abbey now gives lessons to its congregation in the art of interpreting church music. For a short period each Sunday afternoon an expert is present to criticize and assist members of the church in their hymns and psalm singing.

Odd Fellows Honor Member Anniversary for Foresters Elevation of Hathaway to Court Manchester Plans State Grand Master is Cel- ebrated By Both Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

Members of King David Lodge of Odd Fellows and their wives together with members of Sunset Lodge of Rebekahs, gathered at Cheney Hall Wednesday night to honor Charles R. Hathaway who was elevated to the position of Grand Master of Odd Fellows of Connecticut. An address of welcome was made by A. H. Simonson who introduced Mr. Hathaway as one of whom King David Lodge was justly proud.

Mr. Simonson was the position of Grand Master. Mr. Hathaway has been chosen by Grand Master Hathaway to be District Deputy Grand Master and also called upon for remarks. An entertainment was put on by the popular D. A. M. entertainers. Songs were rendered by William Dillon, Arthur Anderson, Miss Ma. Brooks, Thomas McGill, Jr. and others. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour and refreshments were served in the lower hall. As a result of the elevation of Mr. Hathaway to the highest position in Connecticut among Odd Fellows the next annual session of the Grand Lodge will be held in South Manchester in May, 1923. A committee headed by A. H. Simonson is already working on plans that will include the arrangements for that affair.

LOCAL KACEYS TO EXEMPLIFY THIRD DEGREE

Council Expects Four Hundred Visitors at Elaborate Ceremonies Sunday Afternoon.

A third degree on a class of forty candidates will be exemplified for Campbell Council No. 978, K. K. by District Deputy Lawrence J. Kennedy and staff, Sunday afternoon, May 28. It is expected that at least four hundred visiting knights will attend the exemplification, coming from Rockville, Hartford, Willimantic and Norwich. Grand Knight E. J. Foley has announced that the committee in charge of arrangements for the degree will consist of the following members: John P. Tynan, Thomas J. Quinn, Paul Ward, Frank G. Collier and Edward Harrington.

Invitations have been extended to State Deputy, John F. Callahan of Hartford and the other state officers to be present at the degree exemplification. The degree will be the first of its kind to be worked in the new home and the local knights are planning to have this affair more elaborate than any other in the history of the council. The addition of the new class will bring the total membership of Campbell Council up to about 285 members.

LOCAL TEACHERS HEAR NOTED SPEAKER TODAY

Professor Bagley of Columbia Lectures at High School Hall This Afternoon.

Contrary to the general custom, the schools of the Ninth School District did not close today in order that the teachers might attend the Teachers' Convention being held in Hartford today. This year arrangements were made by Superintendent P. A. Verplanck whereby Professor W. S. Bagley of New York City was secured to speak this afternoon before the local teachers in the high school hall. Professor Bagley holds the chair of Educational Psychology at the University of Columbia.

THE FOUNTAIN PEN.
The many users of the fountain pen probably do not realize that the pen, which has become so general in use was first made in Manchester, at the special town meeting Wednesday evening, unanimously authorized and directed the board of selectmen to prepare, issue and sell bonds of the town in the aggregate principal amount of $50,000 to meet the appropriation voted at the special town meeting of May 1, for the improvement of Main street.

There now remains but one more step and that is the question of the issuance of the bonds. This question will be submitted to the legal voters of Manchester at a regular town meeting to be called by the selectmen. According to the resolution passed at the meeting Wednesday evening, "no such bonds shall be issued unless a majority of the registered voters voting on such question shall vote in favor of such issue."

It took but eight minutes to transact the business of the special town meeting, and it appeared from the manner in which the proposition "seconded" the resolution and called for the "question" to be put to vote that they were determined to have the issue go through without the usual impudences and useless debate. It has always been the contention of those that sit at the press table that two-thirds of the arguments are for effect only and Wednesday evening's meeting indicated that the voters of the town were well enough informed on the issue and that further explanation was a waste of valuable time.

Frank H. Anderson was chosen chairman of the meeting, and George H. Waddell, clerk. Both the call and the resolution were read by Mr. Waddell. Raymond Smith of the Superior Court of Hartford County was official stenographer. The resolution as passed, which in itself is a thorough explanation of the manner in who they might have been crushed beneath the trolley. None of the injured were unconscious but were cut about the face by flying glass from the broken windshield of the truck and front windows of the trolley. The accident appeared much more serious at first than it afterwards proved to be. The wreckage was quickly cleared thus preventing any disarrangement of the trolley schedule.

BRUSH FIRE MENACES MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Three East Side Fire Companies Battle With Flames for More Than Two Hours.

The three East Side fire companies were called out to a serious forest fire that started south of the Manchester Memorial Hospital on Sunday afternoon, when an alarm was turned in from Box 39 on Liberty street. A stiff fight with the aid of streams of water prevented what might have been a serious conflagration.

The fire started in the hollow between Russell and Bigelow streets and soon rushed down toward the railroad tracks, the waves leaping as far into the air as the height of an ordinary telegraph pole. There are a number of houses in the vicinity and many smaller buildings such as chicken coops and garages. These would have offered easy prey to the flames had not the firemen played down on the water upon the fire. The recall was sounded about 5 o'clock but men were on duty until after 7 o'clock guarding against another outbreak of the fire.

Small Brush Fire Yesterday. An alarm of fire rang in from Box 63 at Oak and Norman streets called the three East Side fire companies to that neighborhood yesterday afternoon about 12:45. Judge R. E. Carney, whose ability to get to fires before the firemen in his capacity of representative for a Hartford newspaper is almost uncanny, was the first to reach the scene. He extinguished the blaze with the aid of

HAIR-HEAD BREMERS

Editor E. Robert Stevenson, of the Waterbury Republican, in an editorial disquisition on the delicate and difficult matter of devising a suitable emblematic membership badge for the Hair-Head Club of America, writes as follows:

An emblem, badge or button suitable for the Hair-Head Club of America is to be chosen by a special committee of this famous Connecticut Fraternity of the hairless and bald-headed. The graph of the gathering will be taken at 6 o'clock, an hour when the sun's rays will not flash so gloriously over the human domes supporting the wisdom of daylight.

THE FAN.
Blessings on thee, little fan!
Though the team's an also-ran,
You will stick through thick and thin.
Hoping that some day they'll win.

Hope, that's always for the best,
Springs eternal in your chest,
Ever loyal to the core,
Chasing rainbows as of yore.

You're familiar with the name
Of each player in the game;
When and where and how he played
And the batting records made.

Players come and players go
But you are there in rain or snow.
Though your object is to root
You reserve the right to root.

Blessings on thee, little ruy!
With your optimistic eye
You can see the brighter side
And the turning of the tide.

Mothers said that she'd surprise me,
Come and see my college days;
But I telegraphed to mother,
"Don't! Surprises work both ways."

that every eye will turn to its shining splendor? What member of the Hair-Head Club could ever hope to have the admiring public take its eye off his head to center attention upon an emblem in his but too-hands? A hair-head in itself is emblem enough.

The Hair-Head Club furnishes us with the last word in argument supporting the wisdom of daylight. The Club will hold its banquet on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Hotel Hamilton, 649 North Main street, near the corner of the town laboring gang and Mr. Digney were injured, one of them seriously. The truck was badly smashed. The injured men were John Maloney of Blawie street, cuts about face and head; Michael Tierney of Gravel street, scalp wounds and injury to right knee; James Hall of Wadsworth street, fracture of the skull besides being injured internally.

The crash around the whole neighborhood and the first on the scene was Dr. George W. May who with Mrs. May gave first aid. Dr. Ernest Digney who received a gash over the right eye was able to go to his own home, as was Maloney. The other three were rushed to the Memorial Hospital under orders from Drs. Moore, Holmes and Sloan who came to the accident in response to hurried calls from Chief Samuel C. Gordon of the Manchester police department. Chief Gordon lives in the neighborhood and upon seeing the condition of the men got busy on the telephone immediately. Conductor Dielenschnider was considerably shaken up by the accident although it appeared he was in no way to blame as Mr. Digney attempted to make the turn into Hamlin street from the north highway of East Center street totally unaware of the approaching trolley.

The trolley car was brought to a stop within twenty-five feet but the impact was so great as to throw all the occupants of the truck clear of wreckage, which was a fortunate thing for them, otherwise they might have been crushed beneath the trolley. None of the injured were unconscious but were cut about the face by flying glass from the broken windshield of the truck and front windows of the trolley. The accident appeared much more serious at first than it afterwards proved to be. The wreckage was quickly cleared thus preventing any disarrangement of the trolley schedule.

The latest reports from the Manchester Memorial Hospital today indicate that all the injured men are out in serious condition, no broken bones being found in any of the cases. They are all resting comfortably and will soon be on the way to rapid recovery.

HELLO GIRLS HOSTS TO DIVISION OPERATORS

Local Telephone Folks Give Play and Dance for 225 Guests.

The telephone operators of the Manchester division were hosts last night at the E. of C. Hall to more than 225 of their associates from the Hartford District of the Southern New England Telephone Company and in presenting an evening's entertainment consisting of a playlet entitled "Her Happy Day" together with dancing and refreshments showed that they take great rank with Manchester's best entertainers. In addition to the little play Mr. William Sweet was heard in vocal solos and Miss Arline Moriarty also favored with a vocal solo, "Smile Thru Your Tears". The cast included practically all the operators all of whom showed that under the direction of Miss Katherine Cannon, who directed the show, they will soon develop into real Treasuries.

Julia McCann as Mrs. Marlowe the mother of the bride-to-be, Sylvia Marlowe as portrayed by Miss Florence Balch showed up exceptionally well getting her lines across in first-class shape and leading to the part the air distinctive of ultra-ultra society. Miss Balch took her part in an exceedingly sweet manner and looked every bit the "bride-to-be". May Barrett as Anne Loring maid of honor, Helen Anderson as Kitty Fern a dressmaker, Julia Ivers as society's best reporter showed up very well in their respective roles, as did Hilma Callis as Mrs. Tatlock a country relation and Lena Tack as Polly Tatlock the latter's daughter. Clayton Allison the only male member of the cast had his hands full holding down the part of the groom-to-be but he came through all covered with glory ready, willing and anxious for more. After the play dancing was enjoyed until a late hour the Victor orchestra furnishing music. Telephone operators from Rockville and Glastonbury substituted at the
