Miss Minnie Sargent, for the about 1-16 what it would be with man-power used alone. If our cavalry fairs by telephone. They were alry force were wiped out, an electric light socket would cost $4.80 instead of about 30 cents; an electric toaster would cost $4.80 instead of about 30 cents; an electric toaster would cost $5.0. We welld go back to keroster was and George Veitch are at $150. We welld go back to keroster was a listen to. There was a sense and candles in a hurry.

and George Veitch are at 150. We would go back to kerosene and candles in a hurry.

And we would walk, or creep, along in the dinky horse-car. Big factories would be out of the question. Instead there would be small shops with a few men working. For most of us it would be a case of "back to the land," and for many, a case of "ho. job."

To our cavalry of industry and its horsepower equipment and to the resulting ease and low cost of production, do we owe most of our comforts and a great part of our more into details. By the end of two weeks the invalid and the voice at the hotel switch-board were on good terms. At the board were on good terms. At the comforts and a great part of our more advanced civilization.

Let us remember in all future discussions of this once remarked, financial relations between relatives begin by being delicate and too often end by becoming indelicate—that every pound or dellar "lent" to Russians, Serba, Italians, and others for fighting in the late war made it not easier but more difficult for them.

the discussion is the fact that America came into the war when the Allies were on the verge of exhaustion, and that the result of continuing the war for nearly two years longer was that they nearly all became insolvent, and were all without exception compelled to debase their currencies and unable after the armistice to resume specie payment.
