Tact Vs. Talent

Talent is semething, but tact is everything. It is not a sixth sense, but it is the life of all the five. It is the open sys, the quick ear, the judging taste, the lively touch. It is the surmounter of all difficulties, the remover of all obstacles. Tact makes no false steps; hits the right nail on the head; loses no time; takes all hints, and by keeping his eye on the weather cock is ready to take advantage of every wind that blows.

A week later four more were added to the flock.

The ewes were changed from one pasture to the other at one-week intervals. They soon had the dandelions and grass eaten down and kepf it down. They are blossome and buds readily, and the hearts out of the dandelion plants close to the ground. Better results would have been obtained had the sheep been put in earlier, but the experiment proved quite effective in ridding the lawn of dandelions.
