NEW ATHLETIC FIELD FOR H. S. PROBATE IN NEAR FUTURE

Manchester needs a new athletic field, centrally located and built to accommodate all the three major branches of sport, namely football, basketball and track athletics. In the opinion of many followers of sports in this town, such a place is coming within the next two years because of more than a possibility looking from an opinion expressed by a man in this town who wished to have his name withheld for the present, but who is more than certain that what he states will come true. The plan that has been spoken of more in less private in scholastic circles in Manchester is the building of an athletic field for the South Manchester High School within reasonable distance from the school building and the placing of permanent stands on the field and fencing it in such a manner as to be able to control the sale of admissions and keep away people who would like to observe what is going on inside without paying for the privilege.

LOCAL BASEBALL NOTES

The main rain Saturday and Sunday saved the scribbles much work figuring up the composite scores.

The way it stands now both the Rockvilles and the Six Sox are coming around the half-mile mark.

We wonder if that 4 to 1 stuff will start the rounds again this week.

Pick your first three men who will lead in the averages of the series. How are these: Staples, Koch and Brock Wilson for highest bats in batting?

About one month ago of the ball remains and then the shadows will begin to creep across Mt. Nebo early in the afternoon, especially after the clouds are turned back.

The boys' game played to date on the Mt. Nebo grounds, according to a number of fans and scribes was the game July 2, last, between the Adams team of New Haven and the Six Sox. The game went 11 innings and although they won the New Haven bunch by 11 to 5, the Sox were forced to travel to New Haven to play the game.

CHAMBERS ARRANGES SERIES WITH FAST NEW DEPARTURES

Three Game Series to Start September 9 in Bristol—New Departures on Nebo Following Day.

The dates decided upon thus far in the proceedings are Saturday, Sept. 9, Six Sox at Bristol and Sunday, Sept. 10, the New Departures on Mt. Nebo grounds. That the fans will greet this announcement with more than enthusiasm is evidenced by the fact that there are many of them who feel that the Six Sox rising again in present form will be a great thing for the town.

ROCKVILLE LEADER

It has been reported in the Rockville Leader that Scott of the New Departures team will play left field for the Six Sox. The news gathers up there have evidently got a figure in the wrong column as far as it is concerned, for present indications are that Rex Lohdy of Hartford will cover left field for Manchester. It is possible that the batting order of the Six Sox set forth above may be somewhat changed, but in any event, the line-up as set forth above can be reported as a fact.

System is Above All
If I were asked which is one of the best methods for a young man to adopt, I should say: "Be systematic. There is nothing like a system. It should be evident in everything you do—your mode of living, in study, and in business."

Automobile Turns Turtle
ated before he was removed and besides had received contusions about the head.
Dr. Root thought that possibly the blows he got received on his head might seriously affect his eyesight. With the assistance of Dr. Holmes, who arrived shortly after, the injured man was attended to and their various cuts bound up. They went to Hartford in an automobile shortly after noon where young Levinson was brought to the home of some friends for further treatment. The accident happened about 11 o'clock when the driver of the car, a number of passing automobiles stopped to look at the scene during the rest of the morning and early afternoon. The top of the car of course is smashed but it is thought that the damage will not affect its running power.

WHY?
When the English tongue we speak
Why is break not rhymed with break?
Will you tell me why it's true
I say new but likewise true
And the maker of a verse
Cannot cap his horse with worse?
Beard sounds not the same as heard,
Cord is different from word;
Cow is cow, but low is low;
Shoe is never rhymed with foe,
Think of hose and dose and lose,
And of goose and yet of goose,
Think of comb and tomb and bomb,
Doll and roll and home and some,
And since pay is rhymed with say,
Why not paid with said, I pray?
We have blood and food and good,
Mould is not pronounced like could,
Wherefore does tone and gone and loom?
Is there any reason known?
And, in short, it seems to me
Sound and letters disagree.
—Exchange.

Paradoxical Outlook
"I am working just now on a 'safety'."
"Do you think you can land it?"
Business Suggestion.
Father—I've been thinking, my son, of retiring next year and leaving the business to you.
His prodigal—There's no hurry, is there, dad? You go ahead and work a few years yet and then we can retire together.

LADY ASTOR COMPARES ENGLISH AND AMERICAN WOMEN

Viscountess Astor writes in part in the Metropolitan: "One thing is very marked, and that is the great advantage American women have in their domestic work." Labor-saving is greatly known in England, and very little practiced. Practical coal-burners, absent open grates, no hot water, no refrigerator, no chafing dish, great thick kettle built to last a lifetime, no knowledge of cooking, no variety of food—is it wonder that English homes go on at all from that point of view, they are so inefficient. Yet English women have a greater knack of making comfortable and cozy homes than any other women on earth. That explains a good deal of the colonizing genius of the English.

"The ideal at one end, the daily dinner at the other, each tremendously important, and women responsible for both. So far as the ideals go, English and American women are the same."
Madge—"Algy is a complete fool." Marie—"No, not complete; he isn't all there."—Exchange.
