Threaded Rubber-

Has reduced the national bill for repairing and re-charging batteries

THREADED RUBBER INSULATION was invented by Willard seven years ago. It is used between the plates of a Willard automobile starting and lighting battery to separate—and insulate—each positive plate from the negative plate next to it.

It represented a great advance over previously used insulation for

1. Rubber is the best acid-resisting and insulating material.

2. The 196,000 threads, piercing each insulator from front to back, make it UNIFORMLY POROUS—permitting uniform chemical action between the plates generating the current.

These two qualities result in greater force and amount of current, with less liability to repairs and recharging. Seven years' use on hundreds of thousands of motor cars have proven it beyond

Dodge Bros. Motor Cars

The faithfulness of performance so universally remarked in Dodge Brothers Motor Cars, is due, in no small part, to the thoroughness with which each unit is inspected during the process of manufacture and assembly.

A trained staff of 1100 experts is employed in this work alone and approximately 5,285 inspections are made on each car.
