Amenemhat of the twelfth dynasty. This is stated to be the oldest inscription discovered in Syria, and proves that commercial relations between Syria, Greece and Egypt were already active 2,000 years before our era. The first recorded conquest of Syris by Egypt was made by Thotmes I (Tethmosis) of the eighteenth dynasty during the Sixteenth century, B. C.

Why Single-Child Family Tends to Become Poorer and Will Ultimately Become Extinct

That the "one-child family" tends to grow poorer and not richer is the principal point made in a report by the Child Study society of Transylvania after collecting a folds and wrinkles in a many-report by the Child Study society of Transylvania after collecting a large mass of data in the Banat (southwestern part of Transylvania), where the system most prevails. The Roumanian correspondent of the Lancet (London) writes:

"Their report states that until recently it had been thought that the system was purely a question of economics. People did not wish to distribute their lands and wealth between several children, but the custom had now become independent of land questions. It was quite clear that the 'single-child' family did become not richer but poorer. The 'single-child' family did become not richer handed proprietors their farms were worked by others, necessitating payment of heavy wages.

"Farmers began to understand that the single-child system were actually despised.

"Another reason for the single-child system were every conservative. People who had several children were actually despised.

"Another reason for the single-child system was feminine vanity; ownen thought that by avoiding alidbirth they would remain young and cojoy life for a longer the sees the river as a large the hells and the valleys as he folds and wrinkles in a enany colored tapestry; he sees the river as a silver belt connecting remote horizons. ### Something New! MAGIC FLOSS is a soft-twist, two-fold yarn, made of a combination of fine Worsted and Artificial Silk. It is so dyed that different colors in striking combinations appear alternately about every 12 inches. When knitted or crocheted into garments, MAGICFLOSS produces re-markably novel color effects in the very popular Paisley designs. No special stitches are required because the pattern takes care of itself, although only the plainest stitches are used. The results are truly fascinating to the worker, as the designs develop without planning or special effort.
