Willie A. Smith who conducts the jewilry stare on Main street is very modest when it comes to talking about what he likes to eat. Mrs. Smith says, "he eats any anything I cook" and she laughing ly remarked, "he has to". But, when he did get to talking about the matter, he said he was very fond of salads, especially Potato Salad, which he thought was made by shiring up potatoes, a little celery, hard boiled eggs, stirred together, seas and with pepper and sait and dressing poured over same.
