Present indications are that this will be an unusual event for this town and will justify great green patronage.

N. Y. REPEALER TO BE COSTLY

The request of the Prohibition Bureau for greatly increased funds will precipitate one of the most wet and dry fights in Congress which already is under way.

President Harding wants to see every policeman and every official an active enforcement agent, and he will make this emphatic to the Governors.

The employment of either army or navy forces by the Federal government in enforcing prohibition would be one way out of the difficulty, but officials are dubious about the constitutionality of the means.
