

MAIN ST. WORK IS MOVING ALONG FASTCHENEY BROTHERS PENSION OFF J. P. CRAIG HAS NEW AMBULANCE

The progress of the Balf Construction Company on Main street is surprising to many local people who have been out of town for the past few months. The main portion of the remainder of his life will draw a weekly pension from the company as a reward for his long and faithful service. Mr. Craig has been following his trade for many years for the past fifty years. He was one of a large family and at an early age had to go to work. He learned his trade as an engraver in Glascow, Scotland, where he worked for seven years. His pension is $100 a month.

At present the excavator is part of St. James street and before night they probably will have reached Park street. The concrete mixer, which cannot make much progress, is being moved along with the rest of the crew and by morning time, they will have reached a point opposite the South Manchester Free Library.

Main street is now in the middle of a building boom and visitors to the city can see the work in progress. It is a pleasure to watch the men at work and each a point opposite the South Manchester Free Library.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Cheney left today to spend the summer at Christmas Cove, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson and family of Myrtle and Linden streets left yesterday to spend the summer at Grove Beach.

The Howitzer Company of the 169th Regiment will be drilled this evening in the Four Acre lot at the West Side. The new Manchester is getting two drifts each week in preparation for camp at Niantic.

There will be a meeting of the Moose Field Club at the News office this evening at eight o'clock.

Horse Company No. 3 will meet up again at the Company No. 1 in the Firemen's League hall in the West Side to play this evening at the West Side field. Odds are even.

Selectmen Willard B. Rogers of Bissell street is in New York

The Manchester Kenny Auxiliary, which will be held their meeting next Thursday evening in Cheney Hall. Reports from the convention will be discussed.

Mrs. Rosalie Crockett, who operates a restaurant in the Hartfield hospital, is reading comfortably and is expected to return home shortly.

M. J. Kieran of C. H. Tryon's Market, spent the Fourth visiting friends at Indian Neck.

Frederick Schatz of Washington, D. C., and his wife, Mrs. Schatz, of Englewood, N. J., are spending their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Schatz, of Summer street.

Louise Richman of The Dewey-Richman Co., who is a newcomer to New York, where she will spend several days looking over the market for fall and Xmas goods. He expects to bring back many new novelties in every, etc.

BIG PROGRAM TONIGHT.

The North End is all set for the big concert and fireworks exhibition to be staged this evening in place of the program which was to have been held in case of rain July 4. At 6 o'clock the Hartfield club baseball team will clash with the Colored Collegians and at 7:30 o'clock the band concert to be given by the Colored band. Hartfield will start at 8:30. The fireworks will be off and it is expected that hundreds of people will be around the square to witness the sight.

BOSE NO. 4'S TRUCK IN BOSTON

The Bose Company No. 4 truck was sent over the road to Boston this morning to the factory of the American La France Co. The truck was driven by William Taylor, who has charge of Hose Company No. 4's equipment. The truck was installed in the School street fire house hours ago. Nine years ago its engines have never been touched with the exception of the daily attention of Mr. Taylor, the oiling and cleaning man. In Boston, however, the engine will be taken down and new cylinder rings put in so that when it is brought back to the city it will be as good as new. Mr. Taylor will have to bring the auto back home just as soon as the work has been completed.

WEST SIDE REC. NOTES.

A truck will leave the West Side early morning at 8 o'clock for Groton Lake. The girls' baseball team will play the Browns at the West Side playgrounds, at 4 o'clock. This evening at 7:30 Miss Flane, will be at the West Side to start rehearsals for a play to be presented in the near future. Any girl interested in dancing is invited to attend this

W. P. Quish Adder, 7 passenger convertible Nash Sedan to Other Modern Equipment—Opens Funeral Parlors at 306 Main St.

William P. Quish, the well known local undertaker and embalmer, who has recently opened new funeral parlors at No. 306 Main street, in the Calumet building room, has added a modern equipment room, a seven passenger Nash sedan, which can be converted at a moment's notice into a comfortable ambulance or stretch car, with the driver's seat. The new car, which is a beauty recently arrived from the Nash factory at Kenosha, Wis. The car is constructed upon a Nash chassis and has special upholsteries and seats. The top is a leatherette inside of Spanish leather and it rides very easily. It can also be used in funeral work for mourners or for other uses.

Mr. Quish received the new outfit through Madlett Brothers Aceery, the car being shipped direct from Toledo to Buffalo. The entire trip consumed 300 days and 200 miles.

John P. Craig, employed in the engraving department of Cheney Brothers for the past thirty-seven years, has been placed on the pension list. His son, Mr. Craig, has followed his trade and is now working for the past fifty years. He was one of a large family and at an early age had to go to work. He learned his trade as an engraver in Glasgow, Scotland, where he worked for seven years. His pension is $100 a month.

At present the excavator is part of St. James street and before night they probably will have reached Park street. The concrete mixer, which cannot make much progress, is being moved along with the rest of the crew and by morning time, they will have reached a point opposite the South Manchester Free Library.

A hotel is in the course of construction just north of Pearl street. The building is a large one and has been remodeled and another building is being erected at the corner of Elmwood and Main street. The water culvert at the intersection of Elmwood and Main street is now in use. The new bridge is to be built across this street.

Mr. Quish, who started his own undertaking and embalming experience in 1914, has been doing a great deal of work for the members of our darling baby boy, Peter J. Quish, who is now in an especially unusual manner those who sent the beautiful floral tributes.

Manchester Daily News WAR FINANCE CORPORATION DIRECTOR TELLS HOW PANIC WAS AVERTED IN 1921 AND 1922

EDITOR'S NOTE: Today's concluding instalment of the three-story series on the work of the War Finance Corporation by Fred Stark, one of its directors, indicates the extent of the Corporation's activities. Loans were made to virtually all basic agricultural interests, ranging from livestock to peanuts and from tobacco to rice. One principle applied by the Corporation to meet the greatest emergency was to make loans available to business functions which was a study of the psychological elements which were intensifying depression through increasing timidity in economic circles. By virtue of conclusions based on this inspection the Corporation was enabled to direct the nation back into more active normal channels. This subject is dealt with in the INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.

THE RURAL TEACHER IN SUMMER SCHOOL

It is gratifying to know that each summer marks an increased enrollment in the many summer schools. Some are attending for the simple purpose of adding credits to complete the number of requirements for the much coveted certificate. The War Finance Corporation has been instrumental in making the place where the seed was sown the greatest, was no more remote than the school in which after the crisis had been passed, the students had been trained to the highest standard. As early as January of last year the recommendations for the bonds had reached nearly $200,000,000. In March of this year there were more than $200,000,000 in the War Finance Corporation to meet the requirements for the purchase of agricultural securities, as well as the educational advantages offered. Director of summer schools which are located near our wonderful parks, lakes, mountains, and shorelines, advertising extensively the opportunities offered by their specially favored locality for nature study, outdoor recreation, etc. If the school work is not so strenuous as it is, the rural teacher will find the subjects of Visual Instruction and Play not only interesting but beneficial.

Summer schools are offering courses in the techniques of Visual Instruction, teaching the rural teachers how to select and use a camera, how to "open up" a "green-life" tank or a storage battery to provide light for the lantern when electricity is not available. An electric motor is now necessary since the best results will "move in square."

Play and health are closely related. Rural teachers should take them with from the summer school not gains that can be played down in a day, but losses in the sunshiny. Problems of discipline when the teacher is a "good sport," "knows the game and plays it square."

THE EDITOR LEADS THE WAY: The Chief of the Division of Rural Schools, U. S. Bureau of Education, has a word to say in appreciation of what the country educators are doing.

The editor gives freely the use of his columns for the publication of all news items relating to education in the territory covered by his paper. He has moved on the establishment of the county agricultural high school. He points the way to school consolidation in sections of the country and the districts should have a good school with high school grades. He voices the demand of the people of the outlying districts for more and better schools, for more and better schools with higher pay for better teachers. He advocates the use of the schoolhouse as a community center where the people can get together and not only to have social gatherings but to discuss the many subjects relating to better farming. The editor is the best friend of the Boys' and Girls' Club, which helped start the club, and will stand as a number of friends about the best acre of corn, the best pig, the best chickens and the largest tomatoes raised by the claim people.

SMASHED DUMY CUP CHASED BY REAL ONE.

Meriden, July 7.—After running down the road for a mile and entering into a parked auto, Arthur J. Botford of Mansfield Avenue, raced a real policeman more than a mile and a half before he was overtaken. He had started to run. Later Botford started again to New Haven, this time to serve ten days in jail after paying a fine of $100 and costs. He was condemned for driving while intoxicated, being several persons who narrowly escaped being struck by his car.

CALLED LEGIONNAIRES

"Bums." Chicago, July 7.—American Legion members today expressed themselves as having had a hard time at the hands of the Legionnaires of Arthur L. Lovens, formerly editor of the St. Louis Zeitung. After deliberating 29 minutes, a jury returned a verdict of guilty in the case of the editor, with his experience, its officers and its funds, is the Government's guarantee that no gap will be left in the machinery necessary to meet the emergency. The editor and his stockman, obviously it's not its part at present to endeavor to increase its business. On the other hand, he is in no position to do so, and although repayments have been flowing in at a gratifying rate they are for the most part voluntary and are

COMMUNITY CLUB PROGRAM

The community club, including the women's auxiliary and general committee, will be at the North End playground but everything brought out a number crowd and it was one of the biggest gatherings the North End has witnessed in some time. The last meeting between the colored players and the colored colleagues was a farce, the club being walking away with the game by a score of something like four to one. The colored men strengthen by some of the regular Manchester ball players, which proved too strong a proposition for the colored boys.

A piano concert was given by Goli's Band of Hartford in which popular and excellent concert numbers were rendered.

The fireworks display was the dying feature of the celebration, the hundreds of automobiles which were parked around Depot Square, Edward and Oakland streets.

TRAFFIC ON DEPOT SQUARE

North Main and Oakland streets was handled in good shape despite the fact that many of the vehicles were parked around Depot Square, Edward and Oakland streets.
