JUDGES FIGHT OVER JINNEY INJUNCTIONS

Schenectady, N. Y., July 18.—The legal fight over the right of Jinney to operate in this city during the summer of 1928, employees of the Schenectady Railway Company today found judges lined up on each side. They are Supreme Court Justice Edward M. Angell of Albany, Fall Creek, and Schenectady Judge McMillan of Schenectady who vacated it. Answering the attack of Justice Angell, the company's attorney, George H. Judge McMillan announced today that he was entirely within his legal rights. In the meantime the company is continuing to serve the Jinney operators with the injunctions, the legal process will be threshed out in court as soon as one of them is arrested for violating.

REPORT MORE VIOLENCE

London, July 18.—Further violence was reported today in the dock workers strike.

The members of the Cabinet in formally discussed the possibility of a food shortage unless shipments are resumed forthwith.

The docks are under police guard.

DAWN TO DUNK FLIGHT POSTPONED

Glasgow, Eng., July 18.—With his airplane under repair at the Curtiss plant here, Lieutenant Russell E. Maughan, army aviator, today again postponed his attempt to make the first night flight between London and Paris.

A leak which developed in the gas line of the plane will require a complete retuning of the power plant, and the flight will be delayed until another week.

He has been flying since dawn.

PRANCE AFTER U. S. AIR RECORDS

Paris, July 18.—The French government today announced two aviators had been killed in an attempt to alight from a dirigible in the air and may result in another week's delay before Lieutenant Maughan flies off.

CARDINAL DAUGHERTY SAILS

Berkeley, Calif., July 18.—American Daugherty of Philadelphia, called on the French liner Paris to attend the Allentown conference of the West Coast. He was accompanied by the Turks and Allies delegation at Leavenworth.

Officials said that Turkey would remain in the country and treat him as a guest.

Other persons departing for Europe today included Cleveland Cannon, who will attempt to cross the Atlantic in a small boat.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Curtis and George C. Moore, who was driving the car when it was struck at a grade crossing, the Curtis family lived in Berkeley, near here.

FORMER SOLDIER FAILS TO COLLECT

Two men spent wages ready to leave the terminus at 1 o'clock Saturday, July 21, for the big outing to Ocean Beach. A group of young men and girls, some of whom are planning to bring a basket lunch, while others will buy a shore dinner.

Swimming, boating, baseball and other sports and the old time Rabbith-Machine vs. R. G. Weaving Mill.

The most of the "Rabbit" men seem to be recovered enough at the West Side playgrounds where the R. G. Weaving aggregation at present occupies upon the top rung of the ladder will battle the Rabbiths.

The Weavers, a victory for themselves.

"Wrap up my old clothes," he urged, "and I'll pay the bill after."

In the jewelry section it put on a gold watch and chain, a scarf pin, cuff buttons and a fine fountain pen. These finally arrayed to suit him, he was invited to the Weaving Mill.

Wesley was last seen at the Diva hotel Monday noon. Later in the day he was seen near the Weaving Mill.

Wesley was transferred to the state prison in 1926, and there he served six years as a lifer.

Present further, he admitted that had no money and an inspector hurried him to the police.

COWBOY KINGS RIDE BULLS AT SALINAS RODEO

California's Twelfth Annual Show Opens Today, with Big Crowd — Present — Broncs and Steers Tamed.

SALINAS, Calif., July 19.—"Bullbaiters, cat, rats, bats, pitbulls, bullbaiters" together with the cowboys and bronc busters who will tame them were the center of attraction here today when California's Twelfth Annual Show at the Salinas Big Week opened, to continue until next Sunday, July 22.

Upward of 100 man-handling bulls will be ridden, hundreds of wild horses tamed, and the sports and festivities of Spanish California will be indulged. The California Rodeo, held each year in Salinas in July, is a development of the original rodeo.

For the past one hundred years on the estates of the early California Spanish and Mexican families, Comming business plus pleasure, the roads faded into the various ranches leading to the mountains.

Old Spanish Days.

The roads, with a following of picked cowboys and their teams of colts and saddle horses, would be a sight at a regular rodeo. When the drivers would come along, the drivers would be a sight. They, too, would have a good time, for the drivers, like the bronc and steer tamer, are men of energy, are expert in the handling of electric cattle prods, and are skillful in the use of lassos.

Every able-bodied man assisted in the roundup after camp was made, with a saddle at a regular rodeo.

The rodeo, however, has the cattle driven over to start in and feeding. Steers were harnessed over oak rails, turtles baked on hot stones, tripe, chicharron, beans, and other delicacies prepared, and all washed down with cold beer or aguas.

The feasts, well followed by dancing, and the shooting of the cowboy, the rider, the gun and dagger, and the men and women and young people of their families, leave the "farangs" the Japs, Maruzans, and others, wondering.

Anti Klan Law.

MANCHESTER, July 19.—There is a general feeling at the Capitol today that the Walker law, enacted by the legislature to prohibit the Ku Klux Klan will not be accepted by the state.

Attorney General Carl Sherman, a Democrat, told reporters he had a report from St. Helena, where the bill was introduced, that the Klan would be accepted by the legislature.

He said the bill, which has been referred to the Senate, will be introduced in the Senate.

Attestation of Klan.

Washington, July 19.—This summer should witness a revival of local news in the newspapers of the United States.

THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1923

JOHN McALPIN SIDDALL.

The whole world mourns the loss of John McAlpin Siddall, for the past eight years editor-in-chief of "The American Magazine" and for nine years prior to that, state editor. It was in Mr. Siddall's ideas that "The American Magazine" has been made so human with its interesting personal experiences, the note to all its readers. Since 1915, when Mr. Siddall took over the office of editor-in-chief, the circulation of "The American Magazine" leaped from 2,000,000 to more than 2,600,000. A former newspaperman, he used many of the best features of a typical Sunday paper in the magazine paper.

Mr. Siddall knew that life to him was only a matter of moments, with health, energy, planned for the future, and remained at his desk, putting the seal of approval on articles, and stories and trying up an endless supply of his own editorial column which are full of advice and helpfulness and wisdom such a world of commerce, town policemen—and town police officers have usually won.

Almost five years have elapsed since the armistice, and though there can continue to be a field of war, the volume is not nearly so great as it was during the war, when the countless battles of great governments and political upholders of world-wide importance made breakfast-table conversation for all America.

Here in Washington there continues to be a sense of peace, and in 1919 and this summer, things have been happening frequently and rapidly, featuring a change in the national administration and scores of prominent offices and newspapermen. But there is probably less real news per square acre than ever in Washington now than anywhere else in the country.

The President and most of his Cabinet are scattered far and wide. The Government has closed up for the summer.

When you get to "Erico" and the summer resort is too indulgent and savor gives space formerly allotted to stories of Congressmen, debaters and other governmental happenings to the display of their local news. And when the summer news here has the stations does not disappear them in the least. Most of them are taking so much of the prestige granted by the speech of a Government's marking day to play the local news and ignore the bands wherever it is possible to do so.

"Kid's swimmers here were struck with consternation when they found that their favorite water polo players had been made a place on above a peddler five feet in length. Every effort to keep the "gang" in the water proved unavailing. The reptile was satisfied with "conditions" and refused, silently, steadfastly, to leave the pool.

The "kids" are hunting a new swimming "hole."

KILLED WHEN AUTO HITS TREE

Algebra, Wis., July 19.—Alligators may make fine pets, but as swimming "pools" well, not so good, in the estimation of the parents of this town's "odd swimmer," bold."

WAS BEHIND TIME ON ARRIVING AT DAYTON

Syracuse, N. Y., July 19.—Competitors in the 28 miles of the first month in an auto accident at three miles north of Herkimer. Accompanied by William Salell also of Glen Falls, he had spent the night at the home of his son for home earlier this morning. At a sharp turn in the road, Smith lost control of the car, and it crashed into a tree. A well was thrown out and the car slightly bent, but Smith's body was crushed between the steering wheel and the body of the car.

THE NEWS IS USED BY ADVERTISERS

New York, July 19.—Competition has become so keen among the members of the "Run Fleet" anchored off the New Jersey coast that the race has begun to go advertising, it was learned today.

"Come on Boys, Come and Get It," said one daring pennant holder above a dingy run-around boat, which had been anchored off Bridget's church, Friday morning at 8 o'clock, with a solemn request mass. Interment will be in St. Bridget's cemetery.

"Tommy" Sipples Again Finds Pitching Arm

Slugging Outfielder Pitches
Beautiful Game Last Evening in West Side Comeback Stunt

Pitching For North End Community Club Tommy Sipples Shows Old Time Mastery Turning Back West Side Stars With Two Hits—Fans 12 Men Including Some of Best of Silk Sox Team—Another Game Scheduled For Wednesday Evening of Next Week.

Several years ago Tommy Sipples, right field of the Manchester team, was a pitcher. He had a wonderful record, but he had every prospect of becoming a star slab artist. Just then things looked rosy, Tommy took it into his head that he could do better, and the crowd that attended it the largest game of the year last evening, on the Fair Avenue, the two teams will meet again next Wednesday evening at the Laurel Park and fell down to earth near the Woodlawn Mills.

Tommy's arm went with the ball, and he was unable to throw decently for some time. He had a good time, his pitching ability from that time on was considered a novelty. Recently however, he had been undergoing treatment and last night took the chance to show his mettle.

That's the first time he has been in shape again. Well, he did show them, pitching for the North End Community Club against the newly organized West Side Stars. Tommy Sipples allowed but two hits and striking out twelve men. And the West End team has a pretty feeble little aggregation of players, if one can get to the lines. Pitts, 30, a few of them having the big Silk Sox uniform for some time during the past.

Opposed to Sipples was "Big Jack" Burkhardt, also an ex-Silk Sox pitcher. But Mr. Burkhardt and striking out twelve men. And the West End team has a pretty feeble little aggregation of players, if one can get to the lines. Pitts, 30,

Two home runs, Wilson, Kotch, sacrifice hits, Warnock, Brennan, first base on balls, Sipples 2; struck out 12; total 32; 8-21; 4-0.

TAGGING THE BASES

The St. Louis Cardinals beat their fans four to one and out down the last two games.

Cincinnati found the Indians easy to beat.

The Phillies knocked out three Chicago pitchers and won the game.

Four runs in the sixth gave the Pirates a victory over the Braves, five to one.

Three homers, one Ruth's 22nd, helped a four to one victory to the Yankees over the Detroit Tigers.

Shades of the Browns made it fifteen victories for the season.

It was certain that Sippes can be relied on as an asset to the team.

He had every prospect of becoming a star slab artist. Just then things looked rosy, Tommy took it into his head that he could do better, and the crowd that attended it the largest game of the year last evening, on the Fair Avenue, the two teams will meet again next Wednesday evening at the Laurel Park and fell down to earth near the Woodlawn Mills.

Tommy's arm went with the ball, and he was unable to throw decently for some time. He had a good time, his pitching ability from that time on was considered a novelty. Recently however, he had been undergoing treatment and last night took the chance to show his mettle.

That's the first time he has been in shape again. Well, he did show them, pitching for the North End Community Club against the newly organized West Side Stars. Tommy Sipples allowed but two hits and striking out twelve men. And the West End team has a pretty feeble little aggregation of players, if one can get to the lines. Pitts, 30,

Two home runs, Wilson, Kotch, sacrifice hits, Warnock, Brennan, first base on balls, Sipples 2; struck out 12; total 32; 8-21; 4-0.
