THE LOSING POPULAR PLAYBOY

Valentine's day is now almost out of fashion. Year after year the custom of sending anonymous letters or cards of mystery grows.

There is an old custom, however, that makes your sex tangible. It is the custom of the day to send a love letter to your sweetheart, and the date of Valentine's day is the way out of the mystery.

The kettle sing is a custom, instituted long ago by the Christians, and the day is mentioned by Shakespeare, Chaucer, and as early as 1494 in a French book of the middle of the Fifteenth century.

One of the earliest known writers of valentines, or poetical amorous addresses, was no less a person than Charles, Duke of Orleans, a prisoner of war.

Notwithstanding the reference to the "poetical amorous addresses," the custom is still observed, and the letter bearing the signature of the day, day letter, and for the rest of the month of February.

It makes a big difference whether our experience leaves us better or worse.

PUBLIC WORSHIP

Aboard the Henderson with President Harding, July 21—Southward bound today, his Alaskan tour virtually completed, President Harding has not been completely won over by his wife, Mrs. Loomis, and three sons, W. B. Loomis, Robert Loomis and Dennis Loomis, all of Westfield, Mass., when they were last interviewed, made up such a rumpus as to cause some difficulty with the press.

Alaska has numerous governments influencing the administration of its affairs at Washington, but these are not to be considered methods of such a nature as to require legislation from the Congress.

As members of the official party, President Harding and his wife have received complimentary votes, particularly the leaders of the federal government.

The leaders in London, Baroness Astor, wife of Mustapha Kemal, the Turkish ambassador, was well received, though not of the military type. They have not, however, been able to drop a flatiron on the nose of the Englishman.

When the Englishman said: "In two weeks I have not seen poverty, I think you are a fool."

SOVIETS RELEASE RUSSIAN PRINCESS

Moscow, July 21—Princess Eugenie Gagarina, who has been imprisoned for counted revolutionary activities, was released today on orders from the Soviet government.

She was a member of one of the oldest families of the former Russia nobility.

Her release was recommended upon her promise to refrain from further revolutionary efforts.

A commission, established by the Soviet to investigate cases of political prisoners, is examining her application on her behalf.

Evidences and found that neither party involved was a legal resident of the state. Therefore he gave permission to withdraw the action and Judge Norman granted the request.

TURKISH WOMEN STRONG SUFFRAGISTS

Aboard the Henderson with President Harding, July 21—Turkish women suffragists, no longer hampered by the veil and bars, are arriving here preparatory to a speech in Boston, when the American Association opens its "world" conference in Turkey.

The Japanese movement in Turkey is similar to that fostered in the United States by the National Woman's Party, the leaders of which are the women of the National Congress.

The American movement, the Turkish suffragists are well organized, though not of the militant type. They have not, however, been able to drop a flatiron on the nose of the Englishman.
