Former Selectman W. H. Scheldige is the first property owner to apply for a permit to widen his road, located in a small town meeting, making it necessary for property owners to apply to the town engineer for a street license, where no building for a street license is required for improving his property at Spruce and Birch streets. He wishes to widen his building to the north and south, about 10 feet wide, from north of his present building. Birch street is thirty-three feet wide at the intersection of Spruce street and wider to forty feet east. The width of the street is but thirty feet wide. It was reported that at the present time the property owners are taking steps to improve the thoroughfare. This matter has been before the board in several meetings and the selection has been made to widen the street to forty feet, width of the intersection of Spruce and Birch streets. The width of the intersection is to be forty feet wide and every effort will be made to bring that about.

WEDNESDAY JULY 25 1923

The Supreme Court of the United States has twice within 29 days announced the doctrine that present costs must be given fair and just consideration in arriving at the value of a public service corporation's property for rate making purposes.

Active agitation has been called on to launch the government into the field of crop insurance, but a report just issued by the department of Agriculture, which emphasizes the necessity for crop insurance, does not favor the government agency.

"The most effective medium of publicity is, and will continue to be the public press," says Philip D. Galusha, president of the New England States' Farmers' Union and vice-president of the United Gas Improvement Company of Philadelphia, in advocating larger expenditures by gas companies for advertising in newspapers.

KNOW YOUR COUNTRY.
When addressing the Senate of New Jersey, in 1861, Lincoln said, "May I be pardoned if it can be asked, what is there about that away back in my childhood, I got hold of a small book—'Wessex's Life of Washington.' It remains to me now, the first evidence given of the battlefield and struggles for the liberties of the country, and now fixed themselves upon my imagination so deeply as the struggle here at Trenton, New Jersey, in 1776. I have often thought that the contests with the Hessians were like the contests with the Indians, and the great hardships endured by us, like the great hardships endured by the Indians."

In that same year, 1776, he said, "I might more than any single circumstance tell you that it was done, in Remond's case, in a way that would bring him into disrepute. In thinking them, boy even though I don't care for them, I find that was, that there must have been something more common than that paid him in health as keeping fit for the other eleven months, those men struggled for. I am not ever going to let any man, who has done anything shall be perpetuated in accordance with the original idea for which that struggle was made."

FREEDOM IN LIFE, LIBERTY AND PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS WAS THE "SOMETHING" WHICH LINCOLN REFERRED TO IN THESE LINES.
What to the political parties, and the men of government, it was a question of government control and industrial regulation of private and non-industrial activity? What to the people that would come in any way compare with the time in which Washington and Lincoln struggled to maintain? Think it over.

INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY
Speaking in New York yesterday, Frederick J. H. Krueke, U. S. Appraiser, said that the United States Treasury will collect this fiscal year over half billion dollars in customs duties, which is the largest sum ever collected by the Federal government.

We will have to pay $50,000,000 worth of raw material in twelve months, which means that we will spend three times as much in foreign countries, and Mr. Krueke says, is to be measured against the economic reconstruction performed by any one country since the armistice.

Our nationwide demand for raw materials is such that foreign manufacturers are great that foreign manufacturers and producers have been able to share with the people of this country the period of industrial and economic prosperity.

This same prosperity is laying the foundation for an era of international prosperity which only international political unionism can disrupt.

And it should not be reasonable or decent to kill trade with foreign countries. If tax-free foreign goods could be dumped on the American market to the ruin of our own industries, the American workers and American people would not have the money to buy foreign products to the great benefit of foreign nations.

In this case, however, we are now purchasing. By maintaining American industries on a prosperous basis, we not only help ourselves but foreign countries.

THE RIGHT TO WORK.
Employers in the building industry in New York have decided to undertake establishing the open shop in the entire country. Unionism has accomplished much for the benefit of the News readers.)

A VACATION EXPERIMENT.

The G. E. Keith Furniture Company is going to try out a vacation scheme for its employees in a way that is new, to this neighborhood at any rate. For the first two weeks of August 13 to 26 this year, the establishment is to close its doors against all possible customers and give everyone employees there a vacation. No one is to be given a right to work regardless of his religious, political or labor affiliations, it is headed straight for the rocks of public condemnation.
