

Henderson, President's Ship, in Alaskan Waters

Henderson, President's Ship, in Alaskan Waters
Aug. 4.—In Alaskan waters is the transport Henderson which carried the party of the President to the northern territory. He has expressed the desire to have the Henderson take him from San Diego through the Panama Canal.

birthday for her "spirit control." She calls the spirit "Bright Eyes." Annually since 1894 Mrs. Balbridge has given a party for her "spirit control," "Bright Eyes." However, it is not altogether clear what the name means. It is said to mark the birth of "Bright Eyes," a spirit of a mortal.

Always, a great birthday cake is served, and the guests take their seats at tables set up in the hall. According to Mrs. Balbridge, the Baldridge home was elaborately decorated for the affair and a large band was in store and attended.

PAVES WAY FOR WIFE TO MARY DENTIST 'SHIEK'

Millionaire Wilting to Make Final Gift of Divorce to Elopement Mate—Rebelled Against Luxury.

By CHARLES A. SMITH, International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Aug. 4.—Hans von Hahn, 55, a member of the House of Lords, has been granted a divorce from his wife, Mary, after a year of rebellion against her insistence on luxury.

He has been estranged from his wife for two years, and he has been granted a divorce by the High Court of Justice.

The case was heard before Sir John Simon, president of the Royal Society of Medicine, and the divorce was granted.

But it wasn't intended for him to ever be a bachelor.

He was married to Mary, a royal maid, in 1910, and they had a son, Hans, who died in 1918.

After a year of rebellion, he filed for divorce.

He was granted a divorce.

Manchester Daily News
JOSEPH W. FLOOD, Publisher
54-55 Cottage Street, Near Oak
South Manchester, Conn.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the South Manchester
Post Office

Subscription:
One Year $16.00
Six Months $8.00
Three Months $4.00
One Week $1.00
Single Copies Two Cents Each including Postage. Write to Carrier Listed in the Yellow Pages of Manchester and of the Manchester Post Office.

Telephone—
Editorial Room 1300
Business Office 1201-322

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 1, 1923

Harding Improved After Restful Night

(Continued From Page One)

ready to start the long railroad journey back to the capital.

It is not improbable that this journey, which will be made by rail, will be a restful one, suggested that to break the journey, the special train forego traveling at night, thus affording the President every chance for the restful night, which he stands to gain greatly in his present weakened condition.

There is no expectation that the naval transport will be used, as it is not on the rail trip, although the vessel is standing by in San Francisco for orders. Dr. Sawyer has been prompt to advise the government to take the president to the canal before the trip begins, and it will be the determining voice in Mr. Harding's final plan for Mr. Harding's return.

The weather reports from Washington will be taken into account in planning for the return trip. Much of the credit for the President's steady improvement accorded the cool, invigorating weather of the West Coast and San Francisco since Sunday. Consequently there will be no rushing the President back to heat in the capital despite the desire of the doctors.

Mrs. Harding has written to have Mr. Harding "as safe as possible."

The President is passing a fairly comfortable first part of his vacation. He has been sleeping well, freshening sleep before midnight. He slept again after breakfast, awakening about 2 a.m., and talking with Dr. Sawyer until 4 a.m. sometime, according to reports coming from the sick room. Later he dozed off again and at 4 a.m. was reported to be sleeping.

The President is taking a cheerful interest in the scientific aspects of his own case, referring some quite amazement to the doctors. He sends out regularly for the news papers, and reads the lengthy accounts of his own illness before turning to other news. Baseball claims him next.

"The President really knows more about the scientific side of his case than is usual for a layman," said Dr. Sawyer.

The President is taking a cheerful interest in the scientific aspects of his own case, referring some quite amazement to the doctors. He sends out regularly for the news papers, and reads the lengthy accounts of his own illness before turning to other news. Baseball claims him next.

"The President really knows more about the scientific side of his case than is usual for a layman," said Dr. Sawyer.

The long rest which he had was in the sickroom last night was a source of great gratification to the attending physicians. They have continually dwelt upon Mr. Harding's remarkable recovery as a cure for the severe exhaustion and extreme weakness which followed his attack of ptomaine poisoning. This sleep, they indicate, will do the President's health great good than any other single thing.

The President got in several hours of sleep before midnight. He awoke after 4 a.m., and was back to sleep until nearly seven o'clock this morning when the sun of another bright California day began to stir in his window.

He took his valet and Dr. Sawyer, and they found him cheerful and rested.

The physicians, all who spent the night in the sickroom, last night were a source of great gratification to the attending physicians. They have continually dwelt upon Mr. Harding's remarkable recovery as a cure for the severe exhaustion and extreme weakness which followed his attack of ptomaine poisoning. This sleep, they indicate, will do the President's health great good than any other single thing.

The President may see his first visitors today since his illness became "public." Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and Senator George W. Norris, both of whom are here, assembled shortly after eight o'clock for the usual examination and consultation.

The President may see his first visitors today since his illness became "public." Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and Senator George W. Norris, both of whom are here, assembled shortly after eight o'clock for the usual examination and consultation.

the President's temperature during the night was 99 degrees, a drop from 102.2 degrees, reported in the last medical bulletin at 11 o'clock last night. His pulse this morning was 100, as compared with 116 last night, and his respiration was unchanged at 40.

At the beginning of the second hour, the whole list turned upward again, led by James Steward, Steel rose to 94, while Steel rose one point to 43 and crusader nearly one point to 60%.

The oil stocks, especially the railroads, stocks, although up from a fraction over one point, Baltimore and Ohio at 41 and New York Central at 94, were up one point to 44.

Railroad stocks, although up from a fraction over one point, Baltimore and Ohio at 41 and New York Central at 94, were up one point to 44.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

(Furnished by Putnam & Co., 6 Central Row, Hartford.)

3 o'clock.

High Low Close

Am. Can. 88% 87% 87%

Am. Steel 70% 68% 69%

Am. Smelt 54% 54% 54%

Am. Wool 33% 31% 31%

Astacoende 39% 39% 39%

Athens 90% 90% 90%

Balt. Locom. 114% 112% 113%

Balt. Steel 44.57% 44.57% 44.57%

Br. Gas 17.79% 17.79% 17.79%

Can. Gas 61% 61% 61%

Cana. Steel 110% 117% 118%

Cuba Steel 51% 51% 50%

Famous Play's 72% 72% 71%

Gen. Asphalt 25% 26% 26%

Gen. Motors 13% 13% 14%

Gen. Pet. 13% 13% 14%

H. & C. 27% 27% 28%

Ind. Inspiration 31% 31% 30%

Kennecott 33% 33% 33%

Linen Ind. 61% 60% 60%

Mo. Pac. 26% 25% 25%

N.Y. N.H. 97% 97% 97%

N.Y. Central 10% 10% 11%

N.Y. Gas 56% 56% 56%

N.Y. Am. P. & T. 56% 56% 56%

Pan Am. P. & T. 56% 56% 56%

Pan Ref. & Ref. 31% 30% 30%

Reading 74% 75% 74%

Rep. Ind. N.Y. 45% 45% 45%

S. S. Cos. 22% 21% 21%

S. Pac. 50% 50% 50%

Se. Cos. 47% 47% 47%

Se. Ind. 30% 30% 30%

S. N. J. com. 31% 31% 31%

Texas Co. 49% 49% 49%

Union Carb. 127% 129% 127%

Un. Fruit. 167% 167% 167%

U.S. Rubber 30% 30% 30%

U.S. Steel 55% 54% 53%

Westinghouse 55% 54% 53%

GRAIN MARKET

New York, Aug. 1.—Clearing

Household Exchanges

6,700,000 bushels, Federal Reserve Bank credit balances, $55,000,000.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Aug. 1.—The Stock

Market closed firm, last night, with the market index 100.

The market maintained its improvement during the day, and closing the day, the best prices of the day were shaded.

Activity slowed down perceptibly,

but the total volume of transactions was above the average of the previous day.

The market was slightly lower

than the previous day.

The market maintained its improvement during the day, and closing

the day, the best prices of the day were shaded.

Activity slowed down perceptibly,

but the total volume of transactions was above the average of the previous day.

The market was slightly lower

than the previous day.

The market maintained its improvement during the day, and closing

the day, the best prices of the day were shaded.

Activity slowed down perceptibly,

but the total volume of transactions was above the average of the previous day.

The market was slightly lower

than the previous day.

The market maintained its improvement during the day, and closing

the day, the best prices of the day were shaded.

Activity slowed down perceptibly,

but the total volume of transactions was above the average of the previous day.

The market was slightly lower

than the previous day.

The market maintained its improvement during the day, and closing

the day, the best prices of the day were shaded.

Activity slowed down perceptibly,

but the total volume of transactions was above the average of the previous day.

The market was slightly lower

than the previous day.

The market maintained its improvement during the day, and closing

the day, the best prices of the day were shaded.

Activity slowed down perceptibly,

but the total volume of transactions was above the average of the previous day.

The market was slightly lower

than the previous day.

The market maintained its improvement during the day, and closing

the day, the best prices of the day were shaded.

Activity slowed down perceptibly,

but the total volume of transactions was above the average of the previous day.

The market was slightly lower

than the previous day.

The market maintained its improvement during the day, and closing

the day, the best prices of the day were shaded.

Activity slowed down perceptibly,

but the total volume of transactions was above the average of the previous day.

The market was slightly lower

than the previous day.

The market maintained its improvement during the day, and closing

the day, the best prices of the day were shaded.

Activity slowed down perceptibly,

but the total volume of transactions was above the average of the previous day.

The market was slightly lower

than the previous day.

The market maintained its improvement during the day, and closing

the day, the best prices of the day were shaded.

Activity slowed down perceptibly,

but the total volume of transactions was above the average of the previous day.

The market was slightly lower than the

Manchester Daily News

WEATHER
Party cloudy tonight and Friday, probably showers by Friday night; warmer tonight.

TWO CENTS COPY

Notices of Public Sales
Sales, and exceeding two hundred, will be run at the top of "Navy Notes" at $1.00 per book each insertion.

Grange Field Meeting
Held in Haarville.
Mrs. G. H. Wilcox has part on Program.

Where Domestic Bliss Was Killed by Kindness

ADDITIONAL DIVORCES GRANTED IN PARIS

Father Aug. 1—Another batch of divorces was granted in the Seine Tribunal today. Those receiving divorces were Mrs. William Biddle, Philadelphia; Mrs. George Gregory, Los Angeles City; Mrs. Robert Perry Lewis of New York and Mrs. William J. Quinn.

Mrs. Quinn's maiden name was Gladys Dudley. She was married at Bethlehem, Pa. She alleged her husband deserted her during the war.

Mrs. LaMotte's maiden name was Anna Marc. She was married to LaMotte, an Oklahoma oil operator at Pawhuska, Okla., Dec. 15, 1919. In addition to her divorce Mrs. LaMotte was granted the custody of one child.

Mrs. Lewis' maiden name was Mable Jessie Stevens. She was married in New York, November 30, 1919. She was granted the custody of her daughter.

Mrs. Quinn's maiden name was Gladys Dudley. She was married at Hoboken, N. J., March 26, 1914.

Their marriage was annulled because of two other divorces for American women, Mrs. Pearson Thompson and Mrs. Aileen Macmillan. Both had been granted divorce from their husbands.

Mrs. Thompson's maiden name was Eddie. She was married to Earl Menorhill in Philadelphia, in 1919.

Both women professed to have been abused.

Photo shows Edward W. Browning and his two adopted daughters; Mrs. Nellie Lowmen Brown and a corner of the luxurious boudoir in the "dream house" which she formerly shared with husband and children, but which she is said to have abandoned because of a surfeit of kindness.

BENEVENTO-D'AMICO.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Bridget's church this morning at 10 o'clock, when Miss Catherine P. D'Amico, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick D'Amico of the street and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner spoke in the nearness to good roads and modern conveniences. He told of the various places of the country where he had traveled and noted the fact of a small station the Feakins.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

In his talk, Mr. Garrison brought up the fact of a hard winter through and that they were disgruntled because of it and a great many claim they will not remain in New England.

The author

of "Old New England,"

John Gardner

and James A. and Mrs. John C. Miller of New England, were married by the Rev. C. T. McCormick. The bridegroom, a Mutual life insurance agent, is a native of New England.

</