POINCARÉ REJECTS GERMAN PROPOSAL FOR COMMISSION TO SETTLE RUHR PROBLEM

Belgium Had Already Rejected DeGoutte Rebukes Stinnes For Request to Suspend 8-Hour Day Law.

Paris, Oct. 10.—Premier Poincaré today flatly rejected the German proposal for a French, Belgian and German commission to settle the Ruhr problem through direct negotiations. It had previously been rejected by Belgium. Here Von Hoeselt, the German representative, transmitted the offer in the same form he had received it from Berlin.

Both France and Belgium declared that they could not discuss reparations with Germany until all the German workers in the Ruhr returned and until normal production was restored in the mines and factories. Furthermore they demanded that the German government must guarantee payments to industries making reparations payments in goods to the allies.

General DeGoutte, commander of the French Army of Occupation in the Ruhr, has rejected Hugo Stinnes' request for suspension of the eight hour work day and other ameliorating labor measures in territory held by the French, according to information received today from Brussels.

General DeGoutte, in effect, replied to Stinnes' representation as follows: "Your Stinnes, you demand from me cancellation of working rules which are based upon the law of your government. I am obliged to respect the laws of your government. Besides, the eight hour day is stipulated in the Treaty of Versailles."

German officials were deeply disappointed over the refusal of the Belgian and French to enter into direct negotiations regarding reparations. The contention that the government is doing everything possible to restore normal industrial and mining conditions in the Ruhr.

Attempt to Wreck (Luhne) Berlin, Oct. 10.—Hugo Stinnes' conference with General DeGoutte, French commander in the Ruhr, and the resultant "questionnaire" submitted to the government by the Stinnes group of industrialists, was a bold attempt to wreck the Coalition cabinet, it was charged here today.

The crisis of the "questionnaire" was a demand for a ten hour work day and cancellation of all the mobilization decrees. By virtue of these decrees millions of ex-soldiers are carried on the payroll of industrial plants although they are doing a minimum of work.

Stinnes knew that no Socialist minister could accede to his demands, but he evidently hoped to create dissension in the Cabinet. The industrial magnate had been led to believe by clever French "feeders" that all he had to do to pave the way to a settlement which would save the Ruhr from complete French occupation was to take the bull by the horns and visit General DeGoutte, submitting definite proposals.

France welcomed Stinnes' action because it was felt in Paris it would open German disintegration. Poincaré cleverly and tactfully played the German industrial magnate out of the government.

All chances of Stinnes' driving an independent bargain with the French have apparently been shattered by the allied demands.

HEAVY HITTING FEATURE OF FIRST BIG CONTEST

STENGEL'S HOME RUN BREAKS THE IN NINTH AND GIANTS WIN GAME

Yankee Stadium, New York, Oct. 10.—After more than two hours of baseball that ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous the Giants won the opening game of the World's Series this afternoon before a crowd of 70,000, the greatest number of cash customers that ever passed through a single set of turnstiles in the history of the post season game. The score was five to four but it hardly tells the story.

The Giants fairly outclassed the Yankees from the moment that Heinie Groh tied the score, with a triple. Stengel drove a homer to deep left center for the winning run in the ninth.

The hitting throughout the contest was extremely heavy, the Yankees getting 12 bingles, including doubles by E. Meusel, Bush and Schang, two triples by Ruth and Dugan respectively.

Kelley's stop of Ruth's line drive in the eighth inning, cutting off Dugan who attempted to score from third, was easily the fielding feature.

The Yankees appeared before the public game at 12:45 and immediately pitched bats and advanced upon the home plate for batting practice. He hit two strikes.

He hit the first ball pitched against the right fielder, Wally Pipp, injured first baseman of the club, moved about without any sign of distress.

Impress: Evans, American leaguer at the plate. O'Day, National leaguer first base; Nallin, American leaguer second base; Hart, National leaguer third base.

The game lay in the hands of the Giants.

Crowds Plead to Enter Tribunal Where Lurid Divorce Trial is Offering Daily Sensations—Setting More of Stage Than of Halls of Justice.

New York, Oct. 10.—The story of the ages was being re-enacted again here today—man against woman, husband against wife, the combat against May—William Hart Dolzer Stokes, 75, millionaire club man, judge of fine horses, and beautiful woman, against his wife Mrs. Helen Edwood Stokes, mother of his children, forty years his junior.

Outside the huge too large tribunal of the Supreme Court, crowds, mostly women and girls, pleaded for admission to the divorce drama, with its lurid pattern of passion.

Inside, the five year legal battle, in colors of scarlet, Mrs. Stokes' defense lawyer, west from Hart, National leaguer third base.

LOYD GEORGE INTENDS TO TALK STRAIGHT FROM SHOULDER IN U. S.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—David Lloyd George, ex-premier of Great Britain, is going to deliver a series of "straight talks" on European politics to the thousands who flock to his lectures. But he will speak more about reparations on his tour, and he will suggest that America should accept the British plan for the settlement of the reparations problem.

He made a good start in this respect in his first major speech last night by telling his audience that he would accept the British plan for the settlement of the reparations problem.

He expressed the hope, too, that the American government will find it possible to reiterate its success.

In his Ottawa speech, Lloyd George referred to Germany as a bankrupt.

"You cannot secure money from a bankrupt by smothering him into the ground," he said.

Democratic move for a revision of tariffs in the next congress.

"Farm Bloc" leaders say the tariff has saved farmers from complete ruin by blocking efforts of foreign agricultural nations which sought to dump cheap farm products into the United States in the past year.

"Some tariff schedules are too high, however. Farmers feel some corporations are making excessive profits in maintaining articles protected by the tariff. They hope for a downward revision of these particular tariffs. They will insist, though on maintaining existing rates on raw products and demanding the duties on hides and vegetables.

The attitude indicates some West-ern Republicans will support the competition with Argentine imports.

Webb Mystery Case Takes On More Intricate Phases

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 10.—A. O. Gostler, expert toxicologist, has explained circumstances that have caused much of the mystery in the death of Mrs. Gertrude Gorznan.

Today it was disclosed that an examination of Mrs. Webb's two week-old infant child, showed no trace of arsenic.

It would seem, therefore, according to authorities, that the arsenic was taken by, or administered to, Mrs. Webb in the two weeks all before her death.

Dr. W. J. Myer, her attending physician and Dr. Otto Schultz, medical examiner of New York County, both present at the autopsy declare she died of the cause of death was a complication of pneumonia and kidney disease.

Examination of the woman's intestines disclosed the traces of bichloride of mercury poisoning, but not, in the opinion of Dr. Gostler.
