Last evening there was an especially large crowd at the basar. Everybody seemed to have a good time. The Basar Jim Review was indeed a success. Little Evelyn Nelson, posing as Sunny Jim, certainly made a hit. The singing numbers featured Miss Marjorie Kay and Dick Willis. The Gingham Girls, with their costumes, dancing and song, were very pretty and entertaining. There was a large number of couples on the floor all during the dance and everyone had a good time.

MR. BOYLE PLEASNS

At the Circle theater yesterday afternoon, Mr. Edward L. Boyle sang a few songs, much to the pleasure of the audience. Every year about this time, he makes a trip to the town, and sings a few songs in one of our popular moving picture houses. He is well-known to us as a prober of songs, and the songs that he sings, he makes up himself. In addition to this, he plays the piano with no mean ability. At the end of the program, he whistled a few of the old time songs that everyone likes to hear. His whistling is out of the common sort as he whistles in two different tones which is a novelty in itself. Mr. Boyle is without the slightest bit of eyes, but this does not hinder him from playing the piano with dexterity.

The annual dance of the Manchester Educational Club will be held in Cheney Hall on Thursday evening, Nov. 15, according to the plans announced today. The money taken in from this dance is usually turned over to the local schools to assist in meeting the expense for the cocon and milk distribution that goes on daily during the school year at the local institutions. A part of it also goes toward corrective work, the payment for which under different circumstances would naturally be borne by the parents of the children, who need operations for adenoids, tonsils and glasses for corrected vision.

Next Wednesday afternoon, the first meeting of the club during the present year will be held in Teachers Hall. A musical program has been arranged, and which will be rendered by the high school and grammar school pupils. Tea will follow the business session.

The exhibition is designed to show off the lines of many styles of dresses in connection with the $10 sale, which is now going on in the local store. It is not often that Manchester women and girls will have an opportunity to see a show similar to this, in fact very few of its kind have ever been held here.

Special arrangements have been made by F. H. Anderson, the manager of the store to accommodate a large throng of local people who might be interested and it is safe to say that standing room will be at a premium if advance reports concerning the exhibition are to be believed.

General assembly was held yesterday afternoon in the assembly hall. Stuart Segar and Fred Warner gave several sections on the piano.

It is expected that the freshmen football team and the eighth grade will play some time next week. The girls in the High School who took part in the butterfly dance are requested to leave their costumes at Miss Bennett's office in the Barnard School before Monday.

The freshmen class will hold their social November 3 instead of November 2 as previously announced as the Boy Scouts are using the hall on that night. The freshmen class committee are working hard on the plans for this social.
