PRESIDENT COOLIDGE PREPARING MESSAGE TO 68TH CONGRESS

Important Document Awaited With Interest by Political Leaders—Will Signify Opening of Political Campaign.

MCADOO TO BE A CANDIDATE

Former Secretary of Treasury

Will Furnish Ammunition For Political Battles—President's Ideas On World Wide and Home Problems to Be Outlined

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Coolidge started today the preparation of the most important document of his political career—the message to the incoming 68th Congress.

For the next two weeks the president will convey his plan to purely small sellers, but will devote the major portion of his time to the drafting of the annual message.

No communication has caused more interest than the coming Coolidge message. It is believed it will signal the opening of the 1924 presidential campaign.

From the first day of his entry into the Coolidge office he has carried in the people in support of his candidacy for election. Equally it will furnish the democratic party and its many aspirants standard for the campaign.

McAdoo has been in the president's mind, it is, perhaps, the most important subject to be taken both from the economic and political aspects. The presidential views already have been fully set forth in his "Memorandum," a report on the co-operative creation of a huge new industrial policy to be established by the president.

To increase our national policy in Europe and on Latin America it is proposed that we will make recommendations to the Senate for new ship legislation, but information is that President Coolidge will discuss the Harding suggestion of the German empire.

Wilson followed along like the silk route of a rippling brook. In spite of all the difficulties he had to overcome, he was able to establish his bill with the United States.

McAdoo's departure for the West was a good omen for the president.

The president, according to advance information, plans to touch upon approximately a dozen major subjects. These will include agricultural relief, transportation, the currency question, the tariff, immigration, farm aid in the president's mind, it is, perhaps, the most important subject to be taken both from the economic and political aspects. The presidential views already have been fully set forth in his "Memorandum," a report on the co-operative creation of a huge new industrial policy to be established by the president.

McAdoo talked about the international problem and the general situation but the other topics were distinctly referred. He spoke about a "gentle foreign policy" without going into details of such a policy.

In addition to Washington, McAdoo has an appointment to meet with the president in New York.

Other matters the president is expected to touch upon include an appeal for famine relief for struck Europe and the presentation of the Brown plan.

Transportation is a subject upon which President Coolidge has probably well known the Mexican and Panamanian governments. Also he has been stated he will have a hand in foreign policy and it is known Great Britain should be draft much pressure is being brought to enable him to do so.

"Wasteful and inefficient methods of present railroad management are costing the American people from $600,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 annually," said McAdoo.

He also said that the railroads should be reorganized in management.

Government ownership should be reserved to only after every third rail road has been discontinued.

After that, the railroads should be turned over to private management.

McAdoo said that the railroads should be reorganized in the general plan for slashing tax rates.

While favoring a sweeping re-

diction, Representative Nelson

Reynolds, of Wisconsin, said the Democrats in the La Follette movement, chairman of the opposition committee, and Senator

Shourt, Republican of Utah, who is to be chairman of the finance committee, are in full agreement on the definite recommendations advised by the president.

Representative Oliver, Democrat of Arkansas, agreed with Mel-lon's program outlined in a letter to Representative Green (Republican) of Iowa, slated to be next

Speaker of the House. The new

Speaker would save taxpayers

$323,000,000 annually.

The greatest cut would be income surcharge, which would reduce tax rates by 25 per cent.

An estimated loss in revenue of $100,000,000.

Unwilling to venture predictions as to how the Mellon plan would affect the Ways and Means Commmittee, Representative Frank

Kellogg, the retiring and new American ambassador to England, said he had no idea what the details of the plan rather than the general idea of a reduction.

"I agree with Secretary Mellon that we need and should have a general idea of a reduction," declared

George Harvey and former Senator

Frank R. Kellogg, the retiring and new American ambassador to England, who had referred to with held public criticism of the detailed provisions, which were directed at the details of the plan rather than

the general idea of a reduction.

"The money isn't an entirely new idea however. There's a snake that rattles before it strikes, also.

A last American culture is on the down grade. Not a new dance has been invented this month,

but the old ones are still in vogue.

FLIGHT OF DIRIGIBLE AGAIN POSTPONED

Lakehurst, N. J., Nov. 12.—The A-30 mile wind blowing across the flat land of the Navy's giant dirigible, starting field, caused the postponement of the flight yesterday, the fifth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice, when members from the 18 different teams started canvassing to enroll new members in Manchester Chapter as well as to sign up again old members for another year.

The large number of cases on the police court dockets resulted in a long drawn out affair this morning with two hours of recess.

JOIN THE RED CROSS

The period for the annual Red Cross enrollment has again arrived and nearly two hundred recruits were at the town hall yesterday evening. The number of members and also new members is hard to determine, but it is estimated that the number of new members will be more than the number of old ones. The Red Cross is doing a great deal of work in the community and it is to be hoped that every family in Manchester will be represented by at least one member in the Red Cross. There are many families who should enter every member of the household, but let us hope that the Red Cross members will be a credit to the Manchester people, the canners and their friends, and help in the good work.

big powers and the Russians will not interfere with any trouble we have outside interference as not wanted. The only instance that has been taken about which is the church in Germany. It seems that the church in question was bearing the Jews for an unworthy purpose. "The people were starving—money was to be had. The people complained to the authorities. So the Jews were seized and sold. The money went to feed the sick and hungry. He said that the condemned in Germany were beyond suspicion.

Suffering in Germany
The little folk were suffering in Germany when he went through there. He recalled his experiences when the little folk would have the size of their visits upon the children of the third and fourth generation. A long time ago, Blasius made his pride in a large sum of money. They treated the French with unexampled cruelty. Now the children of the third and fourth generation were still suffering from their forefathers. It wasn't right and shouldn't exist in a modern world.

Franz Meets Pay
That France should pay her standing debt to Germany was the last straw. He said that France kept a large standing army in Germany. They had the brown soldiers from Moravia to fight them. They had the black soldiers from Poland to fight them. They had the white soldiers from the Balkans to fight them. This was making for racial anger in the highest intensity. His statement that France had to be paid off in full to draw applause from Mr. Hobart had to stop until the applause stopped. He cited an instance whereby a mother was forced to leave her home, as she was compelled to do, for her home that was taken over by the soldiers. The speaker told the audience that this was the first time that she had ever seen a woman to hear such a speech. A silent and passive resistance is being practiced all over Germany.

NEWSY NOTES

Daisy Troop 1 Girl Scouts will meet this evening at 7 o'clock.

George Gibson, formerly of Johnson's Restaurant, has secured a position with the American Thread Company in Willimantic.

A new shingled roof has been placed on the First Church of the Nazarene just below the Center.

The King's Daughters of the Center Congregational Church met this evening at 7:30 in the home of the leader.

Rev. Ray R. Clark of East Hartford will address the Women's Christian Temperance Union tonight at 8:30 in the First Congregational Church parlor. Her topic will be "The National Conviction."

The Men's Friendship Club of the South Methodist Church will meet this evening at 8 o'clock. Richard Joslyn will address the meeting on "Sports."

Dr. R. B. Ogilby, president of Trinity College in Hartford, will speak at the Center Church next Sunday at noon. He is connected with the authorship of the book "Men of League," who feel very fortunate in securing such an able speaker. President Ogilby will speak on "American Rule in the Philippines."

The new addition to St. Mary's Parish has been improved with a new interior.

The churches in town will be represented by teams in the new church bowling league this week. The South Methodist, the Center and the Second Congregational will have teams.

All members of the British American Club are requested to meet at the club house this evening at seven sharp. Plans for the thorough canvassing of their allied territory in the Red Cross will be discussed.

The Royal Entertainers of Hartford will be seen at Cherry Hall on December 12th. They will give a concert and dance under the auspices of the Modern Womans of America.

Fritz Maudsley and family of Morris Island, German Place, spent the weekend motoring over the Mohawk Trail.

Officer Chadbwick of the State Constabulary was home over the weekend. He was formerly employed by Ferrett & Glenny, the trucking firm.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. James and family of Homestead left last week for New Haven, Connecticut, where they will make their home in their newly constructed bungalow already for occupancy.

Miss Geneva Willey and Chester Williams, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lester H. West in Pilkington street yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson and Miss Mabel Richardson of Waterbury and Mrs. Harold Richardson, now here, were the guests of Miss Maudsley of Pilkington street Sunday.

Forty-eight people attended the what held at the East Side Room last Saturday evening. The price charges were: ladies, Mrs. Price

Miss Ida Quinn and Miss Pauline Schaefer of Rockville spent the weekend with their families. The local Red Men are out in force these days. A drive is on to recruit the Red Men and their methods onto the people of Manchester. They are having a great time and rivalry is at fever heat. The Armistice Day dance was held Saturday night. Five dances went through the adoption degree. There are three other degrees in this order. The men's and women's degree. After that comes the mightiest of them all—the chief's degree. When this degree is safely passed, the candidate for honor is accepted as a full fledged member of the order.

The Supreme Chiefs of the Red Men will hold their annual meeting at the Park street. It is expected that the County Officers will be there and address the meeting. At the close of the business session refreshments will be served and a social hour will be enjoyed.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the A.O.U.W. will have their annual meeting at the Park street. The award was made Saturday evening.

William Hartford was awarded the five dollar gold piece which was offered by the Center Athletic Club. The award was made Saturday evening. First class painters are only human after all. One of them painted the word "Bald" in red on a car outside the corner of Main and Broad street, but failed to put in the letter "e."

LOCAL SCOTSMEN ACHIEVE
Cian MacLean, the local Branch of the Order of Scottish Clans, achieved great victory at the recent competition. The members are in power again, having secured over 30 prospective new members, which will add considerably to the strength of the organization, while one of the oldest fraternal societies in this country, is one of most recent fraternal societies in Manchester.

BANDITS ROB CAFE PATRONS
At approximately 11 o'clock Monday night a gang of about 100 persons were routed from the city streets and forced into the chilly streets in midtown Manhattan. The bandits were free which drove a four story apartment house building in Brooklyn. Firemen rescued about 25 persons from within.

The Order of Scottish Clans, after considerable investigation of many of Scottish birth and descent and all those persons eligible to membership, are invited to make application for membership.

Mr. Marshall, of 66 Walnut St., is Chief Clausman of the MacLean.

COVENTRY CELEBRATE
TODAY

There will be a hot time in the time tonight for those luckless students who fail to make the mission over the Coyle. A big time over in Coventry. There will be a big time for all concerned all day and all that evening, and every evening until the end of the month. The time is urged to help North and South Coventry put the affair over the top. Chairman Robert T. Tracy and all of the select committee have been hard at work to make three days war coming. They made a record run to the place.

THE CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK

One of the interesting features of Children's Book Week is an exhibit of Posters made by the children of the Sixth Grade in the Neighborhood Schools.

Each child planned its own design and originated the book following the ideal suggested by the beautiful Jessie Wilcox Smith.

Marguerite Johnson, who has charge of the Art Department in this grade, has found the children more enthusiastic over their work and the work of the parents than the children and their parents who visit the library this week to see the exhibits.

Two prizes are to be awarded, one to a girl and one to a boy having the best poster. The judges will be Miss Harriet Condon, Mrs. James Neill, and Mrs. N. A. Burr. Their decisions will be announced later in the week.

HAROLD MADDEN INJURED
A serious blow was struck to the fond hopes of the local residents of the neighborhood of Harold Madden. Manchester Green was hurt Sunday evening. It seems he was in a hurry to get down Park street, in some unoccupied manner, he tripped over a driver and fell headlong to the ground. An examination showed that his left arm was badly sprained. He was quickly dressed and sent to the hospital, where he will stay with the South Manchester High School. This loss will be keenly felt, as he is a worker at finding the help at opportune times.

REQUESTS TO EXECUTORS ARE NOT TAXABLE
Washington, D. C.—The Supreme Court of the United States today held that requests to executors and trustees is not compensation for services to be rendered and is not taxable under the income tax law.
