NEWSY NOTES

The Manchester Grange will meet in Tinker Hall this evening for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. All members are urged to attend.

The W. M. S. of the South Methodist church will meet at the home of Miss Flora Stanley, 265 Main street, Friday afternoon November 16th at 2:30 o'clock.

The graduates of the class of '22 of the Eighth School District will hold a meeting tonight at the North End Portable School house at 7:30.

William Mattioli of Russell was taken to the Manchester Memorial Hospital this morning in Quide's ambulance where he will undergo treatment.

The construction of the Farr block at the Center is going along at a fast rate. The foundation on the north side has been laid as the street level. A gang of men with a heavy duty truck are making great inroads on the excavations on the south side. The work is attracting a lot of attention from the passersby.

Peter and Frank Pasco of 279 Keeney street will attend the grand reunion of the Genevese family at 1 Pine street, Rockville. This big affair of the various branches of the Genevese family, and a good time, with plenty of music, will be a part of the program. The Genevese family is well known among the Italian colony in this town.

Men are making good headway in the excavations for the second section of the Centennial Apartments on Chestnut street. The first section will be open for inspection next week.

Donald Penn, the insurance man, is making good headway on his store on Cooper and Walnut streets. The work is progressing satisfactorily.

Julius Genovese, of No. 1 Pine street, Rockville, spent the week with his parents, family of 279 Keeney street, this town.

W. R. Tinker, Jr. has sold a Chevrolet coupe to the Manchester Lumber Company. The car has already been delivered to the company.

Peter Monaco of Gloucester has bought a Chevrolet, touring car, from the W. R. Tinker, Jr. Agency on Center street. The car was delivered yesterday from the salesrooms of the concern. It is a 1924 model.

Frank O'Toole intends to take in the football game at Yale Field this Saturday. He is one of the select circles that get a tight hold on one of the coveted passes.

Peter Marignoli, hotel waiter of O'Toole's Restaurant in New London, is spending his few days in town, visiting acquaintances.

The new 1924 Ford 4-door sedan is causing a lot of attention. The Elmer Auto Company in the Center, have the agency for this car. The splendid coach work is an offset to the low price of this popular low priced car.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Cheney and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pinney of Andover left this morning for Florida. They are making the happy motor. Mr. Cheney was formerly the well known florist in town.

THORNFELT—CUSTER

Mr. and Mrs. Custer of Clinton street and Mrs. and Mrs. Thorntf of Walworth street were married on Saturday morning in St. Mary's Episcopal Church by Rev. J. Stuart Nell. They were attended by Mrs. Alice Thorntf, Mrs. Rosalie, as bridemaid and Stephen Cowen, also of Rockville as best man. Immediately after the ceremony the two couples left for the village where the wedding reception was held. Mr. and Mrs. Custer were invited to marriage by Rev. Otten, pastor of the German Lutheran Church. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Custer, the newly married couple. A wedding breakfast was served after the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Schaefer of Spring street, Rockville, after which the newly married couple left on a wedding trip.

DAILY NEWS LETTER

By Michael F. Daage.

Denver, Nov. 14.—Whether a determined effort will be made to establish a birth control clinic in this city may be decided following a conference to be held between Ben Lindsey, famous juvenile court judge of Denver, and Mrs. Margaret Sanger, of New York, who will deliver an address before the Open Forum here early this month.

Mrs. Sanger will confer with Judge Lindsey concerning his opinion as to the propriety of establishing a birth control clinic in this city. She will also discuss the question during her visit to the city.

Judge Lindsey's first mention of the distribution of contraceptive information came following a conference with Dr. Daniel J. Kelly, legal counsel to the state, who submitted to him that he had made substantial gains after he had made public charge that illegal operations had cut the birth rate of this city in two during the past year.

Against all society in general, churches that have so miserably failed in their opportunity to do constructive work through research and education, he said.

Against all society in general, as against the value of populousness, as against the cost of maintaining a large population and mounting a large defense, and fear of the force of numbers.

THIS A Dreadful Thing?

We were at the sale the other day, where a somewhat decrepit old dame, on a somewhat decrepit old farm, was disposing of its old farm, and getting ready to move to town. He confessed that he had been given her by his young son, who had submitted to illegal operations.

Rumor has it that Grant J. Murray, District Attorney, will take up the case, if it is not already in progress, a rapid fire shot or that he should always have it. In fact, I think it is almost reading taste to feed this boy, who reads books for a well connected public, characters clearly drawn and which stay put, conversation as the story, and concise, colorful descriptive passages, on which the boy can sit back and enjoy himself.

The boy who reads "Treasure Island" reads "Robinson Crusoe" also, and the latter has lived because boys have adopted it as their favorite book.

The boy likes a hero who is first of all physically courageous, who acts rightly from impulse. The sentiments in the story must be natural, simple, direct, and frank.

The boy must be vigorous, and the story must be gripping, and the plot must be a complete, reasonable, honest, and the love making, may be taken for granted.

The hero in the boy's story must be broad but need not be coarse. The work is broad, and the coarse, the love making, may be taken for granted.

The boy's father likes the boy, who is a hero who is first of all physically courageous, who acts rightly from impulse. The sentiments in the story must be natural, simple, direct, and frank.
