FIND THE MISSING WORD IN THE NEWS ADS. TOMORROW

Great Interest in Contest Will Get Second Impetus in Publication of Tomorrow's Advertisements.

Hundreds of readers of The Daily News searched the advertisements in the Missing Word Contest in this paper for that little word that Thursday and a great many of them solved the problem of finding the missing word. That it was not as easy as it looked to many was shown by the replies received. Many were unable to find the correct missing word. However, most of the answers turned into this office were correct and the replies included those that are to be a merry and enjoyable time to be had at this bazaar. The doors will open at 2 p.m. and at 4 o'clock the children will give an entertainment entitled "Lost Norms". The Ladies' Bazaar will cater to the appetite and will serve baked beans, cold boiled ham, buttered rolls, waffles, cranberries, ice cream, apple pie, coffee and milk. Plan to get your supper at the church and go directly from your home or your work. Mrs. C. W. Holman will be in charge of the Ladies' Bazaar. There will be a variety of fancy and useful articles of all descriptions, such as Christmas gifts can be purchased. Mrs. Harold Hillwell is in charge of this booth. Miss J. Johnson is in charge of the Preserve Booth, where preserved fruits and vegetables, jams, jellies and preserves, all home-made, will be for sale.

WATERBURY GIVEN REAL SERVICE BY "THE NEWS"

That The Daily News is getting the call's snow when it comes to giving real sporting service was demonstrated last night. Here is only one of many instances. In 1929, some out-of-town teams have been unable to get in touch with teams in this town. What was more natural than to call up the headquarters of MANCHESTER'S BEST SPORT PAGE—the paper on Cottage street that we know as the Daily News. That very thing suggested last night and the sports editor can say with accents of pride that we failed them not. A Waterbury team called up the Daily News on the phone about seven o'clock asking for the manager of the Pirates. They did not know the name of that esteemed official, but they knew where they could get the best detective. In a few minutes after the call from Waterbury, Manager Ray Miner was found and put into communication with the Waterbury manager. Result—A game for the Pirates, a big business from over

CONNECTICUT CO. NOTES

Conductor Joseph Foley of 79 Center street has returned to his post after a two week's trip to New York City. Jack McKenna, night dispatcher at the local tramway office, gave Foley the glad hand when he got back. Joe is pretty popular hereabouts. James Duffy, toll collector of the Connecticut turnpike has returned from a hurt and trip. He reports seeing plenty of game wherever he went. One of the employees came in the office today and started to tell about the big turkey that he recently secured up in the woods. Someone told him that one was plentiful in that vicinity. So he bid out there with his trusty shotgun, but saw nothing of the sort. He was just about to let loose his spied a turkey. The Conn. Co. employee let loose a load of shot with very little trouble. Years from only two dollars worth of game imported "Continental", a luxurious drink worth a king's ransom or your money back. The longer you "keep it the better it gets. It is worth while making up 30 gallons a time. No wonder their fighting in Germany!

WORRY KILLS CRAIG'S DEPUTY COMPTROLLER

New York, Nov. 21.—Worry over the sixty day jail sentence imposed on his chief, Comptroller Charles Craig, is believed to have contributed to the death today of Deputy Comptroller Henry Smith. He died at his home this morning twenty minutes after telephoning his wife that he did not feel like working. Death followed a sharp heart attack.

COAL DEALER DENY CHARGES

Washington, Nov. 21.—Specific denial that it had entered into a secret agreement with certain wholesale coal dealers to enhance the price of coal beyond that recommended by the fair practices committee of Pennsylvania, during the recent anthracite strike, as charged by the federal trade commission, was made today to the commission by Madiera Hill & Co., operating certain mills in Pennsylvania. This firm was one of the defendants named by the commission. The other five being Wholesale Coal.

CENTER CHURCH BAZAAR OPENS TOMORROW

The Center Church Bazaar is being held tomorrow afternoon and evening and plans are being made to take care of the usual large crowd, as people hereabouts are pretty well versed now as to the enjoyable time to be had at this bazaar. The doors will open at 2 p.m. and at 4 o'clock the children will give an entertainment entitled "Lost Norms". The Ladies' Bazaar will cater to the appetite and will serve baked beans, cold boiled ham, buttered rolls, waffles, cranberries, ice cream, apple pie, coffee and milk. In 1929, some out-of-town teams have been unable to get in touch with teams in this town. What was more natural than to call up the headquarters of MANCHESTER'S BEST SPORT PAGE—the paper on Cottage street that we know as the Daily News. That very thing suggested last night and the sports editor can say with accents of pride that we failed them not. A Waterbury team called up the Daily News on the phone about seven o'clock asking for the manager of the Pirates. They did not know the name of that esteemed official, but they knew where they could get the best detective. In a few minutes after the call from Waterbury, Manager Ray Miner was found and put into communication with the Waterbury manager. Result—A game for the Pirates, a big business from over

CONNECTICUT CO. NOTES

Conductor Joseph Foley of 79 Center street has returned to his post after a two week's trip to New York City. Jack McKenna, night dispatcher at the local tramway office, gave Foley the glad hand when he got back. Joe is pretty popular hereabouts. James Duffy, toll collector of the Connecticut turnpike has returned from a hurt and trip. He reports seeing plenty of game wherever he went. One of the employees came in the office today and started to tell about the big turkey that he recently secured up in the woods. Someone told him that one was plentiful in that vicinity. So he bid out there with his trusty shotgun, but saw nothing of the sort. He was just about to let loose his spied a turkey. The Conn. Co. employee let loose a load of shot with very little trouble. Years from only two dollars worth of game imported "Continental", a luxurious drink worth a king's ransom or your money back. The longer you "keep it the better it gets. It is worth while making up 30 gallons a time. No wonder their fighting in Germany!
