

Dollar Days

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 16TH

Dollar Days is the big semi-annual event which lasts for only one day. No Dollar Day merchandise will be changed in any of the departments. No mail orders, or telephone orders will be accepted. You can readily understand that it would be impossible to have all the lots of merchandise last throughout the day. Prices are only guaranteed while the merchandise lasts and we reserve the right to limit quantities of any item.

Town Court
 Luigi De Simone of 52 Bissel street, charged with assault on his wife, was given a jail sentence of 15 days by Judge Raymond Johnson in the local police court this morning.

De Simone was arrested yesterday by Officer Joseph Foley following a complaint filed by the police from Mrs. De Simone. On the witness stand Annie, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. De Simone gave a very vivid account of the proceedings which had taken place. She said it was not the first time that her father had struck her mother and that they were constantly having trouble. Mr. De Simone could not give any defense in behalf of his wrong doing and admitted that he had struck his wife. Judge Johnson said that if it was not for the wife's condition, he would have imposed a much longer sentence on the accused.

Wilson with Nash
 Elected Member of Board of Directors
 James T. Wilson has been elected a member of the board of directors of the Nash Motors Company. Announcement of this was made by C. W. Nash, president of Nash Motors following the annual meeting of the stockholders held at Baltimore.

Mr. Wilson, known throughout the automobile industry as an outstanding production man, has been identified with C. W. Nash in the automobile and vehicle business for the past 14 years, since the organization of Nash Motors in 1916. He has been an important factor in the growth. He was chosen a director of the company three years ago, and under the direction of Mr. Nash has had charge of production both at the Nash Six and Nash Four plants for some time past. Last October Mr. Wilson was placed in direct charge of operations at the Nash Four plant, and since that time he has divided the time equally between the Kenosha and Milwaukee factories.

Business Judgment and Your Estate
 If you have a business which will continue as a growing concern after your death, you should name an executor with business ability of a high order.

A trade journal publisher did not do this, with unfortunate results.

His will directed that the publication be sold to his assistant upon specified terms, at a fair valuation.

His widow, who was the executor, insisted upon a prohibitive price, whereupon the assistant started a rival journal, taking with him the old organization. The original publication under less capable management rapidly deteriorated.

To assure yourself that the problems arising in the administration of your estate will be handled with sound business judgment, appoint a trust company as your executor.
