NEW HEALTH PLAN AND ITS COST

Town plans are in every way commendable. The position of the News on this important question is too well known to call for extended comment. This time the paper gave its unqualified endorsement to the town health survey and drew attention to its value. Its position has not changed. Conditions, however, make it imperative that Manchester go slow in accepting a health plan or any other plan that involves a considerable outlay of money at this time. Problems are pressing that must be met, and they are even more important just now than the adoption of a new health plan for the town. Some of these problems, as readers of the News know, enter into the health of the town and are connected with the two matters which must receive immediate attention. These are the problems of the town's water supply and the problem of the town's sewage disposal. These matters have been held back and held up so long that it will be utterly impossible to put them off or put them over. The town must act at once, and it must act in a characteristic Manchester fashion with system and thoroughness.

The good people of Manchester, who have given any serious thought to garbage collection and the dry brook covering realties, without being told, the necessity of prompt action. They must also know that to properly take care of these problems and satisfactorily settle them, even though the cost is reduced to a minimum consistent with good work, is going to involve a large outlay of money. There are other problems which Manchester must consider in the not far distant future. In these days when the cost of living is high and tax burdens unusually heavy, retrenchment in the water supply. There are certain fixed charges for which Manchester must provide. The town cannot get around them or get away from them. They must be met in the expenditures. They must be met, regardless of anything or everything. Any new project just now, however worthy it may be, should be carefully examined. Manchester must beware of being more than it can handle. It is easy to spend the town's money, and there are plenty of opportunities. We must think twice, however, before we rush into any new project that is likely to impose an additional financial burden on Manchester. For the present, at least, Manchester must go slow and make every effort to pay its bills.

It has been the privilege of the News to see the detailed report of the public health survey of Manchester. We are satisfied, however, that the work has been well done, and that Manchester will appreciate the value of such a plan. If, it is true, as we have been told, that more than $10,000 is the minimum appropriation needed to carry out on a modest scale the new health survey plan, it is to be feared that they'll have to wait. With the administrative cost amounting to $10,000, which includes the salary of a deputy health commissioner at $3,500, we cannot for the life of us see how Manchester can put the plan in immediate operation. Admitting that in every way a desirable move and clearly a move in the right direction, "we advise the News editors in spite of it. Our people can take it for what it is worth. There are some essentials which Manchester must take care of. Involving a large expenditure of money, before it can provide the wherewithal to take care of any new project, however worthy it may be. And the News thoroughly believes the new health plan is not only worthy but in every way desirable.

SECRETARY HUGHES AND IMMIGRATION

Probably no man connected with the present Republican administration has greater ability or looms larger on the horizon of conservative statesmanship than Charles Hughes. He is a leader with ideas, who takes a broad view of public questions. And the News throughly believes the new health plan is not only worthy but in every way desirable.

Looking Backward

Sheerwood Martin, son of Harry C. Martin, is suffering with the mumps. Miss Mary Joyce and Miss Katie O'Connell of South Glastenbury visited with friends in South Manchester last Tuesday. Miss Rachel Coe of Manchester Green has returned from New York City after spending the winter there.

Joel E. Hawley has the contract to repair the Parnell building on Main street that were recently burned in part. Rev. J. S. Wadsworth and Rev. C. H. Barber will exchange pulpits next Sunday morning at South Manchester. Carl Tracy has secured employment at Taunton, Mass. at the tea business and has removed his family there.

Miss Flossie O'Keefe of Spruce street has the mumps and a severe cold; both complaints have been quieted off this week. Mrs. Frederick McHenry Kithling who has been spending several weeks as the guest of Lieutenant Colonel John Hickey at the school street will return to her home in New York City next Tuesday.

There are seven members of Wolcott House's family suffering with measles, grippe, or kindred ailments at the present time. They are passing through a very trying experience. The South Manchester Horticultural Association will give a dance at Apoll's Opera House on Easter Monday night. It will be recalled that they gave a dance there two years ago which attracted an enormous number of people.

William L. Buckland, the undertaker has opened a business office in Charles H. Kenney's jewelry store on Main street, South Manchester. He will handle all funeral requirements to be received there, and is given prompt attention. Mr. Buckland also maintains an undertaking business over North on Depo square.

Consociate George H. Wadsworth has taken with himself a couple of weeks ago and was assisted by a pneumonia requiring him dangerous illness. It is believed that he will pass safely through the ordeal. It is expected that the Fourth Quarterly Conference of the South Methodist church will occur on Tuesday, March 4, unless otherwise stated. It is believed that the name of the church will be changed to the name of Ebenezer Bates to name an earlier date.

Carl E. Seaman has packed some 3,000 tons of ice in the Globe Hall Reservoir. The ice ranges from 12 to 14 inches in thickness. Mr. and Mrs. Diodate B. Russell of 83 Boston street, Hartford, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter Mary Louise to George Henry Joleb, son of Nicholas and Mrs. Joleb of South Manchester, at 6 o'clock, Miss Russell is the niece of Miss L. Russell of the city. George H. Day, Mr. Joleb is employed by the Post Manufacturing Company in Boston. The bridal party will make their home at the Hub at present.

Lanford James O'Brien of the Oxford Hotel named out on his feet-looked "Nettie" on last Wednesday after giving her a rest of some three weeks. He passed all the fast stages on Main street. He had a spanking new rubber trun harness made by William Carr, the harness maker who lives in the Parnell block. The harness weighs eight pounds and is a beauty. Mr. O'Brien also had a handsome light three-quarter speed sleigh purchased from N. T. Puffer. The masquerade ball of Frothingham Lodge which had been postponed from last week was held at Apoll's Opera House last Tuesday evening. Contrary to their expectations the event attracted a large gathering in spite of the bad weather conditions owing to the storm. It was the last dance before the beginning of Lent and no doubt many took it in on that account. The fast stages on Main street expected but could not get here owing to the snow blockade.

Motorists to Help Make Roads Safer

More than 12,000 motorists are pledged to help make roads safer by purchasing state bonds. The Motorists' Association of New York City, recently formed what is known as the Argus Association, composed of motorists all over the country who are willing to take the pledge of the association as to safe driving. These pledges are: 1. To be always ready for any emergency by keeping my eyes on the road and my thoughts on what I am doing. 2. To particularly watch out for curves, crossings and bridges. 3. To always keep my car in perfect control. 4. To keep the brakes and steering gear in good working order. 5. Never to stop or slow down without signaling to the driver of the car behind. 6. Never to take a turn without care and warning to drivers of other cars. 7. Never to cut off another car unless I am positive that there is ample space. 8. Never to stop in a narrow place on the road if by doing so I inconvenience the drivers of other cars. 9. Never to start out from the curb without making sure that the road is clear. 10. To consider the safety and comfort of the other car's as well as my own. 11. Never to try to save a minute or two of time if by so doing I am risking the life of a human being. 12. To obey all the rules of the road as laid down by law or common sense. 13. If I do not drive my own car, to require my chauffeur or members of my family to live up to these principles. 14. To be always careful, vigilant, courteous, and thoughtful.

That wholesale purchases of road materials by States is a method of saving taxpayer's money is demonstrated by the records of several States which have adopted a central purchasing department for all road materials. North Carolina, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Delaware, Connecticut, and Indiana are among the good roads States thus cutting out waste and centralizing their buying. D. H. Piepgras, State engineer for Missouri roads, estimates that centralizing buying has saved the "show me" State over $3,000,000 in the last year. North Carolina has saved $750,000 in three years in this way. The plan secures a steady supply of cement, speeds up delivery and reduces the expense to the taxpayer. Meeting of the East and the West

A party of 30 young people went to the meeting of the East and the West at the Hartford Hotel last Friday night. They were entertained at the home of David Korthright where the supper was served. Walter Sprague, second base, returned a number of very delightful vocal solos. The next meeting of the club is to be held at the home of Mrs. A. W. Hyde.

Owing to the series of Lenten services being preached at the Church of the Holy Trinity on Tuesday evenings the Ladies Auxiliary to the A. O. U. will hold their next regular meeting at Cherry Hall on Thursday evening, March 2. A very interesting social gathering is anticipated.

At a meeting of the Ninth Ward District the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, since our school work has been interrupted by the loss of two days work on account of the storm and snow, that the following system is in vogue: Two blasts of the whistle at 8:15 a. m.—no morning session. When sounded at 8:15 a. m. and not sounded at 12:45 p. m. an afternoon session will be held. The whistle here will be sounded at 12:45 p. m. and at 1:15 p. m.
