Counsel in Oil Quiz

Hawaiian Islands and kept on the fishing grounds over long periods of time. These boats would have large cold-storage apartments, and the catches would be transferred by them to specially built boats of the sampans type and carried to Honolulu for distribution. Another plan would be to build sampans much larger than the prevailing type, so their radius would be extended well into the areas known to abound in fish. These sampans would also be fitted with automatic refrigerating machinery. The sampans now in use have to rely on the fisherman's skill in catching their fish in condition, and if the fish happens to give out the catch is an entire loss.

Interesting Facts Concerning States Traffic Police

One traffic officer is provided on an average for every 2,125 persons in twenty-six of the states. In Connecticut, according to a police survey completed by the state motor department, out of 1,273 policemen available for all purposes in these states and towns of over 10,000 inhabitants each, it was found that 468 traffic officers provided the total of nearly 1,000,000 population represented by these municipalities.

College Men Build Co-Eds' Dormitory

Used Materials, Purchased at Reduced Price, Cut Cost of Structure—Earn and Learn, Logan.

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 1.—The students of the University of Chattanooga here, have put the theory of "earn and learn" upon which the institution is founded, into actual practice.

Between classes of Greek and higher mathematics a new women's dormitory has arisen on the college campus, every brick and brick of which have been laid and built by students, who donated their time and "fell in" like paid workmen.

The need of a new dormitory for college pressing. There were some 200 co-eds at the institution that two Fall term cars had to be placed on a nearby siding and fitted up with cots to accommodate the overflow.

BULGAR NEARLY BURIED ALIVE IS PEEVED OVER IT

Agel Sofia Resident Carried to Grave, Postponement of Funeral Saved Him—Kicked Top Off Coffin.

Sofia, March 1.—Uncle Stojan doesn't think his folk treated him right. In his opinion, they had no right to try to bury him before he was dead.

Uncle Stojan is one of the patriarchs of Cutnelli, having spent in that small city, which was built by Constantine the Great, all of his 78 years. He always was considered one of the tough old dogs of the Cutnelli barons of the 19th century.

Recently, however, Uncle Stojan complained that he did not feel very well and took to his bed. He dropped off to sleep and failed to awake. A doctor looked him over and his best diagnosis was that he was nearly dead.

Preparations were made for Uncle Stojan's funeral for his own funeral. He was buried, dressed in his best clothes, and the coffin was placed in the hearse. The funeral was held in the Russo-Turkish war of 1876 were pinned to his breast.

General Field. A long line of sorrowing relatives and fellow-townsmen followed Uncle Stojan's coffin toward the cemetery, where a newly dug grave had been prepared for him. The hearse was already prepared to bury the patriarch, but the elements intervened.

A heavy snowstorm came on Sunday night, and the hearse was stuck in the mud. The coffin was carried back to the church.

The officiating priest decided to postpone burial to the next day, and Uncle Stojan was carried back to the church.

During the night, however, Uncle Stojan apparently kicked the lid off his coffin and began yelling for help. The only help he got was from the undertaker, who responded to his "yell" by taking Uncle Stojan's coffin to the street.

Uncle Stojan escaped from the chapel and dashed through the streets to his home. Townsmen, who had seen Uncle Stojan's coffin get their work one in time to be present at his burial, were dumfounded by his "yell" and dashed into the Stojan family.

When the Stojan family were partaking of a sorrowful breakfast, a first-class maid entered Uncle Stojan's wife's room and called it "unclean" because of the smell.

Uncle Stojan made known his displeasure in unmistakable language. He had not been dead, and he called it "unclean" because of the smell.

MAKE STONE FOREST A NATIONAL PARK

Motor Travel On Old Highways the Reason.

Commercial interests in Arizona are asking their Representatives in Congress to take steps to establish a national park in the Stone Forest, the famous "petrified forest," as a national park. Last season more than fifteen thousand motor cars passed through the stone forest, over the National Old Trails Road, bringing upwards of sixty thousand visitors to the region, exclusive of those who visited in other vehicles.

The Stone Forest is one of the patriarchs of Cutnelli, having spent in that small city, which was built by Constantine the Great, all of his 78 years. He always was considered one of the tough old dogs of the Cutnelli barons of the 19th century.

"HISTORIC HIGHWAY" PROPOSED FOR VIRGINIA

Road to Link Past and Present Battlefields and Towns.

Virginia proposes the completion of what will be known as the "Historic Highway," to run from the Key Bridge, at Washington (so named because its Capital City terminus is on the site of the house where lived Francis Scott Key, author of the Star Spangled Banner), through Arlington County to Leesburg, Berryville, Winchester, Strasburg, New Market, Harrisonburg, Yorktown, Fredericksburg, Mount Vernon and Alexandria, back to Washington. There will be branch roads to old battlefields, homes of famous men, and ancient churches, which can now be reached in automobiles only with difficulty and to which places few people go.

Such a road, completed by a state which has not so far been able to lift itself among the typical "good roads" states would go far to put Virginia on the new highway map. It will, when completed, bring hosts of travelers to the state and make available for the nation as a whole, playgrounds which are now but for the few, such as the famous Verano of Lynch and the New Market and Shenandoah, Harper's Ferry, scene of John Brown's raid, at the junction of Virginia, West Virginia, and Maryland, the Natural Bridge, the stupendous Masonic Memorial to George Washington at Alexandria, etc., etc.

In any plan for national highways, such a historic highway would have a prominent place. When the United States Government takes up the idea of building a main system of trunkline highways, this road will undoubtedly be found upon the engineer's map.

A world crop and market reporting service has been developed by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture, to collect, summarize, and interpret demand and competition in foreign markets. The service is flashed out by radio and telegraph, so that the farmer may know as soon as the trader the price or condition of crops in other parts of the world.

One instance reported was of a level of 23 bushels that had "rested clean" and was put on exhibit at a county fair. Eleven of the hard were placed upon an infected, and the rest were placed on a clean, resting, the 11 that reached and the two that were staled elsewhere passed clean.

Brennan Denies Champ. Dempsey Victim of Hernia

Conflicting Reports Over World Champion's Condition—Boxing Writers Render Opinion.

New York, March 1.—Dr. Robert K. Brennan, who performed the operation on Jack Dempsey at the local hospital early this week, today denied reports that the champion was suffering from a hernia and that his fighting career was jeopardized.

"Dempsey is not suffering from hernia," the doctor declared. "I do not know how that report originated. His fighting life is not endangered and he will be out of the hospital within six to ten days. His operation was not a serious one and there is no danger. The reports that he is through as a fighter are entirely untrue."

Conflicting Reports—Conflicting reports were in circulation today about the condition of Jack Dempsey, lying in a local hospital, one of the stories having it that the heavyweight champion was a victim of hernia, and another that he would never fight again.

Kearns Silent—Steadfastly denying himself to friends and newspapermen, the champion has succeeded in shaking the local press with mystery of the added fact that his manager, Jack Kearns, usually available to all, has not been in evidence for several days served to contribute to the general uncertainty.

Several times during the game Dempsey was shown into the net. His original stay was for a few days in the early stages of the operation, but it was later found that the hernia was more serious than first supposed, necessitating a more serious operation.

It is still among boxing writers who are responsible for the surmise that Dempsey was not a victim of hernia and that his career would not be cut short by the operation. Direct quotes on the surgeon, however, were avoided.

S. M. H. S. Quintet Drops Overtime Struggle to New Britain Students After Super-Thrilling Court Tilt

Final Score Finds N. B. H. S. On Top 19 to 15—Substitute Cages Winning "Babe" Neipp's Baskets Stave Off Defeat For Hardware City Lads—Zwick and McCann Main Threats For Silk Towerns—Scrubs Bow to N. B. Zeds in Preliminary.

Normal, N. B., March 1.—The S. M. H. S. quintet, which has been undefeated in its record, today dropped to New Britain students in a super-thrilling court tilt.

In one of the closest games of the season, the New Britain High School students to nose out the local quintet in a game which was a fall of extreme excitement throughout. An overtime period was required to decide the winner.

Hardware City five perched on the top of the heap with the total of 19 points against 15 for Manchester. A field goal by Gierachowski, the local player, was the key to the victory.

Whenever Boyce did get the ball at center, and to give him credit as well as his opponent, the ball went into the hands of either of the two New Britain guards. The Manchester forwards were always up in the back court.

First Radio Concert by Hartford Tenor to Be Transmitted

Radio fans will be introduced to a new voice in concert tonight when Maurice E. Waller, of West Hartford, tenor soloist, will broadcast for the first time from the Westinghouse Broadcasting Station.

Waller's musical education has been an extensive one and his studying consisted of periods with Mrs. Virginia Watkey, B. M. Knox and Wesley Howard, all of Hartford. Although his early work was in the choral field, Mr. Waller's first appearance in concert has been as a soloist.

IMPORTANT MATTERS TAKE ATTENTION OF VOTERS AT THIS EVENING'S SESSION

The 13th annual ball to be given by Manchester Lodge No. 73, A. O. U. M. is to take place at Olin Hall this evening. The Hills-Hickok orchestra of Hartford, consisting of seven pieces, will furnish music. The concert will begin at 8:30 and the grand march will follow in the morning. Refreshments will be served at intermission. These and checking privileges for wearing apparel will be included in the price of admission. Chief Orsano will prepare the collation and members of the court will do the serving.

Former Local Man Sued For $25,000 In Breach Of Promise Litigation

George McCormick who left town last November for California is named by Mrs. Jane S. Kemp in two suits for breach of promise litigation. McCormick had promised to marry her in 1919 and to give her $25,000 in cash. McCormick had been keeping company with her since that time. McCormick had been married to another woman in 1922. ## Wahls' Enemies Increased Salaries For P. O. Workers

Washington, March 3.—Proposed increases in salaries of postal workers and changes in conditions of employment involving increase in pay, should be referred to a congressional committee. This is the opinion of Representative W. B. Walsh, chairman of the House committee on postal affairs. Walsh said that the proposed increases in pay for postal workers were excessive and should be referred to a committee for investigation.

Daugherty Trial To Be Sensation

Washington, March 3.—The trial of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty before the Senate committee on the charges of malfeasance in office and neglect of duty, is expected to be a sensational event. Daugherty is charged with having accepted bribes and having used his position to the advantage of himself and his friends.

Big Chemical Concern Fails; Has Twelve Manufacturing Plants

New York, March 3.—The Virginia-Carolina chemical company failed today. The Federal court for the district of New Jersey appointed C. G. Wilson president of the company and Arthur C. Vandenberg receiver. The company has twelve manufacturing plants in Virginia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Maryland, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Louisiana, Tennessee, Ohio, Indiana and New York.

BOARD OF RELIEF GRANTS SIX APPEALS; MANCHESTER GRAND LIST TOTAL IS $35,999,011

Manchester's correct grand list as completed and revised by the Board of Assessors was $35,999,011 instead of $35,000,000 as reported at the conclusion of the board's last month. The difference between the two figures was due to a clerical error which involved $8,000. Therefore this amount was added on last week. The Board of Relief likewise has completed its work and has taken off $4,425,736 in favorable appeal on the correct grand list. His present grand list is $35,999,011. This is the final figure upon which the 16 mill tax rate will be figured. The tax rate will be 16 mills and 1/2 cent.

Rev. Joseph Cooper Draws Object Lesson From Time-Old Parable

At the South Manchester church last evening Rev. Joseph Cooper took for his subject, "The Prodigal Son" and gave a vivid picture of the parable. He pointed out the lessons to be learned from the parable. He said that the prodigal son represents the man who has turned his back on God and is wandering in the wilderness. He said that the father represents God who is always ready to forgive and to bring his children home.

Seek to Fix Blame For Nitrate Blast

Opinions vary as to the cause of the explosion. Officials of the nitrate plant believed small quantities of TNT had been left in the ammonium nitrate when it was extracted at the arsenal and sent to their plant. Major A. C. Cannon, in command at Raritan Arsenal, was equally sure the explosion was caused by chemical conditions in connection with the making of fertilizer from the nitrate at the arsenal and not due to carelessness in leaving TNT in the mixture at the arsenal.

MOTHER, SISTERS AND BOY WHO KILLED THEM TO ATONE FOR HIS SINS

Ames, Iowa, March 1.—Stanley Whitacre, 12, son of M. M. Whitacre, of this city, struck a passing automobile problem while in school here a few days ago. The problem was: "If a small boy is riding away from home at the rate of 60 miles an hour on a railroad train and has a two-hour start over a radio message traveling at the rate of 186,000 miles a second how far will he have traveled before the message overtakes him?"

Willauffe McDowell Twenty and Fifty

Everybody said it would not last, and that a man of fifty had no business marrying a young girl of twenty. There was, however, one fact in mitigation, namely, that Henry Spender had known Miss Willauffe since she had not yet been born. When she was born, he was a young man of twenty and she was a baby. He had a special affection for her and he had a special affection for her.
