When A Woman Forgets

> IJUSBANDS often forget their wedding anni-Versaries and other marital celebrations—a fault corrected only by tearful wives. But sentiment in wedded life is more injured when a woman forgetswhen she forgets the importance of those refinements in her personal appearance—such as keeping her hands attractively smooth and clear.

Since red, rough and coarse looking hands result from the use of inferior soap, you should be as careful about the kind of household soap you use as you are about toilet soap.

THINKING women insist on Kirkman's Soap L because they know it is as harmless to their hands as is the most exquisite toilet soap.

Its ingredients are guaranteed to be the purest and no adulterants such as starch, tale or water-glass, which have no cleansing value, are ever used.

And no soap is made that will wash and clean more easily and thoroughly than Kirkman's. For the sake of your hands insist upon Kirkman's
