"WE HAVE WITH US THIS EVENING"

With today's issue THE NEWS introduces its "Suburban Edition," which will be a regular weekly feature each Thursday hereafter, complete with four-page Color Section. It is by permission of the Estate of Samuel L. Clemens and the Mark Twain Company, through special arrangement with the McClure Newspaper Syndicate of New York that "The School Days of Tom Sawyer and Huck Finn" becomes the regular feature of THE NEWS. We feel sure it will supply entertainment and amusement for our readers both old and young. With H. J. Tutbill's "The Bungie Family," Oscar Hitt's own "Uncle Wiggly's Adventures" and the Kiddies' own "Uncle Wiggly's Adventures" with pictures by Lang Campbell and text by Howard H. Garis THE NEWS' Color Section is complete.

The "Community News" will receive particular attention in the Suburban Edition. Many new associate editors and correspondents have been added and others will be secured as fast as possible. Beginning with the coming week a number of new and exclusive features will appear in THE NEWS each day. Perhaps the feature many of our readers will most appreciate will be the Daily Editorials of Dr. Frank Crane. His daily readers number more than twenty millions. The reason Dr. Crane is the most widely read author in the world and his fundamental creed—his believes in the people—and in plain English, he tells you something.

Other new features that will appear daily beginning next week will be: "School Days," cartoons by Dwig; Howard R. Garis' "Bed Time Stories," a daily "Horsepower and Violet Dare's" "Love Stories." Later in the month will begin an entirely new series of comic cartoons—"Today's Hook Up" by James Henderson, cartoonist of The Providence Journal, who has made New England chuckle.

Several other new features will be announced shortly. THE NEWS campaign is going over nicely and the management is determined to give NEWS readers the best newspaper possible. A number of sample copies of today's issue are being distributed. If you, gentle reader, happen to be reading one of same, please consider this as a personal invitation to join the large and rapidly growing NEWS family. Special reduced prices are in effect and when you consider the many new features, never forgetting the four-page color section, and the comprehensive news service and many regular features carried heretofore, you will not want to miss a single issue hereafter.

THE "NEXT WAR"

If one repeats a statement often enough, he eventually believes it, no matter how incredible or undesirable it may be. The next step is that if a supposition is believed, it is liable actually to be fulfilled. Thus when the frightened man enters a house he knows to be threatening the peace of a great power and of the world. A prominent American author who has recently returned from Germany declares that "everyone talks of another great war that is to come, and you can't seem to get it out of their minds and they are desperate. . . . There is no doubt that Germany is banking on a war of reconquest of her shattered empire."

Wars of conquest should be made as scarce by an enlightened civilization as scientific exploration has made the dragons of ancient superstition. The dragon of warfare, however, will materialize if its image lives in the minds of a nation. Eventually, if Germany sees the dragon plainly enough, she will convince other nations of its reality, and the vision of lasting peace, which might be materialized with equal ease and much happier results, will fade away. For the good of all the world, something must be done to kill the ghost of the next war in Germany's mind. The only way this can be done is to fill the mind of Germany with the cleaner, saner influence of the spirit of peace and democracy.

A RECORD OF GROWTH

When the first gas street lamp was lighted at Wall street and Broadway, New York City, the crowd that gathered to witness the ceremony kept at a respectful distance because of the fancied danger of an explosion. The first gas container of this old New York company had a capacity of 18,000 cubic feet of gas. Now the same company has gas holders having a capacity of 15,000,000 cubic feet each. In those early days the price of gas was $10.00 a thousand cubic feet. Last year there were made and sold in the United States nearly 400 billion cubic feet of manufactured gas.

DAILY NEWS LETTER

Philadelphia, April 10.—In Hahnemann Medical College anatomy classes a mounted human nervous system is used for the instruction of students. The achievement, considered the only one of its kind in the world, is that of Dr. Rufus B. Weaver, professor of anatomy at the college. It represents eight years of preparation and seven months of delicate dissection.

The nervous system is that of a scrubman who had been employed at the Hahnemann Hospital and who was considered by Dr. Weaver the ideal subject for his planned dissection. Upon her death more than eight years ago the body was carefully prepared in alcohol. Eight months ago Dr. Weaver decided the moment was opportune for his great endeavor and commenced dissection of the nervous system.

Every day in the week for seven months, oftentimes from early morning until late night, the surgeon proceeded with his intricate work. His scalpel had many obstacles to overcome, and foremost among these was the ever-present danger of the delicate nerves, some barely visible to the naked eye, becoming tangled. In addition, there was the likelihood of contamination from the zinc chloride preservative might have caused hardening of the nerves, to the ruin of the entire effort.

Finally Dr. Weaver had the nervous system free of all the matter in which it had been encased and mounted the entire by hand on a black background. A thin veneer of shellac preserves the name of large and tiny intertwining cords.

Dr. William Pearson, dean of Hahnemann, is authority for the statement that Dr. Weaver's life effort is the only thing of its kind in the world.

Physicians and surgeons and the laity have much to marvel at in the bronchoscopic accomplishments of Dr. Chevalier Jackson. Several other new features will be announced shortly. THE NEWS campaign is going over nicely and the management is determined to give NEWS readers the best newspaper possible.

A number of sample copies of today's issue are being distributed. If you, gentle reader, happen to be reading one of same, please consider this as a personal invitation to join the large and rapidly growing NEWS family. Special reduced prices are in effect and when you consider the many new features, never forgetting the four-page color section, and the comprehensive news service and many regular features carried heretofore, you will not want to miss a single issue hereafter.

REPLY TO W. E. KEITH

In our issue of Wednesday night, communication appeared, submitted by Mr. W. E. Keith, in which he takes exception to the writer's article on the Musical Service given at the Center Church on Sunday evening last.

Into its merits, the writer refuses to discuss, as having nothing to do with the article as a matter of personal judgment, and in all good faith, he does not consider that any good can come from entering into what would resolve itself into purely a matter of difference of opinion as between Mr. Keith and himself, and again reiterating his previously published opinion as to the MUSICAL portion of the service, he agrees to differ with Mr. W. E. Keith.

GIRL WITNESS IS HELD LONG IN BOY KILLING

Anna Sobin, Material Witness in Rothenberg Murder, is Still in Custody—Principals Out on Bail—Nurse Maid Closely Guarded; Hope for Freedom After Forthcoming Hearing.

Catkill, N. Y., April 10.—Without charges preferred against her, Anna Sobin, 16-year-old nurse girl to Howard Rothenberg, seven, who was shot to death at Windham last August, has been a prisoner in the Greene County Jail since September 4, 1923. Anna is a material witness against the dead boy's mother, Mrs. Rose Rothenberg of Newark; his aunt, Mrs. Esther Litt, of Brooklyn, and Bert Brantley, of Windham, all of whom have been indicted on a charge of murder.

The nurse girl is now eagerly awaiting the end of the trial, she hopes the trial will be over, and she may once more be able to contribute to the support of her poor parents in Newark.

Her meagre understanding of the law has been sadly complicated by the fact that she, only a material witness, has been confined to jail for seven weary months, while the three principals in the case are at liberty—on bail of $25,000 each.
