THE FEAR OF WAR

There has been opposition to the exploitation and perfection of the aeroplane and dirigible because of their diabolical destructiveness in war.

The World War indelibly stamped all ships of the air as instruments of war. It will take years before they are again universally recognized as vehicles of peace.

Marathon saxophoning is the new endurance craze. The present record holder is a girl who played continuously for 48 hours.

There always have been and always will be endurance tests among human beings and animals.

The marathon dancers and saxophone players attracted the public attention for the reason that humanity is ever interested in superlative performance.

The award of arbitrators, if made in accordance with agreement, will be given the force of a judicial decision when duly recorded in any court.

Dr. Frank Crane's Daily Editorial

THE OPEN SALE OF DEADLY WEAPONS

A recent news item stated that Butler Brothers, wholesalers in merchandise, had announced that, in the public interest, the firm had decided to quit selling revolvers and pistols.

The company had handled them more than 40 years and its sales within the last decade were about $1,500,000. The announcement stated:

"The action was taken because of the growing sentiment throughout America against carrying concealed weapons."

This action taken by an old and reputable business house deserves favorable comment.

It is pleasing, incidentally, because it illustrates a fact that is too often denied or ignored, the fact that big business has a conscience, that fact that business is more and more becoming a profession.

This means that, under American conditions and under the normal law of growth, business is ceasing to be a mere conscientious battle of the kites and crows and is more and more beginning to see the great law that is often invisible to the little and twisted mind, that no business can enjoy permanent prosperity unless it develops a civic conscience, unless it adheres to the fundamental moralities.

No one should be allowed to carry a revolver who is not authorized by law to take human life and whose responsibility for it is so very definitely established and guaranteed.

It is the very essence of civilization that men cease to take the law into their own hands and that they hand the matter of protection over to the properly designated authorities.

The United States has passed a constitutional amendment to the effect that alcohol shall not be sold publicly. We have recognized that the consumer of alcohol is a potential maniac.

We ought to recognize that the owner of a revolver is a potential murderer. Of course he may be a potential executioner as in the case of a policeman or a sheriff. And, in the present condition of society, that may be justified.

But to allow any boy or any weak-minded and irresponsible person to walk into an open store and buy a revolver has no justification.

We come up here again to the old question of personal liberty. Whatever we may think upon this question there can be no doubt that personal liberty must give way before the interests of the general public.

Picking up a popular fiction magazine the other day on the news stand I noticed at least a half dozen advertisements of revolvers offered for sale by mail.

EASTERN GAMBLERS BANKING HEAVILY ON "MAD PLAY" TO BEAT "BLACK GOLD" IN RACE

Mad Play and Bracade to be Compelled in the Betting From Sinclair's Stable in Saturday's Derby.

(By Davis L. Walsh)
New York, May 15.—Eastern "wise money," having about the trifling matter of $500,000 on its hands, is heavily betting on Mad Play and Bracade in the Saturday Derby. The wagers, passed along the good word today to back the Sinclair entry in a notable effort to revive early losses on the Kentucky Derby. Mad Play and Bracade will be caught in the betting from the Sinclair stable at Churchill Downs on Saturday. Eastern gamblers are pleased to believe that one or the other of them will win.

SCHOOL DAYS

Looks like the way getting the kids to the National and American Championships from the way the Cards hung it on the Glatts in the 1923 season. The Glatts were going to have anything but smooth sailing during their western voyage. Although the Cards look better in their first game to the Glatts, they are due to take a fall or two out of the McGrawites before they leave the windy city. In Holland the Glatts will meet a real toughie in the side and it is a safe bet that Rob Ben Tom and Adolph Logan will each work their heads off to take the next two games from the New Yorkers. The Pirates will give them a merry tussle, and from previous experience it is safe to bet that they will break even in their first invasion of the west.

COVENTRY FOLKS GREATLY PLEASED AT RESULTS OF NEWS SALESMANSHIP CONTEST

Everybody "Dee-lighted" That Local Pastor Secured Second Prize, and Only Regret Expressed That He So Narrowly Missed Getting First.

Before the ringing of the church bell summoned Coventry folk to services last Sunday evening, most of them knew that their pastor, Rev. G. E. Richter, on whose behalf an energetic campaign for subscriptions had been waged, had secured the second prize, a 35-day trip to Europe, including stopovers at Liverpool, London, Paris, the American continent in France, Belgium, and Holland, and back to New York.

That he will be unable to carry out that contemplated program, he stated, however, that instead of availing himself of the opportunity to go abroad with Mrs. Richter, an expedition they should undertake greatly appreciated, he would accept the cash prize offered by the publisher of The News, and secure a week's vacation at some time next month.

June 15th will mark the conclusion of Mr. Richter's third year as pastor of the Second Congregational Church and during that time he has not enjoyed any vacation experience out of town, although secured an annual vacation of three weeks by the agreement made with the parish when he was installed.

Within six months after entering upon his service in this parish, Mr. Richter established a branch Sunday School in the District School No. 10, where, with the cooperation of loyal helpers, this school has been in uninterrupted progress ever since, training a fine lot of boys and girls in the better things of life, many of whom live so remote from any other church or means of systematic Bible instruction that but for this school, they might have had very little of it.

At the annual meeting of the large groups were waiting their tongues and nodding their heads over the experience which she was awaiting. His birth occurred at a moment of suffering and pain to his mother as the last of every child to come down from the valley of the shadow of death that a new life might come into the world which would be born. Then he referred to the incident of Jesus' boyhood when he remained in the Temple with the wise men after the festival of the Passover, and by his return to the service of the church, he expressed his appreciation of the curiality of his reception by Congregationalists in the local and statewide fellowship, and did not feel that he should serve the ties of the long fellowship of former years, and for that reason, would be obliged to relinquish his local pastorate in order to return to the service of the Methodist Protestant denomination, and by its rules regarding the pastor relation, no minister may retain his membership in the Conference for a longer period than three years while he is acting as pastor of a church of a different denomination. While Mr. Richter stated that he has had some appreciation of the curiality of his reception by Congregationalists in the local and statewide fellowship, and did not feel that he should serve the ties of the long fellowship of former years, and for that reason, would be obliged to relinquish his local pastorate in order to return to the service of the Methodist Protestant denomination, and by its rules regarding the pastor relation, no minister may retain his membership in the Conference for a longer period than three years while he is acting as pastor of a church of a different denomination.

Where heads in childhood's pose may rest. Years have brought burdens, sorrows, care And midst them all we lift our prayer To God who gives us all things good. For heaven and earth and motherhood.

Through passing years, is still Mother's eye. At the meeting of the Ready Helpers Society of the Second Congregational Church last Thursday night, when at last his work was done, his death brought the bitterest of sorrows to the mother heart, which was made to feel the loss of a son who had been a source of joy and pride to her.

COOLIDGE BOILS WITH INDIGNATION OVER COOLIDGE'S PATRIOTISM POINT

"We Must Either Abandon Patriotism Theory or This Bill" Reads President's Message—Says We Owe No Bonus to Able Bodied Veterans—House Expected to Vote Necessary Two-thirds to Override Veto But Balloting in Senate Will Be Close.

Washington, May 16.—Congress will meet Monday day over President Coolidge's veto of the soldiers' bonus insurance bill.

No other issue that has arisen between the executive and legislative branches of the government has provoked so much angry comment at the capitol as the sharp and pointed communication in which Mr. Coolidge expressed his disapproval of the bonus measure.

Where They Disagree The veto itself on the broad ground of governmental economy caused little surprise, for it had been universally expected.

House Vote Certain The House will act tomorrow, and its re-adjournment there is a foregone conclusion. Every tent vote on the bonus in the House has shown a majority of approximately six to one in favor of the bill, and administration leaders readily conceded today there was no chance of a presidential veto in the lower house.

Senate's Vote Decides In the Senate, which probably will act on Monday or Tuesday, the bill is more closely drawn. Bonus advocates chimed today to have a margin of four or five votes above the two-thirds necessary to re-pass the bill over the White House rejection.

President's Message The President's message is a "final" to executive men, and declared the bill would be put through with a show over Mr. Coolidge's disapproval.

Coolidge May Add Jap Bill to His Veto Catalogue President Will Send Immigration Bill Back Along Same Track as Pension and Bonus Bills—One-Sided Vote of Both Houses Make Move appear Useless, However.

Washington, May 16.—The new immigration bill, including all for the Senate and to the country in a few days.

President's Message The President's message is a "final" to executive men, and declared the bill would be put through with a show over Mr. Coolidge's disapproval.

Prominent Women Approves Carbaret Closing; "Reformers Too Impatient"

New York, May 16.—"America's abundance of new wealth is offering the criminal greater opportunity than ever he had before, and gamblers who are top heavy with jewels are making life a banana for present day 'society crooks'."

There is nothing symptomatic in the Harry Jackson's robbing women of their superfluous jewels. We are just now passing through a period of reaction following a violent mental upheaval, the war. There is no use to try to reform

Scene at Fort Moul, Alaska, where Major Frederick Martin and Sergeant Alva Hays arrived after their plane had crashed into a mountain.

Washington, May 16.—A new world court plan will be laid before the Senate and to the country in a few days.

President's Message The President's message is a "final" to executive men, and declared the bill would be put through with a show over Mr. Coolidge's disapproval.

Where They Disagree The veto itself on the broad ground of governmental economy caused little surprise, for it had been universally expected.

House Vote Certain The House will act tomorrow, and its re-adjournment there is a foregone conclusion. Every tent vote on the bonus in the House has shown a majority of approximately six to one in favor of the bill, and administration leaders readily conceded today there was no chance of a presidential veto in the lower house.

Senate's Vote Decides In the Senate, which probably will act on Monday or Tuesday, the bill is more closely drawn. Bonus advocates chimed today to have a margin of four or five votes above the two-thirds necessary to re-pass the bill over the White House rejection.
