The Yankees scored five runs in the last three innings and sent out the Tigers, seven to six. Holt's tenth home run.

Ray Meekins' recent lach league held the Browns to three hits and the Athletics won, five to nothing. None of the Browns got past first base.

Panel 2: A man says, "I KNEW THIS WAS THE WRONG ROAD. I TOLD YOU SO, DIDN'T I?" A woman replies, "YES, FRIEND, SIMMER'S SLOUGH?" A man says, "YER AWAY OFF STRANGER. ABOUT TEN MILES OUT OF THE WAY."

Panel 3: A man says, "... BEEN HERE TWO HOURS. DIDN'T GET EVEN A NIBBLE." A woman replies, "I GOT THESE OVER BY THE WILLOWS. YOU CAN MAKE A SHORT CUT THROUGH THESE WOODS. TURN TO YOUR LEFT AT THE CREEK."

Panel 4: A man says, "BOSH! THERE'S NO FISH HERE EITHER! LET'S GO." A woman replies, "HEY! LOOKOUT! DON'T HOLD ON ME! DO YOU WANT TO MAKE ME LOSE MY— MY—"

Panel 6: A man says, "WE MUST HAVE PASSED THE MACHINE. THIS IS THE THIRD CREEK WE'VE PASSED IN THE LAST HOUR." A woman replies, "THAT'S THE SAME CREEK WE'VE BEEN TRAMPING BACK AND FORTH ACROSS. WE'RE LOST! LET ME LEAD THE WAY."

Panel 7: A man says, "THE MACHINE IS THIS WAY. THAT'S THE WAY I'M GOING." A woman replies, "AND THIS IS THE WAY I'M GOING. WHEN I GET TO THE MACHINE I'LL BLOW THE HORN SO DON'T WANDER TOO FAR AWAY OR YOU WON'T HEAR IT."

Panel 8: A man says, "I KNEW I'D FIND IT! OH GEORGE! OH GEORGE!"

Panel 10: A man says, "DON'T TELL ME! I KNOW THE MACHINE IS AROUND HERE SOMEPLACE." A woman replies, "YOU'VE BEEN SAYING THAT FOR AN HOUR! I KNOW THIS ISN'T THE RIGHT DIRECTION. I TRAMPED ALL THROUGH HERE BEFORE YOU FOUND ME."

Panel 11: A man says, "DARBERT, I WONDER WHAT HAPPENED TO THOSE SILLY BUNGLES? THEY LEFT EARLY THIS MORNING IN THEIR MACHINE AND THEY'RE JUST GETTING HOME NOW ON THE STREET CAR." A woman replies, "YES, PETTIE, I GUESS SO!"

Uncle Wiggly's Adventures

WOULDN'T IT BE VERY QUEER, TO HAVE TWO BIRTHDAYS IN EACH YEAR? I, FOR ONE, WOULD GIVE A DIME IF I COULD PRESENTS HAVE EACH TIME!

Panel 1: "This is Nurse Jane's birthday," said Uncle Wiggly to Mr. Twistytail, one morning. "I have bought her a fine present." The pig gentleman looked at the diamond bracelet the rabbit had bought for his mistress lady housekeeper. "I must also get Nurse Jane a present," said Mr. Twistytail. "Do," said the bunny, "and we'll have a party." The two piggie boys whispered: "We'll go to that party!"

Panel 2: "What sort of a present can we take to Nurse Jane on her birthday, so she will invite us to the party?" asked Curly of Floppy. "We haven't any money to buy diamond bracelets," grunted Floppy. "So let's take her some flowers." The boys picked some blossoms in the fields. "Happy birthday!" they called to Nurse Jane as she opened the door. "Oh, how sweet of you! I must give you some cake!" she said.

Panel 3: Nurse Jane gave the piggie boys some cake for her birthday flowers, and when Curly and Floppy went off in the woods to have a little picnic they saw Jackie and Pettie Bow Wow. "Oh, where'd you get the cake?" barked Jackie. "Nurse Jane gave it to us," squealed Floppy. "She'll give you some, too, if you take her a birthday present." "Oh, let's do it!" whined Pettie to his brother. "I'm hungry!"

Panel 4: While Curly and Floppy ate the cake Nurse Jane had given them, Jackie and Pettie ran off to the woods to gather each a bouquet of flowers. The doggie boys were on their way to Uncle Wiggly's hollow stump bungalow when out popped the Bob Cat and the Fox. "Why all the flowers?" mewed the Bob Cat. "It's Nurse Jane's birthday," answered Pettie. "If we take them to her she'll give us some cake."

Panel 5: The Fox looked at the Bob Cat and the Bob Cat looked at the Fox. "Let's grab these flowers away from Jackie and Pettie, and give them to Nurse Jane ourselves," whispered the Fox. "She won't take them, knowing who we are," spoke the Bob Cat. "No!" growled the Fox. "We'll put on Jackie's and Pettie's clothes and she'll think we're them. Then she'll give us cake and we'll also catch Uncle Wiggly."

Panel 6: Mr. Twistytail bought Nurse Jane a new hat for her birthday, and he and the rabbit gentleman were on their way through the woods to Uncle Wiggly's hollow stump bungalow, when Mr. Twistytail grunted: "There go Jackie and Pettie Bow Wow!" Uncle Wiggly took a good look. "No," he said, "those aren't the doggie boys. The Fox and Wolf are dressed in their clothes. There is some trick going on here!"

Panel 7: "What had we better do?" grunted Mr. Twistytail. "Shall I run back and get the Police Dog?" Uncle Wiggly twinkled his pink nose and said: "No, we'll run on ahead, take a short cut and hide in the bushes. When the Fox and Bob Cat come along we'll jump out and scare them." Off the two friends ran through the forest. "Bing-bung!" All of a sudden the pig fell down. "Hop up!" cried the bunny.

Panel 8: After many groans and grunts, Mr. Twistytail at last scrambled to his feet and ran along after Uncle Wiggly. The rabbit reached a big rock along the path to his hollow stump bungalow. "The Fox and Bob Cat will have to come past here," said Uncle Wiggly. "We'll hide here and, when they come we'll jump out at them." Mr. Twistytail said: "I'll do more than that! I'll jump on them! Wuff! Wuff!"

Panel 9: All of a sudden Uncle Wiggly whispered: "Here they come! They thought to fool Nurse Jane on her birthday, but we'll play a trick on the bad chaps!" Just then the Fox and Bob Cat, laughing over their trick, walked around the corner of the rock. "Out and at them!" shouted Uncle Wiggly. The bad chaps were taken so by surprise that they were completely upset. And the doggies got their clothes back.

And if the tooth brush doesn't try to take its bath in the ink bottle when it ought to go out walking with the gold fish, the next picture and story will be about UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE JUNE BUG.

Local Man Fined $100 For Keeping Liquor For Sale

Michael Giustiniani, of 57 Cooper street, was fined $100 and sentenced to jail for 10 days this morning in the local police court. He was charged with keeping for sale liquor without a license.

Board of Trustees Created Who Have Power to Build Hall—Generous Action of Mr. Childs Will Mean Big Benefits to North End.

Through an instrument made by W. H. Childs of New York, the Manchester Community Club, is deeded the White property at the North End to be held in trust by a board consisting of seven members. This reverts to the use of the club at once and provision is made for the erection of a community hall, same to be financed by mortgaging the property for one half of its assessed value. This will provide the North End with recreational activities which should be a great boon to the activities of that end of the town and bring together a closer relationship which should redound to the interests of all.

It was estimated this morning that Mr. Childs is deeding to the Manchester Community Club property valued at $25,000 and providing the classes in the deed are carried forward the value of this property should be greatly enhanced and the well being of the north end greatly increased.

Michael Giustiniani Also Gets 10 Days in Jail For Actual Sale—Hartford Motorist Pays Stiff Fine—Four Other Minor Cases.

Six cases presented Judge Raymond A. Johnson with a busy session this morning in the local police court. Michael Giustiniani, of 57 Cooper street, was fined $100 and sentenced to jail for 10 days this morning for keeping for sale liquor without a license. He was charged with keeping for sale liquor without a license. The judge also sentenced to jail for 10 days a Hartford motorist who was charged with driving without proper brakes, reckless driving, and driving without registration card. Barton testified that he followed Galkowski after he had noticed him speeding up West Center street and that he stopped him on the route near North Barron and that he was guilty of an unsafe driver and that when he passed the center he was hitting thirty. When he told him a stop Barton said he took the Hartford youth considerable distance to a halt and upon investigation he learned that the brakes were practically of no use at all. Galkowski also did not have a registration card. He was fined $25 on the first two counts and $50 on the third.

Coolidge Signs Exclusion Bill

President Shaply Criticizes Congress For Enacting Exclusion and Abrogating Gentlemen's Agreement, However.

Washington, May 26.—President Coolidge today signed the new Immigration Restriction bill providing for exclusion of Japanese and other Orientals after July 1, and announced at the same time that this was a drive for $100,000 about a year ago. It was proposed to raise this sum in eight days. In that time pledges for $102,000 were received. Today the finance committee reports that the pledges and actual donations have raised this sum to $213,000. With the actual work of building underway it is expected that even this large sum will be greatly augmented. The bill was signed by the President after Arthur Hill, of Providence, R. I., would not have hesitated to veto the bill.

HOUSE ADOPTS TAX DOCUMENT

The conference report on the Simpson-Longworth income tax rate around which the tax fight has centered was adopted by the House this afternoon and now goes to the White House for President Coolidge's signature or veto.

G. A. R. VETERANS LISTEN TO INTERESTING MEMORIAL ADDRESS

Rev. Raymond A. Beardslee Eulogizes Abraham Lincoln and Also Memory of Veterans Who Have Gone Before.

The Second Congregational Church yesterday morning the veterans of Drake Post attended the services and the pastor preached a sermon appropriate to Memorial Day, a synopsis of which follows: The Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and might, the spirit of counsel and the fear of the Lord. It is a wise man who knows what to remember! There is a sense in which our memories are automatic and under our control. Some things are buried into our minds inflexibly, many of which we would gladly forget if we could—but, alas, we cannot. Some things, too, thank God, though gone from our visible sight, are enshrined in our never-forgetting hearts, safe from loss. 'Till at the very gang dry And the rocks melt with the sun.' But there is also a sense in which we can control memory by selecting and emphasizing what we store away. A photograph will do it. Or a diary. Or a bundle of letters. Or a pilgrimage. Or an anniversary. The details and the dates, the faces and the facts, which else would dim away in the distance and be lost in the crowding haze and the ultimate dark, can thus be kept clean-cut indefinitely. He is a wise man who preserves and multiplies the pictures which keep green the memory of his mother, and the fact of his father, and the stages of his childhood and the haunts of his ancestors; and who, as long as possible, renews the friendships of his life by faithful frequency of visit or correspondence. One may lose health or hearing, eyesight or fortune, but the final calamity is to lose one's memory. This is the memorial season, and he is a wise man who knows in this connection what to remember. FRED PATTON SCORES BIG HIT As SOLOIST IN NEW BRITAIN

Has Leading Baritone Part and Proves His Ability as One of the Best Ever Heard in the Hardware City—Many Local Music Lovers Present.

Yesterday afternoon at New Britain Fred Patton once again gathered to himself fresh laurels, in his ever progressing musical career. The occasion was a performance by the New Britain Choral Society, of a cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," by Debussy, in which work Mr. Patton took the baritone solo, in his usual finished and accomplished manner. This society is now entering upon its most successful season, and under the direction of Edward F. Lushin, well known in Hartford and vicinity, is advancing towards an ideal of musical standing, which is creditable both to the society and its talented director alike. The performance was given in the Capitol Theater, and the entire seating accommodation of this edifice was fully taken up by the audience. The Boston Festival Orchestra, with John F. Crowley, principal, supplied the accompaniment, and in their work, nothing only what is usually expected from an ensemble of A 1. reputation as this orchestra is was given. As co-artists with Mr. Patton, appeared Mme. Marie Sandelius, soprano, Metropolitan Opera New York, and Judson House, also of New York. Both of these artists have a Metropolitan reputation which is undoubtedly a property deserving one. It was in Mr. Patton and his work that our interest chiefly centered, but we were delighted with the work of all the other participants in this performance. The chorus numbers 140 voices, and shows evident signs of careful training, which is only to be expected from the guiding hand of Mr. Lushin. The Boston Festival Orchestra has a personnel of 40 members, each one of whom is a performer of the instrument of his choice, and they jointly go to make up a most delightful combination. The principal work of "The Seven Last Words of Christ" is such as requires from its soloists a keenness of interpretation, which only come from stages of musical culture, and one that the soloists are expected to pour out their whole soul into, or otherwise the principal features of the religious tragedy underlying 900,000; balances $20,000,000; Federal Reserve credit balances $65,000,000.
