of pleasantness, he is allowed to go on. Then comes the test: For IMPRESSION—light chat about things in general, and Miss McCormick's ideas in particular, being about an expression of her intellectuality, or concern. By this the psychologists make their second judgment.

His PATIENCE is tested by long waiting for the next experiment. His RESOURCEFULNESS—by solving a puzzle in a certain length of time.

His REACTION TO CHILDREN—by having some of them run into the room when not expected, and pester the applicant with innumerable annoyances.

His REACTION TO OLD PEOPLE—by introducing a Civil War veteran who insists on telling his story, or an old grandmother who likes to reminisce.

His DETERMINATION—by getting his invitation to a theater, or some other affair. "If he asks 'Would you like to go to see So-and-so,' he fails in this test. But if he says with force 'We are going to see this play tonight,' he passes.

His NEATNESS—by arranging figures and objects in certain order, in a certain time, and in a certain order, or by his TOLERANCE—by his reaction to disturbing factors during certain of these experiments.

His MENTAL CAPACITIES—by remembering tests, arithmetic problems, and word analogies. "And if he is still in the 'runnings,'" says Miss McCormick, "we have other tests."

Dr. Frank Crane's Daily Editorial
THE GENTLEMAN VALUES
By DR. FRANK CRANE
The gentleman values are the strongest in the world.
Because the gentleman is first of all a man. He is not a milkop. The gentleman is unafraid. As a rule the blusterer and the bully is a coward at heart.
The gentleman is quiet. He knows that power is silent; it is the waste from power that makes a noise. The steam in the locomotive that pulls the train, cannot be heard; that which hisses and whistles is the escape.
You cannot be a gentleman without imagination. You must be able to think yourself into the other man's feelings. The gentleman doesn't hurry. He may move swiftly but his eye is always on the speedometer; he knows how fast he is going.
The gentleman never loses self control. And no man who does not control himself can control others.
The gentleman keeps the rules of the game. He doesn't cheat nor spike below the belt.
The gentleman respects himself. So others respect him. The gentleman is not self seeking. Hence honors seek him.
The gentleman minds his own business. He does not meddle. That is why others listen to him when he speaks and rely upon him when he promises.
The gentleman is a good loser. He does not boast when he gains and he does not whine when fortune turns against him. You have a feeling that the gentleman is a little different both to your praise and your blame. Not that he is egotistic but that, after all, it is his own praise and blame that he values and fears.
The gentleman seeks justice; the half civilized man seeks vengeance.
The gentleman treats his superiors with dignity and his inferiors with courtesy.
The gentleman shrinks from hurting the feelings of any human being or causing pain to any animal.
The gentleman may appreciate fame and value admiration but he does not have the itch for notoriety.
The gentleman feels ashamed when he is praised for that which he does not deserve.
The gentleman's desire is to be great; the boaster's desire is only of a temporary nature. If anything, the under structure of business is on a more solid foundation than that last fall. Over-production exists in only one or two lines and the total volume of goods moving, making car loadings as a yardstick are only 5 per cent below the peak.
Money is plentiful at low rates and will greatly assist in stimulating commercial activity once it gets started from this point.
Probably because a great number of traders had a vivid recollection of the sudden turn of affairs last fall, the rails broke away from the depression in industrial values and prices. The steel industry has been forced to liquidate. Steels held up well in the face of trade journal reports, placing the present capacity of the industry at only 50 per cent. U. S. Steel lost 1-8 on the day. Speculative favorites were only slightly changed.
The stars incline, but do not compel. There is a threatening sign of a drop in affect real estate and a drop in values is indicated for June.
While there may be less speculation and fewer transfers of property there is little hope that rents will fall to any great extent in the principal centers of population, the seers declare. Merchants and manufacturers will do well to be careful in all their plans and to enforce the most economical policies.
Jupiter moves on leaders in business and politics today. Many anxieties may be expected at this time while this configuration prevails and will be easily precipitated among political leaders.
This is not a most unfavorable day for asking any sort of employment, since persons in authority are inclined to be courteous and difficult to please under this planetary direction.
Egotism and selfishness are supported by the energies of this day's aspects.
The moon in Leo today may have a strong influence on the people of men and may encourage arrogance where it least fits the person.
Willingness to yield to psychological suggestions is supported by the position of the stars. Political workers may find this a day of unusual success.
The lure of the wilds will be stronger during this summer than the expenditure of money for vacations.
Hotel proprietors and owners of camps will benefit greatly from the weather in many parts of the country which will encourage refugees from city heat.
Persons whose birthdate is

An additional sum of $1 a day will be paid for another period of 182 days. In case of death of the sum of $400 will be paid together with $100 for funeral expenses. The association agrees to pay part of the cost of educating the children of any members slain in performance of duty. The State of Connecticut appropriates the sum of $10,000 annually for the benefit of any members slain in performance of duty. The cost of membership in the association is paltry in comparison with the benefits to be derived in case of injury. On paying an initiation fee of $5 an entire hose company can join and the annual cost after initiation is but $2 a year. It can therefore readily be seen that all the firemen should take this protection at the earliest possible moment, for no man knows how soon it may become very opportune.
Three delegates from each of the five hose companies met in the Park building last evening and adjourned until the following Monday. The delegates are: Fred E. DeForge, president of the Connecticut Firemen's Association, Dr. William M. Cramer, the young dentist, has opened an office at the House & Hale block. Miles Ellingworth of Meriden is the guest of his sister Mrs. Fred Mark Cheney is arranging a lawn tennis court on the school grounds, West street side. The grass has been cropped closely and the turf is being rolled down and leveled making a very desirable playground.
George J. Nichols has moved from the residence of his father-in-law, Richard N. M. Thompson of Highland Park, into the house belonging to the estate of the late E. S. Stanley. Mr. Thompson has moved from Wetherfield into his home on Highland Park. He is employed by the Hartford Street

In her cell in Fulton County Jail, Ga., Mrs. Ida Huchen, under death sentence for the murder of her mother-in-law, does not lose her feminine interest in clothes and appearance. Each day, expecting the husband who has not visited her since her incarceration, she carefully dresses her hair and wears a hat that does not come. This remarkable picture shows the condemned woman making her toilette aided by two other women prisoners. She has made an appeal for a new trial which, failing, she will be executed.

KREISLER'S PEACE PLAN.
Fritz Kreisler, world-famous violinist, has appealed to the world from mid-ocean to build and destroy the formula for the "death ray" for which his inventor claims terrifying powers of death and destruction. The Austrian violinist implores the inventor and the public to make impossible the employment in war of any such fiendish instrument as the "death ray."
Doubtful significant is the appeal of Kreisler because of his Austrian nationality. Germany and her Austrian ally have been blamed for the World War. The conversion of Austria to peace would be a notable advance toward perpetual world peace and Kreisler has often spoken for and from his people.
Much mystery still surrounds the formula for the "death ray" and as yet the world has been offered no proof of its death to all that comes within its light is not as vitally important to humanity as its application. The discovery and its discoverer will be acclaimed boost to civilization if the ray is employed in easing the burden of mankind, but civilization should never forgive the inventor of the "death ray" if it is found that he has sold his formula to those bent on human destruction.
A ray with the supernatural powers claimed for the "death ray" would be a justifiable value in agriculture for the extermination of insects and for other air fumigation purposes. Scientific research, should not be retarded by the threat of war. Humanity can prevent war just as it can prevent the production of a "death ray" if it so saw fit. Peace and war have ever been rival suitors for the hand of science. Let the people kind peace and science in eternal wedlock, for war divorced from science will not endure.

HARD TIMES
Across the editorial desk of some unremembered source came a little bit of French allegory.
A portrait painter sat in his favorite cafe sipping his wine. His first small bottle finished, he was about to order more when his eye fell on a headline in the Figaro, "Hard Times Are Coming" so instead of ordering his usual second bottle he called for his check.
"Is there anything wrong with the wine?" asked the landlord.
"The wine is good, but I did not order a second bottle because hard times are coming and we must economize," explained the artist.
"Hard times?" said the landlord. "Then my wife must not order the second bottle planned, but must take one of cotton." "In 1913?"
"Hard times," repeated the dressmaker when the order was cancelled. "This is no time to expand. I must not make the improvements I had planned in the place."
"Hard times, eh?" said the builder when the dressmaker canceled the building plans. "Then I cannot have my wife's portrait painted."

WALL ST. STUDIES
FUTURE PROSPECTS
(Published by Putnam & Co.)
Firm movements in yesterday's stock market were influenced by varying opinions concerning the immediate and future prospects of companies representing various industries. In this respect the market closely resembles that of last October when reports on trade conditions were so unfavorable in many lines that it appeared almost certain that an extended period of depression was setting in.
At that time the steel industry was generally believed to be in for a long slump as millions of dollars worth of building contracts were cancelled.

Noted Group Moves to Establish International Relations School; To Investigate World Affairs
A graduate school of international relations will probably be established in this country as the result of a nationwide movement instigated by a distinguished group of educators, publicists, lawyers and men who have held high public office in the nation's service.
Prominently identified with the movement, the purpose of which is to promote a better understanding and knowledge of international life, are Walter Hines Pusey as Ambassador to Great Britain; George W. Wickersham, Attorney General under President Taft; and Dr. John M. Palmer, of the New York Times.
A number of other equally prominent figures in national life have given their support to the proposed school, including Franklin D. Roosevelt, Julius H. Burton, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce; Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of Review of Reviews; Dr. Harry A. Garwood, of Williams College; Dr. J. A. C. Murray, Dr. Ernest M. Rich Belgian Radium Mines May Exact Toll From Cancer Victims
New York, June 6.—Fear that the discovery of rich radium deposits in the Belgian Congo will impose on the world's cancer sufferers the burden of paying huge profits is expressed editorially by Industrial and Engineering Chemistry, a chemical journal of the American Chemical Society.
"Radium," it is said, "is still quite an expensive element that its use is limited, and no doubt the percentage of each individual patient who by physicians would be much greater if it were possible to sell radium at a price that would pay within their reach a quantity adequate for treatment."
"Cancers and gonorrhea, profuse itching and maintenance of high temperatures cannot be tolerated in patients pertaining to public health."
"For some time the price of radium remained from $100 to $120 per milligram. Then came a sudden decline to $70 per milligram, this reduction following a discovery of one of unusual richness in the Belgian Congo. Two deposits have been found about eighty miles apart, and seventy-five tons of ore from them have averaged as high as 85 per cent uranium oxide. Specimens run up to 87 per cent uranium oxide."
"Belgian Fields Are Rich"
"This means that the ore runs approximately four and one-half tons per gram of radium, and according to our information, the Belgian plants commonly produce a gram of radium for each nine tons of ore."
"When this is compared with the average of four hundred tons of ore treated to one gram of radium produced by one of the leading chemical companies in America and approximately two hundred and fifty tons per gram of radium produced in the Government works near Denver, some conception of the influence upon the radium market and the possibilities may be derived."
"This African ore is not only phenomenally rich, but it is free from some of the substances that ordinarily interfere with its radiation. It is even estimated that, with one of this character and grade, the cost, including overhead, does not exceed 45 per milligram."
"World Step U. S. Mines"
"The $70 per milligram is the figure which was calculated to stop the operations of American companies and has succeeded in doing so."
"The 'dilemma' now comes as to whether cancer sufferers of the world, and particularly of America, are to be compelled to pay a huge profit to the Belgian companies which have control of these new 'rich' radium fields."
"A reasonable price is inevitable, but surely the medical profession, particularly in large cities, should make a special appeal to the present situation and demand fair treatment, which will not only give a handsome return on the cost of operation, but enable the price of radium to be reduced to the point where its benefits can be shared by the many new denied who exist on a meager amount of the price."

FRIDAY, JUNE 6
(Copyright, 1924, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate)
Saturn, Jupiter and the Sun are all in malefic aspect, and a drop in affect real estate and a drop in values is indicated for June.
While there may be less speculation and fewer transfers of property there is little hope that rents will fall to any great extent in the principal centers of population, the seers declare. Merchants and manufacturers will do well to be careful in all their plans and to enforce the most economical policies.
Jupiter moves on leaders in business and politics today. Many anxieties may be expected at this time while this configuration prevails and will be easily precipitated among political leaders.
This is not a most unfavorable day for asking any sort of employment, since persons in authority are inclined to be courteous and difficult to please under this planetary direction.
Egotism and selfishness are supported by the energies of this day's aspects.
The moon in Leo today may have a strong influence on the people of men and may encourage arrogance where it least fits the person.
Willingness to yield to psychological suggestions is supported by the position of the stars. Political workers may find this a day of unusual success.
The lure of the wilds will be stronger during this summer than the expenditure of money for vacations.
Hotel proprietors and owners of camps will benefit greatly from the weather in many parts of the country which will encourage refugees from city heat.

THREE HUNDRED AND TWENTY USED FORDS on hand VALUED AT $60,000.
THIS IS THE LARGEST number of USED FORDS ever owned by one dealer in New England and it will be the greatest sacrifice ever made by any dealer.
WHY HAVE WE GOT THEM? BECAUSE: We have been liberal to our old loyal FORD owners and taken their used cars in trade. WE WILL TAKE A LOSS OF $20,000 on the whole stock.
OUR LOSS IS YOUR GAIN—IT WILL PAY US ED CAR DEALERS TO BUY OUR ENTIRE STOCK AND RE-SELL THEM AS WE WILL TAKE 25% to 50% discount off of our already low prices.
THINK: SOME OF THESE PRICES ARE LOWER THAN THE PRICE OF A REAR AXLE ASSEMBLY. REPAIRMEN CAN AFFORD TO BUY THEM FOR REPAIR WORK; BUT WE NEED THE ROOM FOR NEW ONES AND WE INTEND TO CLEAN HOUSE.
