CURE FOR CANCER.

A New York physician announces that he has isolated the cancer microbe and prescribes a treatment for its elimin-ation from the human body. He backs the announcement of his discovery with the statement that medical science has proven his discovery and his cure.

Many thousands of men and women would be living today had a cure for cancer been known a year ago, and many thousands living today will be dead from cancer a year ence if the new cancer cure from New York is found to be ther false alarm, just as the many thousands of "suresures" which have preceded it. Many unfulfilled promises have made the public pessimistic of ever finding a safeguard gainst the virulent cancer.

The obstacle in the way to a cure for cancer is the inasility of medicine and science to isolate the cancer germ. here is as great fame awaiting for the first man to find a are for cancer as has been bestowed upon the great Pasteur. For generations the greatest medical minds of the world have been in constant but unsuccessful search for this dread memy of manhind. Once the cause is found the prescribing of a cure will not trouble science. Up to this time the only re-

Months have been devoted to the substantiation of the tlaims for the latest cancer cure. It may take a decade or onger to provide proof positive. If a cure has been found redicine will soon know of it.
