SOMANHIS

1948

VOLUME XXXIII

Published by
THE CLASS OF 1948
MANCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL
Manchester, Connecticut

Foreword

As we go out into a world striving for peace, we hope that the knowledge gained and the guidance received at Manchester High School will help us understand the conditions of peoples in other lands. We hope our education will aid us in making wise judgments and in solving problems necessary for bringing about desired improvements in society.

Dedication

We, the Class of 1948, gratefully dedicate our SOMANHIS to Miss Jeanne Low who has given to the students of Manchester High School a deep appreciation of the customs and ideas of other countries which is vital in making a unified world. Her broad culture has served as a constant inspiration to all students with whom she has come in contact. Her keen understanding of human nature has made our working with her a pleasure.

The Path

It's to the future that we look
To find the path that means success.
We lay aside our pen and book
And long for fortune's sweet caress.

The path may branch in many ways.
It may be smooth or strewn with care,
Or even dim to mortal's gaze.
But beckoning on to those who dare.

We all must walk along that path
And bravely play life's fateful game,
And sometime in the future day
We yet may find success and fame.

School Publications

THE MANCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS STAFF continued its second year under the direction of Mr. Russell Wright. This staff, formerly the Business Staff of Somanhis, now has its own special job which consists of securing the subscriptions for Quill and Somanhis, handling all finances, soliciting the advertising, and distributing the issues of the respective magazines.

Front row — Miss Casey, A. Kelly, G. Ferrell, J. Siteman, D. Hein, D. Hayes.
Second row — E. Emery, J. Coffin, M. Willis, L. Varney, B. Carlson, G. Anderson.

Quill Club

THE QUILL, a Manchester High School Magazine of creative writing, has been continued for its third year of publication, with Miss Marion Casey acting as the faculty adviser.

The three issues for the year contained essays, poems, and short stories submitted by members of the student body, either independently, or through English classes.

The weekly meetings of the staff were used for the purpose of reading and judging scripts for publication in the magazine. Members of the staff made the final selection of material and did the proofreading. The first issue of The Quill was published after the Christmas holidays.

As has been the custom for a number of years, Quill Club distributed original Christmas cards to every home room at Christmas time; and conducted a contest in which four prizes were awarded for the best upperclass and lowerclass prose and poetry.

High School World

THE HIGH SCHOOL WORLD, this year as in previous years, has recorded for the readers of the Manchester Evening Herald the activities of the High School.

Working in co-operation with Carolyn Sonniksen and June Stevenson, the co-editors-in-chief, the staff had a very successful year under the leadership of the adviser, Miss Helen Estes.

Because of the shortage of paper, the World was again restricted to six columns instead of eight; nevertheless, the Legion of Honor and accounts of all activities were published.

Delegates were sent to the Connecticut Scholastic Press Convention, which was held this year in October at the University of Connecticut.

A Christmas party was held for previous staff members, and new members were initiated at parties held in June and during the year.

Front row — V. Oleksinski, C. Estey, E. Anderson, J. Alves, M. Smail.

Art Club

THE ART CLUB started another season, under the direction of Miss Hope Henderson, with an active membership of twenty-five students.

At the club meetings, members worked in oils, pastels, pencil, crayon, charcoal, and a variety of other media.

On Armistice Day, thirteen members and their director went on a trip to New York. During the day they visited Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, La Guardia Airport, Radio City, an automat and other places of interest.

In January, club members took advantage of the snow and went out one afternoon to put on canvas what they saw before them.

A vocational guidance meeting was held in February at which Professor Charles M. Robertson of Pratt Institute spoke.

Social activities included parties, and an annual picnic held in the spring.

Art Service Squad

THE ART SERVICE SQUAD or "The Above 90 Club" as it is sometimes called, started its third season this year with twenty-three members, under the supervision of Miss Hope Henderson.

In order to belong to the Art Service Squad a student must take Art and maintain an average of A in his art work. Furthermore, he should be willing to spend an average of two hours per week of his own time on Squad assignments, and he must attend all meetings of the Squad.

Work done by the Art Service Squad consists of filling requests for art work, such as posters, illustrations, and signs for other departments in the school, making scenery for various occasions, hanging exhibitions, painting for dances, lettering and painting for sports events, and occasionally filling requests for outside activities, such as the Red Cross.

Senior Y-Teens

THIS YEAR, again, the members of Senior Y-Teens have helped the citizens of the world as well as making beneficial contributions to our own community, under the direction of Miss Doris Kibbe. The Club was represented at the meeting sponsoring the Thanksgiving basket for Europe. Pins and pennants were sold at the basketball and football games to earn money for "CARE" packages. The Club donated five dollars to Student Council toward the support of a Dutch school and the Children's Crusade was given twenty dollars.

Other constructive activities included making stuffed animals for the annual Y.W.C.A. Christmas sale. According to tradition, the Senior Y-Teens caroled to shut-ins and participated in presenting a dance in the spring.

Junior Y-Teens

THE JUNIOR Y-TEENS have completed a successful year. Their projects were many and varied. They made felt lapel pins for the Y. W. C. A. Christmas sale, had charge of the registration on County-Y-Day, sent a "CARE" package to Europe, caroled to shut-ins at Christmas time, and co-sponsored the Hi-Y-Teen dance in the spring.

Besides those projects, two speakers, Miss Ruth Longstaff and Miss Fay Moller addressed the group, and several socials were held during the year.

Under the direction of Miss Julia Lynch and Miss Elizabeth Saretzki, the Junior Y-Teens have maintained their standards of friendliness and good fellowship.

THE MANCHESTER HI-Y is a club composed of thirty junior and senior boys. Each year the Club adopts a theme. This year Hi-Y studied the processes of law. A judge, a lawyer, and a prosecuting attorney were guest speakers at their meetings. A visit was made to the State Prison at Wethersfield, and a trip was planned to visit the State Police Barracks at Colchester.

As in other years the Hi-Y, in co-operation with the Y-Teens, arranged a formal dance. Another activity was the inauguration of three club members into the Hartford County Hi-Y Organization.

Student Council

THE STUDENT COUNCIL is a group of students elected as representatives from their home rooms to work together to further the best interest of Manchester High School and to unify and support all extra-curricular activities. The organization is under the supervision of Miss Catherine E. Putnam.

This year the Council sponsored a drive in which over two hundred dollars was raised by the students to adopt an elementary school in Arnhem, Holland. Clothes and money were also donated.

A rifle club was started by the Council for the first time since the war. The Letter Committee was active this year in deciding the qualifications a student must have to receive a letter.

The usual campaigns, including the S. A. A., the Junior Red Cross, Christmas Seals, and Library Tag Day, were conducted successfully.

Several times during the year the Council polled student opinion on various matters which directly concerned the student body. The Council stands ready at all times to work for the best interests of Manchester High School.

Sock and Buskin

SEPTEMBER 1947, found Sock and Buskin ready to embark upon another year with a very full schedule, which included make-up demonstrations, a Christmas Radio Breakfast Show, speakers, and many one-act plays presented under the direction of members of the National Thespian Society. Some of the plays given were: "Antic Spring," "Be Home at Midnight," "Ghost Story," "Sister Sue," and "Sham."

For the annual three-act play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" by Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimborough, was chosen and presented under the Club's adviser, Mrs. Helen Page Skinner; assistant director, Miss Eileen McCarthy; and business manager, Miss Mary McAdams. For the first time a matinee was successfully presented on March 17, and the two evening performances were given on March 18 and 19.

In April, a cutting from "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" was presented for the Connecticut Drama Festival, which was held at Greenwich.

A new experiment, that of having the members work in two groups, was tried this year. Each group worked with one director for several weeks. The work of both groups culminated in the play festival held in the assembly hall in January.

Discussion, speakers, and demonstrations were presented at meetings. The two best plays presented at the play festival were chosen to be presented to Sock and Buskin.

For the annual public performance four one-act plays were presented and were well received.

Orchestra

THE SUCCESS of the 1947-1948 season for the school orchestra was again attributed to the supervision of Mr. Robert Johns, who joined the Manchester High School Faculty last year.

Youth is constantly eager for an outlet to show ability and achievement and through the means of the orchestra, they can accomplish this ambition. The students, especially those who like music, are given a wonderful opportunity for inspiration, and they receive a deep satisfaction in giving pleasure to others.

Twenty-two members of the orchestra under Mr. Robert Johns' direction, practice in a group about three times a week. Due to this hard work, they have shown great improvement during the past year. The Boy Scouts' Rally and Sock and Buskin engagements were enjoyed by the orchestra members. The orchestra played at several assemblies with their final performance taking place at graduation.

The Pages learned about filing cards in the catalogue, shelving books, making posters, arranging bulletin boards, taking charge of incoming and outgoing books and becoming familiar with the magazine stacks and reference material to help students with their research work.

Book Week in November was celebrated with the traditional faculty tea and exhibit given by the senior members of the Club. The display in the Library this year consisted of illustrated research work done by Miss Mary McAdams' Ancient History classes. Tag Day, which is sponsored by the Club each year, was very successful and the student body contributed $64.00 toward new books to be added to the Library.

lutions, telling of pastimes, and how one intended to spend his vacations.

Vocabulary games, spelling matches, skits, and singing in French proved to be interesting as well as educational.

All special holidays were observed in the Spanish Club meetings, with a Christmas party, the social event of the year. Many of the meetings have been correlated with the regular class work. The third year students have supplemented their programs with reports from "Selecciones Del Readers' Digest," "Revista Rotaria," a review of Ralph Roeder's book "Juarez, and His Mexico," and translations into Spanish of historical documents and proclamations.

Oral reports on Spanish customs, original dialogues, skits, and themes stressing everyday Spanish conversation and events, as well as the use of "El Eco" as a supplementary paper, have been the outstanding features of the second year clubs. Spanish records, quiz programs, and baseball vocabulary games have helped to enliven the Spanish Club.

The first half of the year was spent in learning fancy strokes and stunt dives. Form swimming and swimming to music were features also enjoyed by the Club.

The second half of the year was devoted to lifesaving instruction, diving, and swimming to music. At the end of the year competitive races were held. Also, throughout the entire year games and parties were held by the Club. This proved to be one of the successful years for the Aqua-ettes.

Girls Leaders' Club

THE GIRLS LEADERS' CLUB, whose aim is to promote interest in sports, had a very successful year under the guidance of Mrs. Doris Carpenter, Girls' Physical Education instructor.

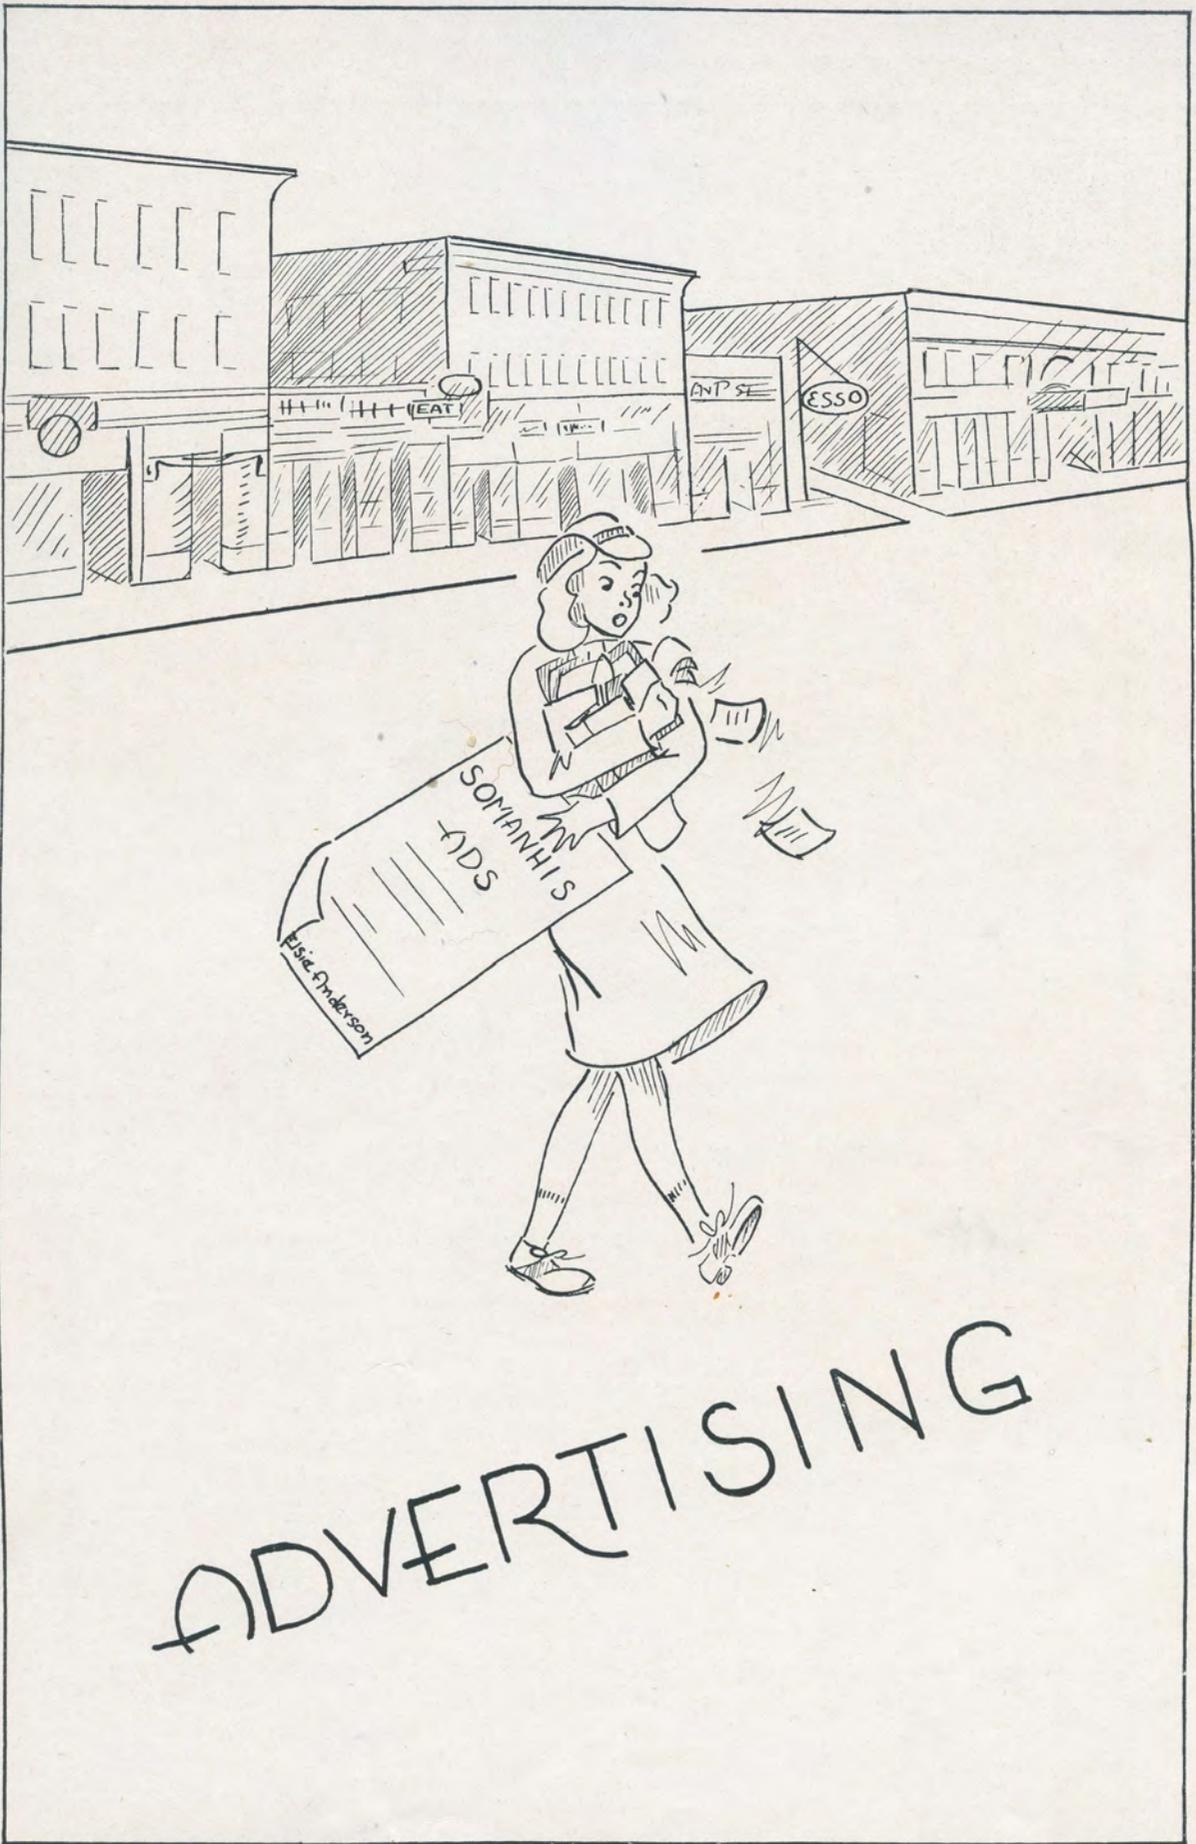

Membership is open to any Sophomore, Junior, or Senior girl who passes a required test on the rules of the various sports. To retain her membership, a girl must participate in at least one sport every season and maintain a B average in gym.

Among the activities which the girls enjoyed were three play days at nearby schools. In addition they sponsored two similar programs for neighboring schools. The social functions of the year included an initiation night, two co-rec nights, a Christmas party, and an Alumnae Night, to which all former members were invited. To acquaint eighth grade girls with the Physical Education program offered in High School, a play day was sponsored for them in April. As part of their service work, the Girls Leaders' conducted games at the Halloween Parties which were sponsored by the American Legion.

The year was brought to a close with an annual outing at Columbia Lake held in June.
