MR. CHARLES JOHNSON, Principal

MR. GEORGE BRADLAU, Assistant Principal

DEDICATION

We, the class of 1957, dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Charles Johnson, Principal and Mr. George Bradlau, Assistant Principal of Barnard Junior High School.

We are deeply grateful for the great amount of time these administrators have spent in solving our many problems and trying to keep us happy. The entire class hopes that this dedication may, in some small way, express our gratitude.

CLASS WILL

We, the graduating class of "57", being of sound mind, do hereby bequeath our most treasured possessions to the future eighth grade class of our "Alma Mater", Barnard School.

We leave the leadership ability of Rick Kennedy to the future president of the Student Council.

To whoever needs it, we leave Frances Nylin's personality plus.

To someone who wants it we leave the speechmaking ability of Barbara Johnson.

To Jerry McConnel we leave Bruce Zollo's ability to have a good time.

To Dorothy Bell we leave Sandy Soboleski's cute smile.

To the future bop students we leave Bob Deane's hot bop.

To David and Danny Doll we leave the good looks of Bruce Bonadies.

To Bob Santos we leave the sport's ability of Mike Reardon.

To David Ford we leave the helpfulness of Bruno Giuliani with a movie projector.

To Pat McCabe we leave Dave Sombric's ability to draw.

To anyone who inherits it we leave the Phantom's signature.

To Lydia Jackle we leave Enid Roger's ability to worry.

For public auction we leave Bette Rowley's wonderful school spirit.

To someone who needs dancing lessons we leave Daneen Renn's light feet.

To our principal Mr. Johnson and vice-principal Mr. Bradlau we leave our wish that only the good things of life may be in store for them.

To the future science classes of Mr. Johnson we leave our beautiful aquarium of fish.

To Mrs. Boland our school nurse, in grateful appreciation for all her thoughtfulness and kindness whenever we became ill, we leave our thanks.

To the faculty we leave our best wishes and hopes for the best of teaching success.

We leave our fondest wishes to the on-coming eighth grade and hope that they not only follow in our footsteps but do better than we in every way.

In witness thereof, we have hereto set our hands and seal at Barnard Junior High School, in the town of Manchester, State of Connecticut, on the seventeenth day of June in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven, we legally affix our signature to this lawful document and place thereon our mark "X".

CLASS PROPHECY

Ten years from now !! What will happen in that length of time ?? Nothing but success is prophesied for this fine class of Barnard Junior High School, 1957.

Read and discover the familiar names.

ROSE BOWL — 1967

Ladies and gentlemen! You are tuned in on the Rose Bowl Game of 1967. This is your Commentator John Daly reporting to you from New York. Today is a day that many Americans will remember for a long time. A great honor has been bestowed upon us in having the President of the United States with us, namely Richard H. Kennedy.

We now switch you to Douglas Edwards, who is stationed along the route the parade is to take.

Good afternoon! This is Doug Edwards speaking to you from the corner of Arroya Canyon and Dilworth Street in Pasadena, California. There must be millions of people gathered with us today for this great event.

The parade is ready to start. The first float is occupied by the President and his cabinet. The float is a small replica of the White House. On the steps are seated President Kennedy, his wife and Vice President Bette Rowley. Grouped around him are some members of his cabinet, Secretary of State, Marlene Forde, and Secretary of the Treasury, Poppy Gerard. This lovely float was designed by Ernie Gardner.

The Rose Bowl Queen, Miss Dale Vennart, and her attendants Miss Sue Niese, Pat Provencal, Judy Larson and Sandy Sobeleski, are seated among many thousands of beautiful red roses. The roses, which are very artistically arranged, completely cover the float. The young ladies' gowns were designed by the very famous clothes' designer, Miss Maryann Miller.

Coming down the street, following the Queen, we see three very large floats which have been completely taken over by the Armed Forces. We recognize such people as Dale Vennart, Marcia Werner, and Lillian Rehse, all members of the W.A.C.S. Also we see Secretary of Defense Jeff Truemann, Anthony Ferris Commander-in-chief of the 81st Infantry, and Rear Admirals Bob Campanelli, Bob Klemas and Don Cordner.

The next float that comes into view is the medical float. It has been built to resemble a hospital. On it we see Carole Nolan and Joe Lessner, Dolores York and Bill Ritchie, and Pat Howard and Mike Cronin, three very famous nurse and doctor teams.

As that beautiful float passes, we see a very common sight in this part of the country. Coming down the street, on his famous horse Ginger, is King-of-the-Cowboys, Craig Johnson. Behind him are three very lovely young cowgirls whom everyone recognizes as Diane Gunther, Marty Simpson, and Shirley Doty.

Ah! What a beautiful sight! My goodness! What's this? Coming down the street, ladies and gentlemen, is a brand new jet airliner. It will carry passengers around the world in exactly thirty-one and a half minutes, without stopping at all to refuel. This marvelous plane, we understand, was built by famous scientists, John Krause, Dave Sombric, Bill Zikus and Bob Shuetz. With them are pretty airline hostesses, Penny Fairbank, Janice Chase, and Lorraine Woollett.

We are nearing the end of the parade. Here comes the band! Playing in it we see such familiar faces as Roberta Johns, Linda Smith and Gary Sutcliffe. (We always knew they'd make their mark in the music world.)

Last, but certainly not least, we see the Football team from the University of Connecticut. It was with great pleasure that the University accepted the invitation to play this game in California. We see some familiar faces on the team — —

Mike Reardon, Ray Dotchin, Marsh Potter, John Cervini, and Bob Follett.

Now that the parade is over everyone is tensely waiting for the game to begin.

The first half is now over with the score fourteen to fourteen. I shall now turn the mike over to Walter Chronchite.

During intermission huge crowds are entertained by cheers and the activities of pretty cheerleaders Mary-Jane Boggini, Pam Ahlf, Phyl Solomon and Marilyn Kurtz.

Near at hand we hear the cry of "pop-corn", "ice-cream", "cold coca-cola", and discover Tim Beckwith, another former Barnard classmate, as the vender.

It is now within two minutes to the end of the game. The score is twenty-one to twenty in favor of the opposing team. Connecticut has the ball on the opposing teams forty yard line, it is the fourth down. The ball is kicked to Mike Simmons, captain, who fakes a pass and runs the remaining forty yards to make the winning touchdown for Connecticut. The Easterners go wild!!

The crowd is now leaving to go on its various ways — some to night clubs, some to their homes and others to hotels. Let us follow a group of people who are going to a very famous night club owned by Carter DeCormier. As we enter we see outstanding singer Franny Nylin, on the stage and pianist, Sandy McKenney at the piano. Miss Nylin's hair was arranged by famous hair stylist Madelyn Aitken, another former Barnard classmate.

We must not linger long here for we must be getting back to our own homes.

As a parting word we would like to express our extreme amazement at how well former Barnard classmates have done in just ten short years! We hope only the best things in life will be theirs in the years to come!

FAREWELL

The lamp of knowledge now burns bright;
As our goal comes into sight.
For one whole year we've tried our best,
And now it seems we've passed the test.

We've learned our history, science, English and math,
And now we're on a higher education path.
As we leave this school in June
We'll enter high school very soon.

It seems quite sad to say good-by,
To dear old Barnard Junior High.
We say farewell with a deep regret
For the teachers at Barnard, we'll never forget.

CLASS HISTORY

Seventh Grade! Here we are!
We think we're lucky to get this far.
We surprised our teachers by being so smart,
But still received homework by the cart.

The double sessions we thought were swell,
We could hardly wait for the starting bell.
Friday night dances were really fun,
But we couldn't go 'til our homework was done.

Christmas vacation came and went
And back to school we were sent.
Then came Sports' Night and the Varsity Game,
Faculty won! Oh! What a shame!

Summer vacation appeared at last,
Seventh grade worries were in the past.
We all had fun and enjoyed ourselves
While our books lay on the shelves.

Summer vacation really did fly,
And back to school we went with a sigh.
Our memories of work were very hazy,
Because of the fall air we were lazy.

Winter did come and the snow did fall,
And going to school we surely did stall.
Christmas vacation came so fast
Before we knew it, it was in the past.

We held a dance called the "Spring Hop",
And some of our chaperones learned how to bop.
The month is March, three more to go
It seems rather late, but it's starting to snow.

Graduation's finally here and we're all so excited,
High school days are already being sited.
The graduation dance ended it all
But during this time we all had a "ball".

We all feel now, as if we belong here
We've had so much fun during this school year.
To leave Barnard School we deeply regret
This is the one school we ne'er will forget.

APPRECIATION

To our Faculty, who has given us so much time and patience in our school work and outside activities, we wish to express our appreciation for this fine year. We wish them much success and happiness in the future.

To Mrs. Rich and Mrs. Swanson, for their generous time and help in all our class secretarial work. We hope that next year the eighth grade will appreciate them as much as we have.

To our Custodians, who have kept Barnard spic and span, and as neat as a pin. We are most gratefully appreciative.

To Rick Kennedy, who has been a faithful Student Council President, we wish all the luck the future can bring.

To our office aid, Linda Stevenson, our grateful appreciation for the fine work she has done in helping with our Yearbook.
