THE 1963 SOMANHIS . . . a priceless possession.

There are many things which constitute our life at Manchester High School. After a quick glance, one could say that Manchester High School is merely a modern brick building, designed to be used as a school. But there is something more than this; something that makes Manchester High School unique. This is the personality of the school, which is the theme of our book.

For four years, a quarter of our daily time has been spent in the classroom. Our academic training has laid the foundation for our future endeavors. For those who have had special interests, there have also been many other diversified activities. As well as those organizations which are closely related to academic subjects, there have been clubs and teams which have served the school, entertained us, planned social events, and contributed to our mental and physical growth.

We of the Somanhis staff have recorded through the medium of pictures and prose the many memorable events which have composed our life at Manchester High School for the year 1962-1963. I would like to thank everyone who has made this such an enjoyable venture, especially Mr. Pinto, Mr. Ofiara and Mr. Saternis of the Manchester Evening Herald for their photographic contributions. With this thought in mind, I present to you the 1963 Somanhis!

our days at M H S are o'er and sad-ly we must part to face the stor-my streams of life in times that try the heart. But cour-age is our guide and shield. The class of "six-ty three" will face the fu-ture with-out fear and strive for vic-to-ry.

SCHOLARSHIP

... the heart of our school

Manchester High School, the largest high school in Connecticut, has a very diversified academic program. Our school was chosen to participate in several experimental programs. Among these were C.B.A. chemistry and P.S.S.C. physics. Some advanced courses at our school were under the cooperative program with the University of Connecticut.

The courses at M.H.S. have prepared its students for the future. Many of our students were recognized as outstanding on national tests. The following students received National Merit Scholarship Letters of Commendation: Jennifer Caven, Susan Cronin, Philip Daley, Richard Diehl, Timothy Donahue, David Goodstine, Karen Johnson, Barbara Pearce, Jeffrey Pond, Stanley Sholik, Cheryl Staniunas, William Whitesell, Neil Wise, and Paula Wupperfeld. Sue Boris, Gloria Trukas, and Edmund Perry were National Merit Scholarship Semi-finalists. Jennifer Caven and Barbara Pearce were finalists in the National Council of Teachers of English Achievement Awards Competition as a result of outstanding performances on standardized tests.

We have many outstanding teachers at M.H.S. This year Miss Estes was chosen one of the ten Best Teachers in America, and Mr. Fenn had an article published in a national magazine, "The Turtox News."

M.H.S. students are indeed fortunate to have had such an excellent preparation for the future.

A TRIBUTE . . .

to a championship coach and team

A team of which MHS has been constantly proud is its soccer team. While other teams may fluctuate between good and bad seasons, the soccer team has consistently turned in a winning season.

This year was no exception. Beside gaining an overall record of ten wins, four losses, and one tie, this year's squad added further glory to our alma mater by winning the CIAC state championship.

Tri-captained by John Verfaillie, Fred McCurry, and Doug Pearson, the soccer team finished seventh in the state, nearly eligible for the tournament. As fate would have it, though, Brian McMahon High School of Norwalk failed to comply with tournament regulations and was disqualified. As a result, MHS gained a berth in the tournament and, capitalizing on this good fortune, went on to win the CIAC title.

The credit for this year's fine team, and for making Manchester a name to be reckoned with in Connecticut, must go to our soccer coach, Mr. Richard Danielson. "Mr. D.," "Danny," or other various names given to him by the members of his soccer teams, has demonstrated his amazing ability to work with high school boys and to mold his teams into championship material.

During the seventeen years he has been coaching the MHS soccer team, Mr. Danielson has had a truly awesome record. Seven of his teams have won the CCIL title, four outright and three in ties with Hall High School of West Hartford. Ten of the twelve teams under his direction have played in the state tournament. Including this year's win, three of his teams have captured the CIAC title.

Not only a winning coach, but also a man who has won the admiration of the boys who have played under him, Mr. Danielson may honestly take pride in being the varsity coach of MHS's soccer team. For a job well done and well appreciated, Mr. Danielson, the students of Manchester High say "Thanks!"

Holly, I'm so happy for you this yr! Have a wonderful, wonderful time in Turkey and remember you have to tell me all about it. I'm really pretty envious, you know! Don't worry about and careful copy fitting means a better yearbook.

Holly, take notes on your stay in Turkey - you'll have to write a story when you come back! Have a wonderful, educational trip. Lots of luck, Pat R.

PURPOSE

The Student Council acts as the voice between the students and administration. It works to regulate the social activities of the student body and to maintain a high morale among the students.

ORGANIZATION

The Council is composed of homeroom representatives and alternates from each senior high school class. Those six receiving the highest number of votes in each of the three classes make up the executive council which discusses matters before they are put before the general council.

AFFECTS STUDENT BODY

The Council is responsible for many of the social activities enjoyed by high school students. Clubs receive financial aid from the SAA fund. Numerous sport dances are held on Friday nights throughout the year (odd hop, sock hop, Roaring 20's) as well as a prom in the fall. The Council sponsors the senior-faculty game, assemblies and an election for president each year.

The Council works closely with the administration to shape school policy on many matters. In the past, it helped to formulate the smoking policy now in effect. It is now working to solve the problem of vandalism.

AMERICANS ABROAD . . .

Bill Whitesell in the Philippines

Last summer I was very fortunate to have the opportunity to visit the Philippines as an American Field Service Exchange Student. The purpose of the "A.F.S." sponsored trip was to promote understanding and friendship between nations. Under the program, the Nelson I. Regalados, a Filipino family living in a sugar plantation called Canlubang, "adopted" me as a member of their family. Their warm friendship and unending hospitality, characteristic of all Filipinos, made it easy to become acquainted with the community and the new way of life.

Since the Philippine student's summer vacation is during April and May, I had a chance to attend Rizal Institute, the high school in Canlubang. There I learned some unforgettable lessons, but not necessarily from books.

Adjusting to the different customs and way of life in the Philippines, as well as gaining new friends in a foreign land, made last summer the most educational, interesting, and enjoyable experience I've ever had. This trip to the Philippines has broadened my interests and helped me appreciate the high standard of living in America.

This trip was a priceless experience, and I am very grateful to the American Field Service and the students of Manchester High School for making it possible.

Bill's souvenirs displayed.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE PROGRAM

Believe it or not, but it will be hard to leave Manchester and M.H.S. I never thought it was possible to make so many good friends in only one year. In fact, everybody has been very nice to me. This friendliness is probably what I will remember best of all when I think back on this time, which has certainly been the most interesting and, in many ways, happiest year in my life.

As I am very curious about what will happen in this town and to all of you who live here, I would be glad if you write to me. I will answer.
