Students resume classes September 8th . . .

A brisk autumn wind sweeps students through the varied fall activities at MHS. Returning to classrooms after leisurely summer hours, students adjust to their responsibilities and the demands of school life.

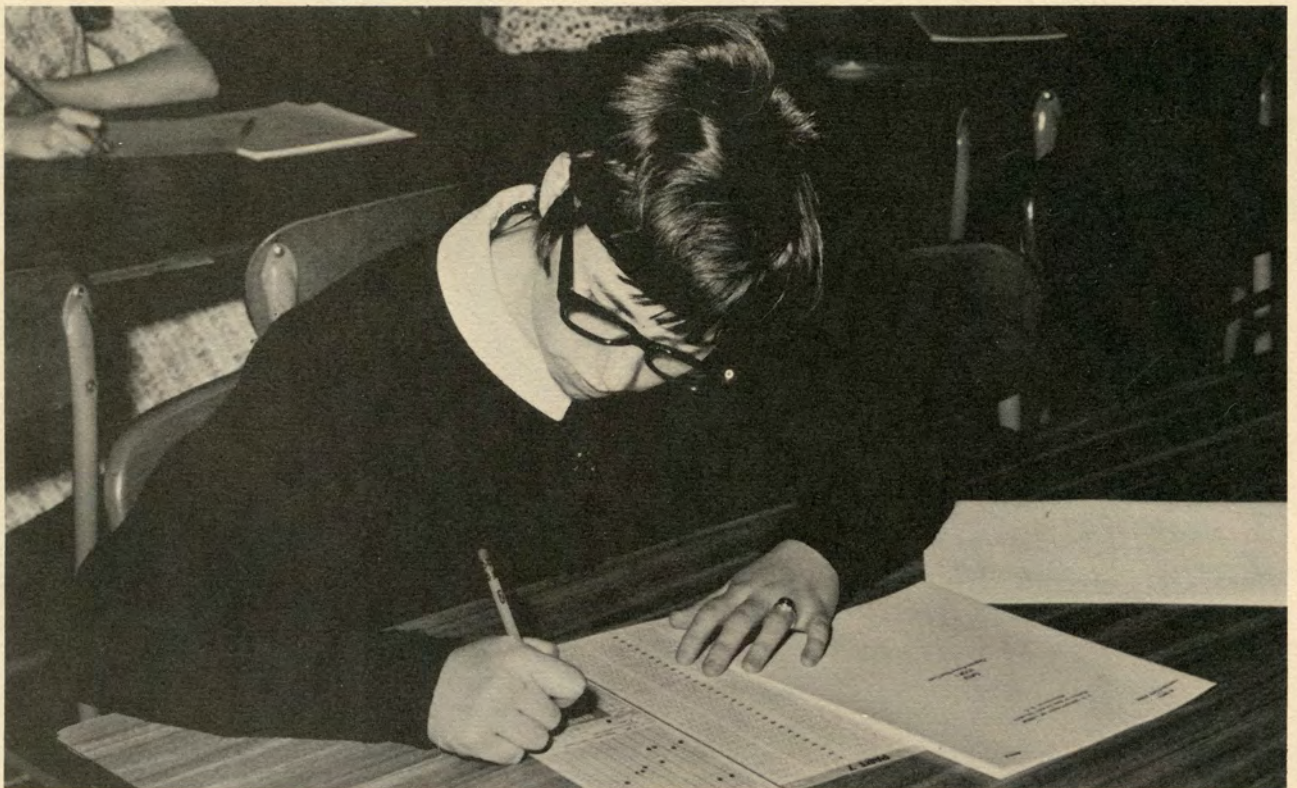

School spirit prevails during fall competition . . .

"We are the Indians, the mighty, mighty Indians" echoes across the athletic field as keen competition in fall sports unites the student body. Touchdown passes fly, penalty kicks score, and runners finish with an all out effort, as our tribal warriors pursue their respective crowns.

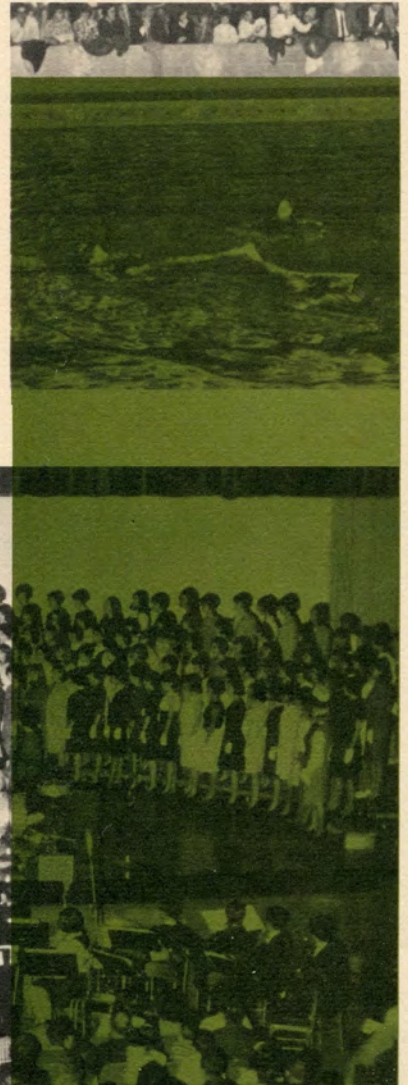

Winter fails to dampen enthusiasm . . .

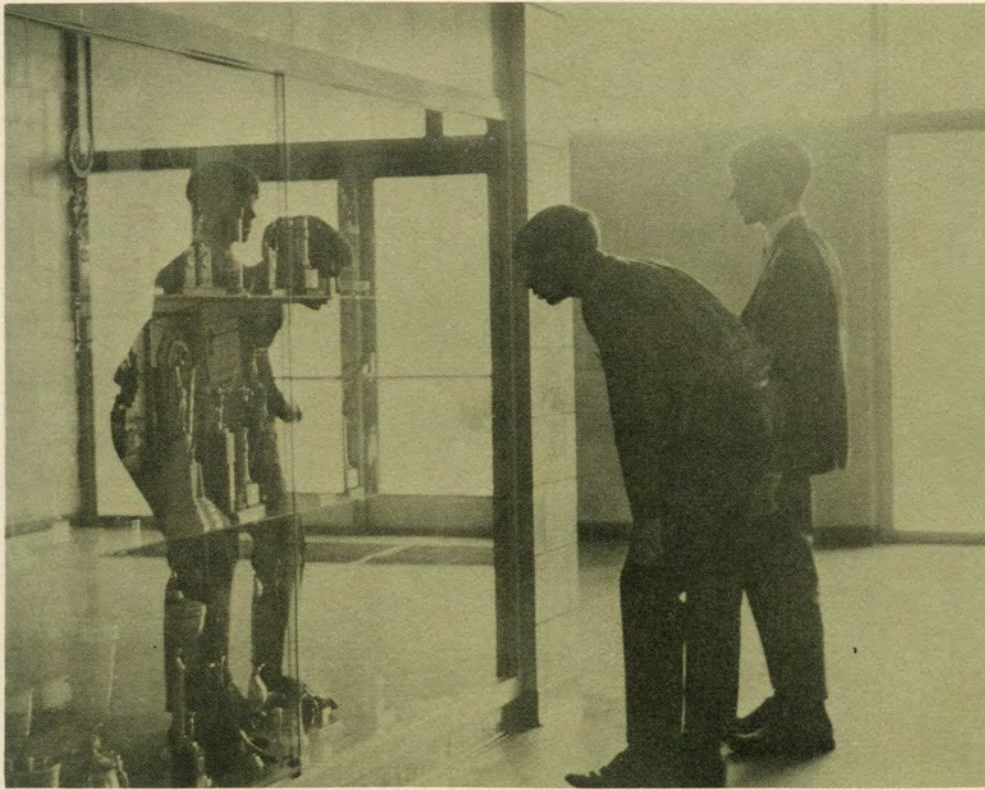

With the first snowfall, thoughts are turned to the winter season ahead. Each morning the warmth of the building welcomes chilly students. The nurse's office overflows as students are plagued by winter colds.

Activities crowd holiday season . . .

Cheers for the MHS hoopsters resound throughout the brightly lit arena. Hours of practice are climaxed when the Aquettes present their annual water show. In preparation for future meets, the swim team also occupies the pool area. Songs of Christmas cheer pour from the auditorium during the Christmas Concert.

Thoughts turn to spring . . .

A furtive glance out a rain-spattered window is a sign that spring has arrived. The annual tide of spring fever engulfs the school, and students find it hard to concentrate on their studies as warmer weather focuses their attention out doors.

Warm weather awakens new interests . . .

MHS students become involved with typical spring pastimes—from athletics to all forms of art. The orchestra tunes their instruments and the combined choirs rehearse intensely for the Spring Concert. On the athletic field, baseball, track and tennis teams diligently train for upcoming competition.

Throughout the year MHS vibrates with activity . . .

180 Days Around MHS . . .

The annual Car Wash is manned by Sue Magowan and Brian Rogers.

Who's behind all of the sport dances, pep rallies, and assemblies? Who acts as a liason between the faculty and students? It's the Student Council with Arthur Glaesar as advisor. President George Bradlau and the seventy-five homeroom representatives work to make the opinions of the students known. The core of this organization is the Executive Committee, composed of five members from each class and the Committee Chairmen. The Grub Day this spring was an especially big attraction and the Sadie Hawkins Dance has become an annual event.

The guiding force behind the Council is advisor, Arthur Glaesar.

The Council Acts for the Student Body . . .

Candidates George Bradlau and Dave White present their views in the Presidential Election assembly.

Guy Tangarone congratulates George and Dave on a successful campaign.

Sal Lopez speaks about the Council sponsored African student.

The Merit Awards Banquet provides an annual social event for outstanding students.

Competent Work Creates Each School Day . . .

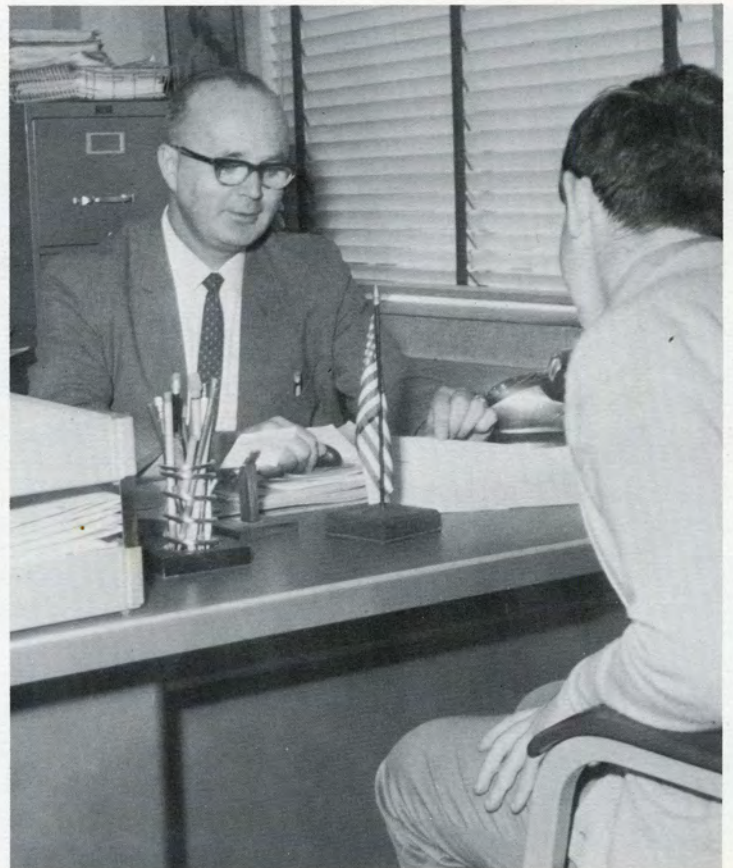

Mr. Rogers and Mr. Early steal a few moments of leisure.

Busy moments on the phone demand Mr. Emmerling's time.

Mr. Miller organizes a morning routine.

Mr. Leonard counsels student.

The high school office, headed by Mr. A. Raymond Rogers, principal, with the assistance of Mr. Blaine Miller, Mr. George Emmerling, and Mr. Lawrence Leonard, aims to provide an education which will make the best use of student ability and aptitude and which will encourage self-responsibility. Citizenship, tolerance, patriotism, appreciation of knowledge, and the experimentation with new methods, activities and ideas, depend upon cooperation between students and faculty. Mrs. Gertrude Hitchcock, as head of the guidance department, also promotes these ideals. The guidance office is the student center for obtaining job and college information and counseling in future plans as well as personal problems.

Mr. Geagan aids James McGovern with future plans.

Mrs. Kunz reflects the atmosphere of the guidance office.

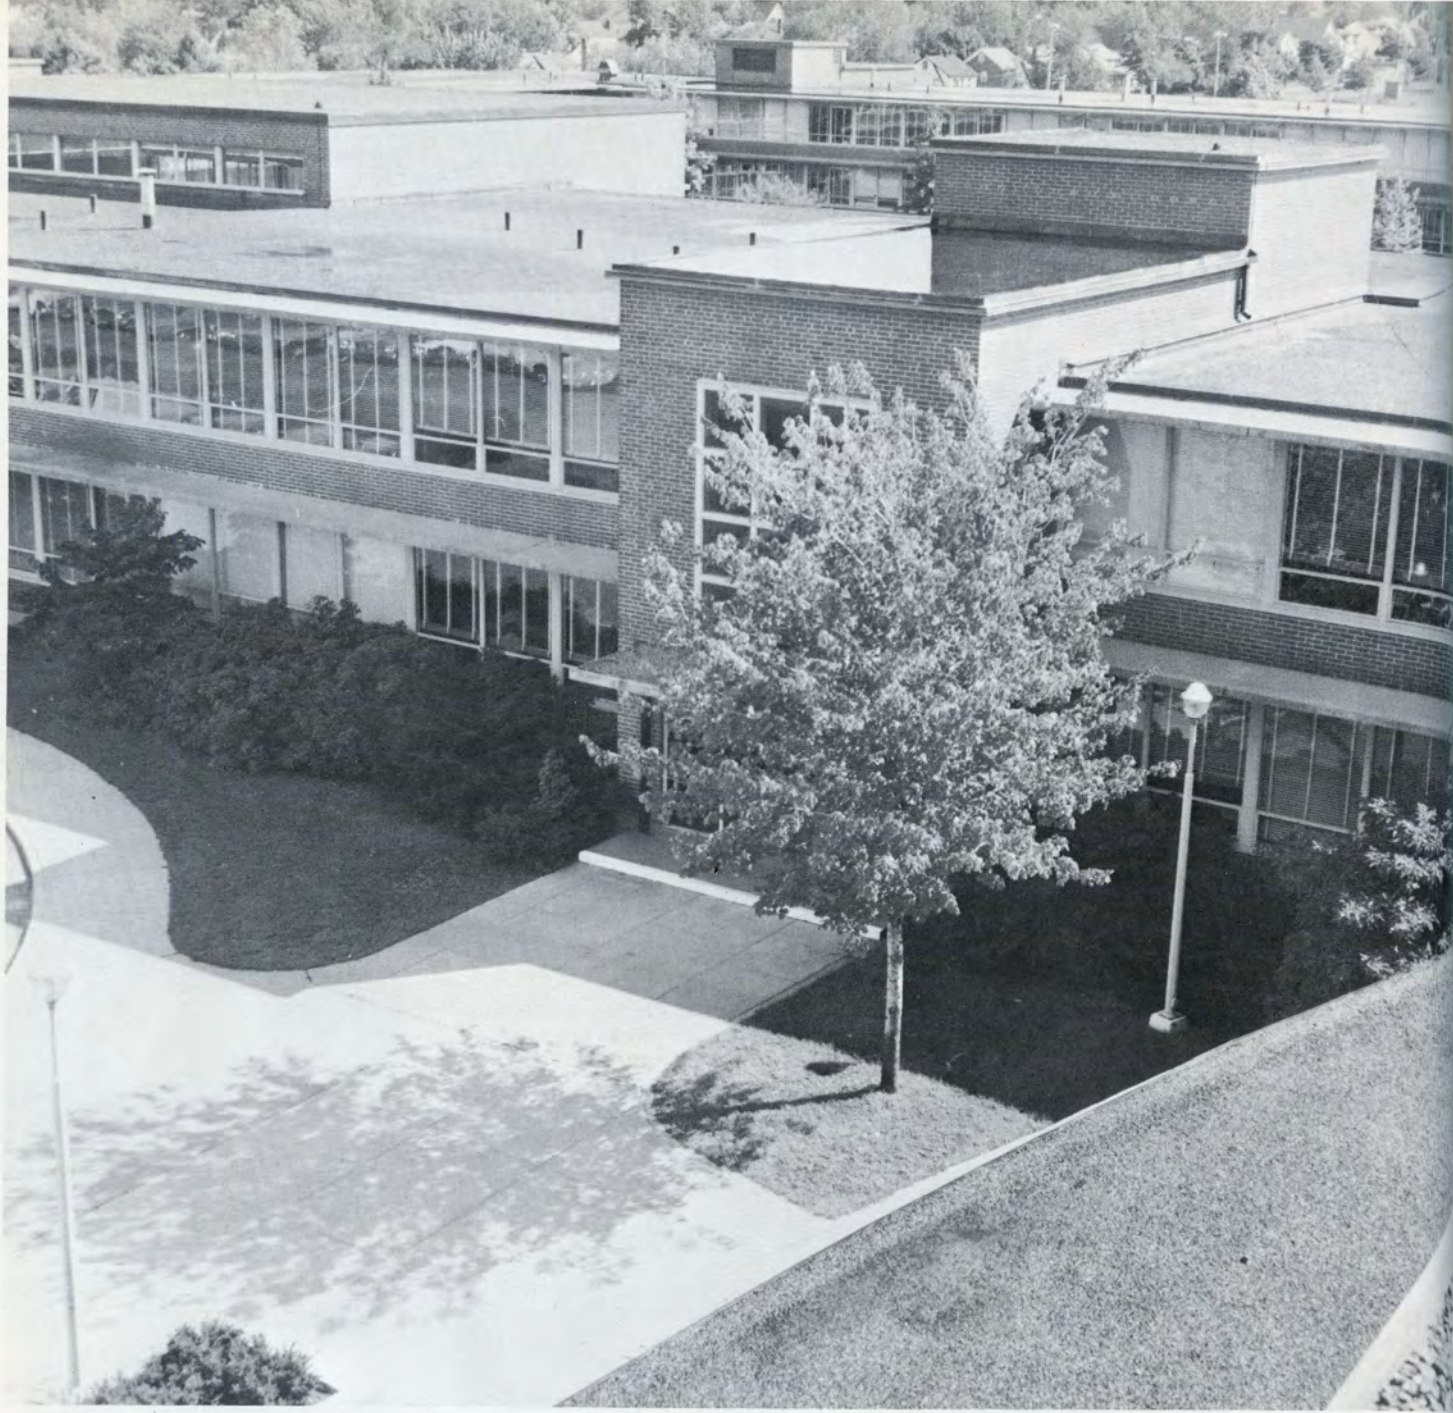

Mrs. Ardini helps test eyes, one of many services to the student body.

Office work requires many busy hours.

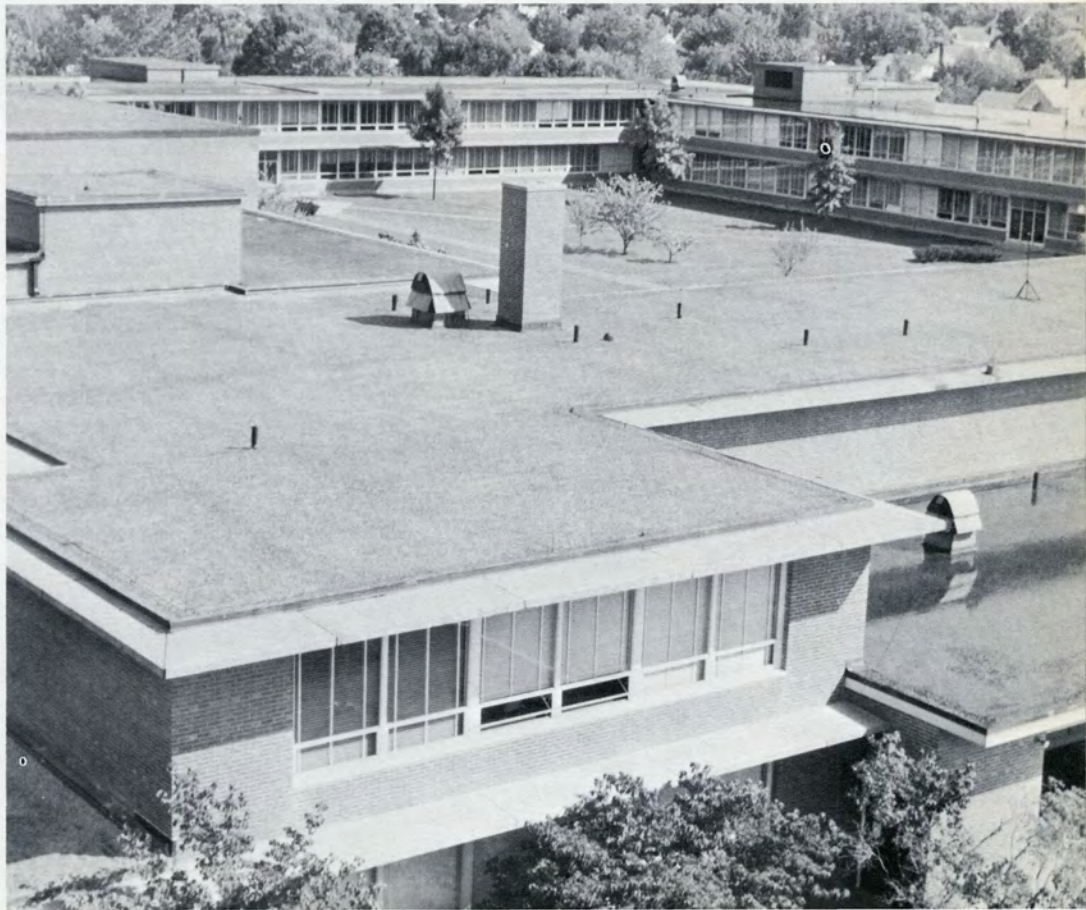

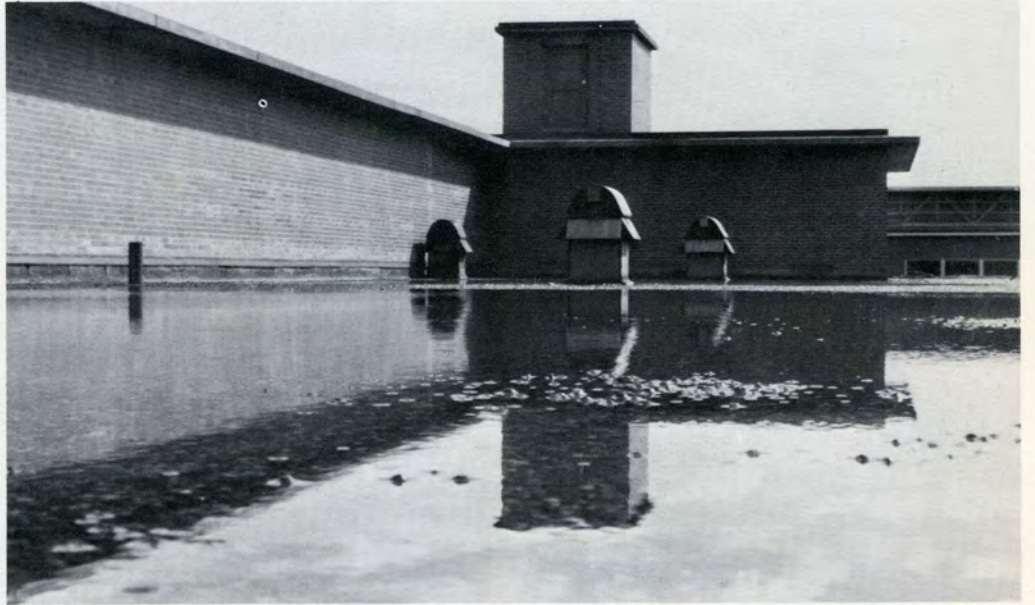

Mrs. Nielson welcomes students back to school after illness.

Soccer Team Shares Second Place Honors in C.C.I.L. . . .

The MHS soccer team, under the experienced direction of Coach Richard Danielson, had an enthusiastic and successful season this year. The season came to an end with the Indians finishing second place in the CCIL team. George Bradlau and Ron Conyers were selected for the first All-CCIL team, Scott Maclean for the second team, and co-captain Joe Amaio was listed in Honorable Mention. The continued success of the red and white booters is due to the fine coaching technique of Mr. Danielson, and the unity and spirit of a proud and determined team. The co-captains, Joe Amaio and Bill Hilinski, assured an exciting season by skillful playing and outstanding leadership.

Harriers Compete in Long Distance Running . . .

The Cross-Country team, under the coaching of Mr. Robert Sines, competed this fall as an integral part of the varsity sports program. The runners began their training in August and continued vigorous daily workouts through November. Long distance running emphasizes individual competition, yet team efforts are also important. This season the team participated in eleven meets, led to its victories by the outstanding performance of captain Dave Stoneman. Dave set a new school record with a time of 14:21 for the 2.7 mile course at Maloney, and he was also a member of the All-CCIL team.

Concern and Enthusiasm Are Reflected in the Faces of Our Cheerleaders . . .

Working almost five hours a week with the help of their advisor Miss Carol Thayer, the cheerleaders practice spirited cheers for varsity games and pep rallies. In the fall they also have the opportunity to demonstrate their skill and to observe other girls at a cheerleading clinic held at UConn. The essential ingredients which make up a good cheerleader are pep and plenty of school spirit. Supported by an enthusiastic crowd, they urge our teams to "Go! Fight! Win!"

Gridders Capture Second Place in C.C.I.L. . . .

At the outset of the season, few were expecting much from a small Manchester team. Following an opening game loss to Maloney, however, the 1966 gridgers went on to four straight wins before dropping a game to Hall for their only other defeat of the season. For this fine performance, they were awarded second place in the CCIL. Two players were chosen for the All-CCIL team: Jim Sproul and Chuck Carson. An average of ten hours was spent on the practice field for every single hour of actual game time. The high-point of the season came with a thrilling Thanksgiving Day victory over Windham, for the second successive year.

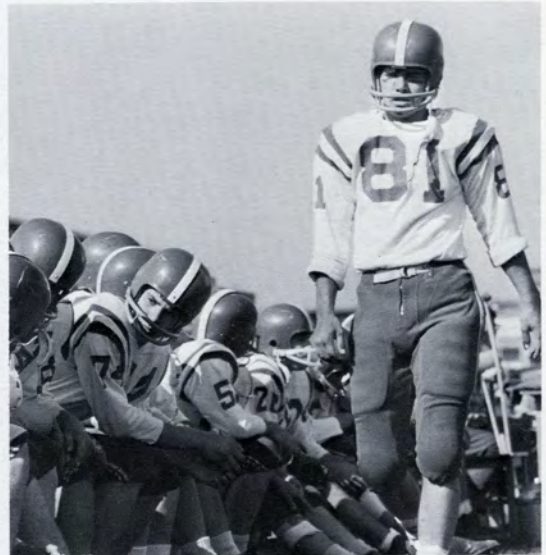

Steve Hemenway gains another first down.

The purpose of the Sock and Buskin Drama Society, under the direction of Mr. Emery Blanchard and Mr. Thomas Donlon, is the study, promotion, and presentation of drama. Sock and Buskin produced good results due to the efforts of its fine advisors and loyal members. Productions sponsored by Sock and Buskin were "What A Life", a play portraying the adventures of Henry Aldrich; and the famous musical "My Fair Lady".

Dancing and Dreaming Somewhere Over the Rainbow . . .

Proudly holding their prized bouquets, Ruth Elsesser, Karen Bradlau, Deb Snyder, and Sue Grant surround Wendy Smith, the Queen of Oz.

A rainbow and its pot of gold, an emerald castle, and an escaped carnival balloon, transformed the everyday site of hungry students into the wonderful land of Oz. With frantic weeks of preparation behind them, the class of 1968 presented their Junior Prom, "Over the Rainbow", on November 19, 1966. More than 250 couples danced to the music of the Richard Lindson Orchestra. With the balloon which carried them back from Oz, each couple brought memories of a wonderful evening spent at the end of the yellow brick road.

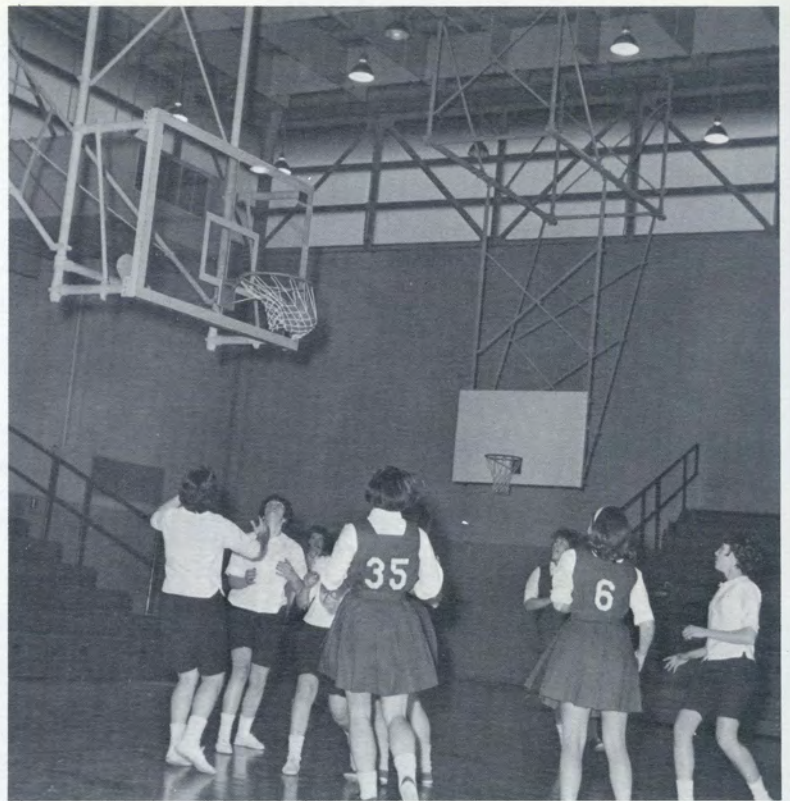

Votes are counted in tense anticipation.

Karen and Wendy show the enchantment of the memorable moment.

Girls' Continually Triumph During Basketball Season . . .

The girls' basketball team was a strong contender as experience and skill loaded the squad. Miss Mary Fagnant again held the coaching honors which occupied the girls with practices twice a week and games twice a week. A twelve game schedule kept the girls continually polishing and improving their offensive and defensive tactics to adequately meet each opponent.

Team Spirit and Skill Bring Victory to Hockey Club . . .

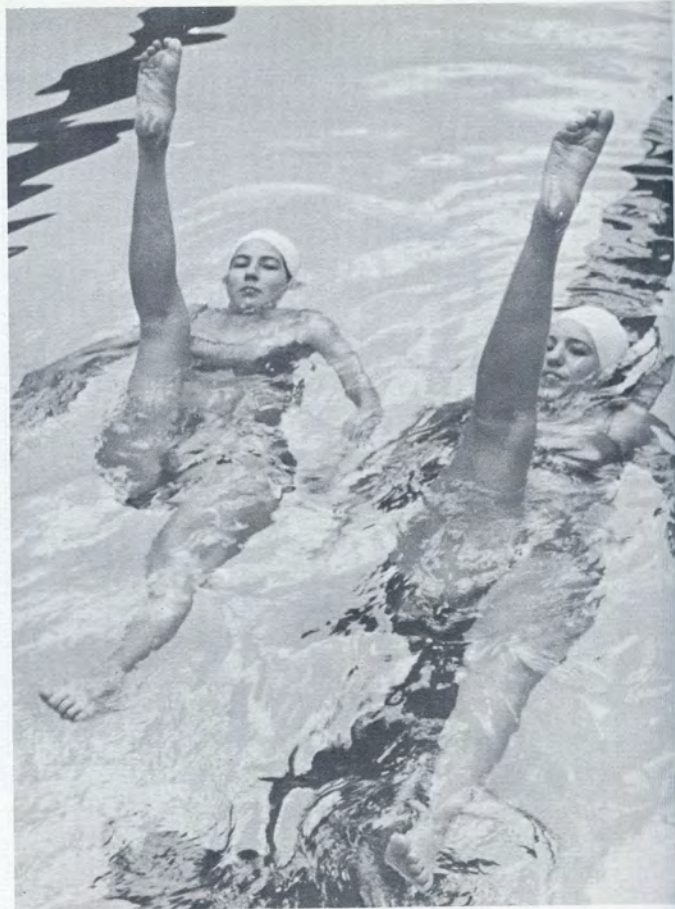

Fine team and individual effort again scored as the girls' field hockey team continued its fine record of past years by adding seven wins and two losses to the books. The coach, Miss Mary Fagnant, had a strong varsity squad as many members of last year's successful team returned for a second season of play. The rising interest among girls in field hockey allowed for a junior varsity to also be formed this year. Both teams, through skills, hustle, and determination turned in a most respectable season.

“Kaleidoscope” Demonstrates Creativity and Grace . . .

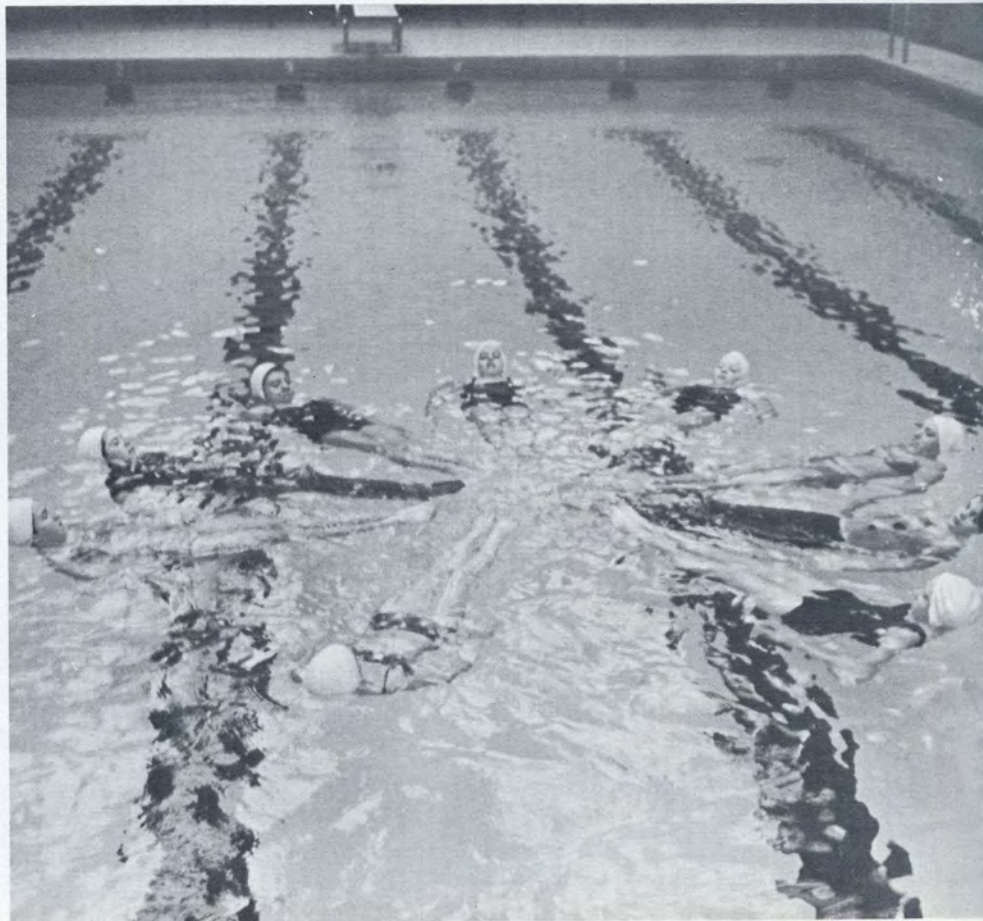

Under the direction of Mrs. Cynthia Mottle, the Aquaettes, selected in competitive tryouts in the spring, put on an annual water ballet program. The title of this year's show was “Kaleidoscope” and featured routines highlighting colors. The precision, beauty, and uniformity displayed by each routine reflected months of hard work in perfection of individual and group skills.

The Endurance and Speed of the Swimming Team Bring Honor to MHS . . .

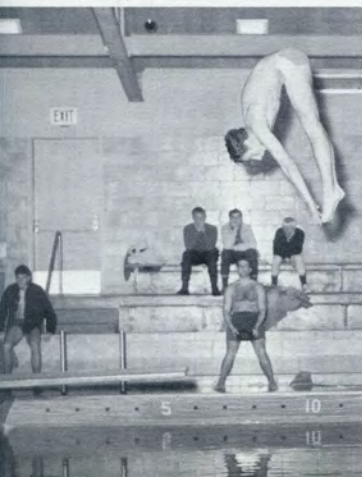

Swimmers push off at the off-start of a race.

At the shot of the gun the swimmers hit the water beginning their race against competitors and time. Each MHS swimmer tries to improve his own time and possibly set new state records, as CCIL choice Ted Brindamour has repeatedly done. In the winter months the "ducks" coached by Mr. Richard Sollanek, practice almost every day after school and during vacation. Led by their co-captains Mike Orfitelli and Ted Brindamour they strive to win meets and obtain the CCIL title.

Relays require the skill of many.

Students Develop Literary

By presenting a varied program, the English Department, headed by Mr. Gilbert Hunt, serves every student at Manchester High School. The program is designed to give students a chance to explore the many fields in English, from Shakespeare to linguistics. Students participate in annual trips to Stratford to view live performances of Shakespearean plays.

Mrs. Prevost aids Kathy Giard in preparing a speech.

Skills . . .

Public speaking and developmental reading classes provide a chance for students to develop their skills in certain areas of English. Under the direction of Mr. David Gibbons and Mrs. Janet Prevost, students learn the most effective way to orally convey their ideas to others. Mrs. Lavenia Brooks guides students in their reading skills and in the use of special machines which improve their reading habits.

Important School Events . . .

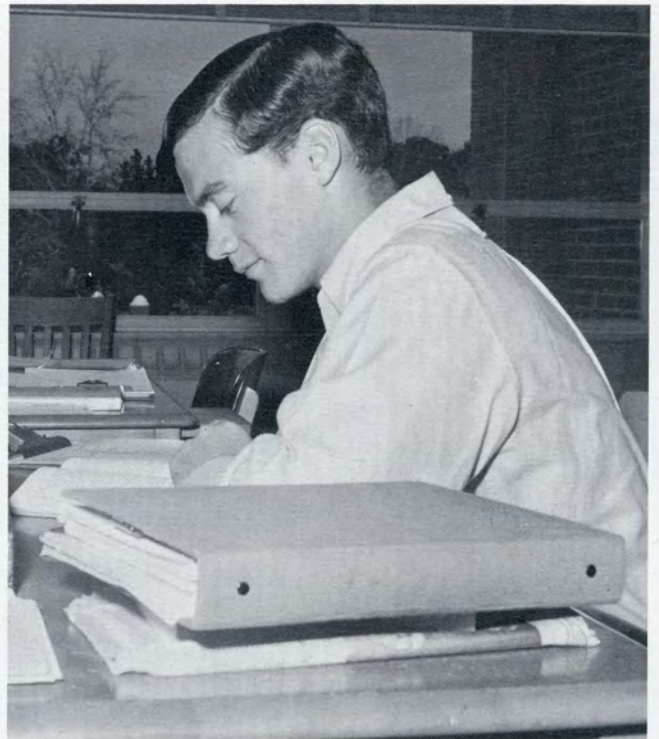

Each week the High School World informs students and the public about the parade of events at MHS. Under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Don, co-editors Sharon Douton and John Ostrout busily work to meet Wednesday's deadlines. "Worldlings" receive assignments at the start of each year and weekly report on clubs and sports events sponsored by the school. The Legion of Honor recognizes worthy seniors who have greatly contributed to school life at MHS. For those students interested in a career in journalism, the "World" provides a rewarding and meaningful experience.

Somanhis Harmonizes Moods and Memories . . .

Passing room 215, the Somanhis office, one might note staff members rushing to meet a deadline for the 1967 edition of Somanhis. The story really begins however in January, when Paula Rivard and Gloria Opalach were elected co-editors by the retiring staff of Somanhis 1966. Under their direction, weekly meetings were held each Friday, plans were formulated for Somanhis 1967 and competitive tryouts were held in February to fill staff vacancies. The twenty-five juniors and seniors who comprise this year's staff, contributed study halls and many hours after school compiling the '67 Somanhis.

The staff is especially grateful to Mrs. Laverne Kelson, our advisor, for her guidance and to Loring Studios and the Manchester Evening Herald photographers, Mr. Ofiara, Mr. Saternis, and Mr. Pinto, for their photographic contributions.

We hope Somanhis 1967 succeeds in arousing many fond memories for years to come.

The staff of the Aridian, meeting every other Wednesday, and advised by Mrs. Marion Keyes, works to publish an arts magazine which contains the best short stories and poems submitted by the student body, as well as some of the students' outstanding art work.

The basic purpose of the National Honor Society is to reward students who have maintained a high scholastic average and a good school record for their conscientious work. Members have pass privileges to leave school during study halls or to study with other members in a special study hall. Two Monday night meetings a month provide time for hearing interesting speakers and for planning the "campus cruise", a tour of several colleges in the fall, the induction of new members in February, and the trip to Ocean Beach in June. The club has had a new advisor this year, Mrs. Elizabeth Van Why.

Any Latin student willing to pay a quarter can have a lifetime membership in the Junior Classical League. Club officers conduct short meetings every two weeks during class time under the supervision of Mr. Arthur Werner and Mrs. Lucile Gibson. A fun-filled December banquet with everyone dressed in classic garb, and a trip to Ocean Beach in the spring highlight the Latin students' year.

Intellectual Organizations Probe Today's Problems . . .

Discussion of world affairs not only expands our horizons, but promotes a better understanding of international relations. The Current Affairs Club, under the direction of Mr. Elgin Zatursky, meets Tuesday evenings to analyze problems confronting today's society. Speakers highlight the meetings, and a trip is planned to the UN each fall.

The History Department, headed by Mr. Lewis Piper, strives to provide students with an understanding of the past that they may use in facing a complicated future. Courses in U.S. History, Comparative Government, Modern European History, and Modern Problems are offered.

Guided by Mrs. Prevost and Mr. Gibbons, the members of the Debating Club develop valuable rhetorical skills. The true tests of ability come in competition with debates from other schools.

Since it was started two years ago, the MHS Chess Club has gone undefeated in its many tournaments with other schools. This has been due to the skill and determination of the members and the diligence of their advisor, Mr. Donlon.

Exceptional Skills Demonstrated at the Christmas Concert . . .

The extensive program of music activities at MHS offers the student an opportunity to sing in large or select groups, to participate in special state programs, to develop instrumental skills, and to receive a solid background in Harmony or Music Appreciation to continue their music education. The A Cappella choirs directed by Mr. Robert Vater meet regularly during school hours, four periods a week and concentrate their energies on preparing individual voices to be a contributing factor to the choirs as a whole. Their annual Christmas and Spring Concerts are a benefit to both school and public audiences, and the experience itself serves as an enjoyable break from the pressure of academic courses. The Round Table Singers, a select choral group of fifty voices, is also under Mr. Vater's direction. Mike Romano assisted Mr. Vater this year as student conductor at several performances. Monday evening rehearsals in A-22 prepare the group for frequent appearances from the Christmas holidays to the graduation exercises of the Class of 1967. One of the highlights of this year's activities was taping a special Yuletide Concert aired on Frank Atwood's RFD #3 on Christmas Eve. Singers have a further opportunity to display their talent as members of All-Conn, All-Eastern, or Central-Northwest Chorus.

AFS Strives Toward Universal Understanding . . .

The American Field Service Club, under the direction of Mr. Arthur Glaeser, develops the basic friendship which exists among all men. To further an interest in foreign countries, speakers relate their travels or share songs. Foreign exchange students from all over Connecticut shared a weekend with AFS members which included a day of school, a combined sports day and party, and a picnic and square dance. The club's International Dinner featured food and entertainment prepared by the school's language clubs. To raise money for sponsoring foreign students, the club sold SOMANHIS book covers and held the Bermuda Hop. The club, now in its sixth year, sent a Manchester student, Jill Horton, abroad for the summer to live with a host family in Japan. This year, the club sponsored Liv Anderson, a student from Norway, and Luz Del Municio, from Spain.

My most important experience this year has been learning about people. Living with my own family in Spain, I had never known what insecurity was. Away from them, I now appreciate, far more, the things that people do for me. Americans, I've found, are more open in showing their feelings about people. At first, accepting these differences was hard (especially because I understood very little English), but now I've learned to try to look at American things through American eyes. Spain will not be very far away through letters. Me gustaría recibir cartas de todos vosotros. Este año ha sido fantástico! My address is: Avenida del Manzanares 12, Madrid 11, Spain.

Luz Del Carmen Begoña Municio Cagigas

A year has already passed, a rewarding year, indeed. I enjoyed the classes, the extracurricular activities, all the people I met; it all helped me gain more wisdom and understanding, and many new friends.

I know how lucky I was to be selected as an AFS student. I want to thank my family, MHS and everybody in AFS for giving me this unforgettable experience.

I hope to receive letters from many of you. My address is: Liv Elin Andersen. Amot, Modum. Norway. If any of you are going to Norway some day, that is also where to go. You are welcome.

Liv Elin Andersen.

My AFS summer in Japan changed a people and a way of life, previously exotic and inscrutable to me, into a race of individuals with a culture quite understandable when viewed in its proper environment. Each day was filled with different experiences: learning to eat raw fish with chopsticks, struggling to climb Mt. Fuji by night to reach the summit for the sunrise, being a camp counselor for nine bright and mischievous ten-year-olds (who spoke no English). Above all, my summer was centered around people, especially the warm and idealistic family of which I will always be a part. I am very, very grateful to everyone who made it possible. Domo arigato gozaimash'ta!

Students Organize and Participate in Unusual Annual Events . . .

Jerry Cambria and Dave Hindle returned for a hilarious pie-slinging encore as emcees in the 1966 Talent Show, presented on May 20. Although open to the entire town, a majority of the performers were students from MHS. Acts ranged from bagpiping to ballet, with the special attraction of Director Vater being trapped under the stage floor.

Sponsored by the Student Council, MHS's first Sadie Hawkins' Dance held on April 22, 1966, was a swinging success. Painted freckles, patched dungarees and big straw hats were evidenced as girls escorted boys for a change. Boys sported daisy corsages as presents from thoughtful dates. Decorations and refreshments of cider and donuts added to the barn-like atmosphere.

Between talent show acts, Dave Hindle thunders at Jerry Cambria, playing the role of a bumbling salesman.

The Scope of Language Activities Expands Horizons . . .

L'Ornithorynque, more commonly known as the French Club, seeks to promote knowledge of French life, customs, history and civilization through traditional celebrations such as the Epiphany and Mardi-Gras feasts. The club is presently supporting an orphanage in France with funds raised from doughnut and bake sales. This year students enjoyed an exciting weekend at the World's Fair in Montreal. The club meets on Thursday under the direction of Miss Lorena Dutelle and is open to all French students.

The German Club, headed by Mrs. Heidi McInerney provides further study of Germany and its customs. German cookie sales are held and money earned is donated to IOH. At annual banquets, German students perform folk dances, skits based on fairy tales, and folk songs.

La Rueda Castellana offers a view of Spain and her customs to all interested Spanish students. Honor students of the Brigada II Ayuda tutor students needing help in Spanish. Fiestas are held which feature the traditional piñata, and Spanish music, dancing, and food. Mr. Howard Siberky shares his enthusiasm with club members at Thursday meetings.

Student Talent Fills the Halls with Music . . .

The MHS band, under the direction of Mr. James Natale, is a positive asset to school activities through its presentation of an annual concert and its spark of spirit added to football and basketball games. This spring the players participated in the Conn. High School Music Festival at Storrs. A special supplementary group, the Bandoleers, is active during the Christmas season by presenting concerts at the local elementary schools. The twenty-seven piece orchestra, also directed by Mr. Natale, contributes selections at both annual concerts. This March the orchestra performed as an inclusive part of the big musical production of "My Fair Lady." Other groups such as the Jazz Club and Dance Band provide additional outlets for students' musical talents. Scarcely is there a vacant practice room or quiet x-period where students are not rehearsing diligently for a performance or simply enjoying the satisfaction in being musically creative.

Studies in Math and Science Satisfy

Inquiring Minds . . .

This year MHS was one of three schools in the state to obtain a computer to aid in classroom math instruction. A new elective course, Algebra III, was opened for the first semester to give interested math students better preparation for College Boards. Math courses from Business and Nurses' Math to college courses were offered. Honor math students were able to accumulate six college credits under the University of Connecticut Cooperative Plan. Our school, under the department head, Mrs. Rosamond Toomey, was invited to participate in an annual high school math exam in the spring.

In the science laboratories, under the direction of Mr. George Potterton, students delve into questions arising from classes of Biology, Earth Science, Physics, and Chemistry. The Pre-Med Club, directed by Mr. Ernest Lewis, meets once a month in the board room of Manchester Memorial Hospital. The club program consisted of films, tours, and informative lectures organized and presented by local doctors.

Foods, Clothing, Child Development, and Home Management are just a few of the many courses offered by the Home Economics Department, supervised by Mrs. Greta Rourke. Courses are open to boys as well as girls. Food Service, a new course offered this year, prepares students for jobs in restaurants.

Attending conventions and holding candy sales and fashion shows are several activities of Distributive Education students. The new combination work and study program, under the direction of Mr. Carl Swartz, enables students to apply their academic learning by working at jobs half of the school day. Courses ranged from Introduction to Business to Salesmanship. An award will be given to an outstanding Distributive Education student in June.

The Driver's Education Department, headed by Mr. Joseph Mazzotta, offers both classroom and on the road training. The thirty hours classroom work teaches laws, good driving habits, mechanics, and information about insurance. The most important topic of all deals with attitudes that affect driving. On the road training provides students with actual experience and a chance to practice what they have learned.

Students Display Creative Talents in Arts and Crafts . . .

For students at Manchester High School the Art Department, under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Budd, provides numerous opportunities for self-expression in the art and crafts classes. Students learn to use various media such as paints, pastels, clay, paper, inks, wood, silver, pewter, etc. In the Art Appreciation class students learn about the painting, sculpture and architecture of the past and of the twentieth century. A highlight each year for the Art Appreciation class is the annual trip to New York to visit various art museums. Work of art students is often found on display in the showcases, in the library, on bulletin boards in the principals offices and at the board of education. During the school year art students prepare for the Lyon's club exhibit, the Scholastic art exhibit, various poster contests and other activities. In the spring the annual M.H.S. art exhibit and craft sale is held.

Coached by Mr. Anthony Alibrio, the Rifle Team enjoyed one of its finest seasons in 1966. The team was undefeated in eighteen regular season matches, and gained further honors by placing second in state competition.

The Tennis Team concentrated on developing the basic skills of the game. Coached by Mr. Philip Hyde, all members of the team were given a chance to participate in match play.

The Golf Team had another fine season, winning all but one match to place first in the CCIL. Coached by Mr. Lawrence Perry, the team played its home matches at the Manchester Country Club.

Combining skill and good sportsmanship, the baseball team had an exciting season in tough CCIL competition. While starting slowly, the team came on strong in the final half of the season to gain many hard earned victories for Coach Thomas Kelley.

Memories Linger at the

To a swell kid who I enjoyed working with in Best of future!
in Foods
class, luck in the class.
Larry "68"

We've spent a year with MHS—its students, its faculty. We've walked through these halls observing the school at work and at play. The present seniors have given their status to the class of 1968, sophomores have become upperclassmen, and the building awaits the eager arrival of the class of 1970. We look back with fondness on our year's journey. MHS has given us a year to remember!

Year's End . . .

Yvonne -
To a real real sweet
Kid, Remember all
