MR. CONE

This Argus, your yearbook, comes to you at the end of another year of school. For some of you this time marks the completion of the first third or two-thirds of your junior high careers. For the ninth graders tho it marks the final stages of our close relationship together.

We would like to express some thoughts to you ninth graders now that time is short and hope that you seventh and eighth graders will not feel overlooked. Your time will come all too soon.

The exuberantly happy spirit of you ninth grade has been infectious, making our lives much brighter than the somber ones they might otherwise have been. You have provided us with many smiles and happy thoughts as each of us went about our respective serious endeavors.

We very much appreciate the underlying seriousness with which you applied yourselves to your academic challenges. Your growth in knowledge and skills is a source of pride for us.

Also we commend you for the many services you have performed for others as you worked as receptionists in the office and guidance office, committee members in Student Council, Headstart volunteers at the South Methodist Church, and in many other capacities. You have become the kind of people we are proud to say we have worked with. For ourselves and the Bennet faculty, we congratulate you for a job well done and wish you well in your future pursuits.

The Argus staff proudly dedicates the "68" edition to the following teachers whose devotion to their profession has made them worthy of this honor.

Teacher Of The Year Award

President - Cheryl Schaffer

This year has passed rapidly and I view its end with mixed feelings. Student Council can look back on this year as one of many accomplishments - the Vietnam Drive, our support of an elementary school in Toi An, the Anti-Litter Campaign, Teacher Appreciation Week, dances, Weekly doughnut sales, Teacher Watercolor Auction, the Student-Faculty games, and blue and white days.

Student Council has been successful mainly because of the school spirit generated by Bennet Students. The attendance records for our basketball games this season were spectacular and every activity sponsored met with the enthusiastic support of the student body.

I hope that Bennet has gained from this year, for I know that I have. It will not be easy to forget the many students and members of the faculty who have helped this year.
