REFLECTIONS 1974

MANCHESTER, CONNECTICUT

Dedication

Illing Junior High School, by a unanimous vote, is pleased to dedicate this year's "Reflections" to Mrs. Eleanore Gowen. She has expanded the intelligence of many a student and widened the heart of many a friend. We are grateful to Mrs. Gowen for her consideration and patience and most of all friendship. As one of Illing Junior High's best teachers, we thank her for her guiding hand, open mind, and her warm heart.

CLASS WILL

To Mr. Marquis, his English class leaves him 4 curtain rods, for the dueling scene in Romeo and Juliet.

To Miss Moraitis, we leave a one way ticket to Spain.

To Mr. Moriarty, Mary Benson leaves - happily!

To Mr. Brezinski, the ninth grade girls return all the compliments he gave them.

To Mrs. Keegan, we leave 3,000 borrowed pencils.

To Miss Hopper, we leave a bottle of hair coloring and a good hairdresser.

To Mike Sherman, Cindy Lunt leaves her donkey bell.

To Vicki Taft, we leave a life's supply of mashed potatoes and gravy.

To Dave Ryder, we leave "Hi!, how are you?"

To Mike Lowry, we leave 5001 pieces of borrowed gum.

To Mr. Troy, Kathy Kania leaves 23,000 Fruit Punch candies.

To Illing, the ninth graders leave their school spirit.

To Julie Brissette, the choir leaves the music to "Skip to My Lou"

To Amy Goulis, we leave the porch.

To Nancy Zajac, we leave what's left of her sanity.

To Miss Dutelle, her third period class leaves, Jean, Claude, and Pierre.

To Mr. Pearson, his science students leave thousands of pages of science notes, and film reviews.

To Mrs. Cameron, her Latin students leave their hopes for another trip to Rome.

To next years year's future announcer's, Cathy Keegan and Kathy McConnell leave 180 days of morning notices.

REFLECTIONS

Is this the end of the same year
That, at the beginning, lay stretching far ahead
Beyond the limits of young foresight?

Is this the same year that,
When unsure eyes first viewed the place,
A small part of life was to be lived
And a change take place?

Measure our year of labor; let it be
its own reward,
Enjoy the fulfillment of effort, and then
Return prepared to achieve
And be challenged—
To view the reflection again

Laura A. Smith
